Returned—Dr. A. Perry.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ Mr. Andrew Lowd of Greenland, formerly of Portsmouth, has sold his farm in the former place, and will return to this city.

☞ Is an epistle written on mourning stationery, a dead letter? That's what a little fellow called one he took from the mail for us yesterday.

☞ There is to be a base ball match between the first and second nines of the Granite State Club, at the Fair Grounds, at 2 o'clock P. M., to-day.

☞ Sixteen persons were admitted into the Universalist Church at Kittery on Sunday last, by baptism. It was the first recognition of the Church, and the services were very interesting, —Rev. G. W. Bicknell, the pastor, being assisted by Rev. Jas. DeNormandie. Every part of Armory Hall was filled, and members of the M. E. and Christian Churches partook of the communion with the Universalists.

A BABY SHOW of the rarest and most approved character might have been witnessed at St. John's Church on Sunday last. After the morning service, the Rector, Rev. R. W. Clark, Jr., baptized 26 children, most of them in arms, others receiving the rite kneeling on the altar steps. The old church is evidently "renewing its youth," and we doubt if any other Church in the city can show similar proofs of fruitfulness and growth.

THE FAIR.—The fourth annual Fair of the Piscataqua Agricultural Society, (including Rockingham County and Kittery, Eliot and York,—and entries were announced to be allowed from any part of this State this time,) opened at their beautiful grounds on Tuesday morning. The weather was fine, and the first day's proceedings were enjoyed by quite a fair attendance, and were satisfactory to the managers. The forenoon was as usual, occupied with making entries, and the other business of commencement. We give elsewhere a full list of entries, up to last evening.

The racing, which is, as it ought to be, the most attractive feature of any Fair, inasmuch as it is for the amusement of the people—commenced early in the afternoon. The first trot was for a purse of $75, for horses that have never beaten 2:45; $50 to 1st, $15 to 2d, $10 to 3d. W. Locke ns b m Rosa Bonheur, M. Eldredge ns blk m Belle of Portsmouth, F. Jones ns blk m Mountain Maid.

Belle of Portsmouth, (driven by Harry Bradley of Boston,) won in three straight heats, in 2:53 1-2, 2:54 1-4, 2:52 1-2. Rosa was second in two heats, and took second money, the Maid coming in second on the last heat only.

For the premium $30, for Gentlemen's Driving Horses, $15 to 1st, $10 to 2d, $5 to 3d, seven horses came. F. Jones' s g Woodward Colt; H. P. Wingate's g m Cora Bell, of Stratham; A. R. Johnson, Seabrook, b m ——; H. McDevitt, br m Lady French, Hampton Falls; J. H. Ferguson, br h Greenland Boy, Portsmouth; A. D. Hobbs, N. Hampton, blk h Prince; J. W. Coleman, br g Aaron.

The race was half-mile heats, best 2 in 3, to road wagons; and was trotted in 1:33 1-2, 1:34 1-4, 1:38 1-2, Mr. McDevitt's mare being first, Mr. Jones' Woodward Colt second, and Cora Bell third. Mr. Jones' horse won the first heat, and came in first on the third, but was set back for running.

The judges for the Fair are Messrs. R. M. Perley of Newburyport, Darius Towle of Kingston, and John Wiggin of Dover. The Assistant Marshals are Messrs. Jefferson C. Rowe and Moulton, of this city.

The hall is in charge of Mr. C. W. Gardner of this city.

For the purse of $10, for the slowest horse; $7 to 1st, $3 to 2nd; 1-2 mile heats, best 2 in 3,—drivers to drive each the other's horse,—two poor old white wretches only came,—and Henry Perley's w g Nero won (by coming in behind) in 2:37, 2:21 — beating Otis Cate's White Gelding, by getting beat by him. There was more whip-lash than sport in this race.

The programme for the day was faithfully and promptly carried out.

AFTER AN AUTUMN RIDE.

TO MY BOON COMPANIONS.

Say, is it true
That yesterday the skies were all so blue,
And Paradise so clearly shining through,
That the dead wayside rose
Suggested not the gorgeous summer's close,
But only sweet belief in autumn's high repose?

The scarlet berries hung,
By the soft Autumn breezes swayed and swung,
And sunlight on the changing foliage flung
A wistful loveliness;
As though the dying summer's last caress
Had touched the kindling heart of Autumn but to bless.

Something that seemed like peace,
(Watching the Earth's abundance and increase,)
Swept o'er my heart, whose pain can never cease,
"Since Autumn bears its fruit."
I said our growth, from sorrow's spreading root,
May reach a height that only Angels can compute.

Even the summer rose,
That lived its life of beauty to a close,
Taught its sublimest lesson in repose:
And influences spread
Like the blue dome, that canopies o'erhead,
Bring us a Heaven more near for our beloved dead.

There all is true;
Nothing can change the skies' celestial blue,
And roses glistening in the Heavenly dew
Shall blossom at our feet;
God shall uplift us to a safe retreat,

Thursday, Sept. 29th.

A HARD CASE.—A very decently dressed and respectable appearing Irishman came into our office on Tuesday, to warn persons, through our columns, against trusting his wife. He told us that she neglected her home and her children, for liquor; and had recently absented herself for several days, after being furnished by him with $50 to pay outstanding bills, finally returning home without a cent, and without having paid off a single dollar of debt. A working man, her husband felt unable and unwilling any longer to endure her conduct, and in self defence notified the public, through the press, that she was unworthy of trust. This man's home must be rendered desolate, in order that some rumseller may make three cents!

☞ Auction sale this day, Wednesday, at the Navy Yard, by Betton & Co., of a lot of naval stores. Also sale of furniture and house-keeping goods at house corner of Cabot and Austin Streets. See advertisements.

Morning Chronicle.

POLITICAL PREACHING. — Not long ago a man died in this State, leaving instructions that no minister should officiate at his funeral, excepting one who had never preached a political sermon. It is honorable to the clergy that no such minister could be found—for a stick of rotten wood, borne in the poor man's funeral procession, would have been as true a representative of the practices and precepts of Christ and his Apostles, as such a minister—so the enemy to political preaching was buried without any clergyman being present.

This opposition to political preaching is by no means a modern American institution, though the name is—for "political preaching" is only another name for the denunciation from the pulpit of common and wide-spread sins. In this country, it generally refers to clerical opposition to human slavery, or to the evil influences it has left behind it. The outcry here against "political" preaching was really raised against "anti-slavery" preaching. Slavery was so thoroughly incorporated into all public affairs that it was the main-spring of political action,—hence it was not to be spoken against by the clergy, for to do so was to "preach politics."

Men in all ages have been quite willing to have church thunders launched at the crimes and follies of other men, but not at their own. An attack upon a sin which "I" commit, is an impertinent interference in private affairs; and if half the nation is given to committing the same offence, the attack is "political," and not to be endured. But a denunciation of the sins to which "you" are addicted, is all right; and to make such denunciation is the preacher's plain duty. The Jews were willing for others to oppose idolatry, but persecuted the Christians for opposing Judaism; while the pagans, who were quite willing to have the Jewish shortcomings denounced, made a terrible time of it when their own doings were questioned. And the American people, who never get angry because the sins of the Chinese are rebuked, can't hear their own spoken of without shouting "political preaching." The Mormons have made wholesale adultery the groundwork not only of their social and immoral fabric, but of their political life, as well; so every preacher who asserts the righteousness of the seventh commandment, from his pulpit, is guilty of preaching a "political sermon" against the Mormons; yet the people of the Atlantic States do not find fault with such sermons, as it is all right to oppose Mormonism.

But the minister who preaches against the liquor-traffic—grand source of crime and wretchedness though it is,—is a "political preacher." He may indeed deal with the question in vague and general terms, without being so accused; but the moment he denounces the rum-traffic as a sin, to be opposed by all good men and with all the means in their power, he is "preaching politics,"—for the temperance question is to be settled at the ballot-box, and to preach against intemperance is to advise men to vote for temperance.

Wrong is wrong, whether committed by one man or by many; and the greater the number engaged in its perpetration, the stronger the reason that the pulpit should declaim against it. And the preacher who shuts his eyes and holds his tongue while men or parties or nations are doing evil,—in any way, moral or political, — because he fears the old cry of "political preaching," is a recreant to his sacred trust. Such preachers are now, happily, few and far between.

SOME FUN.—Two women, named Eliza Kelley and Bridget Rowley, living in South Boston, got into a quarrel Monday evening, when Rowley told his wife to come in. She did as she was told, but she recounted her grievances in such a way as to inflame John's mind in a high degree. He went up stairs, got out on the roof, walked to the roof of an adjoining tenement, climbed down through the scuttle and without any warning presented himself to the astonished Mrs. Kelley. He snatched up a chair and hit her about the head with it several times, cutting and bruising her very much. He was arrested, and charged with deadly assault.

☞ Mr. Charles Lincoln, of the firm of Lincoln & Company, pork packers, of Boston, met a horrible death, Monday afternoon. He was at his packing establishment in Somerville about five o'clock, and was standing near a kettle of boiling lard, when he accidentally slipped and fell head foremost into the mass of boiling fat. He was immediately extricated, but of course, horribly burned. He lived less than half an hour afterward. He leaves a family.

TEMPERANCE AND REPUBLICANISM — The leaders [of the Republican party] have all along admitted that the [temperance] principle was correct, but it was not "politic" to recognize it in the party platform. * * * The time is ripe for honest, manly action on the part of the Republican organization of New Hampshire. The interests of temperance are of vital importance, and the claims of its leading advocates cannot long go unheeded.—Cor. Nash. Tel.

The Telegraph's correspondent speaks as though the Republican party in this State had hitherto paid little heed to the temperance question; but such is certainly not the case. The last State Legislature passed a law which has already closed the liquor shops in several towns, and is strong enough to do it in every place where rum does not control public opinion and the machinery of the law itself. We regard the passing of that law as "honest, manly action" in favor of temperance, "on the part of the Republican organization of New Hampshire;" and as proof that the interests of temperance and the claims of its advocates are by no means unheeded.

The correspondent, we judge, from the tone of his whole article, wants a "third party," (last year's third party, the Democratic Labor Reformers, having apparently gone up, not being able to "bust" the Republicans,) unless the present dominant party are willing to build their platform almost wholly of temperance planks. While we acknowledge the immense importance of the temperance question, we consider that there are other questions which also demand attention; and that the Republican party has already done far more for temperance than can be accomplished by the prosecution of any side movement, with the possible result of drawing enough ultra temperance voters from the Republican ranks to give the State over to the pro-rum Democracy.

☞ William Morris, (who contributes a poem to the first number of Scribner's Monthly,) probably ranks, as a poet, next to Tennyson; and there is little doubt that the laureate's wreath would fall upon the brow of the author of "The Earthly Paradise," should the world lose to-morrow the poet of the Idyls.

☞ The reports that Admiral Porter will not find all plain sailing in the Senate when the question of his confirmation comes up, are growing quite frequent.

☞ A grand jury has indicted the editors of the Salt Lake Herald for libelling Associate Justice Hawley. The parties were held to bail in $500 each.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, and the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

The Directors of the Strafford Co. Agricultural and Mechanical Society held a meeting recently to settle up matters in relation to the recent Fair. The receipts amounted to about $2,800; and after paying upwards of $1,000 in premiums, and the heavy expenses of the Fair, they had money enough left to square off the previous indebtedness of the Society, amounting to upwards of $400.

At the recent meeting of the Baptist Association at Deerfield, reports from the churches were read. Seven had been added to Brentwood Church by profession, thirty-one to Portsmouth, and forty to Deerfield. After the reports, Rev. C. D. Swett of Brentwood gave the history of the Brentwood Church. It is ninety-nine years old. We hope the history will be printed.

Mr. E. S. Durgin of Exeter, who formerly travelled with Dr. O'Lary, has made an engagement with the "Alleghanians" to act in the capacity of Treasurer and ticket seller.

During recent excavations about a dam, at Exeter, an eel was found buried in the dry earth at the depth of about five feet.

The Robinson Female Seminary, at Exeter, is the property of the town and intended for the education of females. Here all the girls of Exeter, between the ages of ten and twenty years, can receive their schooling free. Females from other towns are privileged to attend upon payment of a tuition fee. A corps of eight able teachers is connected with the school. This Seminary and the fund from which it is supported was the gift of a former citizen of the place, named Robinson, who at his death left the sum of $250,000 for the founding of such an institution. It is managed by a board of trustees chosen by the town.

There are nine places of worship in Exeter, which for a town of its size, is a large number, and certainly affords ample chance for religious instruction. The old town house is used as a Public Library. It contains about 3000 volumes.

The News Letter states that a liberal contribution has been made by several churches in Exeter, to be used in the erection of a monument to Whitefield. Some six hundred dollars was collected for that purpose a few years since, but by accident or intention was diverted to worthy charitable purposes. The opportunity is still open for other churches and individuals to contribute.

The greater part of the road is already completed, and the earnings from the finished portion are already more than sufficient to pay operating expenses and interest on the bonds. The balance of the work is progressing rapidly, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.
The established character of this line, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security.
These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at no distant day to command a market price considerably above par, besides paying about 9 per cent., currency, interest in the meanwhile. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices only return five per cent.; and we regard the security equally safe.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protectorage against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it,
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Taken at bed time it loosens the system, breaks up a cold, and does three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient great amounts of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that may arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here. We do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paint.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds. 2 coats; while one gallon of the Chemical Paint weighs 19 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats.—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, OCT. 13, 1870.

WAR TALK.—The Prussians shoot all the franc-tireurs they capture. This is one reason why the latter carry the black flag. Atrocities are not committed by the large bodies of Prussians, but by those not under command of their superior officers.

The Prussians having threatened to execute the municipal authorities at Ablis, because at that place the franc-tireurs surprised the enemy, killing many and capturing others, the French government has given an official public notice that one Prussian prisoner will be shot for every person killed by the Prussians.

The clerical party in France, especially in Brittany and La Neudic, has taken umbrage at the popularity of Garibaldi, and refuses to fight under him.

The National Guards, ten thousand strong, under Gustave Flourens, demanded of the government that Chassepot rifles be given them, and that a change be made in the practice of opposing on every battle field one Frenchman to three Prussians. The answer was unfavorable, and Flourens resigned his command.

The death of Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia is reported in the French papers, but is probably a mere canard.

The Prussians and French charge each other with great barbarity in conducting the war. Probably the fault does not lie wholly on either side.

Another battle has taken place near Orleans.

The troops sent from Tours to reinforce the 15th corps, formed a junction with that body near Artenay, and severe fighting has been renewed before St. Quentin.

The Prussians have buried 20 small villages near Metz, and executed one hundred and fifty peasants for carrying on an illicit warfare.

THE FALL ELECTIONS have commenced, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Nebraska, Indiana and Iowa voting on Tuesday. Each State elected a full delegation to Congress, and the Democrats made a brisk fight, which only served to increase the Republican majorities over the vote of last year.

In Nebraska, the Republicans chose their State ticket by 3000 majority, and have a majority in the legislature.

In Ohio, the delegation will probably stand as before, 13 Republicans, 6 Democrats. The two Cincinnati Districts elect Perry and Stevenson, Republicans. The Republicans have 15,000 majority in the State. Schenck's and Bingham's Districts are in doubt.

In Pennsylvania, the Republicans have the legislature by 5 majority on the Senate and 20 in the House. They claim not to have lost any Congressmen.

POLITICAL.—The New York Democrats have nominated Fernando Wood for Congressman.

Hon. Wm. Gaston is the Democratic candidate for Congress in opposition to Hon. Ginery Twichell, in one of the Boston Districts.

BUNTING AND RED TAPE.—A Honolulu letter says that Commander Truxton, of the sloop-of war Jamestown, requested Consul Adamson at Honolulu to display his colors at half mast over the consular office, out of respect to the late Queen Dowager, but Adamson declined on the ground that he had received no official notice of the Queen's death from the United States minister resident. Commander Truxton immediately ordered Lieutenant Cochrane, with a guard of marines, to put a flag at half mast, by force if necessary. The order was obeyed, the consul and vice-consul resisting. The Honolulu papers are indignant, and pronounce the invasion of Hawaiian territory by an armed force of the United States as a high-handed proceeding.

☞ Two servant girls, of a Mr. Herzenburgh, at Staten Island, N. Y., were crossing his grounds on Sunday, when they were attacked by a Siberian bloodhound belong to the estate, and one of them had her left breast torn from her body, the other's arm being mangled from the shoulder down. A police officer went to their assistance, and shot the ferocious brute, but not in time to save the life of one of the girls, who cannot recover from her injuries.

THE LADIES must be clothed about the head, even though bonnets the size of pieces of chalk may suffice fashion. Mr. J. M. Tebbets announces his Fall Opening of a choice selection of Millinery Goods. Read his advertisement and see his goods.

☞ A nice warm rain commenced Tuesday night, and continued copiously almost entirely through Wednesday—much to the benefit of the earth, and blessing mankind in general; but not to the advantage of the Piscataqua Fair, which in spite of its watery name, was postponed until the first two Fair days,—of which we hope Thursday will be one and Friday the other.

THE VIRTUOUS DEMOCRACY.—Mayor Hall of New York, guided by Tammany Hall, is making preparations for gigantic Democratic frauds at the coming election. He is re-arranging the election districts of that city, in order that the United States census just taken may not act as a possible obstacle to wholesale ballot-box stuffing and repeating on the part of the virtuous unterrified.

The city was divided at the last election into 337 districts, which averaged 310 votes each. The present arrangement increases the number of districts by 50, and reduces the average voting population in them to 270. Every district in the city, save four, is changed territorially, or in its numerical designation, the object being to avoid comparisons of the vote at next election with the census just taken, which was taken by the old election districts.

Of the new districts created forty-five are below Houston street, embracing less than one-tenth of the city, and the portion which notoriously has not increased in population, while the remaining nine-tenths of the city, embracing all the upper part of the island, where there is a steady growth of population, receives but five new districts. The law requires that the districts shall be made to contain, as near as may be, not more than four hundred voters; but Mayor Hall's districts, instead of being uniform, range from a voting population of less than one hundred to more than nine hundred. The unblushing shamelessness of the rascality is worthy of the party that howls so loudly about "radical corruption and frauds."

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW YORK.—New York city has become so wedded to misrule that it prefers anything,—even a visitation of the yellow fever,—to the management of a faithful official. Sometime ago the health officer of the port undertook a rigid enforcement of the quarantine laws. The very attempt to enforce a law,—so rare an occurrence, withal, in New York,—produced a spasm. A quarrel ensued, the yellow fever dodged in during the wrangle, and a hundred or more have already been prostrated by it. The whole of the lower part of the city has been in various ways exposed to it, and but for the near approach of frosts, which, by the way, are always death to it, the disease would have a fearful run. At present it is confined chiefly to Governor's Island, and it is hoped that its ravages will not be very extensive.

OLD SAILOR KILLED.—The ship William A Campbell, of Thomaston, Captain Curling, which sailed from Liverpool on the 2d of September, arrived at Boston, Tuesday. Captain Curling reports that during the voyage some difficulty arose between the second officer and one of the seamen, named Henry Jenkins, when the latter person was shot dead by the officer. The affair will be investigated by the proper authorities. We don't see why any fuss should be made just because one old sailor has been shot; if all such affairs are to be noticed, there will be no end of trouble and law-suits.

☞ Alvan Bronson of Ansonia, Conn., committed suicide on Sunday night at Milford, by shooting himself with a pistol. It is believed he is the man who murdered Mr. Fenn of Ansonia, and he has frequently been heard to say that he had a great secret which would die with him. An officer has been sent to Ansonia to secure his papers.

☞ The Manufacturer and Builder, in the October number, has a learned and scientific article in condemnation of the famous and popular Scotch pebble spectacles, and recommends white glass as far superior.

☞ The Newark, N. J., city election has resulted in a great victory for the Republicans. Their majority is 2500. The city has hitherto been Democratic.

☞ Margaret Walters, the notorious English baby-farmer, was hanged Tuesday for the murder of an infant. She died protesting her innocence.

—The sun dial only counts the bright hours.

THE BEST SOCIETY. — "Nothing," said Sprague, "is more cowardly than a million, except two millions." Nothing is worse than good society, except the "best society." This self-constituted social Freemasonry is the supernal essence of selfishness, the idolatry of one's conceit of one's self for which there is a furnace hotter than Nebuchadnezzars kept burning in the other world. Will you believe there are people in Newport, who would think it no credit to entertain Gen. Sheridan, though he is the camp guest of a king, and who would verily go back upon even the king, because he was not born in Boston?

Folks there are, under whose finger nails dirt will grow, in whose coffee-cups grounds will settle, and on whose collins the worms have their eye; who have come to the conclusion that there set is full. So I am told. The report of this sort of character is not inviting, and I have not gauged it.

There is a book by N. P. Willis, who threw his life away upon the "best society," called Paul Fane, relating the adventures of an artist who made it the point of his life to conquer a "full" set like this, and he was only able to do it by making a woman of that set "slop over." She crept into his room when she thought he was asleep and kissed him. Then she went and married a man in the "full set," true to the last. It was so affecting a story that I ordered tripe and onions that day for dinner, to assure myself that I was in no danger of joining "a full set."

It is not probable that any town but Boston * could raise up a "first society" of this kind—a dogmatic circle of respectable automatons upon whom neither talent, wealth, courage, nor good nature can make any impression. How will the world ever be cured of its propensity to be an ass? To think that Shakespeare wrote, and Luther preached, and the Pharisee prayed in the temple, and Balaam's animal took the text, and Bonaparte arose, and Horace Greeley wears a white coat, and that nevertheless there is a "best society" and a "full set" at Newport. They ought to make man over again.—G. A. Townsend.

*Nonsense! It is evident that Mr. Townsend never lived in Portsmouth, or he wouldn't talk that way. Why, Portsmouth has got a "best society" before whose glorious effulgence the Boston "best society" may shield their dazzled eyes,—a "best society" that sits so high above the rest of the world that even the Boston "best society" is barely visible, a vast distance beneath. We are too proud of our "best society" to keep silent when any man says we have not the best "best society" in the world.

☞ Quite a large choir of the singers of the Old Folks music, from Rye, North Hampton, and a few from Exeter and Portsmouth, had a fine sing,—a sort of free concert, at the Christian Church in Rye, on Sunday evening. There was no charge for admission; and the house was well filled, as we should readily imagine. The choir numbered thirty or forty singers, and there were a few instruments for orchestra. Messrs. Rollins of Stratham were the leaders in this pleasant affair, and Miss Lang lent good assistance at the melodeon.

New Hampshire Items.

The Seventh Annual Session of the New Hampshire State Musical Association will be held at Concord, the second week in January. Mrs. H. M. Smith, Miss Ella F. Darling, Mr. C. F. Packard, Mr. H. C. Barnabee, Mrs. M. D. Shepard, and the Mendelssohn Quintette Club will assist. Messrs. W. O. Perkins and J. H. Morey will conduct.

Mr. D. Warren Furber, the originator, editor and proprietor of the Rochester Review, some twelve years ago, returned to Great Falls last week. He has been engaged in printing on the border of Lake Superior during the last five years, and report says he has been successful.

Mr. John C. Bryant of Effingham, from one seed, raised twenty-one citrons; weight from six to twenty-eight pounds each. Six of them weighed 130 pounds.

About fifty rods down Newmarket harbor is a rock, weighing probably seventy-five tons. Legend says that when it weighed only one pound, some one threw it into the river, and that every time it hears the rooster crow, it jumps out of the water.

That old soldier, Augustus Bradford, is in Newmarket. During the war of 1812, he acted as recruiting officer in Dover. He was in Hull's army when he so cowardly surrendered to the foe, and with Harrison at the battle of Tippecanoe; was wounded in that engagement, for which the government has awarded $96 per year for many years past. Since the death of his wife, thirty years ago, he has been a cosmopolite, but makes Newmarket his political home, and every second Tuesday in March can be seen casting his vote, and every four years he is there in November to do the same. The last three votes, in November, like others who voted for God and Right, he won. Mr. Bradford is 82 years old, and in good health.

—A hen is not immortal, and yet her son never sets.

—Gossips, like bells, have long tongues.

—"John," asked a physician of the apothecary's apprentice, "did Mrs. Green get the medicine I ordered?" "I guess so," replied John, "for I saw crape hanging to the door knob this morning.

—How to make a clean sweep—Wash him.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

"TIRED NATURE'S SWEET RESTORER-BALMY SLEEP." But there are times when this "Renewer of Strength," is denied to us, times when our minds and bodies have been so overworked and are so worn out that we "woo the drowsy god in vain." The Peruvian Syrup (an Iron Tonic,) renews our strength and makes our rest sweet and refreshing.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Systems Run Down.

Persons often allow their systems to "run down," or rather run them down by over-work, accompanied by a neglect of the proper means of invigoration. The result is what is called "GENERAL DEBILITY;" in other words, a failure and partial collapse of the physical forces, accompanied, usually, by great depression of spirits.

The best remedy in such cases is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Whether the state of exhaustion has been brought on by excessive physical labor, dissipation, anxiety of mind, exposure, or any other cause, the remedial effect of this great stomachic will be found equally prompt and certain. As a restorative, after severe sickness has prostrated the bodily and mental energies, it is pronounced, by competent medical authority, "THE BEST TONIC IN USE." If men were not foolishly careless about their health, and over confident in themselves, they would always, when engaged in any work that required great exertion, use corresponding means of sustaining their strength. For this purpose Hostetter's Bitters are invaluable. All toilers should use them as an invigorant.

For those constantly employed in in-door occupations, especially in crowded workshops, they may be reckoned as the very best safeguard of health. Where there is a predisposition to constipation, or a tendency to biliousness, they may be truly said to be a specific for which there is no substitute. dawlw08

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Millinery—J. M. Tebbetts.
House and Land For Sale—Edw. D. Coffin.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

☞ Mr. Stephen A. Preble has opened a new Hair Dressing Saloon in the room over Ferguson & Frye's store, Congress Street. He has no superior hereabouts in the tonsorial line. G.

☞ Messrs. Came Brothers, our excellent and already famous Portsmouth Carriage makers, have fitted up quite a metropolitan-looking Repository and Office, on High Street, as befits their now extensive and complete establishment. They are to put in steam-power for sawing, turning, and other machine work. They will have a large lot of elegant Sleighs ready ere the snow comes.

At the Fair, they have a very handsome and highly finished Carryall, a beautiful trimmed Sleigh, and a carriage much like a first-class light Concord Wagon, which style they are to term the Portsmouth Buggy—to which, and its makers, all success.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—The Fair has brought a score or more of thieves and roughs to this city, whose sole object is to steal, and City Marshal Johnson requests us to warn our readers to take extra precautions for their own security.

On Tuesday evening, two strangers visited the Dining Rooms of H. M. Smith, on Ladd Street, and pretended to be unacquainted. The proprietor was absent and two boys were in attendance. One went to show one of the men the National House, and the other boy allowed the remaining stranger to write behind the counter. Then a third party came in, ordered a supper for three, and when the boy gave the order to the cook, the man behind the counter went through the money drawer and both decamped. Mr. Smith estimates his loss at $25.

THE AVENUE.—The first Street in this city to be called Avenue, so far as we know, was that which was originally Joshua Street, then Auburn Street, and of late Richards Avenue. Whether it is destined to bear yet other titles, remains to be seen.

The only other highway here which has so far been styled Avenue, is the new Lincoln Avenue, which commences (now) at Richards Avenue, and at present ends at Union Street, but will doubtless ultimately run westerly at least as far as Middle Street, between the residences of Messrs. John Christie and C. H. Mendum, and easterly to the embryo Park or to Pleasant Street.

The executors of the will of the late Mrs. Cutts, in accordance with her bequest, have caused to be prepared a plan of the proposed enlargement and improvement in Richards Avenue, and it is on exhibition at the Athenæum, where all interested are invited to examine it, that the views of the citizens may be obtained as far as practicable.

It is proposed to let the western line of Richards Avenue remain as it is, except to build a sidewalk 15 feet wide outside the present row of trees on that side,—and still call the present Avenue by the name Richards.

Then to extend on the east side, so as to have first, a central walk of 20 feet, with a row of trees on each side and one in the middle, next, a new carriage way, to be called Cutts Avenue, of like width with Richards Avenue; and outside that, another row of trees and another sidewalk 15 feet wide.

This, calling each carriageway 30 feet, will make in all, an Avenue rather more than 100 feet in width, and will constitute a sort of public Mall or Promenade. The old street, above, where the residences are, is miserably narrow, but doubtless some improvements will be feasible there, hereafter.

THE WOMAN OF THE STREET.—She is one of a numerous class. She walketh of nights and prefereth darkness because her deeds are of evil. As evening approacheth, she is seen of men, and greeteth the roue familiarly. She taketh the principal thoroughfares for her promenades and, ere twilight departeth, ogles the passers-by, strangers and citizens alike. Her effrontery surpriseth the uninitiated and causeth disgust in the minds of those not unused to it.

At home, she may be an innocent Abigail, described as being one in whose mouth no butter would melt. She secreteth her worldly wisdom from her kindred and early learneth to deceive. Her parents exclaim, "It is not our Abigail the writer speaketh of. And yet it's some one's child—what if it were ours!" The thought is banished, and Abigail goeth forth to her ruin, to become a victim and to make them.

Her steps take hold on wickedness and she straightway becometh a nuisance, deserted by former friends, despised by former associates and compelled to sink lower and choose society that would have been deemed a disgrace in the commencement of her downward career. Her example hath led others in the same path, the negligence of parents affording the opportunity; and the class she representeth is kept full of her followers of every grade — silly moths who flutter until their scorched wings fail them.

And of the class aforementioned there are found nightly on our principal streets scores—which nobody can deny.

THE FAIR, in consequence of the unfavorable weather Wednesday, was postponed until the next two fair days, —when the unfinished programme will be fully carried out. If fair weather, the following is the order of exercises for the Morning Chronicle.

WHAT I DID WITH IT.

I can't think what induced me finally to go to that bazaar. It was a scene in every way unsuited to a person like myself, an old bachelor in habits, if not in years, for though I was not an old man, I had always led a quiet, secluded life among my books and antiquarian curiosities, my only recreation being now and then to attend scientific meetings or dinners. It was true I had not long passed forty, but my youth seemed long ago; all fresh gaiety of spirit had been buried in the grave of my young hopes. Ours was a small family, and death had been busy among us; so I had only two living relations, married cousins, who, with their wives and children, resided near me at Dorkhampton, a small spot 20 miles distant from London, where I possessed much landed property.

These cousins were always vainly trying to induce me to visit them, always (shall I use the ugly word?) teadying me, for I was very rich, and both families, I fancy, had an eye to my wealth.

The world called me a misanthrope, a woman-hater. I never denied the imputation; for since that heartless girl long ago—but I will not rake up ancient stories and reopen old wounds, now, Heaven be praised, so sweetly healed. But I anticipate; and what I was speaking of first was that bazaar. Well, I repeat, what finally induced me to go I cannot tell. I had no interest in its object, none whatever; in fact I rather disproved of it than otherwise. I most certainly did and do disapprove of bazaars; I think they are just a medium for ladies to indulge in their favorite andleast preposessing characteristics. To say the least of it, it is not nice for a lady to be standing behind a counter, endeavoring by dress, attitude, looks and manners to persuade people to buy things that are of no earthly value to them.

Such are my opinions in theory, if not in practice, for I undoubtedly did go to that bazaar; partly, I think, because I was tired of saying I would not. I wanted to send them a sovereign to get out of it, but they would not let me off. My two cousins, Mrs. Granville and Mrs. Moore, were to have stalls—counters, I called them—and their two eldest daughters were to help. It would look strange if I stayed away, they pleaded.

The day before the event they called on me. I always felt these occasional calls a terrible infliction.

"You see, Cousin James," they said, "you are the principal person connected with us; and if your carriage is seen at the door, and you are a purchaser within, every one will come too. Besides, we have put on our bills, 'Under the patronage of James Chester, Esq.'"

"And you would not wish people to say we took them in," chimed in another of the girls.

Then they began to bother me, and use all kinds of stupid arguments. They were always so overpowerfully affectionate, too.

I don't think they would have triumphed, but that, as I glanced from them to a young lady, whom Ada Moore had introduced as Miss Grahame, a friend of hers, I saw a smile of amusement on her very pretty face.

"Don't you see, Ada," she said, "Mr. Chester is proud of his obstinacy, and does not care for us, whether we are gratified or not, so long as he is true to his prejudiced determination."

"You are hard on me, Miss Grahame," said I.

"Not at all Mr. Chester," said the young lady. "I disapprove of bazars as much as you do, besides disliking to assist at them, as they are very fatiguing; but, rather than vex Ada, I am going to make a holocaust of my dislike, and intend holding a stall of rocking horses, toys, dolls' houses, etc. I shall expect you to be a large purchaser thereat, for I know you will come, after all; men are so odd."

"Men are so odd, are they?" I muttered. "Rocking horses, toys, dolls—what rubbish—and why should I buy them?" Yet, when the next day came, I did go—I wonder why. I suppose because I was odd.

It was not a disagreeable scene. The stalls were all freshly decorated with flowers and lots of bright colors. The ladies were dressed airily and gaily, and they seemed very happy, all of them. My cousins looked especially so, when I came in. However, I did not go near them at first, for I must own to feeling just a little bit ashamed of myself. As I was passing the corner of a stall in a heedless, inattentive manner, I chanced to knock a box of tiny cups and saucers down. Such ridiculous little things! When I stooped to pick them up I wondered any man could be such a fool as to waste his time in making such trash.

I supposed I uttered these thoughts out loud, for a voice at my elbow said, "I dare say you enjoyed drinking out of such cups once, and thought the man who made them must be very clever."

It was Miss Grahame who spoke, and it was her stall I had been thus disturbing.

"Perhaps," I answered: "but then I thought as a child, and spoke as a child, but now—"

"Do not be irreverent, Mr. Chester" she said; "and let me tell you that I am very glad to see you."

"Are you not more surprised than glad?" I said ironically.

I always mistrusted those smooth phrases which women so well know how to make use of.

"No, I am glad," she replied: "glad that you have yielded, and glad because you are making me enjoy a small 'triumph.'"

"Which is—" said I.

"That I read your character aright," said Miss Grahame. "I said you would come after all."

"You are dangerous, Miss Grahame," I replied, "and will be reading my other characteristics, I fear."

"Or those you affect to have," she said.

"Am I so affected then?" I asked.

"Come, Mr. Chester," she said, "I must mind my business, and cannot stay answering your questions. Now come, what will you buy? Which shall it be—tea things, a drawing slate, a doll dressed in the latest fashion, or a—"

"Unless you wish to drive me away in despair, don't tease me to buy, 'Miss Grahame. What on earth is that?" I asked, pointing to a long wooden box, with the front of a house, five windows and a door painted on it.

"That? Oh, don't you know? That's a doll's house."

"Is it?" I remarked, not a bit wiser.

"Yes, look here," she said; and she threw open the whole side of the house, windows and all—a process peculiarly airy and unexpected to the inhabitants, I should imagine.

There were five rooms within, two sitting rooms, a kitchen, two bedrooms and a hall, all most exquisitely furnished, from the smallest kitchen requisite to a set of dressing case bottles on the toilet table of the best bedroom, before which a doll in a dressing gown was seated, at an angle peculiar to wooden joints.

I could not tell which I admired most, the exceedingly clever workmanship and skill displayed in this complete miniature residence, or the grace and vivacity with which Miss Grahame showed me all its merits from cellar to garret. I praised the doll's house and cicerone, and actually yielded to her entreaty to purchase something.

"You shall choose it," I said; only for goodness sake use discretion in your choice."

She selected a man of india-rubber, that squeaked and was squeezable, from among the heap of rubbish on her stall. It was a valuable possession to a man of my taste.

Thence I wandered to another stall, and by and by found myself to be the possessor of a set of pen-wipers, more or less hideous; a smoking-cap, which was particularly useful, as I never smoked, considering it a nasty habit; a pair of slippers, of an outrageously ugly pattern, and a book-marker.

"Surely," I thought, "I've bought enough now; so I'll be off."

I ought to mention here that this bazaar, though for a local purpose, and connected with Dorkhampton, was being held in London, the committee thinking thereby to secure more money. Now, though I never went into society, regularly, whenever the season came round I moved up town, into small and inexpensive lodgings, which I preferred to more stylish ones, knowing to be clean. I liked to be in London when so many scientific men were there, and so much of interest going on. Why I allude to my being in lodgings, at the time, will appear later. I must now return to the bazaar.

As I was saying, I had just made up my mind to go home, and was threading my way through a crowd of overdressed people to the door, when I was again caught by Miss Grahame.

"Oh Mr. Chester, you are just in time," she exclaimed. "The doll's house you admired so much is being raffled for, a chance."

"No, no, Miss Grahame," said I.

"Yes, Mr. Chester, yes," she repeated.

"You know you admired it; you can't deny that."

"As a work of art it is very curious," said I; "as a personal possession it is simply loathsome. I beg to decline the honor."

"But it is only a half-guinea ticket," she urged.

"Only half a guinea!" said I, "What an exorbitant sum for the chance of possessing a doll's house!"

"But you won't win it, Mr. Chester; indeed you need not be afraid. There are thirty-nine chances to one—I have got forty names to get. Please yield."

"Impossible!" said I.

"Well, let me put your name down, and if I can get forty without it, I will erase yours; if not——"

"If not," I groaned; "ah me, what then?"

So I stayed a little longer till this matter should be decided, wandering about with a Damocles sword hanging over my head. At last the blow fell. A whole chorus of voices belonging to the young Moores and Granvilles came yelling out, "Cousin Chester has won it? Cousin James has won the doll's house!"

It was true—ludicrously true; I had won it.

THE SKIES ARE DARK.

The skies are dark, and frown above,
That were so blue of late;
The heart that knoweth how to love,
Can easy learn to hate.

Then, lady, while the skies are fair,
Remember tempests lurking there;
And while man's heart is warm for thee,
Bethink thee what his hate may be.

The moon that shone a while ago,
Is dimmed and fled away;
Thick clouds, and dark, replace it now,
And hide its beaming ray.

Remember, then, the light of love,
Like gentle moon beams from above,
Can only stay while skies are fair,
And when no rival cloud is there.

Newport, N. H. A. J. MOODY.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

CANDIA, Oct. 12th.

It commenced raining here last night, and is still pouring down copiously; such a welcome visitor we have not seen for many long months. The apple crop is very abundant, and farmers are gathering in their winter supply.

No lack of the useful article this year. There are three meeting-houses, with good vestries, in Candia, viz; Congregational, F. W. Baptist, and Methodist. The houses are model structures, and are kept in excellent repair; two of them have fine toned bells. The Christian Society at the north road, so called, worship in a school-house. A.

REMAINS OF THE DEMOCRACY.—Our opinion is, that a portion of the remains of the Democratic party must recently have been exhumed at Yerba Buena, in California. When the coffin was opened there was discovered, instead of the regular and expected skeleton, only a knee-pan, with some dust and ashes, a pair of boots, and a bottle of whiskey. How the rest of the body got out of the sarcophagus, and is now running here and there for congress in detached portions, is as difficult to explain, as why it left the useful Bourbon behind it. Moreover, at the South the patella will be seriously missed; for the chief business of "the party" now (especially in Louisiana) is to "crook the pregnant knees," mainly before the negro population. Knees—that is, if it means to ask forgiveness for its sins—are what "the Democracy" will have great use for—Milwaukee Sentinel.

THE FRENCH EMPRESS when she left the Tuileries, was escorted by Prince Metternich and one or two other gentlemen, but soon got separated from them, and when she left Paris, it was on a market cart, returning into Normandy. In this cart she spent the best part of three days and two nights before reaching Trouville, where she was at once received on board the yacht of Sir J. M. Bourgoyne. She went on board privately, and the yacht weighed anchor at once and set sail for Ryde. The empress was wholly unprovided with luggage, not having even a comb and brush, or a change of linen with her. The crossing was very rough, the sea washing over the deck, and the empress was wayworn and exhausted when she arrived at Ryde. This was a risk she took when she married the assassin of December 2.

—The Earl of Shaftesbury, lately speaking of the evils arising from the celibacy of the Roman Catholic clergy, said: "If his Holiness the Pope had a wife, she would not allow him for one hour to remain in the belief that he was infallible."

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The greater part of the road is already completed, and the earnings from the finished portion are already more than sufficient to pay operating expenses and interest on the bonds. The balance of the work is progressing rapidly, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, its estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this line, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security.

These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at no distant day to command a market price considerably above par, be sides paying about 9 per cent., currency, interest in the meanwhile. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices only return five per cent.; and we regard the security equally safe.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the emergencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is thus restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats.—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, OCT. 14, 1870.

WAR NEWS.—The defeat of the French at Orleans is confirmed. The Prussians have entered the city. The French force is on the left bank of the Loire, and has received heavy reinforcements, including 10 batteries of field artillery.

By an official Prussian account of the surrender of Strasbourg, just published, it appears that by the capitulation, 1100 guns, of all sorts, 12,000 chassepots, 3 tons of ammunition, and 50 locomotives of the Paris and Strasbourg Railroad, which had been collected there, fell into Prussian hands.

The shooting of three Imperialists at Paris is confirmed. They headed intrigues, proposing a surrender. They were arrested and shot.

A letter from King William's headquarters says that adverse accounts have been received of the health of the army of Prince Frederick Charles, before Metz. More men are also needed there, and the army lately besieging Strasbourg has been ordered to reinforce this army instead of going south, toward Lyons.

THE ELECTIONS.—The election news Friday morning does not greatly change the result as previously indicated. The republicans have lost two Congressional districts in Ohio, one of them Mr. Schenck's, and have gained two. In Pennsylvania there are one or two doubtful districts. In Iowa and Indiana the republicans have carried the State ticket by the expected majorities. In Nebraska the republican majority is over 2000.

General Schenck, in Ohio, has been defeated by 133. The Democratic judges refused the soldiers' vote in Montgomery, and on this ground General Schenck will contest for a seat.

The Republican majority in Iowa is about 30,000.

Voorhees is said to be elected to Congress in Indiana. His seat will be contested. There is no change in Congressmen in that State.

POLITICAL.—Gov. Hoffman of New York declines a political discussion with Gen. Woodford, during the canvass in that State.

The resolutions of the Massachusetts Democratic State Convention, held on Wednesday, favor free trade, wink at labor reform, politely snub woman suffrage, and express the time-honored opinion of the "outs," about the national government. There was no resolution of congratulation over the result of the October elections.

The campaign against Secretary Cox continues, Senators Chandler and Cameron being the fuglers of the forces. The movement is of the lowest order of political working, and disgusting in all its features. Secretary Cox has made no move to counteract the influences thus brought to bear.

☞ Mayor Fox, of Philadelphia, protested both to United States Marshal Gregory and Governor Geary against the employment of marines to keep peace at the polls, as a violation of the constitution of the United States. Marshal Gregory, in reply, quoted the act of Congress appointing special deputies during the election of members of Congress, and stated that the marines were called out because he was informed that the deputies that he had appointed were arrested by the city policemen at the precinct in question, and were actually engaged in excluding colored voters from the polls.

ROBERT E. LEE, formerly commander-in-chief of the armies of the rebel confederacy, died at Lynchburg, Va., at half-past nine o'clock Thursday forenoon, of congestion of the brain. His age was 63 years, 8 months and 23 days. He lived 10 years, 8 months and 23 days too long. He was the basest and meanest traitor that ever went unhung in the United States.

☞ Wilson, the murderer of the Warden of the Connecticut State Prison, is trying to starve himself to death. He has not eaten a morsel or drank a drop since Thursday noon, October 7th. Good, so—let him starve; and he ought to be assisted in his first laudable effort.

☞ A workman employed in the Licking Rolling Mill, Cincinnati, Ohio, while at work assorting a lot of old iron, found a bombshell, and by playing with it caused it to explode. His head was completely blown off his shoulders.

☞ The President has pardoned the Fenian leaders who have been in prison since the Canadian fiasco.

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER, for the current month, has a large amount of reading of interest to historical students. Among the noteworthy articles are the election sermon preached by Rev. Thomas Shepard in 1638; a list of officers in Sir Wm. Pepperell's expedition against Louisburg, contributed by Hon. Charles Hudson; and a very able paper by Mr. Wm. Poole, based on Governor Hutchinson's MS. account of the Witchcraft Delusion of 1692. The full confession of Judge Sewall is here printed, made January 14, 1697, and read in church by his minister, Mr. Willard. It begins in these touching words:

Samuel Sewall, sensible of the reiterated strokes of God upon himself and family, and being sensible that as to the guilt contracted upon the opening of the late commission of Oyer and Terminer of Salem, he is, upon many accounts more concerned than any that he knows of, desires to take the blame and shame of it.

☞ The Manchester Union asks the newsboys of that city, "what is the use of hollowing" when they are selling their papers? Hollering or hallooing sounds more like the word needed, but the question is well put, at any rate; and we could never see the least sense or utility of the great bawling made by newsboys and hackmen at depots and elsewhere, and usually even in operas, by boys selling "books of th' opera?" To us, all such outcries are an infliction, and we would not patronize any of these noisy nuisances, no matter how great our desire for their wares or services. Portsmouth has known very little of this evil, but we could never understand why it is allowed anywhere.

COOS COUNTY.—Many people have got the idea that this is a mountainous, rocky and barren region, but this is a great mistake. Hilly and grand it certainly is; but the region around Colebrook and Lancaster is one of the most fertile in this State or any other State; and the continuation of the B. C. & M. Railroad up there, will develope its magnificent resources. During the recent first fair at Lancaster, trains ran regularly to Chesman's Crossing, one mile below the village, and drovers are now carying cattle at the same point; and the present month will beyond doubt see the road completed to the permanent depot.

☞ The annual accounts of the pension office, for the fiscal year ending June 30, have been completed. The expenditures for the previous year were $28,422,000. Those for last year, although 25,000 pensioners were added to the rolls, with arrearages in each case of from $5 to $1500, were $642,000 less, —$27,780,000. The estimates for the year were $31,000,000. It is believed at the pension office, contrary to general expectation, that the amount needed to meet the demand of the pension rolls will in future decrease, and that the maximum was reached a year ago.

I. O. of O. F.—The N. H. Gr. Encampment held its annual session at Dover, Tuesday. The following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing year: James F. Hartshorn, Portsmouth, Grand Patriarch; Alvah Moulton, Dover, Grand High Priest; Charles P. Blanchard, Concord, Senior Grand Warden; Joel Taylor, Manchester, Grand Scribe; Lorenzo K. Peacock, Concord, Grand Treasurer; M. L. Morrison, Peterborough, Junior Grand Warden; R. M. Blanchard, Nashua, Grand Sentinel.

☞ The race between the American yacht Dauntless and the English yacht Cambria was commenced Tuesday, the 11th, but at so late an hour that neither yacht could find the stake boat on their return, and the race is consequently postponed. When last sighted from the stake boat the Dauntless was ahead.

☞ The Newburyport Veteran Artillery, Maj. Ben. Perley Poore; the Amoskeag Veterans of Manchester, Gen. Natt Head; and the Putnam Phalanx, of Hartford, Maj. Kennedy,—were visiting in New York Thursday, and were received by the N. Y. Ninth Regiment, Col. Jas. Fiske.

☞ The steamship Hermann, from New York, has arrived at Bremen in safety. Her officers report that no blockaders were in sight off the coast, and no French cruisers were encountered on the voyage. Commerce to German ports may now be regarded as fully resumed.

☞ A Naval Court of Enquiry, will convene at Brooklyn on the 20th inst. to investigate the circumstances of the grounding of the Guerriere on the Nantucket Shoal. It cost but $200 to repair the damage.

☞ A well-known lady operator in stocks on Wall street, New York, is said to have cleared $10,000 by the recent turn in Western Unions.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ There was a grand day's sport at the Fair yesterday, and will be another to-day,—we think better still, for there are four races on for this last day. Below we give the programme; and should suppose that all who know a horse from a hen, would be sure to be there—for it is rare indeed we have a chance for so much innocent pleasure and real sport, about here.

The scene presented on the ground was very beautiful, everything being fresh and bright after the rain, and the number of carriages filled with ladies and gentlemen large. The various side shows were on hand; and the large tent of the Sagamore House, with its numerous gay streamers, was a prominent object, and afforded a much better opportunity than common, for getting a nice meal.

Among the finest turnouts, we noticed those of Messrs. Main and Winchester, Miss Main, and Master C. W. Main—an elegant display, (Mr. Winchester's groom driving his beautiful mares round the track;) A. W. Peirce, Esq., handsome span; Mr. & Mrs. Geo. Vandenhoff, basket phaeton, &c.

Mr. Coffin and Mr. Rowe did the duty of Marshals promptly, pleasantly, and to good acceptance. That was a good idea of Mr. D. E. Leavitt, to circulate the programme for the day as an advertisement.

There were a number of new entries of stock and at the Hall. Col. J. W. Peirce of Greenland kindly showed, (by his Superintendent, Mr. W. Scott) thirty head of his first premium Durham stock, including his mammoth oxen weighing 5550, the magnificent bull President, cows, &c., — all beautiful and choice. On this farm are 128 head of neat stock, and 13 horses.

Mr. F. Jones also showed about 40 head of Ayrshires, natives and grades—these two making a cattle show, of themselves. We gave Mr. Jones' entries in full yesterday.

☞ In the Aldermen, Thursday Evening, (Mayor absent—Ald. Miller in chair,) the Fleet Street widening was completed; relay of side-walk granted Albert Badger on Vaughan St., new brick walk granted T. S. Nowell on Anthony St.; the plan for widening Richards Avenue was received from Mr. Hackett, exr. of Mrs. Cutts' will, and referred to Mayor and Com. on Sts.; F. Jones granted permission to lay drain from Rockingham House on State St.

☞ The North Church in this city return to their former custom of a sermon in the afternoon, instead of a Bible service. Among the causes for this change, is the loss of the Sabbath evening prayer-meeting, and the inconvenience to those living at a distance. Rev. Mr. Adams of this church preached an able discourse last Sabbath evening, on the life and character of Geo. Whitefield, from the text, "He was a bright and shining light."

☞ The Congressional nomination in this District, (Republican, of course we mean, for it makes but little difference whom the Opposition candidate may be,) begins to excite some attention. The leading candidates are understood to be, Mr. Ela, the present incumbent, James W. Emery of this city, Wm. B. Small of Newmarket, Nath'l Gordon of Exeter; and some mention is made of Wm. C. Patten of Kingston, and perhaps others.

☞ The Boston Journal of Chemistry condemns tin-lined lead pipe. Block tin pipe, so called, is a very different and superior article; and is put in by Mr. McCarthy, plumber, of this city, when desired.

☞ The base ball match at the Fair Grounds, Thursday, between the 1st and 2d nines of the Granite State club, resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 20 to 4 in eight innings.

☞ The London Times refers discouragingly to the Tehuantepec canal route, but approves of the Nicaragua scheme, and thinks that, in view of the Pacific Railroad and similar great American projects, the latter work will be a success.

☞ A woman named Stanstedt was murdered in Boston, early Wednesday morning. She was stabbed while in bed, and her husband, a German, has been arrested on suspicion of being the murderer.

☞ By the collision of two railroad trains at a crossing in Boston, Wednesday, the engineer of one train, Mr. Wetherell, was killed. He was about 30 years old and leaves a wife and four children.

☞ An unknown man was cut in two by the cars, while attempting to cross the Eastern Railroad track near Boston, Wednesday afternoon.

—The war measure—A line of battle.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BAD PRACTICE.—You might as well expect to relieve and cure an inflamed eye by dusting irritating powders into it, as to expect to subdue and cure Catarrh (which is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the air passages in the head) by the use of irritating snuffs, or strong, caustic solutions. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures Catarrh by its mild, soothing action, which subdues the inflammation and restores the natural secretion of the mucous follicles. The proprietor offers $500 for a case of Catarrh that he cannot cure. Sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents. Sold by druggists. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE WORD "SOZODONT," which is fast becoming a household word, is derived from the Greek, and composed of two words, SOZO and ODONTOS—"SOZO," translated, means to preserve, and "ODONTOS," the teeth. SOZODONT, a preserver of the teeth. And it is true to its name.

"SPALDING'S GLUE" will mend your ways, or anything else that needs mending.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Systems Run Down.

Persons often allow their systems to "run down," or rather run them down by over-work, accompanied by a neglect of the proper means of invigoration. The result is what is called "GENERAL DEBILITY;" in other words, a failure and partial collapse of the physical forces, accompanied, usually, by great depression of spirits.

The best remedy in such cases is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Whether the state of exhaustion has been brought on by excessive physical labor, dissipation, anxiety of mind, exposure, or any other cause, the remedial effect of this great stomachic will be found equally prompt and certain. As a restorative, after severe sickness has prostrated the bodily and mental energies, it is pronounced, by competent medical authority, "THE BEST TONIC IN USE." If men were not foolishly careless about their health, and over confident in themselves, they would always, when engaged in any work that required great exertion, use corresponding means of sustaining their strength. For this purpose Hostetter's Bittters are invaluable. All toilers should use them as an invigorant.

For those constantly employed in in-door occupations, especially in crowded workshops, they may be reckoned as the very best safeguard of health. Where there is a predisposition to constipation, or a tendency to biliousness, they may be truly said to be a specific for which there is no substitute. dawlw08

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivaled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

Directions accompany each bottle.

PISCATAQUA FAIR.—Thursday was a pretty good Fair day, and there was a fair show at the Park,—of people, and of sights to see. The Portsmouth Cornet Band sounded a brisk call to the field in the morning, and Marshal Coffin and his Aides led the nucleus of a procession to the Grounds. This was the Portsmouth Team of 14 yokes of noble oxen, with a handsomely decorated wagon; and they were joined ere reaching the Park, by the Greenland Team of 10 yokes, with plain wagon, and the Newington Team of 12 yokes, with a very tastefully decorated agricultural wagon, packed full of bright and happy school children.

There was a display and examination of Colts on the Track.

The judges for the first race of the day, were Messrs. Perley and Wiggin, and G. H. Shannon of this city. The trot was for a Purse of $50; for horses that never beat 3 min; $25 to 1st, $15 to 2d, $10 to 3d. L. T. Sanborn ns br m Fearnaught Belle, Chas. E. Smith ns g g Harry Gray, Albert Shannon ns b g Frank, H. H. Smith ns g s Greenland, F. Jones ns g m St. Lawrence Maid, J. H. Ferguson ns br g Greenland Boy, T. W. Jones ns br g Honest Quaker.

All seven horses came for the race, which was spirited and interesting, and handsomely won in three straight heats by Mr. Jones' fine mare St. Lawrence Maid—the stylish bay Frank, a good second; the stallion Greenland third for one heat, and the bloodlike black 5 year old filly Fearnaught Belle third, in two heats. Our summary gives all the positions, and the time, which was very good for this track:

Albert Shannon ns	b g Frank, 2 2 2
L. T. Sanborn, n s	br m Fearnaught Belle, 4 3 3
H. H. Smith ns	g g Greenland, 3 4 4
Chas. E. Smith ns	g g Harry Gray, 6 5 5
J. H. Ferguson ns	br g Greenland Boy, 5 6 7
T. W. Jones ns	br g Honest Quaker, 7 7 6

Time 2:58, 2:56, 2:51.

For the purse of $200, open to all horses wherever owned; $125 to 1st, $50 to 2d, $25 to 3d, F. Jones ns s m Lady Emma, W. Locke ns b m Rosa Bonheur, H.R.Stoddard ns s m Topsey, M. Eldredge ns blk m Belle of Portsmouth, A. T. Roberts ns blk m Lady Smith.

Topsey and Lady Smith were drawn, the other three making a sharp and spicy race, although the almost interminable scoring was very tiresome. Mr. Locke's beautiful bay Rosa Bonheur, 5 years old, had the pole, Mr. Jones' grey-hound-like mare Lady Emma second, Mr. Eldredge's elegant black mare Belle outside.

After seven or more scorings for the advantage in starting, they got the word—Harry Bradley of Boston driving the Belle, John McGlew holding the lines over Emma, and Mr. Locke tooling his own mare. Rosa trotted well for a colt, but was allowed to run to keep the pole from Emma on the back side, and although Rosa came in a strong first, the judges gave the heat to Emma, Belle second, Rosa third for running. This was rather hard for the colt, but Mr Locke allowed it was just. Time 2:47 1-2.

For the second heat, three were as many as nine scorings, (Harry Bradley again,) and when they did get off, the Belle had nearly two lengths clean lead; but little Emma out-trotted her on the home stretch, and beat her home by half a length,—Rosa a bad third. McGlew had saved Emma, while the others tired their horse scoring. Time 2:50.

The third heat was not called till 5:20, and many people had to leave for the trains. The judges would not allow much jockeying for place this time, but started them off on the second scoring. The Belle and Bradley tried hard for the heat, but Emma kept the lead all round, and won the heat and race prettily in 2:48 1-2, Belle second, Rosa third.

The hours flew as fast the horses, the sun went down, and the cold came on apace, but quite a good number of people, ladies and gentlemen, stayed to see the Stallion race, which was for a premium of $30; $20 to 1st, $10 to 2d. Stallions (to sulky) 4 years old and over. For this only two horses came, though at least one more (Mr. Walker's John G. Saxe) was entered. These were Fearnaught Prince of Stratham, driven by his owner, Mr. Wm. G. Brown, and Mr. Mann's grey stallion Greenland, driven by H. H. Smith. Mr. Mann has always shown good pluck in trotting his horse, but Greenland did not appear to us in good condition, and he had been trotting half the afternoon in the other race. But he has been on the track a good deal, before, while the Prince is comparatively green.

There were three mile heats, and Fearnaught Prince won easily in 2:52, 2:47 1-2, 2:47 1-2, and came in on a jog, each heat. The Fearnaught stock went up immensely, by this day's work of the Prince and the Belle; and fully justified our opinion of them long entertained, and expressed in these columns yesterday and heretofore.

In the Hall, there was a crowd all the day; and toilet and washing soaps were freely distrtrbuted among the crowd, from the handsome display of J. Rider & Son, grocers, &c.

The following is the programme for the Third Day,—Friday, Oct. 14.

1 1-2 o'clock—Purse $50; for horses that never beat 2:50; $25 to 1st, 15 to 2d, $10 to 3d. H. R. Stoddard ns s m Topsy, H. P. Wingate ns g m Cora Belle, F. Jones ns g g Wild Eddy, H. McDevitt ns ch m Lady French.

2 1-2 o'clock—Purse $50; single dash 3 miles. M. Eldredge ns blk m Belle of Portsmouth, H. McDevitt ns ch m Lady French, F. Jones ns g m St. Lawrence Maid, W. Locke ns b m Rosa Bonheur.

3 1-2 o'clock — purse of $40 for double teams — open to all; $25 to 1st, $15 to 2nd; mile heats, best 2 in 3. F. Jones ns s m Lady Emma and mate, A. T. Roberts ns blk m Lady Smith and b g Dick, H. R. Stoddard ns s m Topsy and mate.

☞ This is the closing day of the Piscataqua Fair, and we are informed that most (if not all) of our merchants and storekeepers intend closing their places of business this afternoon, to attend the Fair themselves and to give their employes a chance to do the same. Good; a half day's recreation, occasionally, is a good investment.

☞ We reckon, notwithstanding, all the fault found with our staunch old Aqueduct Company, that those citizens whose wells have utterly refused to discount or liquidate this dry season, have often wished themselves within reach of this beneficent institution.

☞ A neat job of House-painting—that at Lincoln Hill Cottage, by Mr. Elisha Tripp. A neat job of Sign work—that at the new Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Banking House, by Mr. E. D. Coffin.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

CARRIAGE REPAIRING OF ALL KINDS,

Done by MOSES LORD, No. 6 Warren St., au5 Portsmouth, N. H.

Morning Chronicle.

Concluded from yesterday.

WHAT I DID WITH IT.

In vain I reproached. Miss Grahame declared it was not her fault that I had been destined to have it. I cursed it as it stood there looking so clean and fresh; I scolded myself for letting my name go down, for attending the bazaar at all.

"What in the name of patience can I do with the thing?" I asked.

"Well, Cousin James," said Mrs. Moore, insinuatingly, "I should hope that question might be answered with ease. I know my little Mary would gladly own so splendid a toy; I had almost promised to buy it for the dear child's birthday next Saturday week. She would value it doubly from you."

"But, my dear Mrs. Moore," broke in my cousin, Mrs. Granville, "I am really surprised to hear you speak of Mary in connection with a doll's house. She is really far too big a girl to think of playing with toys any longer, and if she still cares for them, I should say the less you encourage that fancy the better. Now for my little ones, who are so much younger, this present would be far more suitable."

"Indeed I do not see that," said Mrs. Moore. "Of course Cousin James can give it to whom he pleases; but I should have thought—"

I did not care to hear more, but slipped away unperceived, while the worthy matrons carried on a wordy quarrel as to which of their interesting offspring should have my property. Meanwhile I made up my mind that neither of them should—no, not if I had to burn or break it instead. Ill-natured, grasping women, I thought.

At the door I met Miss Grahame.

"Will you accept the doll's house?" I asked.

"I!" said Miss Grahame. "Oh dear no. What good would it be to me? Keep it, Mr. Chester—keep it seven years, and see if the old adage comes true about a useless thing being useful at last. Only let me remind you it must be removed from these rooms to-night."

Here was a new difficulty. A boy and a barrow could not manage it, it was too big. I nearly went mad when they wanted me to convey it on the top of my new brougham!

At last Miss Grahame suggested a green-grocer's cart, which stylish vehicle was at last hired to convey it to my rooms for half-a-crown. I hurried there in my carriage to prepare my landlady for its reception.

"Mrs. Jones—I—in fact—I want to tell you—I've been to a bazaar, and bought—at least won—I mean there's a doll's house coming in a little while, that must stay here till I go into the country again, or do something with it."

"A what, sir?" said Mrs. Jones.

"A doll's house—a doll's house they called it. Let it stand in the passage, please."

Mrs. Jones was mute; she evidently did not take in my meaning. Meantime I drove off to a scientific meeting, and in the intellectual treat there provided, I forgot my incubus. But as I returned and entered the house, unperceived, I heard voices raised in dispute, and high above them Mrs. Jones shrill tones.

"Drat this 'ere lumbering doll's house! It takes up all the room. Our passage is small enough without it being crammed, and I've nearly broke my shins tumbling over the wretched thing. A nice toy for an old bachelor like him! I should be ashamed of myself if I was him. If he was going to get married it would be another thing; only, if so be, he may go out of this house. I won't have no feminines a running up and down my stairs. I only lets to single gentlemen. A doll's house, indeed!"

All this, spoken with a resounding sniff between each sentence, I heard, as I hurried to my room.

Daily the dose was repeated, until at last the hitherto placid Mrs. Jones came to me, and told me that I must have "that 'ere doll's house in my room, she couldn't endure it any longer in the passage; and if I would have it there, she was sorry to have of turn out a gent as had lodged with her so many years running, but I must go. That every day she'd lost a lodger through it (confound it!) — a literary gent as had heard of her rooms being so quiet; and when he came to see that there doll's house, he says, "Oh, children, eh! Thank you, my good woman, your rooms won't do for me." And when I says, "It's not mine, seeing I've no children, but it's a gentleman's here, an old, I mean, a middle-aged bachelor." "Oh, a lunatic!—worse and worse," said he; and off he went like a shot. "You'll excuse me, sir; but out of the passage it must go."

Anything for a quiet life. I had it in my rooms; but it was very much in the way, and it was worse and worse when scientific men came to consult me on matters that required undivided attention. The undisguised contempt with which they greeted the doll's house and its story, nearly drove me mad. I began to loathe it; I dreamed of it; it haunted me in my studies.

At last, one day when I was over at Dorkhampton, I thought I would call on the Moores, and ask their advice as to ridding myself of this burden. Give it to them I would not on any account; but perhaps they might offer some sensible advice. I was growing desperate about the thing.

There was no one of the family at home, the servant said; but Miss Grahame was in—would I see her?

I hesitated, drew out my card, and finally assented into her presence, told her my trouble, and asked her advise. She laughed as she listened to my piteous story.

"It really seems a terrible burden to you, Mr. Chester; I will give it my serious attention, I promise you."

Then we began to talk on other subjects, and I found her to be to my surprise, a women full of quiet intellectual power; what she knew, she knew thoroughly. She had thought much, read much, could reason well, and was withal, full of girlish spirit and fun, combined with lady-like winning grace and true courtesy. I say to my surprise; for among all my studies, I never studied a woman's mind. Now I saw how fair a thing it could be.

I left; but somehow, my call was repeated—once—twice—again and again. The new study was interesting to me. I was almost forgetting the first cause, which I had consulted Miss Grahame about, the doll's house.

One day she said, "Mr. Chester, I think I have found a capital fate for the doll's house—give it to the Children's Hospital; it would be a most valuable gift to those little sufferers."

"I too, have found a fate for it," I replied; "I was stupid not to think of it sooner. I have just had it moved to one of the many empty rooms of my Dorkhampton house, and it now rests with you whether its sight shall be a painful memory to me forever, or a happy memento, as being the thing that made me acquainted with my life's best joy. Miss Grahame, years ago I thought I loved, but she whom I loved was false; and in my wounded pride I closed my heart thenceforth against all womanhood and love. I scorned, I disbelieved, I scouted all belief in woman's truth, purity and faith; but now—now I love again. Isabella Grahame, is that love to be the means of restoring me to youth, life, hope?—or is it to be the ordained punishment of my long years of selfish engrossment and unbelief? You must decide for me."

"Mr. Chester, I—do you really mean this?"

"It is my future life that I now give to you, to do with as you will," I replied, "If you refuse me, I shall never hope again."

"Will you have patience with my womanly short-comings?" she said.

"No; for patience will not be needed," said I.

"Then—"

"Then do you love me?" said I.

"Yes;" replied Miss Grahame.

And then the wilderness of my love burst forth and blossomed as the rose.

* * *

Four years after the event related above, I was sitting in my study, busily writing a paper that I meant to read at the next meeting of the British Association, when my wife entered the room. I knew she must have something especial to say when she thus disturbed me.

"What is it, my love?" I asked.

"James, dear, do you not think, as to-morrow is our darling's birthday, she might have the doll's house? Why should you keep it locked up so carefully any longer, when our little one might have so much enjoyment out of it.

"If you think she is old enough to appreciate it, let her have it, Isa," was my reply.

My wife went away, pleased and satisfied. We had had several loving altercations about the doll's house, she wishing to keep it unbroken and unspoilt, as a happy memorial. Of course my wife had triumphed in the matter; but then women always do in matters on which they set their mind.

The morrow came, and our darling received the doll's house. In the course of the morning my sweet wife drew me away from my study, and took me up into the nursery to show me a picture that my eyes can never forget nor my heart cease to cherish. Our little golden-haired maiden was seated in wondering awe before the doll's house—that incubus of my bachelorhood. Her soft cheeks were flushed with delight, her rosy lips were parted, her blue eyes full of joy; as she went from room to room of the fairy palace, the gentle mother guided her little fingers to each successive beauty as she once had guided my cold and criticising eye.

When all was examined, her mother said, "Now go and thank dear papa, Issy."

In a moment the little golden head was nestling on my shoulder, the innocent heart overflowing with its delight. Happy childish tears swept like summer rain from the pretty eyes as she clung to me in unspoken thanks for her great birthday present. As I pressed her to me and kissed that sweet face, I could not help smiling at the thought of how I had once hated the sight of that doll's house.

I was glad for the hundredth time that I did go to the bazaar; and this was what became of the doll's house.

The case of Stevens, for the murder of Gardner in a drunken row, was commenced at Concord on Friday. The rum on which the party got drunk was procured of one Thompson, Gardner's father-in-law.

Portland has voted to guarantee the interest on $300,000 for the completion of the Portland & Rutland Railroad, from Springvale, Maine, to Rochester, this State. This, it is said, will secure the construction of the road from Rochester to Concord.

On Monday last as Mr. Luther C. Kimball was setting on the piazza of his hotel in Dover, his chair slipped and he fell down over the steps, cutting quite a gash under his chin. On Tuesday he was attacked with apoplexy, and died next day.

Maj. Sayles, Assistant U. S. Marshal for Dover, having learned after the transmission of his census returns, that a considerable number of persons had been omitted in the enumeration, applied to the Marshal, Gen. Patterson, and received permission to send in supplimentary returns. As the result of careful enquiries 282 new names have added to the former returns, making the entire population 9294; a gain of 792 from 1860. A similar correction and gain all over the State, if possible, would save the State the reproach of the 8000 loss reported.

The Unitarian Parish of Dover have made choice of their pastor, Rev. T. W. Brown, Messrs. Benjamin Barnes and J. L. Jackson, as their delegates to represent the society in the General Conference of Unitarian churches, to be held in New York city on Oct. 19, 20 and 21.

The Supreme Court has ordered the receivers of the Concord Railroad to pay the State tax on the corporation, amounting to about $50,000; and it will probably soon order a semi-annual dividend to the stockholders, not to exceed 5 per cent, of the net earnings.

At a meeting of the Directors of Cocheco National Bank, Dover, Mr. Harrison Haley was elected Cashier, in place of Hon. Ezekiel Hurd, resigned on account of sickness.

The arrangements for the Lyceum course, under the direction of a Committee from the Dover Board of Trade, have been completed.

The ground bought in Dover by the Grand Army, for burial purposes, has been suitably laid out in lots and is now for sale.

Work upon the new Catholic church in Dover has been resumed, and will probably be continued until it is completed.

Frank E. Thompson of Dover, was elected one of the orators to take part in the annual exhibition of the Literary Societies at Dartmouth College.

The Dover Cornet Band have decided to exchange their old for an entirely new set of instruments, at an expense of $600. They are to have them in about ten days.

The Strafford Guards, Capt. Wallace, of Dover, are to parade with the Dover Cornet Band on Friday afternoon, Oct. 21, and have a Ball in the evening.

A little son of Felix McCune, 2 years of age, fell into a small pail of hot water in Dover, and was so severely scalded as to die. The mother was standing by, her head being turned for the moment, and instantly took the child; but it had been so badly injured that it could not recover.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

RAYMOND. — The Congregational church in Raymond has given a call to Rev. S. Bouker of Wells, Me., to become pastor.

Mr. Clark Fowler of Raymond, section hand on the C. & P. R. R., raised ten and a half pounds of Jackson white potatoes from a vine that came up among his cucumbers.

On Saturday last, Mrs. Tracy of Manchester was in a carriage near Mr. George A. Bean's in Raymond, when a yoke of oxen and cart came furiously against the team, and she with the whole concern was thrown down an embankment. She was taken up insensible, but was not seriously injured. J.

—Andy Johnson's election to Congress will do good, for it will certainly lead to the discontinuance of the Congressional Globe, and of a heavy and unnecessary public expense.—Boston Times.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopaea, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT of BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Address Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway N. Y.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, OCT. 15, 1870.

WAR NOTES.—The policy of the European Cabinets to localize the war, is likely to produce just the opposite effect.

The English apprehend a general European convulsion, and the Prussians are incurring general indignation for provoking danger.

England is quietly preparing for the storm. While refusing to augment her military expenses, the Government is putting her sea coast defences in impregnable condition.

Bismarck has received representation from many quarters of Germany that the people are anxious for peace.

At a stormy meeting of the British Cabinet the Marquis of Hartington demanded intervention for the integrity of French territory.

From French sources we have reports that the Prussian army is on the retreat from Paris. If this report is true, the Prussians are probably going for the new French armies in the field.

THE ELECTIONS. — The Democrats have gained several members of Congress by the late elections; they claim seven at present, but probably claim more than they have got just as the Republicans did at first.

Indiana has gone democratic by a small majority, and that party will have 8 majority in the House. The Senate is tied.

The Republicans lost one Congressman in Ohio.

Colorado has sent Chaffee, Republican, to Congress, by 1392 majority.

Tufts, Republican, will have 3000 majority for Congress, in Nebraska.

PUT HIM OUT.—A subordinate in the Savannah custom house Thursday, put the flag at half-mast in honor of General Lee. The collector ordered it to be raised to the usual place, which caused much excitement. Secretary Boutwell sent a dispatch approving the collector's course. Another dispatch should be sent as soon as possible, relieving from office the officious toady, who lowered to the memory of Lee the flag he tried so hard and so basely to dishonor and destroy.

☞ A heavy gale is reported from England. Much damage has been done to shipping and shore property. Vessels in Liverpool were severely smashed up. At Limerick, Ireland, the storm was almost a tornado; one man was blown overboard and drowned, another crushed by a falling chimney — houses were unroofed and ships in the harbor driven on shore. Many wrecks have occurred.

☞ The United States Marshal has begun active preparations for enforcing the new Federal election law, at the next election in New York City. About one thousand deputies will be appointed at ten dollars per day. An honest election in New York city means a Republican victory in New York State.

☞ In France, they are building two-story railroad cars. There is a great saving of first cost in them, and also in dead weight. The latter amounts to only 200 pounds per passenger, while in this country the dead weight per passenger is rarely less than 500 pounds, and often more.

☞ Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson, of Boston Highlands, celebrated their golden wedding on Tuesday evening. Among the presents, which were tendered by Rev. Mr. Patterson in behalf of the company, were a splendid gold watch to tell the golden hours, and a gold headed cane.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

PROMOTION TO OFFICE.—To be vain and ambitious for office, and obtain it by intrigue, corruption, bribery, falsehood, and appeals to the low passions of the people,—when no special talents or merit are possessed fitting for places of power and truth, is mean indeed. It renders one despicable.

There is another case, but a trifle better. It is when one, although there may be fitness as to natural and acquired abilities, desiring office most earnestly, yet affects indifference, puts on the mask of modesty, pretends that he does not want office, and if elected appears to accept reluctantly; while all the time, he has been laboring by secret, underhand practices, to obtain it.

There is another picture, and it is a bright one. A private person, eminent for merit, modest in reality and unassuming, yet capable of filling high places, is found by the intelligent and discerning voters, and elected by their free suffrages to bear rule. This is great and noble. It is an honor to man, to office, to the State, to Republican Institutions. J.

AT THE SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, Dover, in the case of J. H. Currier v B. J. Waterhouse, to recover damages for injuries received by his son by being shot and having an eye put out in November, 1868, the verdict was for deft., as plf. was imitating a wild animal in the evening, and was ignorantly and innocently shot by Waterhouse. So much for practical joking, this time.

City of Dover v E. J. Freeman. Action for keeping open after 10 o'clock P. M. Verdict guilty. Exceptions taken and case transferred.

Elliot Door v C. C. Door et al of Milton. This was an action for trespass, a boundary line being in dispute. Verdict for plf. of $10.

State v Thomas McDermot of Dover. Indictment for selling liquor on Sunday. Jury did not agree. 4 for conviction, 8 for acquittal.

State v Silas Wentworth of Rochester, indicted for liquor selling. Jury did not agree. 4 for conviction, 8 for acquittal.

J. W. Waldron v Andrew Berry of Farmington. This is an action to recover damages for dirt and stone removed from plf's premises by deft while acting as surveyor. The jury did not agree, a majority favoring the plf.

☞ A burglar entered the house of Mr. J. M. Lewis of Kittery, Thursday evening, by opening the front door with a false key. Mr. Lewis' daughter, who was alone in the house at the time, was awoke by the foot-steps of the intruder, and by her screams attracted Mr. A. H. Adams to her assistance, when the thief escaped through a rear window. He got no booty.

☞ Mr. Lane's Seedling Potato attracted much attention at the Fair, and sold on the Grounds for seed, as high as $20 a bushel. Mr. Lane (James of Hampton,) was awarded the first premium, both last year and this, for best variety of Potatoes.

ASSORTING POTATOES.—The proper time to assort potatoes is just as soon as they are dug, and while scattered over the field. At this time every tuber can be plainly seen, and no extra handling is required in assorting the large from the small. The boys will want to be in school next winter; and assorting potatoes in a dark cellar, winter evenings, or on vacation days, is not the most agreeable recreation—Hearth and Home.

—The census taker at Dubuque, Iowa, has found a family, the father thirty-seven years old, the mother thirty-one, who, as husband and wife, having been married fifteen years, have been the parents of seventeen children. Of this great number of children not one is living—every one of them dying a few months after birth. There was but one birth of twins.

—No human being is to blame for the grounding of the Guerriere and the breakage by the Brooklyn. The one would go on to the Rip, and the other would rip up the merchantman. The most ingenious theory in relation to the Guerriere's misfortune is, that the Rip ran under her, and made her "stick."—Boston Traveller.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

DRAINAGE.—This is one of the most important subjects, for the consideration of those who have charge of highways, no less than for the farmer. In a city so flat and low as Portsmouth, especially, provision is necessary for keeping the streets free from water standing in or near the surface—and the evil effects of a neglect of this, are plainly shown on Middle St. and Richards Avenue, both of which are little better than bogs, after a rain, or even a shower; and these streets would be exceedingly difficult to under-drain, on account of the numerous tree roots, which will fill up a tile in a year or two, at a distance of many feet.

The under-draining or thorough draining of a roadway, is fully as important, to secure a good and durable street or road, as the material of which it is constructed. Thanks to the very intelligent efforts of Judge Henry F. French, formerly of Exeter, the people of that town and vicinity have come to better appreciate the necessity and advantage of tile drainage, than most others, and a manufactory of earthern tiles is established there. The following item, which we cut from the News Letter, shows that they are learning the first and most important lesson in road-building; and the subject is well worthy of consideration in this city and elsewhere:

Our streets, in some parts of the town, are being well and effectually drained, we trust. About 4000 ft. of drain tile have been used, mostly on Court and High Streets and on Portsmouth Avenue. The work is under the immediate supervision of Joseph Perkins, Esq. If the experiment proves a good one, we hope money may be appropriated for the draining of Front Street, which is certainly one of the worst in town in a wet season.

—We are heartily glad to to learn that Mr. Jacob H. Thompson, for many years Exchange Editor of N. Y. Times, has sufficiently recovered his health to be able to take his accustomed seat. Mr. Thompson has few if any equals in his specialty as a journalist, and as a kindly, courteous gentleman he is the peer of the best. Indeed, whatever way we measure him, he fits the place so well that neither the Times nor the circle of his friends could afford to do without him.—N. Y. Mail.

☞ We are desired by the Treasurer, Mr. Mason, of the firm Mason & Seavey, to state that the Premiums will be paid at his store, next week, on and after Wednesday.

☞ The Oct. Term of the S. J. Court commences in this city next Tuesday, the 18th. The case of Jones, the Newmarket murderer, will come on.

☞ Harper's Magazine for November, may be had at Adams's Periodical Store. It is an attractive number.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Spread the Truth.

Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Queer reasoning this. It is like saying that an article which the world needs should be hid in a corner—that benefits and blessings may be too widely diffused—that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a close monopoly, and not accessible to all. The argument is bad. It is worse than that; it is nonsense. Suppose HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—an absolute specific for dyspepsia, biliousness and nervous debility—had never been known beyond the repository of the faculty, what would have been the consequence? Instead of curing and invigorating millions, the good effects of the preparation would have been confined to a comparative few. There is the highest authority for saying that light should not be hid under a bushel; that whatever is excellent should be placed as a city on a hill, where all men can take cognizance of it.

It is upon this principle that the Bitters have been advertised and continue to be advertised in every newspaper of any prominence in the western hemisphere, and that the spontaneous testimonials in its favor have been translated into all written languages. Thousands enjoy perfect health to-day who would be languishing on beds of sickness if the newspapers had not spread the truth with regard to this unequaled invigorant and corrective far and wide. Suppose proof has been respect from this quarter. Is that any argument against it? If the public health has been protected; if lives have been saved; if the feeble have been strengthened and the sick restored, great good has been accomplished, and who so mean as to grudge to exertions thus directed their fair reward? dawlwoct15

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years —the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, its estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege keeps the bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-Twenties, at present prices, return only 4 per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9 per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

New Advertisements to-day.

7 Per Cent. Gold First Mortgage Bonds.
Notice—Stephen H. Simes & Co.

THE FAIR closed well, Friday—and the day was one of the loveliest. The attendance was not very large, especially in view of the fact that the annual exhibition is about the only opportunity for a general out-door social gathering of the year, for our people. The programme of the day, as of the whole fair, was faithfully and promptly carried out.

The first race was for running horses half mile heats, 2 in 3, for $15. Elijah Locke of Barrington entered b. g. Jim, and Geo. Pease of So. Newmarket entered ch. g. Nero. Jim beat poor, worn-out old Nero, in two straight heats, easily, in 59 seconds, and 1 minute.

For the purse of $50, for horses that never beat 2:50; $25 to 1st, 15 to 2d, $10 to 3d. H. R. Stoddard ns s m Topsy, H. P. Wingate ns g m Cora Belle, F. Jones ns g g Wild Eddy, H. McDevitt ns ch m Lady French. This race, for a wonder, was started promptly on time, and finished up speedily. Wild Eddy, driven by McGlew, won three straight (or successive) heats, in 2:56, 2:52 1-2, 2:58—Lady French second, Cora Bell third, Topsey fourth; all driven by their owners.

The double team race came next. This was for a purse of $40; $25 to 1st $15 to 2nd; mile heats, best 2 in 3. F. Jones ns s m Lady Emma and Mountain Maid. A. T. Roberts of Dover ns blk m Lady Smith and black mate. Bradley drove the blacks, and McGlew Mr. Jones' team of little beauties, which won in two straight heats, 2:54 1-4, 3 minutes. The second heat was very closely contested, and the teams passed each other twice. The sport all through was fine.

And now for the three-mile race—a single dash, for sweepstakes of $50. For this, M. Eldredge ns blk m Belle of Portsmouth, H. McDevitt ns ch m Lady French, F. Jones ns g m St. Lawrence Maid, W. Locke ns b m Rosa Bonheur, his beautiful and game five-year old filly, who has proved herself a good one this season, and will be heard of hereafter.

All four came, and Rosa drew the pole, Belle outside. Rosa kept the lead for a while, and kept it, we thought too fast, 2 full miles, when McGlew, who had been saving the Maid, took the lead, and kept it handsomely to the sixth score, in 8:43 1-2. The race was one of the most interesting we ever saw, and was gamely contested by all four horses, who were at no time far apart during their six times round. Mr. McDevitt's mare showed good bottom, as usual, by coming in a close second, when she reared a colt within a month, and is now in foal. Rosa Bonheur was a good strong third, the Belle last.

Thus ended the Fair; and if the racing failed to suit any, this time, we should say it ought to be only those who owned the beaten horses.

The Premium awards were read—we shall print them Monday — and all passed off pleasantly; the only accident we heard of, being the chap who swallows swords for a living, being hurt by a great wooden sign (of gum candy, or some other gum) falling on his head, as he was assisting to take it down. We never knew things to move so promptly at a Fair—which is one advantage of not being crowded. And all passed off without a single jar or discord.

☞ In the Board of Aldermen, at the last meeting, Mr. John S. Rand solicited the use of the Spalding School House, for the Mission Sunday School, Sabbath afternoons — which was referred to the Com. on School Houses to decide. Mr. Meshach H. Bell asked for the same room, for Sunday afternoon preaching; which the Board declined to grant, on the ground that the seats are too small for adults, and it would injure the building to carry settees in and out, and otherwise.

☞ Hon. H. D. Walker received a dispatch from Bremerhaven, Prussia, on Friday, announcing that the ship Merrimac, Capt. Jacobs, from Rangoon for Bremerhaven, with rice, is ashore, full of water and abandoned. Crew saved.

☞ Messrs. DeAnguera, the well know Piano Tuners, whose advertisement to again visit Portsmouth we publish—state that they are late this quarter, by reason of their music store being destroyed in the great fire at Calais, Me.

☞ Rev. Mr. Kellogg is now ready to deliver to subscribers "Our Father's House," one of the most beautifully illustrated books now extant. It more than meets our expectations.

OUR CITY.—Ballou's Magazine (published by Thomes & Talbot, Boston,) for November, contains an article about Portsmouth, illustrated by a view of Market Square—including a load of hay, a load of wood, a load of something else, a drove of cattle, two wagons and a coach, which is rather too much business for Portsmouth to put up with at one time,—and a sketch of the Navy Yard, as seen from this side of the river. The pen of one of the most kindly and genial of the "Sons of Portsmouth resident abroad," will be recognized by many in the following extracts:—

The first "overt act" in the Revolution—before the battle of Lexington—was committed here, where John Sullivan led a band of "Liberty Boys" to the Fort—then William and Mary, now Constitution—and seized the guns and ammunition, which were conveyed to Exeter for future use. The small garrison was very much surprised, hardly expecting a call on the cold wintry night chosen.

Portsmouth has always boasted a scholarly circle of rare attainment, including eminent literateurs, statesmen, divines and jurists. Here was the home of such men as Buckminster, Nathaniel Haven, Sewall, Bartlett, Webster, Woodbury, and a host of others known to fame. A voluminous book of poems, entitled "Poets of Portsmouth," was published a few years since, that denoted the poetical bent of the place; a work of much merit.

Portsmouth has ever been celebrated for the excellence of its schools, that still do credit to the town; and an intelligent social element prevails, that manifests itself through associations and coteries, with inexhaustible resources for development. The Mechanics' Charitable Association, established in 1805, is still in vigorous and useful existence. Masonry took early root in Portsmouth, St. John's Lodge succeeding that of Boston, of the same name, only a few years,—not receiving its powers from the Boston Grand Lodge, however, but from England. This venerable lodge still exists, from which has sprung another lodge, embraced in both of which are the best people in the town. * *

Portsmouth was in old times celebrated for its commerce. It was a busy place. The wharves were lined with shipping, and industry on shore and sea was active. Ships built here were famous, and three or four shipyards were busily engaged. The old reputation is continued,—but the yards are still, the wharves are vacant, and the commercial glory of Portsmouth is gone forever. * * * The town—or, it is a city now,—sits as if dreamily musing over its past greatness, wealthy and respectable, with no fear of want, and content to accept the destiny that breathes decay. * * *

The Portsmouth Athenæum, the local Bourse, where the venerables collect to read and expatiate upon the news, is a very respectable place, and boasts a museum, a relic of old-time magnificence, and a library, numbering some 8,000 or 10,000 volumes, many of them choice and valuable works.

Portsmouth is remarkable for the beautiful scenery with which it is surrounded; from every eminence the most charming views are presented. * * There is a generous and cordial spirit about Portsmouth that renders it, in addition to its many public merits, one of the finest places in the world.

STRIFE.—Theodore Tilton, editor of the Brooklyn Union, and Rev. Justin D. Fulton of Tremont Temple, Boston, have declared war. A few days ago the Brooklyn Union published the following:

"REV. LAGER BEER FULTON."—The Religious Telescope, of Dayton, Ohio, contains a copy of a letter which it says Rev. Justin D. Fulton of Boston has addressed to Mr. Theodore Tilton of New York, although Mr. Tilton has never received the letter in question or any other from Mr. Fulton. The Telescope's copy of Mr. Fulton's missive is as follows:

BOSTON, MASS.

Theodore Tilton Esq:—Dear Sir:—I have been informed that you were seen at a restaurant a day or two since with a bottle of wine before you, and of which you several times partook. As you are the chief editor of a religious and temperance paper, I assume the right to ask you whether this report is true. If true, I shall take such means as I may think expedient to put the truth before the public through the newspapers. J. D. FULTON.

Tilton responded as follows:

"Mr. Tilton has the honor to say, in reply, that so far as regards himself, he drinks wine on communion and other proper occasions, and that so far as regards the montebank, who is reported to have addressed him the above letter, this hot Gospeller, after preaching a Sunday night sermon in Dr. Armitage's church in New York, sauntered down the Bowery in company with a friend, entered a lager beer saloon, and during an hour's stay drank (the two together) nine or ten glasses of lager beer, of which Rev. Mr. Fulton guzzled the larger part."

This charge made a great sensation among Fulton's friends, and they held a meeting and denounced Tilton's charges as false, and voted to commence a suit against Tilton for libel. Meanwhile Fulton published the following:

BOSTON, Oct. 18.

"The statement made in the Brooklyn Union of Friday, Oct 7, by Mr. Theodore Tilton, is unfortunate in two respects: First—the letter he prints, purporting to be written by me, is a forgery. Second — the declaration he makes, which follows the letter, has not the slightest foundation in truth.

JUSTIN D. FULTON."

Then Theodore Tilton published in the Brooklyn Union, with a displayed heading, an article entitled "Rev Lager Beer Fulton," including the original editorial of the 7th, the Boston dispatch announcing a libel suit, and the following reply:

"I have the honor to say that when the above libel suit comes to trial, a well known and reliable gentleman will make affidavit that my statement in the Brooklyn Union concerning Rev. Justin D. Fulton drinking several glasses of lager beer in a Bowery saloon on Sunday night after preaching a sermon, is true."

THEODORE TILTON.

The Boston Times says of the libel suit:

This we believe, is an unfortunate step, for should the suit go against Mr. Tilton, there are several gentlemen in this city who have much more serious occasion to sue Mr. Fulton precisely on the same ground. Out of his pulpit, he has, by name, abused innocent men, and held to his abuse shainst proof to the contrary, and strong remonstrance also, and is altogether a fit subject for sturdy legal treatment, which may be applied to him: for, "what is sauce for the goose is also sauce for the gander."

It makes a good deal of difference whose ox is gored. Justin D. Fulton set himself up for a saint in Boston several years ago, and has been abusing and vilifying men both dead and alive ever since. Many of them he has called drunkards. He himself is now accused of drinking lager beer in a Bowery saloon and his friends sue the accuser for libel. If the suit is pushed it will be conclusively proved whether or not the reverend gentleman really did drink beer. Perhaps this little experience will teach him a little moderation in the use of his tongue. We have always had a good deal of sympathy for Fulton, for we have regarded him as a person entirely superfical in his ideas, narrow in his views and not entirely acquainted with the meaning of a good many words in the English language, which he so tritely uses.

The New York Tribune says that, whatever the result of the Tilton libel suit is likely to be, no one disputes the prevalent belief that in the origin of the difficulty, Fulton was guilty of about as mean an action as the average Anglo-Saxon can ever get down to.

Mr. Tilton has received the following from the "wealthy and well known merchant" referred to:

"With regard to the libel suit with which you are threatened, by Justin D. Fulton of Boston, on account of the statement made by me that he drank lager-beer in a saloon in the Bowery, on a Sunday night, after preaching. I would say that I was the man who drank it with him, and that I stand ready to substantiate the same if you are held to answer. Do not use my name until it is absolutely necessary to do so."

Mr. Tilton says that he proposes to have his friend prepare a full statement of the time, place, and all the other details of the drinking in the Bowery, after which he himself would prepare to defend his course in answer to the libel.

☞ Gold, Friday, 113 1-2.

KENOZA LAKE.—This is the picturesque and romantic sheet of water in Haverhill, Mass., on the banks of which Dr. Nichols, of the Boston Journal of Chemistry, recently with such eminent success, treated his brother patients or patient brothers of the editorial—to the sunshine cure (natural and social,) and the grape cure. Near this pond was Whittier born, here he spent his boyhood; the name Kenoza, being the Indian word for Pickerel, is of his christening; and here it is that the poet has laid the scence of his poem, "Snow Bound," and commemorated it and its surroundings in mellifluous and fitting verse:

'The shores we trod as barefoot boys,
The nutted woods we wandered through,
To friendship, love, and social joys
We consecrate anew.

Here shall the tender song be sung,
And Memory's dirges soft and low,
And wit shall sparkle on the tongue,
And mirth shall overflow:

Harmless as summer lightning plays
From a low, hidden cloud by night—
A light to set the hills ablaze,
But not a bolt to smite.

Kenoza! O'er no sweeter lake
Shall morning break, or noon-cloud sail;
No fairer face than thine shall take
The sunset's golden veil!

And, Beauty's priestess, thou shalt teach
The truth so dimly understood,
That He who made thee fair, for each
And all designeth good.'

☞ Out on the Pacific Railroad not long ago a Kickapoo Indian saw a locomotive coming down the track toward him at the rate of forty miles an hour. He thought it was an imported breed of buffalo, and was anxious to secure it, so as to take the prize to the annual exhibition of the Kickapoo Agricultural Society. So he fastened one end of his lasso to his waistbelt, and when the engine got near enough he threw the noose nicely over the smokestack. Perhaps it is not necessary, but we may as well relate that the locomotive did not stop. The engineer and fireman witnessed the most successful attempt to do the flying trapeze made by any Kickapoo Indian upon the plains since the first of last January. There was an aboriginal funeral at the next station when the engine arrived. The grave was not large, for they only buried a small piece of copper-colored meat tied to a string and enclosed in a sardine box.

GATES AJAR.—The following beautiful Song and Chorus, written by Geo. Cooper, and set to Music by the well-known and popular song writer, J. R. Thomas, has just been issued in sheet form by Oliver Ditson & Co., 277 Washington Street, Boston, and C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, N. Y.

Gone beyond the darksome river;
Only left us by the way:
Gone beyond the night forever;
Only gone to endless day!
Gone to meet the angel faces,
Where our lovely treasures are;
Gone awhile from our embraces,—
Gone within the gates ajar!

Quartette Chorus:
There's a sister, there's a brother,
Where our lovely treasures are;
There's a father, there's a mother,
Gone within the gates ajar.

One by one, they go before us;
They are fading like the dew;
But we know they're watching o'er us,
They the good, the fair, the true!
They are waiting for us, only,
Where no pain can ever mar;
Little ones who left us lonely,
Watch us through the gates ajar.
Chorus: There's a sister, there's a brother, &c.

Gone where every eye is tearless,
Only gone from earthly care;
O, the waiting, sad and cheerless,
Till we meet our loved ones there!
Sweet the rest from all our roving,
Land of light and hope afar!
Lo! our Father's hand so loving,
Sets the pearly gates ajar!

A steam fire engine at Dover, while fired up for exercise, Thursday afternoon, blew out the safety valve and shattered the top of the boiler, and severely injured the fireman, John S. Stackpole, about the head.

The Beaver mills at Pelham were burned on Tuesday night. The saw and grist mills on the opposite side were also burned. The loss is upwards of $25,000, upon which there is an insurance of about $15,000 on the Beaver mill and contents, and $35,000 upon the saw and grist mill.

The Dover Board of Aldermen have voted to prosecute all violations of the amended liquor law, on the presentation of reasonable proof.

The trial of Stevens at Concord, on a charge of manslaughter for killing Gardner, closed on Friday. Verdict, "not guilty." The man was killed in a drunken row over a pack of cards. He was a very quarrelsome man when drunk, too.

New Publications Received.

Our Magazine, Vol. 1, No. 2; monthly, $1, per year. Motto, Purity and Honor. Wm. R. Mathison, Newborn, New Jersey.

☞ The Royal Mail steamship from Rio Janeiro brings intelligence of an insurrection of Chinese coolies on the west coast of South America. The coolies, who were employed upon numerous plantations in the Peruvian provinces of Barranca and Patovila, at a concerted signal rose and murdered their overseers. They then combined their forces and massacred all whites whom they encountered. Parties of coolies from various directions swarmed into the small villages, and attempted to sack several important towns. The citizens hurriedly collected, and forming defences repulsed the Chinese, whom they pursued and shot mercilessly. These two provinces were in a reign of terror. It is said that Chili has prohibited the importation of any more coolies, and ordered the expulsion of those already in the country.

ACCIDENT IN ENGLAND.—A dreadfu accident occurred at Mitchell's shipyard, near Newcastle, on the Tyne. A large iron vessel, in course of construction, suddenly fell over, crushing several workmen. Six bodies have been recovered thus far, and six others are visible, but not yet accessible. Besides the killed, thirty were seriously injured.

☞ The steamer Continental, while on the way from Mazatlan to San Francisco, sprung a leak and foundered. The cargo, mails, treasure and eight lives were lost. The rest of those on board escaped in boats.

☞ The steamer Washington, loaded with turpentine, took fire soon after leaving Wilmington, N. C. She was run ashore, but will probably prove a total loss.

☞ Two more persons have died of yellow fever in Boston, and several others are sick at Deer Island Hospital.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopaea, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

MONDAY, OCT. 17, 1870.

ONLY A TRAITOR.—The New York Tribune, speaking of Gen. Lee, says: "Gen. Lee goes to his grave with the only stain of treason upon his otherwise noble character, but the country pardoned him. To forget is the greatest charity we can now extend him." The Tribune takes a good deal upon itself when it forgives, "for the country," the man who did as much perhaps as any other to prolong the rebellion, and thus to carry sorrow to thousands of homes and to burden the nation with a huge debt. Gen. Lee has passed away; but the effects of his treason will be felt for long years to come. That he was a gentleman in private life, a man of undaunted courage, and a general of signal ability and determined obstinacy, may be admitted; but he was a traitor, —and what more was Benedict Arnold? And though Arnold was accused of other crimes, after his treachery, it is for his treason that he is scorned and contemned,—yet he had many excuses to plead in extenuation, which Lee had not.

That the ex-rebels—the former companions in arms of Lee—should manifest sorrow at his death, is but natural; and no one would wish to interfere with—no true man would sneer at—such sorrow. But for a journal which worked for and supported the Union when Lee was doing his utmost to destroy it, to now laud his character as that of a saint, (barring one trifling spot—only treason,) seems wholly uncalled for, and bitterly insulting to the thousands of loyal mourners who were made mourners by the acts of the great rebel leader.

Robert E. Lee was the trusted confidante of our Government and of Gen. Scott, even after he had been appointed to the command of the rebel forces in Virginia! and he delayed his desertion till the last moment, only that he might the more effectually betray the Union he had solemnly sworn to uphold. Before his towering treason, that of Arnold sinks into insignificance—becomes a mere peccadillo. Call him a warm friend, a brave man, a great general,—but not a "noble character;" for nobility of character was never yet allied with treachery and falsehood.

The Boston Journal, in a long and in part severe—but just and dispassionate—article on the life and acts of Lee, says:—

It is now well known that he was engaged in a deceitful course, and that he affected to be faithful to that Government whose wages he had received ever since 1825, only that he might obtain so full knowledge of its plans as should make his treachery valuable to the rebels, and command for him his own price at their hand. Not six weeks before he deserted and broke his faith to his country, he accepted promotion from the men he had plotted to betray.

Col. Lee openly deserted on the 25th of April, 1861, but he had been appointed to the command of all the forces of Virginia on the 22d, which establishes beyond controversy that he had played the part of a rebel spy at Washington for some time, while holding a national commission; and the rapidity with which he was promoted is another proof that he had done valuable service for his employers, and that he had pitched his price high.

Had he died at fifty-two, his death would have been announced in a brief paragraph. But he was sentenced by fate to live longer, and to become one of the most immortal of men—and yet his fame so closely resembles infamy, that the most obscure of honest men could never envy him its possession.

It is the lesson that a man must not only follow his conscience, but that his conscience must be right. Torquemada had just as much right to bring his conscience into court to acquit him of responsibility for the cruelties of the Inquisition, as Robert E. Lee had to interpose his conscience as a defence for the treason of 1861. And the magnitude of the offence increases with the intelligence of the offender.

☞ At a great Tammany meeting in New York, Thursday evening, Mayor Hall said that the recent census would defraud the city of 45,000 votes. He must have meant to say that it would prevent 45,000 fraudulent votes from being cast by the democracy.

☞ Most of the southern papers are in mourning at the death of General Lee. The republican paper at Richmond has one side in black. It can't be a very black paper.

WAR TALK.—The French Minister Gambetta has issued the following proclamation to the inhabitants of Tours:

"On the entire zone around the city the Prussians have been driven out of all the positions which they have been occupying for three weeks. Towards St. Denis, they have been driven away beyond Stanis, Pierrefite and Dugny. On the east side, Joinville, Creteuil, Banbigny and Plateau of Avons have been recaptured. They have been forced from Lebas, Meudon and St. Cloud, and thrown back on Versailles. The enemy know now what the people will do who are determined to save their institutions and their honor. I invite the provinces to do their duty as Paris has done hers! Vive la Paris, vive la France, vive la Republique!"

French accounts say that the Prussians are retreating from around Orleans.

By the balloon line from Paris, it is reported that the Prussians are now compelled to remain entirely on the defensive, and have been compelled to evacuate their advanced lines of earthworks. The guns on Mont Valerien being of enormous range, command the German works on the west as far as St. Cloud. Their fire has driven the Prussians to Reuil and Bougeval and dislodged them from Clamart, Bas Meudon and Montretout. The French have retaken the heights of Tillejuif and Cachan. Upon the eastern side of Paris, the Prussians have been driven to the village of Bondy. In their retreat they also evacuated Campigny. The terrible artillery fire of Fort Du Mont Valerien has literally swept the country round about a circuit of six kilometres. All the batteries that the Prussians have sought to erect have been annihilated. Chateau Meudon has also been destroyed.

The Congregation of the Jesuits at Marseilles is to be dissolved, and the Jesuits expelled.

That part of the French garrison which escaped through the Prussian line round Montmedy has assaulted and captured the town of Stenay, upon the south of Sedan. The Prussians had established a small garrison there, who were forced to surrender, with several pieces of artillery and considerable supplies.

There is trouble between Prussia and Holland. The King of Holland is anxious to declare war against Prussia.

☞ Some of the Democratic papers feel very badly because a detachment of U. S. marines kept order at a voting place in Philadelphia, at the late election, and denounced their employment as an "outrage." That there was an "outrage" committed is undeniable; but it was by the white democracy who drove the negroes from the polls, and by the democratic repeaters whose gangs plied their vocation so busily, before the marines arrived; there was no "outrage" after they got there, for every man, democrat or republican, black or white, had a fair and a safe chance to vote once—but perhaps this is wherein the "outrage" to the democrats laid.

....The Congregational Church at South Seabrook, of which the Rev. William A. Rand of this city is pastor, have just received a loan toward the completion of their building, of $1000 from the American Congregational Union—$600 of the amount is to be a gift when the church is complete. To secure that result another $1000 will be required, which is expected to be raised by solicitations. The success of the Rev. Mr. Rand since his ministry in this place, has been quite marked.

☞ The Republican majority in Iowa will reach $37,000.

☞ It is said that Secretary Cox has resigned.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Spread the Truth.

Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Queer reasoning this. It is like saying that an article which the world needs should be hid in a corner—that benefits and blessings may be too widely diffused—that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a close monopoly, and not accessible to all. The argument is bad. It is worse than that; it is inhuman. Suppose HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—an absolute specific for dyspepsia, biliousness and nervous debility—had never been known beyond the repertoire of the faculty, what would have been the consequence? Instead of curing and invigorating millions, the good effects of the preparation would have been confined to a comparative few. There is the highest authority for saying that light should not be hid under a bushel; that whatever is excellent should be placed as a city on a hill, where all men can take cognizance of it.

It is upon this principle that the Bitters have been advertised and continue to be advertised in every newspaper of any prominence in the western hemisphere, and that the spontaneous testimonials in its favor have been translated into all written languages. Thousands enjoy perfect health to-day who would be languishing on beds of sickness if the newspapers had not spread the truth with regard to this unequaled immigrant and corrective far and wide. Suppose profit has been reaped from this publicity. Is that any argument against it? If the public health has been protected; if lives have been saved; if the feeble have been strengthed and the sick restored, great good has been accomplished, and who so mean as to grudge to exertions thus directed their fair reward? dawlwoct15

It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years —the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

☞ Hatlinger's (Richardson's) Little Washer, and S. Rowe & Co.'s Portable Furnace and Oven, both took first premiums at the Piscataqua Fair. We are glad of it, for both deserve it, also the improved Dish Washer entered by Samuel Horton.

☞ At a Universalist Levee at Kittery, on a recent evening, several of the attendants were innocently enjoying themselves in a dance, when one of the staid members of the church made his appearance, and in terms not to be misunderstood protested against the amusement. He carried his point.

☞ We have for several days refrained from publishing the particulars of the death of Mr. Charles Pickett, at the request of one of his family; but such a mention of the sad calamity as we give this morning, is but a kindness to his memory and his bereaved friends. In a life long acquaintance, we have nothing unpleasant to remember; and it is but a few weeks, since we had a pleasant chat with him here. It seems passing strange, that so quiet and amiable a man, should even in a moment of aberration, make such horrid use of weapons for which he had really but little taste or acquaintance. His wife was a Miss Pettigrew, of this city, and both families have the deepest sympathy of our citizens.

☞ A man giving his name as Chas. Gilroy was given lodgings at the Station House in this city, Saturday night, and on being released the next morning started on foot for Newburyport, which place it seems Charles did'nt reach. At North Hampton, Sunday, he broke into the house of Mr. Nathaniel Drake, while the occupants were absent and stole a lot of wearing apparel, jewelry, etc., was arrested at the depot by Messrs. Frank Drake and J. W. Berry with the articles in his possession, and brought to this city Sunday afternoon and lodged in the Station House. Gilroy says he hails from Rye Gate, Eng., has been in this country about thirteen months, is a single man, and committed the crime that he might get about six months. His prospects seem good for it.

He will be brought before the Grand Jury to-morrow.

☞ At the U. S. District Court in Exeter, the Grand Jury came in with several indictments, among which was an indictment against Adolphus Hall and Jacob Litchfield of Croyden, for swearing to a false affidavit in a pension case. Another indictment was found against Hall and Hiram Currier for a similar offence. Indictment against Nathaniel L. Shedd of Grantham, and Austin Corbin of Newport, for procuring the above named affidavit to obtain a pension for Shield. Hall and Litchfield were arraigned and pleading "not guilty," they gave bonds in the sum of $2000 for their appearance at the next term of court.

Miss Hattie O. Bean was arraignde for taking a letter from the Post Office in Portsmouth. The trial proceeded at some length, when a conference of parties was had and a plea of "guilty" to the charge of taking the letter which the court accepted, the other counts in the indictment being entered not pros. The jury returned a verdict, and the respondent was ordered to pay a fine of $100 and be imprisoned one day in Portsmouth jail. The sentence was mitigated on account of the intellectual weakness of the girl from the effects of epilepsy, and because it was the impression that she was duped or misled so far as to commit the crime, by another party. District Attorney Rolfe for the prosecution; Marston and Frink for the defence.

P. W. T. A. SOC.—The following gentlemen were elected Officers of the Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence Society, at the recent annual meeting:

John S. Rand, President; Lot M. Harmon, Vice Pres.; F. W. Rogers, Sec. and Treas.; Geo. M. Adams, C. F. Smith, Henry A. Yeaton, A. F. Craig, C. M. Dinsmore, C. E. T. Yeaton, Executive Committee.

The following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That in the death of Rev. T. H. MILLER the cause of Temperance has lost an able advocate both as an editor and minister. He was too modest to waste his influence and too devoted to question the cost of doing right even when his life was in peril.

Resolved, That as an Officer of the Washingtonian Society in this city since its organization in 1842, he was prompt to duty and skillful to direct. And we do most sincerely pray that the Lord will raise up others in this city who shall follow his noble example.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

DEATH OF MR. CHARLES PICKETT.—We are exceedingly pained to chronicle the sudden and violent death of our former townsman Mr. Charles Pickett, for some eight or ten years a successful merchant and very highly esteemed citizen of Marlboro' Mass.

Very many here will remember the robust form, and sunny face that used so often to be seen in our business circles, and will regret his sad fate. We learn from his family that the deceased, who was of an apoplectic habit, had for several days been suffering from a violent rush of blood to the brain, and as a consequence had been under strong mental excitement.—His physician was consulted, but did not apprehend a dangerous continuance of his disease, and his family and a large circle of friends were therefore the more inexpressibly shocked at his tragical end.

Wednesday morning the deceased, during a renewed and more violent attack of excitement, arose from his bed, wrote a few words of good bye to his wife and children,—the wording of which but too clearly indicated the overtasked brain, and then with a pistol in each hand pulled the fatal trigger that ushered him into another world. Death was instantaneous. We are glad to add, as a finale to this sad story, that Mr. Pickett was greatly respected both here and at his new home: was a kind and affectionate son and husband, and always of irreproachable character.

A WEDDING CALL.—Two surprised parties met at the residence of Hon. Horton D. Walker in this city on Tuesday evening last One was Mr. and Mrs. Walker, and the other a crowd of over three hundred members of the Middle-st. Baptist Society and other personal friends, whose surprise was, that so many people could so perfectly surprise Mr. Walker, who is proverbially on the qui vive. The occasion was their wooden wedding. The family had taken tea abroad, and on their return were thus greeted, as the concert notices have it, with an "overwhelming house." The lights, which were darkened until that moment, were suddenly lighted as they entered the house, with astonishing effect. The Pastor was in attendance, but the guests performed the marriage ceremony by re-fastening the couple with one hundred and ninety wooden clothes-pins, each visitor, so far as they could, presenting a clothes-pin at hands-shaking. Then the Pastor, Rev. Wm. H. Alden, read the reception address, a versification more pointed than labored, which created many broad smiles, but was fully appreciated by all parties. To indicate in a substantial manner their kind regards, the visitors presented Mrs. Walker with a fine Chromo and Mr. W. with an elegant adjustable lounging chair, fit for the Governor of New Hampshire. A more hearty, enjoyable good time never graced a similar occasion. Henceforth, after the fifth year of his wedded life, a man's standing in the esteem of his friends might be measured by the size of his wife's clothes-pin basket.

[We think the following tribute to the patient sufferer at Sagamore, will be cherished by Mr. Drown as some of the best of the many sympathetic words which have floated in upon his solitude.]

For the Portsmouth Journal.

MY HERO,

A FRIEND DEPRIVED OF SIGHT.

No stars of honor deck his breast,
Nor heirlooms prized as kingly dower;
No cross or ribbon his behest
To prove his rank and power.
He, in his courage to confide,
Alone at sea near faced the gale;
His gallantry was never tried
Where bullets flew like hail!

But yet th laurels brave hearts claim,
Yea! give their life for, with a prayer,
Embalmed in Glory's incense flame,
No worthier brow could wear!
Rare to the world as desert flower,
A more than conqueror is he
Who fights with fate from hour to hour,
As strong men knee to knee!

Life to him as one awful night,
A watcher of his own sad doom,
He sees no ray of morning light
To gild the deepening gloom!
Sleep hath not charms to woo his pain,
The beams of morn bring no relief
Shut from his room—yet still again
He battles with his grief!

For ah! two guests o'er linger there:
Sweet nectar to his lips they hold;
RELIGION, as the breath of prayer,
And GENIUS, more than gold!
Each makes the martyr hero grand,
They are his guardians evermore;
And both will kiss and guide his hand,
When angels ope his door!

GEORGE R. GRIFFITH.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Morning Chronicle.

Reported for the Chronicle and Gazette.

Remarks of Hon. Mark Dennett,

AT THE HISTORICAL MEETING IN KITTERY.

Mr. Dennett being called upon for some remarks, arose and said he did not think he could say any thing that would be interesting to the assembly; but would begin by presenting to the Society the paper in his hand, in which he had written some historical sketches of the local history of Kittery, and (after it had been accepted by a vote of the Society), continued to remark that the early settlers of Kittery suffered very much from the Indian wars, which the savages of those days several times prosecuted against the white settlers. The inhabitants were often obliged to resort to the several garrison houses for the safety of their persons. Several were killed and others carried into captivity.

We are informed by tradition, that a Mr. Pickersal and his wife, living on the hill where Mr. Littlefield now lives, while passing between their dwelling house and barn for the purpose of feeding and milking their cows, were both shot and killed by the Indians, lurking and watching their opportunity. Their graves were apparent and well known until within a few years past.

A Mr. Shapleigh, passing on the road leading from Spruce Creek to South Eliot, was shot and killed by the Indians, a few rods easterly from the brook and bridge known as Shapleigh's Bridge. This bridge formerly had the reputation of being haunted. How much reason there was for such a reputation, may appear by the following incident, known to be true. A gentleman passing that road on a dark evening, as he approached the unpleasant spot, heard some doleful groans; and remembering the common report, he found his courage failed, and he turned and walked back to take another route across the fields to avoid the haunted spot. But he thought if he so indulged his fears, he should ever after be afraid to pass there after dark, and came to the conclusion he would try to know what it was. Accordingly he pulled a stake from the fence for a weapon, and walked toward the fearful place, and as he approached the bridge he discovered an object in the road, and soon perceived it to be a horse, and a man on the ground holding his horse, but so intoxicated that he could not mount him.

Another case of Indian cruelty was that of the family of Mr. Hutchings, living in the eastern part of the town, (recently published in this paper.) The Indians assaulted them, and shot Mr. H. down at the door, and after sacking the house, ordered Mrs. Hutchings and her two little boys to march with them.

Capt. John Heard was a prominent character among the first settlers of Kittery. It appears that he dwelt at first on Cutts' (or Gerrish's) Island, formerly called Champernoon's Island, as per extract from a deed in York County Records dated March 1649, viz. "The Iland Comonly known by the name of Capt. ffrancis Caampnes Iland att the mouth of Pascattawaie River wher John Heard lastly dwelled." Afterward he owned a farm, and lived at Sturgeon Creek in Kittery, (now Eliot,) and in 1648 was chosen one of the "Townsmen and Rate Makers."

He distinguished himself in the Indian wars. At one time, as tradition informs us, a number of Indians were seen at the watering place near his garrison, but not within gunshot; and he took his musket, and against the remonstrances of his friends, went out and approached to gunshot distance, fired at them and hastily retreated to the garrison. The next day blood was found near the spring; but nothing more relative to the effect of the shot. At another time, being in the woods on horseback, he discovered a company of Indians. He started, but soon his horse stumbled and threw him, and injured his leg; and not being able to make his escape, and knowing of a certain hollow log near by, he repaired to that, and unperceived by the Indians, crowded into the log and thus concealed himself. The Indians in pursuit of him happened to come to the same log and seated themselves upon it, when Capt. Heard had the privilege of listening to their threats against John Heard. After a suitable lapse of time, Heard evacuated his hiding-place, and arrived home in safety. Capt. Heard died about the year 1676.

James Heard, a son of Capt. John, was one of the Selectmen of Kittery in 1659. He died before his father. John Heard, another son, succeeded in the possession of his father's farm at Sturgeon Creek.

It appears they were a church-going people, notwithstanding they were exposed to such dangers, for in July, 1697, as John Heard and his wife, in company with others, were returning from meeting, the Indians waylaid them and killed John Heard's wife and wounded him. At the same time they also killed Maj. Charles Frost and Dennis Downing. Such were the dangers which the first settlers of our country had to encounter.

FARMING. — At the recent Fair of Coos and Essex (Vt.) Counties, at Lancaster, Gen. Natt Head of Hooksett, President of the N. H. Agr. Society, addressed the Association. His address was a plain practical talk to farmers, just such a one as the occasion and the audience demanded. He referred to the fact that this young Society not only made a union of two counties but of two States, and congratulated them on their first effort and its gratifying success.

He then proceeded to give some valuable hints upon management of land to the best advantage, — dwelling especially upon the necessity of plowing deeper and harrowing less, (a favorite idea of his, and we think reasonable,) demonstrating that too much of the latter made the soil too heavy, while lightness resulting from deep and thorough plowing was productive of the best results in almost every case.

He also spoke of the best means of conducting fairs and the selection of judges, suggesting that much if not all feeling in the matter of awards of premiums would be avoided by going out of the county for persons to perform that sometimes delicate duty and in this way perfect impartiality would be secured.

MARRIAGE IN HIGH LIFE.—The preliminaries of the marriage between the Princess Louisa of England, and the Marquis of Loin, eldest son of the Duke of Argyle, have been arranged, with the consent of the Queen. It is considered that the possibility of the Princess succeeding to the crown is too remote to render the alliance dangerous to the "purity of blood" of any future occupant of the British throne.

☞ Wilson, the murderer of Warden Willard, of the Connecticut State prison, persists in his efforts to starve himself. He has taken no food since his sentence, a week ago Thursday. On the day of his sentence he told the jailer he should be a dead man in ten days. He will not do society any irreparable harm if he does starve himself.

☞ The race between the yachts Cambria and Dauntless for the fifty guinea cup, twenty miles to windward and return, was won by the Dauntless by fourteen minutes. The Cambria soon after rounding the stake boat led for three minutes, but was subsequently becalmed.

BASE BALL.—The second match of the White and Red Stockings came off at Chicago, last week, and the Reds were again defeated, 16 to 12.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this Excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely healed, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that we estimate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your homes for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

MISCHIEVOUS ERRORS.—In the midst of change, improvement, reform, quite a number of questionable old notions continue to be followed, even now when the very erroneous character of some of them has been generally acknowledged. Of this character is the rigid adherence of a majority of drivers of horses to that useless and injurious relic of old times, the check rein. Its use with draught horses is positively cruel. When a horse is drawing a heavy load, and particulary "up hill," he needs the utmost freedom of lungs and wind, and this he can never have with a tight check rein. That the check rein prevents a horse from stumbling is more than doubtful; on the contrary, by elevating his eyes, it prevents him from seeing clearly where to place his foot. When a horse does stumble, he is far less likely to go down when his head is left free. In England, where they are far ahead of us in everything pertaining to horses, the check rein has been abolished; the last surrender being that of the artillery and commissariat trains of the British army, the change having been made by Sir George Burgoyne, the Commander in-Chief, and he testifies to the beneficial effects attending it. In New York city, thanks to Mr. Bergh, many of the finest equipages are driven without a check rein, and a few human people have thrown it out of use here. The old-fashioned "blinkers," or blind-halters, are also useless, if not positively injurious, by coming in contact with, and rubbing the lids of the horse's eyes; and many experienced horsemen long ago came to the conclusion that horses are more easily alarmed by what they hear and do not see, because being intelligent animals if they can fully see the objects, which when unseen, or imperfectly seen, tend to frighten them, they are much more readily calmed.—Phil. Ledger.

DARK STABLES.—Any person who has felt the pain and inconvenience of coming from a dark room into the full blaze of day, will easily conceive the necessity of lighting a stable in a proper manner. This is too often neglected in confined stables, and the consequences are most distressing to a human observer. The poor horse, let suddenly out to his work, shows his pain by unmistakable expressions, stumbles, and runs against anything that may happen to be near, until the eye has in some degree accommodated itself to the new circumstances under which it is placed. Nor is this all. By a continuance of this change, from darkness to sudden daylight, the eye becomes seriously injured.

☞ J. H. Foster has Josh Billings' Allminax for 1871, the New England News Co. being the wholesale dealers. Its motto is "Allminaxes learn us when tew wean lambs, when tew pay our dets, and how tew set a hen, with eleganse, and precision." Josh opens the month of January with the following stanza:—

He who by the plough would thrive
Must no 2 forty kattle drive,
But worry the ground to and fro,
With horned kritters who skasely seem to go.

☞ Those best acquainted with Rev. Dr. Fulton, (Baptist) of Boston, think Mr. Tilton's charge against him, of guzzling beer, must be a case of mistaken identity, as Mr. Fulton is strictly temperate,—that is, a total abstainer. And neither he nor Mr. Tilton would willingly libel the other. The real culprit is he who wrote the first letter to Mr. Tilton, charging him with winebibbing, and forging Mr. Fulton's name for signature.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected app ications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.'
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries equally and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for the inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats,—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year latter put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequaled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its unfailing character and its ac ore curo the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and children at all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral, so complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best quality it ever possessed as strictly maintained.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.
The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 45 miles, and 50 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.
The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.
The Bonds have 6 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 7 per cent., and we regard them as be safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange for a sinking fund, while the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, OCT. 18, 1870.

WAR RUMORS. — From Tours come reports (French of course,) that Bazaine has escaped from Metz and is marching with his full force to the relief of Verdun.

The London Standard has a dispatch from Boulogne giving news of the victory of Bazaine at Metz.

The French positively assert that the Prussians have been driven from Orleans, and even say that the Prussians there, who are known to have been in great force, have surrendered to the French with all their artillery.

It is officially announced by the French that Trochu led in person a brilliant sortie from Paris, and with 120,000 men repulsed the enemy at all points.

The Germans at Versailles say that the reports of French successes before Paris are untrue, and are invented for the purpose of rekindling the courage of the people. The Prussians hold exactly the same position they occupied on the 19th of September. Two small skirmishes between the outposts on Thursday and Friday are the only encounters that occurred during the week.

Soissons, after an obstinate defence of four days, has capitulated to the German forces.

A diary by a Parisian, which has fallen into the hands of the Germans, admits that Paris is provisioned for only two months longer, and the only hope of the besieged is to act on the offensive, and by a pitched battle dislodge the besiegers.

It is rumored that General Boyer has been sent by Bazaine to the royal headquarters at Versailles to treat for the surrender of Metz.

General Sheridan writes that there is about the same percentage of desertions and shrinking from military duty in the German and French armies as there was in the United States during the late civil war, and that the fall of Paris is merely a question of time.

Later dispatches confirm the French victories at Paris and Metz.

Trochu's sortie was led by the Garde Mobile, who behaved with valor and steadiness, and the Germans after a brief resistance broke everywhere in confusion, abandoning their artillery and teams. A considerable force which retreated in better order as far as Leplessir Piquet, nearly nine miles to the south of Paris, were hotly pursued by the Gardes of Brittany and of the Seine. They attempted to make a stand at a chateau of that place, where they were assaulted finally, and after brief engagement compelled to surrender at discretion. The French captured a great number of prisoners, cannon, flags, ambulances and commissary teams. There are now no Prussian siege works occupied within four miles of the enciente of the walls of Paris.

Marshal Bazaine made a fourth and overwhelming attack in force, marching by Ladonchamp towards Mezieres, while another part of his army furiously assaulted the Germans beyond Noiseville.

The Germans were beaten in both directions, their camps broken up and the body forced into a disastrous retreat upon Pont-a-Mousson, where they now are. Bazaine himself is at Thionville, and he holds the line to Mezieres and Narange.

A special correspondent at Boulogne says that engagements have taken place within the past three days at Cherisy, at Epos les Andelys, and Laperte St. Aubin, in each of which the Germans were badly beaten.

A battle occurred on Saturday, the 15th, outside the walls, wherein 3000 Prussians were killed.

In the latter engagement Thursday, between 8000 and 9000 Germans were attacked early in the morning by 10,000 Garde Mobile and troops of the line of the party of the Loire. They were badly posted, and taken partially by surprise, but fought with considerable determination until they were taken in the flank by the right wing of the French, when, finding themselves outmaneuvered, they sought to retreat through the town of Laperte. The inhabitants, aided by a small body of Franc-Tireurs, had barricaded the main streets, and resisted the Germans until the main body of the pursuing French fell upon them again and cut their retreating columns in two, and captured or dispersed the whole force.

The Prussian Embassy addressed itself to the English Government, with a view to gain co-operation of Great Britain in its efforts for peace. The English Government is instructed that Prussia is prepared to modify seriously her demand for a money indemnity, or to abandon it altogether. That the neutralization of Strasbourg and Metz will be accepted in lieu of the surrender. The demand of Prussia for the surrender of the French men-of-war is abandoned entirely.

The Russian Government has signified distinctly its absolute determination not to permit the transfer of any part of the French fleet to the North German flag.

AWFUL HERESIES.—At a meeting of the young Democracy in Boston, Friday evening, some fearful heresies were put forward, and statements made that would have been "base radical lies," had they come from any but the faithful unterrified.

The president of the meeting said that there was something radically wrong in the democratic party, and that the old leaders were out of date.

In answer to a question "if the persons who initiated the meeting belonged to the American order of Fenians who sought to proscribe the foreign born," Martin Lynch replied that "no suspicion of the kind could fall upon the meeting. All were brothers, native and foreign, white and black!" which statement was corroborated by Michael Moore.

Mr. Bishop said the mighty and respectable party of the democracy was degraded by a few men and their tools. How else was the Waterloo defeat of last year to be accounted for. Mr. Baldwin forgot himself and walked arm in arm with men whose companionship would damn a saint. Respectable men could not mix with such a set of ruffians as had control of the party, —the dust and dregs of the street and the off-scourings of society. There was no resource for such but to act with the republican party. These corrupt leaders of whom he spoke did not dare to accept clean men, and when such were proposed they repudiated them.

Andrew McCoubrey now talked to the meeting. "The time had fully come for the proposed movement, and something should be done so that in our ward meetings a man should not be shouted down when he attempted to speak." Said he was in love with labor reform, and the democracy was its natural ally. He asked "if it was right and fair that two or three persons claiming to be the simon pure democracy should rule a ward; that a few men half intoxicated, or at any rate violent and with their minds made up, should enter the caucuses with a list of nominees in their pockets and force them upon the democracy."

What is the world coming to? All brothers, white and black! We groan in the spirit. These fellows must be whipped back into the traces, quick, or the occupation of the venerable party hacks who have so long led the democracy by the nose will soon be gone. All brothers, white and black! O, dear!

POLITICAL.—The Union Republican General Committee in New York, having at a recent meeting decided to join in alliance with the young democracy against Tammany, a special meeting was called for Saturday evening, and after a stormy session, part of the committee retired, while the members charged with being in the interest of Tammany remained to rescind the action previously taken. This will have the effect to form a new party, combining the young democracy and all anti-Tammany republicans. The Times editorially denounces the members of the committee, who thwarted the movement for an alliance with the young democracy, as hirelings and slaves of the Tammany ring, and demands their expulsion from the party.

REFERRING TO THE GREAT TRAITOR, MILITARY LEADER, and willing victim of the aristocratic and cruel slaveholders' rebellion, the New York Tribune truly suggests in effect, that no other country and no other people but ours would permit or countenance open expressions of regret for the death of a great conspirator against the unity of the nation and prosperity of its citizens. The generous disposition thus shown is honorable and becoming; but, in the exercise of it, let there be no hint of indifference, by any forgetfulness of the loyal rank and file and officers who saved the flag from the threatened desecration of arch-traitors to it and to humanity.

A WHALE IN BOSTON. — A whale about sixty feet long was captured off Gloucester on Saturday, and towed to Boston, where he is now on exhibition. He was first seen floating on the surface by some fishermen, who supposed he was dead, and succeeded in fastening a line to his jaw,—when he began to "come to," and soon proved himself alive by thrashing around so that the boats were upset and the line parted. The fishermen however continued their attacks, and finally managed to kill him, and to get a tow-line around his jaw once more, which held; and he is now docked at Litchfield's wharf. He probably owed his torpid condition to sickness.

New Hampshire Items.

Saturday night as a young man in East Andover was homeward bound he heard a terrible cackling in the direction of Elbridge G. Chase's hen roost, which caused him to think there was a "hen on" or something of that kind; and pausing the length of a period, he saw a man coming from the hencoop with several or more chickens. Although the roost-robber was a stranger, and the homeward bound party had no introduction, in accordance with the rules of etiquette, yet he advised him as a friend and well-wisher to return the poultry, which he did, and immediately made tracks, with toes pointing the opposite direction.

The State Board of Agriculture met in Concord the 14th, the President, Hon. Moses Humphrey, in the chair. A good attendance was present and the session an interesting one. An address was adopted, and it was voted to hold State and County conventions of farmers on dates and at places not fixed.

At Whitefield the horses of the regular stage were frightened by a locomotive while crossing the track near Brown's lumber mills. In the runaway one of the pole horses was badly hurt, the stage overturned and considerably broken up. Mr. Crane, the driver, was the only person upon the coach, and hurt a hip painfully in the tip-over.

State v. Woodsum and Day, charged with the robbery of Stephen Scammon of Stratham, at the Alton Camp Meeting in 1869, came up last week in the Supreme Court at Laconia, before Judge Nesmith. The trial of this case had resulted in a disagreement of the jury, at the previous trial, but this time the parties were acquitted.

A GREAT HURRICANE took place in Cuba on Friday evening. The damage at Havana was slight, but at Matanzas the effect was disastrous. An extraordinary rise of two rivers inundated the intervening grounds, where railway depots were located. The depots, trains, passengers and houses all disappeared. Two thousand persons are said to be lost. The damage to property is enormous. Cardenas also suffered much from the hurricane. The lower part of the city was laid waste. The interior of the Island, back of Cardenas and Matanzas, is desolated. The cane sustains less damage than the other crops. The hurricane was the severest which has visited the island within a century. The following is a list of the total wrecks at Matanzas: barque G. S. Hunt and brig Charlona, of Portland, and schooner Edwin, of Bridgeport. Schooner Palmer, of Bath, and barque Mary, were damaged. The influx of the sea caused a great rise in the rivers, and when the sea receded everything was swept away by the returning flood.

YORK.—N. G. Marshall, Esq., is putting up a commodious hotel near the Beach in York, to be completed by the first of June next. This will supply a want that has long been felt at that place.

Plaisted, who was arraigned for and pleaded guilty of setting fire to the dwelling of Mr. Welch in York, was sentenced by Judge Danforth to State prison for life.—Biddeford Democrat.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BAD PRACTICE.—You might as well expect to relieve and cure an inflamed eye by dusting irritating powders into it, as to expect to subdue and cure Catarrh (which is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the air passages in the head) by the use of irritating snuffs, or strong, caustic solutions. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures Catarrh by its mild, soothing action, which subdues the inflammation and restores the natural secretion of the mucous follicles. The proprietor offers $500 for a case of Catarrh that he cannot cure. Sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents. Sold by druggists. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Spread the Truth.

Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Queer reasoning this. It is like saying that an article which the world needs should be hid in a corner—that benefits and blessings may be too widely diffused—that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a close monopoly, and not accessible to all. The argument is bad. It is worse than that; it is inhuman. Suppose HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—an absolute specific for dyspepsia, biliousness and nervous debility—had never been known beyond the repertoire of the faculty, what would have been the consequence? Instead of curing and invigorating millions, the good effects of the preparation would have been confined to a comparative few. There is the highest authority for saying that light should not be hid under a bushel; that whatever is excellent should be placed as a city on a hill, where all men can take cognizance of it.

It is upon this principle that the Bitters have been advertised and continue to be advertised in every newspaper of any prominence in the western hemisphere, and that the spontaneous testimonials in its favor have been translated into all written languages. Thousands enjoy perfect health to-day who would be languishing on beds of sickness if the newspapers had not spread the truth with regard to this unequaled invigorant and corrective far and wide. Suppose profit has been reaped from this publicity. Is that any argument against it? If the public health has been protected; if lives have been saved; if the feeble have been strengthed and the sick restored, great good has been accomplished, and who on mean as to grudge to exertions thus directed their fair reward? daw1woct15

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Temple—Wilkinson's Dramatic Company.
Boots, Shoes, &c.—Joseph Pettigrew.
Proposals—State Normal School.

THEATRE.—By reference to our advertising columns this morning, it will be seen that John Murray, the popular Comedian and Character Actor, is to give one of his great impersonations as "Rip Van Winkle," at the Temple this (Tuesday) evening, assisted by Lillie Wilkinson, the irrepressible Charlie Wilkinson, Lottie Murray, Emma Chase and a first-class company. Mr. Murray recently closed a very successful engagement at Portland and the papers of that city have been especially eulogistic of his rendition of "Rip Van Winkle," the Legendary play of that name founded on Washington Irving's Work, which Jefferson has put before the public so vividly. Charlie Wilkinson appears as Manager of the Company, (and on the stage as Seth Jackson,) which is sufficient guarantee for expecting a first-class performance. He is an old favorite and popular Comedian, formerly with the Bidwells, and will, we trust, receive a good house-warming on this his first appearance as Manager. He apologizes for the short notice given for the entertainment on account of the remissness of his Advance Agent, who instead of attending to business, went ruralizing, keeping clear of wicked cities and taking a furlough at the expense of his employers. The public are promised that the entertainment this evening shall make up for the short notice given.

☞ Another good card for Messrs. Came Brothers, Carriagers, of this city, is the fact that the elegant trimmed Sleigh which took the first premium at the Piscataqua Fair, has been sold to a gentleman of Portland, (that famous city for sleighs,) who said he could not find a sleigh in Portland or Boston to suit him. Messrs. Came have an order for a sleigh for a gentleman in Michigan,—one who had the good fortune to marry a Portsmouth girl. The Came Carriages took all the Premiums at the Piscataqua Fair; and always take first premiums wherever they go. The Messrs. Came are first premium men, besides doing first class work.

☞ The U. S. S. Narragansett went into commission on Monday. Lieut. Commander George Dewey, who is to command the vessel, has for some time been assistant to Superintendent John L. Worden, U. S. N., (of Monitor fame) at the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Mr. Dewey is a son-in-law of Ex-Gov. Goodwin of this city, and has been in the Naval service sixteen years. The Narragansett is to proceed to Brazil, where she will be attached to the South Atlantic Squadron.

☞ Rev. Lyman Whiting, D. D, says, of Our Father's House, "The reader soon discerns he is among treasures, stored and set forth with a princely skill. Knowledge, impulse and grace in 'strength and beauty' greet him from page to page. No lover of 'a good' book (in Milton's sense) will willingly let this book, so rich in contents, beautiful in print and ornamentation, pass unbought from his hand." For sale by subscription in this city by Rev. Mr. Kellogg.

☞ A party of friends of Mr. & Mrs. D. Webster Barnabee hired the Cornet Band and marched to the residence of the newly married couple, on Court Street, Monday evening, and serenaded them. In return, a bounteous entertainment was proffered, and things went merrily until a late hour. Next comes the wooden wedding, Web!

By reference to our advertising columns our readers will observe that the well known firm of S. H. Simes & Co. is dissolved. The junior partner, Mr. John S. Rand, is well known as a young man of established reputation, energy and experience. He will continue the business of the late firm at the old stand, and we take pleasure in commending him to all needing anything in his line of business.

☞ The new Congregational Chapel on Middle Street will be quite a Church—and a fine one, at that. What a pity so fine a building should not have a French roof. It would then make a fitting neighbor to the new Rockingham House.

AFTERNOON CONCERTS.—The Marine Band will play near the residence of Ex-Gov. Goodwin at 3 o'clock, this afternoon, and on Haymarket Square, to-morrow afternoon.

☞ C. N. Shaw & Co. opened an elegant new stock of Millinery Goods on Monday, and were "at home" to many callers. See advertisement.

PHILHARMONIC REHEARSAL, with Orchestra, to-morrow (Wednesday) evening.

NO HOLIDAY.—We understand that the law of precedent has long recognized "Fair week" as an opportunity for vacation, but that one of the gentlemen who direct things intellectual at the High School, in the present instance saw fit to discontinue the time-honored custom. Notwithstanding which, the scholars and teachers, wishing to carry out the "printed regulations" as heretofore, had their way; whereby we are quite sure they went back to the recitation rooms far more diligent in application, and all the better for a little respite from study.—Biddeford Journal.

It has been customary in Portsmouth, to give the schools a day, or half day, for the Fair; but this was not done this year, and we are informed that a member of the High School Committee stated in the school, that the Fair was but a gambling institution. Just as much so as any other business, no doubt; but we pity the creed of any man, that will not let him or others enjoy such scenes of beauty and nature as were presented at the late Fair, and are to be seen at all Fairs. No doubt the fast horses were the bugbear; and if so, we hope when all such go to ride, that the slower and sleepier the horse the livery man gives them, the better they will be suited. Why not? Uncle Toby of ours contemned horse-racing; but if ever a man beat him on the road, we remember, he had to have a pretty good team.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

NEW RAISINS.

FIRST OF THE SEASON of 1870, received at L. LAIGHTON.

Morning Chronicle.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 20.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

REV. SAMUEL MOODY OF YORK, ME. York was the earliest settled town in Maine. As early as 1641, 18 years after Portsmouth was settled, there was a considerable plantation there, and a sort of charter was given it as a borough. In 1642 it was chartered a city. Why, it is difficult to tell. But in 1652 the charter was altered to a town.

In 1673 Rev. Shubael Dummer was ordained. He was a Congregationalist, and it is supposed a church was formed at the same time. It was the first in the State.

Jan. 29, 1692, a party of Indians came and nearly broke up the settlement. The attack was made early in the morning. Rev. Mr. Dummer was shot dead as he was mounting his horse near his own door. About 50 people were killed, and nearly twice that number taken captive.

The Moodys were conspicuous in early times, especially as ministers. The one we are now to notice was an earnest, true man, remarkable for versatile talents, lively, engaging manners and quick wit. Some of his characteristics as a man of great faith, and anecdotes of his eccentricities, will be given.

He was born at Newbury, Mass., Jan. 4, 1675; graduated at Harvard College in 1697, at the age of 22. He was ordained at York, Dec. 20, 1700.

The field did not look promising. There was much neglect of religious interests, and great fear of further Indian depredations. There were times when the people took their guns with them to meeting to defend themselves if the Indians should come.

Mr. Moody was humble and trustful. He looked above for help. But once he was so poor he applied to the Legislature for assssistance; 12£ of lawful money were voted him.

From Sprague's Annals and others sources we gather particulars as to the efficacy of his prayers, and other incidents. Once a strong and well armed French fleet threatened the coast. A day of special prayer was appointed. Mr. Moody became earnest. He prayed that if there was no other way for safety of the Colonies, that Heaven would send a storm and sink the fleet in the sea. A storm came, some of the vessels foundered, and other disasters followed.

One year the canker worms were numerous. He preached from the text, "I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes." Before he got through, he said, "I believe it, I feel in my soul that God will bring it to pass." The record is that it soon proved so.

Once he was reminded by his wife that they were out of food. He said, "Set the table, the Lord will provide." Provisions were soon sent in. One Saturday morning he was told they had no wood. He said, "I must go to my study,—God will enable us to have wood." A little later a Quaker passing with a load found his sled giving out, and he called and said to Mr. M., "If thee will accept the load, I will give it thee."

He was disposed to give freely to help the destitute. His wife once fastened his purse string so that it was difficult to unlose them, so that he might not give without a little reflection. Meeting a beggar and not being able to open his purse readily, he gave purse and all in it.

On his way to Boston once, he found a poor man on the way to jail for debt. He gave him enough to pay the debt, but it took all his money. One with him mentioned the case in Boston, and a sealed package came in the evening containing just the sum he had given to save the poor man from prison.

A destitute woman, almost bare-footed, called at his house and begged a pair of his wife's old shoes. He found the only ones his wife had, and gave them. When she came to search he told her where they had gone, but said, "Never mind, dear wife, the Lord will send another pair before night, I doubt not." Before noon some came as a gift.

On an exchange with his son-in-law, Rev. Mr. Emerson of Malden, Mass., his people were interested, and signified to him that if he would preach more carefully prepared sermons, they would be benefited more. He appeared in the pulpit with one, and after reading awhile he said, "Emerson must be Emerson, and Moody, Moody. I feel as if my head was in a bag. You call Moody a rambling preacher, but it will do to catch rambling sinners. You are all run-aways from the Lord."

Away from home, he preached for a minister who told him some were in the habit of going out before the services closed. He thought he could prevent that, and so said after commencing, "I am going to preach to sinners first, then to saints. After he had got through with addressing the first, he said, "Sinners, I have done with you, and you may leave." Of course none wished to show themselves of that class.

One Sabbath, finding several of his congregation asleep, he loudly said, "fire! fire! fire!" One aroused from his slumber, and fearing his own house was burning, said, "where?" Mr. Moody said, "In store for those who sleep in meeting."

Some of his personal reproofs and thrusts in public would not be deemed proper now. People would be so offended they would not hear the preacher again. When corn was scarce, a man of wealth would not sell, hoping a higher price. Mr. M. learning this, on a Sabbath announced this for his text: "He that witholdeth corn, the people shall curse him." It was applied closely to the guilty man, sitting directly before him, who assumed indifferent airs, and held his head high. Mr. Moody exclaimed, "Col. Ingraham, you know I mean you; why don't you hang down your head?"

The Colonel's wife was very fashionable, and appeared at church in a great show. It was too much for Mr. Moody, so one day as she was entering, he said, "here she comes, top and top-gallant, rigged most beautifully, and sailing most majestically; but there is a leak that will sink her to perdition." In those times of primitive simplicity, if ministers were honest, true and faithful, they were allowed to say plain things to the people.

In 1740, Mr. Whitefield preached at Hampton. Mr. Moody went there and conducted him to York. Whitefield preached there, and in his Journal speaks of Mr. Moody in high terms. In 1744, Whitefield came again, and records the following as Mr. Moody's welcome to him: "Sir, you are first welcome to America; secondly, to New England; thirdly, to all the faithful ministers of New England; fourthly, to all the good people of New England; fifthly, to all the good people of York; sixthly, and lastly to me, dear sir, less than the least of all."

In 1646, Mr. Moody went with the Louisburg expedition as Chaplain. When he went on board of the vessel at Boston he seized an axe, and said, "the sword of the Lord and of Gideon." After the capture of Louisburg, with an axe he cut down Roman Catholic images, and in a Catholic place of worship preached the first Protestant sermon from Ps. 100: 4, 5, "Enter into his gates with thanksgiving," &c.

Mr. Moody died in York, Nov. 13, 1747, aged 72. He had three children; one of them Joseph, was pastor of the second church in York for a time.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

BOSTON, Oct. 17.

Wandering away from the Hub for a few days recently. I found myself in that city of contrasts known as Gotham—New York with its wealth and its squalor, with its palaces and its hovels, with its fine Park and its hosts of malaria-breeding localities, with its fine churches and its corrupt politics. The change from the magnificent scenery of West Point and the lower Hudson, seen under a bright September sky, to that of the portion of Manhattan lying above 30th Street on the line of the Hudson River R. R., seen through clouds of dust and smoke was far from agreeable.

A horse car speedily conveyed us to the St. Cloud Hotel, corner of Broadway and 47th Street, kept by the Rand Brothers formerly of your city, where choice fare, cordial greetings and elegant accommodations led us to look more favorably upon the world outside.

The St. Cloud is really a first-class hotel, and the only one of that rank so far up town. The broad avenues and comparative quiet in its vicinity make it particularly desirable for families, and its patrons are among the best of those who live in public houses. I know you are ever interested in the well doings of the "Sons of Portsmouth," and so took a tour through the St. Cloud, that I might report thereon. The fine frescoes, spacious office, beautiful dining-room, and other conveniences on the first floor are apparent even to the casual observer; while the spacious, airy and beautiful rooms above stairs, with all modern conveniences, will readily commend themselves to the transient guest; but it is of the real hotel, the domain beneath the sidewalks, I wish to speak in terms of admiration.

It is said we each eat our "peck of dirt," and doubtless we do, but not at the St. Cloud. I visited the cook room, the pastry room, the bakery, the store room (with its wealth of conserves and jellies, its sauces and relishes), the laundry, &c., and found in all the same scrupulous regard for neatness and cleanliness which gives home such a charm. The machine for making coffee was quite a study, perfect in its working and costing $150. Think of that for a coffee-pot! The engine which runs the elevator, &c., is a very neat machine, run at 50 horse power during the summer, but capable in the busy season of furnishing the power of 120 horses.

Portsmouth people will be sure of a hearty welcome and good treatment at the St. Cloud.

The last movement in Boston is to remove Scollay's Building and the old Brigg's estate adjoining. Economy and the fire department will oppose this. The department desire a new engine house on the Brigg's estate and are somewhat of a power in politics, but the Metropolitan Railroad, which has been a great lever to pry wider our principal avenues will hardly hesitate for this, even though they do not show their hand openly. A week or two will show whether the old building will come down, or whether it shall still stand sentry in the centre of the Hub.

And now, Messrs. Editors, for a little privacy of my own. I want to know how long Parker can harass me with his intended witticisms? Here are a few specimens of what I have to endure. He told me a few days since that all those places where the rivers and springs had dried up, might be considered "well watered." He asked me if I thought an exodus had occurred in Nova Scotia, because of the many people he met there was so large a per cent. "blew noses." He went to a low dance and came home to tell me he had been attending "base ball." I'm not particularly nervous, but I can't stand this much longer. M.

FARM BUILDINGS.—Animals will soon need shelter, if they do not already, and should be regularly stabled at night, as in winter. In putting the stables in order, look well to the floors, and to the timbers in contact with manure, or the liquids of the stables; renew those which are in any degree weak. Tighten weather-boards, patch roofs if leaky. See that all buildings around the barn-yard have good eaves-troughs and gutters, so that no more water than necessary enters the barn-yard.—Am. Agr.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research is made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for wood work, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.75, and will only cover 16 square yds. 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 26 square yds., 2 coats,—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine the many mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs, which follow neglected sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seems to have fastened upon it, have been cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents should keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.
The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.
The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance will be more necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles shorter than any other, progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.
The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.
The Bonds have 30 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 7½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price we realized by us on all such sales.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 19, 1870.

WAR NEWS.—Despatches to the New York World reiterate the statements of French victories at Metz and Paris. It says the greatest excitement prevails throughout the Belgian frontier over the victory of Marshal Bazaine and the demoralization of the German army on the Moselle.

The Germans were beaten at Metz, their camps broken up and their main body forced into a hasty and disastrous retreat upon Pont-a-Mousson, nineteen miles from Metz, where they now are. Marshal Bazaine himself is at Thionville, organizing a movement in regard to which all manner of speculations are afloat. He holds the line to Mezieres and Narrange. There is much alarm at Saarbrucken and Treves, as well as Forbach, among the Germans.

The latest official intelligence from Paris fully confirms the news of the important results achieved by the garrison during the past fortnight. The Prussians have found it absolutely impracticable to establish their siege batteries of heavy guns at St. Cloud, Sevres and Clamart, on account of the terribly accurate and overwhelming fire of the enormous naval artillery mounted on the forts of Mont Valerien, Issy, Vanves and Montrogue. They have consequently been compelled to abandon the attempt to invest and bombard the city from that side, and, evacuating Sevres and the adjacent villages, they undertook to move large forces around the southern side towards the east. This movement was interrupted most disastrously by Gen. Trochu, who ordered a sortie in great force to be made upon the flank of the Prussian columns. The testimony is unanimous that the French troops fought better, and the German troops with less spirit and courage in these actions than in any of the previous encounters of the war.

The Prussians have evacuated Beaugency.

The Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin reports that by the capitulation of Soissons four thousand French prisoners fell into Prussian hands.

The latest dispatches prove the success of the French beyond a doubt.

The sortie under Trochu, Saturday, completed the work of driving the Germans from their investing positions, south and west of Paris. The French advanced under cover of a tremendous cannonade, in three columns, upon Sevres and Bougival. The latter was a most serious attack, and resulted in the defeat of the Prussians under Von Kirchbach. This compelled the Bavarians to retreat from Bagneaux and Chatillon. A division of General Taun's troops stubborsly held Chevilly and L'Hay. The Germans lost over 8000 in killed, wounded and prisoners, and large supplies.

The Garde National of Calais to-day proceeded to Amiens, where a force is organizing to attack the Prussians, moving north from Soissons.

Soissons capitulated only after a most terrible destruction of life and property. Three hundred and fifty houses were laid in ashes. The Prussians encountered a desperate resistance from the National Guarde, fighting hand to hand in the streets, and capturing one part of the city house by house. They were driven back through the burning city four times in succession, but were constantly reinforced and bore the French down by sheer weight of numbers. No quarter was shown and the wounded were bayonetted where they fell. The women hurled missiles from the houses on the heads of the invaders.

The sacrifice of life was awful. The Grand Duke of Mecklenburg wept at the slaughter, and refusing to order an assault, begged the French commander to capitulate in the name of humanity. The splendid glass works of Gobelin and the flourishing mills and refineries were destroyed.

☞ A year ago, a man in Barre, Vt., at the entertainment of Comical Brown, broke into the reserved seats without having a ticket therefor, and refused to either vacate or pay for a seat. He is a man of considerable wealth and some influence, and held the office of County Commissioner. Brown brought an action against him, and the case was decided in Brown's favor. The jury awarded him a verdict of eighty-six dollars and forty cents. Brown says it will cost the man nearly or quite $300. So much for petty meanness.

NEW YORK POLICE.—Captain James J. Kelso, chief detective, is appointed superintendent of police, vice Jourdain, deceased, and James Irving is promoted to the position of chief detective.

THE WITHDRAWAL OF SECRETARY Cox from Gen. Grant's Cabinet, because of his refusal to allow assessments to be made on appointees in his Department, has been made the cause of a general onslaught against the President by those extremely virtuous bipeds who edit Democratic papers. They would like to see dissensions in the Cabinet, that they might profit by it. Of course, were the President a Democrat, and their friends in office, no such hulla-balloo would be made, and their advocacy of a civil service bill, which would only create another aristocratic class in the government service without any increase of ability resulting, would cease.

If office holders are not most directly interested in the success of their party, who are? The expenses of a political contest are great, and if those who would be most affected by a change do not choose to help pay those expenses, they should not expect to receive any pecuniary benefit from success, that is all. As long as political campaigns are fought, there will be heavy bills to pay; while there are bills to pay, those most interested will be called to help pay them; and the stupids who consider themselves none too good to rust in office, and yet deem themselves too good to contribute their shares to the common fund, may as well leave politics and try to earn their living where the mutual system will neither aid them nor harass their feelings.

PROMPT ACTION.—The Secretary of the Navy has telegraphed an order to San Francisco, removing Commander Truxton from command of the sloop-of-war Jamestown, for violating the soil of Honolulu by sending an armed force ashore to compel the American consul, Adamson, to place his flag at half-mast in recognition of the death of the Queen dowager. Commander Truxton is placed on waiting orders.

The Secretary of State has sent a strong reprimand to Consul Adamson for allowing a personal difficulty with members of the royal family to prevent him from showing proper respect on such an occasion. Consul Adamson will be relieved by Mr. Mattoon, the new appointee, in about a month.

☞ At the recent term of York County Court, Martha E. Nason petitioned for habeas corpus to obtain possession of her two children bound to the Shakers at Alfred. The eldest, aged fifteen years, wished to remain with the Shakers, and was allowed so to do. The youngest wishes to go with her mother, and claims an informality in the indentures. The Judge remanded the child to the care of the respondents. The mother was probably one of those fussy creatures with whom the children would not be half so well off as with the Shakers,—indeed, many children are not, at home.

YORK, ME., Oct. 17.

Messrs. Editors:—I clip the above from your paper. I have a copper cent of that date, which I should like to sell for $34.75. Can you put me in track to sell it? I have also one dated 1798, perfectly plain and good. C. F. P.

Lt. Col. Levi H. Converse, late of the 2d N. H. Regt., died at Louisville, Ky., a few days ago. At Gettysburg he lost his right arm, and he was one of the best fighters in that fighting regiment.

Isaiah H. Arey, of Boscawen, one of the most celebrated violin-makers in the country, was killed last week while picking apples with a pole, by an iron hook falling upon him.

The Concord Monitor is very severe upon Atty. Gen. Clark, for his leniency towards Stevens, at his trial for killing Gardner; and regards it as a great judicial outrage, that "the bloodiest murder ever committed in the State"—and that during a drunken gambling row on the Sabbath,—should be declared justifiable homicide.

John Lee of Concord, for keeping liquor for sale, was fined $50 and costs.

The Monitor has come out square for the Railroad ring—that is, it thinks it is about time for the Court to place the Concord Road in the hands of the stockholders,—who of course, just now, are the ring. We don't believe a respectable minority of the people agree with the Monitor, that the check or defeat of the Ring is neither for the interest of the State, the people, or the Railroads most directly concerned. For our part, we have never met a man not directly interested in the speculation, who did not favor the contract, and oppose the Ring.

The Lake Village Times favors Nathaniel Gordon of Exeter for M. C. from the First District. The Times says:—"Starting in life in poverty, he is now rated one of the wealthy men of the State."

Mont Vernon, Keene, Nashua, Plymouth, Portsmouth, Walpole, Lancaster and Strafford are among the places that compete for the Normal School, says the Patriot.

The Cheshire Republican says Mr. Luke N. Houghton of Gilsum has discovered upon his land a deposit of black lead or plumbago ore of superior quality and of convenient access. He believes other minerals of value may be found in the same vicinity.

In West Concord, Mrs. Nichols threw a lump of what she supposed to be lamp-black into the kitchen stove, and an explosion took place that burned her hands and face badly, and set her clothes on fire. Mrs. N. had the coolness to put out the fire on her clothes with a pail of water standing at hand.

A sly old rat gnawed a hole in a wheat bin at Wright & Co.'s grist mill in Great Falls. The result was that 30 or more bushels of wheat ran into the river. About half was recovered, owing to the low water, but in a damaged state.

Eddie K. Brown, a promising son of Mr. Henry Brown of Dover, aged 14 years, was run over and instantly killed at the Boston and Maine Railroad crossing on Tuesday.

Messrs. C. D. Pecker, L. G. Swett and B. F. Doak, Lynn manufacturers, are about to construct an extensive shoe factory at Pittsfield, where they have bought six acres of land for the purpose.

At the Merrimack County Fair, at Concord, a transient person named John Williams was arrested for selling liquor, and made to pay $58 fine and costs.

In Warner, a daughter of Mr. Joseph Whitcher, aged 13, was thrown from a horse and burst the globe of one eye, necessitating its removal.

☞ The temperance men of Missouri have held a State convention, whereat they refused to enter the political arena, and repudiated the idea of enacting prohibitory laws, but decided to lay before their fellow-citizens facts to prove why alcoholic drinks should be avoided as beverages.

☞ At the S. J. Court for Strafford County, State by Charles Jackson vs. S. H. Burnham, for sale of liquor. Respondent plead guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs, and go to jail for sixty days.

Charles Jackson was sent to jail for seventy days for failing to appear before the Grand Jury, as he was recognized to do.

☞ Webster says "a white smith is one who works in tinned or white iron, or who finishes or polishes iron work, in distinction from those who forge it." We think a steel-worker is sometimes termed a white smith.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

YOU CANNOT do a better thing for your wife on a washing-day than provide her a Doty Washer and a Universal Wringer. It will keep aches from her back and arms, wrinkles from her forehead, and roughness from her hands. It will do the work of a hired woman and save your linen from being scrubbed out and her temper from being chafed out.—New York Weekly Tribune.

WHAT IS QUILLAYA SAPONARIA?—It is a tree, the bark of a Chillian Tree, which yields, when macerated, a fragrant vegetable soap with cleaning and antiputrescent properties not possessed by any other vegetable production. This Bark is a prominent constituent of the celebrated Sozodont, the most popular dental preparation ever introduced in America.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," stickiest thing out.

A LARGE VOLUME would not contain the mass of testimony which has accumulated in favor of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, as a safe, efficient, and reliable remedy in curing coughs, colds, and pulmonary diseases. Many of the cures are truly wonderful.

BAD PRACTICE.—You might as well expect to relieve and cure an inflamed eye by dusting irritating powders into it, as to expect to subdue and cure Catarrh (which is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the air passages in the head) by the use of irritating snuffs, or strong, caustic solutions. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures Catarrh by its mild, soothing action, which allays the inflammation and restores the natural secretion of the mucous follicles. The proprietor offers $500 for a case of Catarrh that he cannot cure. Sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents. Sold by druggists. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Spread the Truth.

Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Queer reasoning this. It is like saying that an article which the world needs should be hid in a corner—that benefits and blessings may be too widely diffused—that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a close monopoly, and not accessible to all. The argument is bad. It is worse than that; it is inhuman. Suppose HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—an absolute specific for dyspepsia, biliousness and nervous debility—had never been known beyond the repertoire of the faculty, what would have been the consequence? Instead of curing and invigorating millions, the good effects of the preparation would have been confined to a comparative few. There is the highest authority for saying that light should not be hid under a bushel; that whatever is excellent should be placed as a city on a hill, where all men can take cognizance of it.

It is upon this principle that the Bitters have been advertised and continue to be advertised in every newspaper of any prominence in the western hemisphere, and that the spontaneous testimonials in its favor have been translated into all written languages. Thousands enjoy perfect health to-day who would be languishing on beds of sickness if the newspapers had not spread the truth with regard to this unequaled invigorant and corrective far and wide. Suppose profit has been reaped from this publicity. Is that any argument against it? If the public health has been protected; if lives have been saved; if the feeble have been strengthed and the sick restored, great good has been accomplished, and who so mean as to grudge to exertions thus directed their fair reward? dawlwoct15

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

THE SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, October term, Judge Doe presiding, opened in this city on Tuesday. The principal portion of the day was taken up with routine business, calling the rolls of jurors and the docket, etc. The usual percentage of jurors wanted to be excused, on the usual variety of reasons; and though most of the requests were disallowed by the Court, it was done with such nice tact that each disappointed applicant rather felt that he had received a personal favor. The following is a list of the Grand Jury:—

Darius Frink, Newington, foreman; Theodore Kellogg, Exeter; Stephen G. Sleeper, Fremont; Joseph A. Lovering, Greenland; Abner W. Chandler, Hampstead; Nath'l Batchelder, Hampton; Levi E. Lane, Hampton Falls; Joseph Poor, Kensington; Rufus Goodwin, Kingston; John A. Gage, Londonderry; John P. Cooper, Newcastle, (excused); James W. Britton, Newmarket; Lewis J. Bartlett, Newton; Dan'l S. Knowles, North Hampton; Samuel B. Cilley, Northwood; Sam'l B. Dalton, Nottingham; Frank D. Pollard, Plaistow; Joseph C. Muchmore, Portsmouth; Levi S. Brown, Raymond; Cyrus S. Jones, Rye; Wm. C. Morrill, Salem, (excused).

The Petit Jurors for the first and second weeks are as follows: John M. Davis, (excused,) Daniel J. Vaughan, George Taylor, Israel P. Miller, Jeremiah W. Fogg, (Ward One,) John S. Tuckerman, (Ward Three,) Geo. W. Butler, (excused,) Portsmouth; Isaac Hall, Plaistow; Joshua H. Lane, Raymond; Gilman H. Jenness, Rye; Sam'l C. Harkins, Chas. Sanborn, Sandown; John C. Woodman, Samuel Eastman, South Hampton; H. Jenness Paul, John H. Fowler, South Newmarket; Albert D. Wiggin, Daniel P. Scott, Stratham; James Barker, Isaac Emerson, Windham; John M. Weare, Samuel Watson, Seabrook; Moses E. Noyes, Justus W. Peaslee, Atkinson; Evander G. Preston, Albert Pratt, Auburn; Daniel J. Kendall, Daniel Jewell, Brentwood; Lucien Kent, Silas F. Learned, Chester; Lorenzo G. Prescott, Gilbert Rollins, Exeter.

The following is the list of jurors for the third and fourth weeks, as far as completed: Joseph Watson, John Eure, Candia; Joseph Haley, Nathaniel G. Giddings, Exeter; Andrew W. Mack, Gilman Farley, Londonderry; John S. Bennett, Constantine B. Mathes, Newmarket; Isaac Woodbury, Issachar O. Foster, Salem; Samuel A. Smith, Fremont; Simeon S. Odion, Greenland; Lorenzo Frost, Hampstead; Jonathan Weare, Hampton Falls; Daniel E. Palmer, Kensington; Hosea B. Bartlett, Kingston.

THE THEATRE. — Considering the brief notice given, a larger audience than we expected to see was in attendance at the Temple, Tuesday evening, to witness John Murray's "Rip Van Winkle." His representation of the character satisfied and delighted the audience. Mr. Murray was well sustained by the company and there is a general desire for a repetition of the entertainment. The company go to Biddeford to-day and will return here for one performance on Thursday evening. On Friday they play at Newburyport.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—This evening, Wednesday, is the time appointed for the regular weekly rehearsal of the Philharmonic Society; and it is very desirable that all members should be in their places and ready to commence the business of the evening, promptly at 8 o'clock. The very full attendance at the first regular meeting, on Monday of last week, augurs well for the success of the organization the present season, and the continued interest of the members is all that is needed to assure it.

☞ Mr. Harry Remick's Crayon Pictures, at the Fair, were very creditable, and showed much improvement since we last saw his work. His sketches of buildings, (Came's Carriage Factory, and others) and plain and colored landscapes, all do him credit.

☞ A notice from the State Board of Trustees of Public Instruction, calls for bids for location of a N. H. Normal School. How would it do for the City of Portsmouth to tender the City Farm for this purpose?

☞ There are one hundred and thirty-three trains run daily upon the Eastern Railroad and branches. This includes all passenger and freight trains, but does not include gravel or special trains.

☞ The types made us say fine church, when we wrote free, respecting the new chapel, which will seat 300 or 400 people, and will be free.

CONNECTICUT THANKSGIVING, Nov. 24.

A FREE BLOW of the blowiest kind came off on Tuesday. Even the Grand Jury shrank from it. People dusted and got dusted, school girls lost their hats and school boys chased 'em — hats and girls; — trees were uprooted and leaves flew about as if possessed with evil spirits. Some people ejaculated impulsively and had their mouths filled with dirt for daring to open them. To be in-doors was comfort, to be out was lacerating to the feelings of those who hate a wind. Signs and symbols slammed about, fruit and dry goods displayed in front of store doors were besprinkled with a yellowish covering, pedestrians went it blind and encountered trees, posts and fellow peds. Walking straight required strength and nerve.

Low clouds promised rain in the early part of the day, but the sun shone serenely in the afternoon and the blue sky looked all the cleaner for its contrast with the growing angels here below. There must have been a greater demand than usual on the rippling rills from Fountain Head: — else many a dirty face went unwashed last night.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

NEW RAISINS.

FIRST OF THE SEASON of 1870, received at L. LAIGHTON.

Morning Chronicle.

RACING AT AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.—It is about time that narrow-minded papers and people ceased to talk derisively of exhibitions of speed. Racing is the great drawing card at all agricultural fairs. The people admire a fast horse, and whenever the opportunity is afforded they plainly show this admiration. We thoughtfully studied the question while idling in the West. At Columbus, at Springfield and at Lexington the horse days were the big days of the fairs; and interest developed into enthusiasm when the speed contests commenced. In great crowds, the people stood in the most uncomfortable positions for hours, each refusing to surrender his or her place until the programme was finished. Not even rain could dampen the ardor or thin the numbers.

The racing was of a most indifferent character, still the great majority preferred it to pens of fat pigs, stalls of well bred cattle, flocks of sheep, agricultural products and fields of machinery. The reason is simple to us. When the people dress for a holiday, they want to be amused. Some things may be studied with profit, but they soon tire of study or sight-seeing devoid of excitement. Turf games are always exciting, therefore the people are fond of them. And those who manage the agricultural fairs, if they desire to be successful, must study the likes and dislikes of the people. To go against the people is to invite failure.

At Springfield, on Thursday of the State Fair week, when the horse ring was the centre of attraction, the crowd around the half-mile track was absolutely immense. The black line of humanity extended around the entire course — a line of twenty thousand strong. Positions for seeing were at a premium. A party of beautiful and highly accomplished ladies were late in putting in an appearance at the track, and consequently when they did arrive there was not a spot left from which they could obtain even a glimpse of the racing.

One of them was of an enterprising turn of mind, and she was equal to the emergency. She proposed that they charter a hay-wagon passing and take up position on it. The proposition was well received, and the driver of the wagon being open to negotiation, a bargain was soon made, satisfactory to all concerned. The laughing beauties mounted the hay wagon, and for some two hours anxiously watched the racing from their novel perch. The halting of the wagon near the track was against orders, but the Marshal had not the heart to interfere with the pleasure of the accomplished fair ones. We record this incident to show what keen interest is felt by true-hearted women—those for whom we labor and whom we idolize — in exhibitions of speed at agricultural fairs.

Bigoted journals may preach against the "abomination," but the preaching practically amounts to nothing. The people laugh at the doleful and spiteful homilies, and, when they go to a fair, they rush to the speeding track the moment that a race is announced to take place. Would it not be wise, in view of these facts, to cease hostile attacks against the turf, and to join in keeping turf amusements under proper control?—Turf, Field and Farm.

☞ People write and talk oftentimes, concerning subjects about which they know nothing. A selected article we published yesterday, respecting checkreins and blinders, was evidently not written by a practical horseman—else he would know that not one horse in twenty is smart or bold enough to drive well without winkers—for any but a horse of great courage and spirit, will continually watch his driver over his shoulder, and loaf when allowed, and at the motion of a whip, and often at other movements of passengers, will start so as to throw him out behind. As for blinders touching or injuring a horse's eyes, there is not the least need or excuse for it.

Checkreins on draft horses, would seem to be unnecessary, and often injurious—but still many good teamsters stick to them; but in light driving, we see no more reason or sense in a horse carrying a very low head, than in men or women being round shouldered.

SPEND WISELY.—Look most to your spending. No matter what comes in, if more goes out, you will always be poor. The art is not in making money, but in keeping it; little expenses, like mice in a barn, when they are many, make great waste. Hair by hair, heads get bald; straw by straw, the thatch goes off the cottage; and drop by drop, the rain comes into the chamber. A barrel is soon empty, if the tap leaks but a drop a minute.

When you mean to save, begin with your mouth; there are many thieves down the red lane. The ale-jug is a great waste. In all other things keep within compass. Never stretch your legs further than the blankets will reach, or you will soon be cold. In clothes, choose suitable and lasting stuff, and not tawdry fineries. To be warm is the main thing; never mind the looks.

A fool may make money, but it needs a wise man to spend it. Remember, it is easier to build two chimneys than to keep one going. If you give all to back and board, there is nothing left for the savings bank. Fare hard and work hard while you are young; and you have a chance of rest when you are old.—John Ploughman's Talk.

☞ The United States have five carriage papers—but England none.

☞ Not long since, Capt. Isaiah Rynders, of New York, was riding in New Jersey, and broke through a bridge, and his horse, valued at $10,000, was drowned. A Jury refused to give him damages, as the judge charged that unless it was necessary for him to be riding there, the corporation were not liable on Sunday.

A similar case has just occurred in Maine. A Mr. Piper sued the inhabitants of Shapleigh, in an action for damages. Plf. was thrown from sleigh and injured; claimed that highway was defective. The case was submitted to the jury, when it was discharged in evidence that the injury was received on Sunday. As plf. could show no pressing necessity for riding that day, the action was withdrawn and a nol pros. entered.

So it seems that in New England, a man who goes out to drive on Sunday, takes his own risk of defective bridges and roads.

☞ Why should not a fast horse be admired, as well as a swift bird? And why not one be allowed to show his powers and speed, as well as the other?

☞ The Democrats have gained six Congressmen and lost one in Pennsylvania.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET,

FOR THE WEEK ENDING WEDNESDAY, OCT. 12.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1554; Sheep and Lambs 13,366; Swine 6875; number of Western Cattle 945; Eastern Cattle 309; Northern Cattle and Working Oxen 300. Cattle left over from last week —.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $12 50 @ $13 00; first quality $11 25 @ $12 25; second quality $10 50 @ $11 25; third quality $9 00 @ $10 25; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $6 50 @ $8 50 ₱ cwt, (the total weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

The supply of Cattle in market this week was not so large as that of last. The quality was about the same. Prices were higher and the best lots of Cattle were mostly taken at a commission. If the supply had been as large as that of last week, we do not think that prices would have been any better. As it is the supply is large enough to make the trade for common grades dull. There were but a few Beef Cattle from Maine this week.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $12 @ $23; two year olds $21 & $45; three year olds $45 & $65 ₱ head. Some of the poor yearlings and two year olds sell at $8 @ $20 ₱ head. Most of the Stores in a fair condition are sold for Beef. Most of the small Cattle in market are of a poor grade this week.

Working Oxen—The supply in market was not so large as has been for several weeks past. The trade was very fair. We quote sales at $110, $135, $137, $140, $145, $160, $170, $185, $205, $210 @ $250 ₱ pair.

Milch Cows—Prices range from $35 @ $100 ₱ head. Most of those offered in market for sale are of an ordinary grade. There are but few extra Cows offered in market for sale.

Sheep and Lambs—Extra and select lots $3 50 @ $5 00; ordinary lots $1 50 @ $3 00; Lambs $2 25 @ 4 50 ₱ head, or from 3 @ 7c ₱ lb. There were but few from the West or East, mostly Northern.

ROCKINGHAM STATISTICS.—The Census returns show the valuation of Rockingham County is $29,383,887; with a taxable valuation of twenty-five per cent. less, two-thirds of which is real and the rest personal estate. The county debt is $137,700, and town and city debts amount to $1,214,088. The total tax, national not being reckoned, is $381,603. The cost of supporting three hundred and sixty-six paupers was $49,970 last year, of which only thirty-seven are foreigners. There were twenty-eight criminals convicted in the past year, all but three being Americans.

The number of volumes in libraries is thirty-four thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, private libraries having a percentage of twenty-three to the total. There are six newspapers, circulating eight thousand five hundred. Schools number two hundred and sixty-eight, with an attendance of six thousand five hundred and ninety pupils. There are eleven academies.

There are a hundred and twelve churches, Baptists, Congregationalists and Methodists possessing two-thirds of them. Thirty-two thousand eight hundred and ten persons can be seated. The total value of church property is $564,000, divided as follows: Baptists, $112,000; Congregationalists, $202,600; Methodist, $76,700: Presbyterian, $84,000; Union, $800; Advent, $4,100; Universalist, $38,200; Unitarian, $18,600; Catholic, $23,000; Episcopal, $47,800; Christian, $400; Quaker $2,500.

THE WOMAN SUFFRAGE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE of Massachusetts issue an address to their friends in the State, recommending no independent candidates for the ensuing election. We quote the following:—

The Republican convention conceded the principle [of enfranchisement] by its unanimous admission of two women as delegates. * * * A change of only 29 votes would have made woman suffrage a part of the republican platform. * * * Many of the most influential leaders have declared themselves in our favor. The Republican party, by its principles, antecedents and convictions, gravitates irresistibly towards us.

The democratic convention also conceded the principle of woman suffrage by declaring suffrage to be a right and not a privilege. Our question is neither endorsed nor condemned by the democratic party. It is postponed and left open for future consideration. The political situation is, therefore, briefly as follows: There are four parties in the field. None advocate and none oppose woman suffrage.

It appears that, while a majority of all the candidates upon the different State tickets have declared themselves in our favor, not a single candidate has not replied in direct opposition to woman suffrage. Our friends can make up from the various tickets already in the field a complete list of candidates favorable to our cause. Messrs. Claflin and Phillips, who head three of the four tickets, are both pronounced woman suffragists.

We advise the friends of woman suffrage to vote according to their political and personal preferences for such candidates only as have publicly espoused our cause. Scratch remorselessly from your tickets every bostile or doubtful name, and substitute the name of a known friend in its stead. Above all, attend the primary meetings in your senatorial and representative districts. Oppose the nomination and election of every opponent of woman suffrage. Secure the nomination and election of members of the legislature who will vote next winter for the enfranchisement of the women of Massachusetts, and the establishment of a republican form of government in the old Bay State.

☞ An eminent French physician says that the decrease of dyspepsia and bilious affections in Paris is owing to the increased consumption of apples; a fruit, he maintains, which is an admirable preventive and tonic, as well as a very nourishing and easily digested article of food. The Parisians devour one hundred millions of them every winter. Fresh fruit has an immediate affect in checking bilious tendencies in individuals, and there are whole districts where bilious diseases become prevalent upon the failure of the fruit crop. Fruit growers may, therefore, count upon a constantly increasing demand for the products of the orchards and gardens, as the health-giving properties of fruit become known.

☞ The taxpayers of Boston are complaining that the assessors resort to the cheap expedient of raising the valuation of estates, so as to make the percentage less. The result is, that Boston pays greatly more than its proportion of the State taxes, as the valuation of estates in other places is placed very low.

SEASON OF 1870-71.
MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements.
Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.
They now offer FIVE OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 each. THE SAME, FIVE STOPS, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new VOX HUMANA, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.
A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, OCT. 20, 1870.

WAR NEWS.—The Prussians and French are still concentrating large forces near Orleans, preparatory to a great battle.

A dispatch has been received announcing another sortie by the Parisians. The loss of the Prussians is put at 3000.

The battle of Bayneaux resulted in such severe loss to the Prussians that they asked for six hours' armistice to bury their dead.

Melun was occupied by the Franc Tireurs on the 17th, after defeating a Prussian detachment which was in possession of the town.

Large bodies of troops continue to pass through Tours, from the south of France, on their way to the scene of the expected battle of the Loire.

The expected battle at Orleans has occurred, and after six hours' defence of the city the French fled. They evacuated the town so precipitately that they had not time to blow up the bridge over the Loire, which they had already mined for that purpose. The forces engaged were about equal.

REV. JUSTIN D. FULTON, after preaching a temperance sermon at Tremont Temple, Sunday forenoon, to a crowded house, read a statement in reference to Theodore Tilton's charges. After giving Mr. Tilton's charge, it set forth the proceedings at a meeting of friends and members of his church, at which it was resolved to commence a libel suit against Mr. Tilton. The speaker said he went to New York, and there met Rev. Drs. D. L. Taylor, Theodore Tyler and James B. Simmons. On Saturday morning they all visited Mr. Tilton, and asked him to allow them to have an interview with the merchant alluded to in the article published.

Mr. Tilton declined to send for the gentleman, but went with Mr. Fulton to the office of the New York Independent, where he was introduced to the party, whom he recognized as a fellow-student and showman who had exhibited a section of a California tree at the Crystal Palace. To Mr. Fulton's inquiry, as to whether he had stated that he had gone with them and drank beer, as stated in the article in Mr. Tilton's paper, he said he had not mentioned the number of glasses.

Mr. Fulton then asked if he did not know, when the two were students at Michigan University, that his temperance principles were so strong that he took another student, who was very intemperate, to room with him, in order to reform him. He answered that he did. When Mr. Fulton asked him if he ever went in his company from Dr. Armitage's church and drank any beer at a saloon, he said they did, but when asked if he would allow Mr. Fulton to send for Dr. Armitage, to show that he had never preached there but once, and that one the Sunday after his return from Europe, two years ago, when two members of his church from Boston were with him, he said he would not know it.

Mr. Fulton then charged him with being a false witness against an old college friend, and said he should decline to have his friends prosecute a libel suit under such circumstances. At a subsequent interview between Messrs. Fulton and Tilton, in the presence of Drs. Taylor and Simmons, Mr. Tilton refused to retract what he had published, when Mr. Fulton stated that he should leave the matter with his church to do as they saw best. Having made his statement, he left the matter with the American people. The time when the event was said to have taken place was in 1855.

The following appeared in the Brooklyn Union, Monday afternoon:—

Rev. Justin D. Fulton: Sir,—I have just received with wonder the reports in New York papers of your remarks to your Boston congregation, yesterday, on the issue pending between you and me. These reports, assuming them to be correct, compel me to say, in point blank English, that I stand ready to prove: 1st, that you did go into a lager beer saloon, and drink lager beer after preaching; and, 2d, that the narrative of your interview on Saturday last with my informant and myself, is as false as your denial of the original charge. Having threatened me with a libel, you now announce the withdrawal of the suit. This is because you dare not go forward with it. I challenge you to meet me in a court of justice.

(Signed) THEODORE TILTON.

THE WEST AS A RAILROAD COUNTRY. The careful observer of the growth of the Northwestern States, cannot fail to see how largely dependent upon Railroad facilities, are those great agricultural regions, and how intimately connected are Railroad extension and farming prosperity. Looking, for instance at Illinois, we find that it is only since the general introduction of railroads that the State has made rapid growth in population and wealth. So with Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. The population of the latter State has doubled in the last ten years, a consequence of the railways, which have, during that time, given access to its broad prairies.

For countless ages these tracts have been gathering their rich alluvial deposits, waiting for occupancy and development, until iron highways should make their cultivation profitable by opening the way to the eastern and foreign markets.

Fire East and West lines cross the State, and now a road is being built from north to south, crossing all the East and West lines, and providing an outlet for all the traffic of the northwest, which will be brought into St. Paul by the Northern Pacific and other roads in that region.

The Central Railroad of Iowa will, in connection with the Milwaukee & St. Paul and the North Missouri Railroads, make a direct line from St. Paul to St. Louis, nearly one hundred and fifty miles shorter than any existing route, besides supplying the people and producers of Central Iowa a much needed line of transportation. The road is not a merely projected one, for we learn, on good authority, that over one hundred miles (of the 233 between the Missouri and the Minnesota State lines) are already done, the remainder is all graded, and track is being laid at the rate of two miles a day, and the cars are expected to run through between St. Paul and St. Louis, by this line, in from sixty to ninety days. The road traverses the most thickly settled and productive part of the State, and a profitable local business will be assured as fast as the successive sections are opened.

Most Western roads under construction, are dependent upon the sales of their bonds for funds with which to build. The Central Railroad Company have been fortunate enough to include among their stockholders some of the strongest capitalists of the country, such as Jay Cooke & Co. and Morton, Bliss & Co., which has secured all the money necessary to build the road rapidly and thoroughly.

The First Mortgage Bonds of this Company are advertised elsewhere in this paper. The Mortgage is small in amount—only $16,000 to the mile—and with the work so nearly done in so favorable a locality, we do not see how any better security could be provided. The Bonds bear 7 per cent. Gold Interest, free of Government tax, and are sold at the low price of 90 and accured interest in currency. Two millions have already been sold, and one million is now offered, which is likely to be speedily absorbed.

NEW HAMPSHIRE IN THE REVOLUTION.—We are much indebted to Joel Munsell, Esq. publisher of Historical, Genealogical and Miscellaneous Books, at Albany, N. Y., for a copy of the History of the First New Hampshire Regiment in the Revolution, by Frederick Kidder, Esq., a well known merchant of Boston, a native of New Hampshire, a well informed historian, author of Eastern Maine and Nova Scotia, &c. This is the first Revolutionary Regiment that has ever been written up; and the author well remarks that "the history of a regiment whose organization is coeval with the commencement of the Revolutionary war, and whose term of service extended beyond its close—who fought bravely at Bunker Hill, Trenton, Saratoga, Monmouth, Yorktown and other fields, must contain facts that will commend it to lovers of American history, now and in the future." Its four eminent commanders, Stark, Cilley, Scammell, Dearborn, left names bright in the annals of New Hampshire, and which add lustre to the history of the nation.

We are surprised to learn that none of the Massachusetts or other Revolutionary Regiments have ere this had their records made up for the press; and surprised no less, at the very small edition of such works that is usually published—only 200 copies of this little book, (184 pages octavo,) and but 50 to 100 of many other histories &c.

☞ The Golden Wedding of Rev. T. J. Greenwood and wife took place at their residence in Malden, Mass., on Wednesday evening last, and the house was filled to overflowing with their relatives and friends. The ceremonies were appropriate to the occasion, consisting of music, an address of congratulation, and marriage ceremony by Rev. A. J. Patterson. There were two persons present who were at the first wedding, fifty years ago—a sister of Mr. Greenwood, and sister of Mrs. Greenwood. The substantial tokens of regard which the company left amounted in value to nearly seven hundred dollars.

HOW U. S. LAWS ARE ENFORCED IN NEW YORK.—50 Internal Revenue officers made a raid on illicit stills in the 5th Ward of Brooklyn. They captured one and tore it down. While engaged in its demolition, 200 men assailed them with clubs and stones. The revenue officers fired a volley into the crowd, seriously wounding John Kane. The whiskey men then fled, and the officers retreated into the navy yard.

DANIEL MCFARLAND, who murdered Richardson, and whose trial recently created such a great sensation, was brought to Jefferson Market Court, New York, Tuesday, in a beastly state of intoxication. The police found him lying in a gutter, with both eyes blackened, and the skin torn off his nose. He was locked up to get sober. On the trial he produced a large package of his wife's letters which the court declined to consider. He was sent to jail for ten days.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WHAT IS QUILLAYA SAPONARIA?—It is a tree, the bark of a Chillian Tree, which yields, when macerated, a fragrant vegetable soap with cleaning and antiputrescent properties not possessed by any other vegetable production. This Bark is a prominent constituent of the celebrated Sozodoncy, the most popular dental preparation ever introduced in America.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," stickiest thing out.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Spread the Truth.

Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Queer reasoning this. It is like saying that an article which the world needs should be hid in a corner—that benefits and blessings may be too widely diffused—that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a close monopoly, and not accessible to all. The argument is bad. It is worse than folly. It is absurd. Suppose HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—an admirable specific for dyspepsia, biliousness and nervous debility—had never been known beyond the experience of the family; what would have been the consequence? Instead of curing and invigorating millions, the good effects of the preparation would have been confined to a comparative few. There is the highest authority for saying that light should not be hid under a bushel; that whatever is excellent should be placed as a city on a hill, where all men can take cognizance of it.

It is upon this principle that the Bitters have been advertised and continue to be advertised in every newspaper of any prominence in the western hemisphere, and that the spontaneous testimonials in its favor have been translated into all written languages. Thousands enjoy perfect health to-day who would be languishing on beds of sickness if the newspapers had not spread the truth with regard to this unequaled invigorant and corrective for and relief against sickness

THE THEATRE.—We have chosen heretofore to speak in praise of the acting of Mr. John Murray in the character of "Rip Van Winkle," and do not hesitate to recommend our readers to avail themselves of the opportunity of witnessing it this evening. Mr. Murray's performance on Monday evening was a surprise to the large audience present, and was the best piece of character acting seen in Portsmouth for many years. Charlie and Lillie Wilkinson, Misses Emma Chase and Lottie Murray, Messrs. J. P. Sutton and T. H. Plummer are valuable members of the stock company. The intense interest shown by the audience of Monday evening was sufficient proof that Mr. Murray's acting had charmed their senses. Mr. Murray is the only New England actor who attempts the difficult role of "Rip Van Winkle." This, his last performance here for the present, should be witnessed by an audience limited only by the capacity of the Hall.

☞ The Dover Local Record states that Mr. Albert Blaisdell of Greenland, was the originator of the Maine State Brick Co., of which he was for a time President, selling out because other business demanded his attention. The Brick Co. is still in operation, making bricks by the millions, and harvesting for the stockholders remunerative and permanent dividends. For the past four months Mr. Blaisdell has been developing a granite quarry which he has owned for the past four years, but has not had time to open and work. It lies in Yarmouth, Me., eleven miles from Portland, and is said to be one of the most valuable quarries known.

☞ The schooner Crown, Johnson, fishing, lying at anchor at the Shoals, drove ashore Tuesday, during the heavy gale, and is a total loss, together with fish, salt, gear, &c. The crew were ashore.

Schooner Spray, Fletcher, also drove ashore at the Shoals and filled with water. Part of cargo (fish) saved, and also fishing gear, &c.

A man named James Randall was drowned in trying to get ashore from the boat Lone Star, at Appledore. The body has been recovered.

SUIT AGAINST EXPRESSMAN LAWS—HIS ACQUITTAL.—A charge was recently brought against Mr. Wm. H. Laws of this city, for alleged embezzlement of $550. It was tried before the Superior Criminal Court at Lawrence, Mass., on Tuesday. The case was so plain that Judge Pitman declined to hear the witness for the defence and gave the case to the jury, who acquitted Mr. Laws without leaving their seats. H. G. Johnson of Newburyport was counsel for Mr. Laws.

☞ The Annual Meeting of the Merrimack Valley Dental Association is to be held in this city on the 3d and 4th of November, when essays are to be read by Drs. J. A. Salmon and I. J. Wetherbee of Boston and others, and discussions will be had upon important subjects pertaining to the profession. During the session clinical instruction will be given by Dr. Cummings of Concord, and Drs. Stevens and Shepard of Boston.

THAT'S IT, EXACTLY.—An old gentleman, who, Yankee like, is nothing if not critical, tells us that the City Government are behind the people in every thing except spending money. That's the talk—the old story; buildings and bridges, roads and streets, sidewalks and gutters, must be fixed—but don't spend any money, don't call for any taxes.

☞ Stover Encampment, G. A. R., have in active rehearsal "The Drummer Boy of Gettysburg," which has been very successfully rendered in Lowell and Dover, running a week in each place. It is to be brought out at the Temple, commencing Oct. 31st.

☞ A series of Social Assemblies, similar to those which afforded so much entertainment last winter, are to be held at Irving Hall this season, commence this (Thursday) evening.

☞ It was singular that in a chance item of a few lines giving the list of candidates for Congress in this District, the other day, the name of Hon. Samuel M. Wheeler of Dover should be omitted. He lacked only one vote of a nomination, at the time Mr. Ela was first put up; and his friends consider his chances good this time—as, also, do Mr. Ela's, no doubt. We shall see.

From the Boston American Union.

CHRISTIANS.—Our friend "Wilfur" gives us a specimen of the panning of his locality in Harup:

"Some years since there lived in this vicinity a family named Christian, but long before they came, the character and name of Christian had parted company, for they were a most unchristian set, the younger members in particular committing all sorts of depredations upon their neighbors, the only limit to their outrages being the limit of human strength. The most aggravating act of theirs was the pilfering of fruit, and the entire products of trees would disappear in a single night, doubtless stolen by them. A very nervous neighbor who lived next them, who had made himself sick by watching all night for weeks with a pistol loaded with salt, had at last a high fence built that could not be climbed over.

'What are you doing, neighbor?' asked one of his immediates, seeing the fence going up.

'I'm going to build a fence,' said he, 'as high as heaven, to keep out these d— Christians.'

'Twas a queer combination and sounded very funny.".

Apropos to the above, there is a section of old Portsmouth, beyond the north bridge, called Christian Shore, so named, as some say, from the fact that there were many cases of baptism on the shore of the mill-pond upon which it lies; but we have heard another reason, which seems, however, to be as irrelevant as was Irving's "Rattlesnake Hill, so called because it abounded with butterflies."

In the early days there stood a small brick house near the water, with an oven that projected behind, one single brick, alone, separating it from the outside world. On the day before one of the ancient Thanksgivings, the occupant of the brick house had baked all her pies and puddings, and had put them back in the oven to keep warm for the next day; when some scamp removed a brick from the projection and carried off the entire batch.

"Well, isn't that a Christian act, now?" said the matron, when she discovered her loss next morning. It was spoken "sarkastikul," but it is said to have determined the name.

She did not feel as a' good soul did further up the river, who, when a well-fattened turkey had been stolen from his yard the night before it was to have been killed, simply said when made aware of the loss, "Well, let us hope it will prove tender."

This is from the pen of our fellow townsman, B. P. Shillaber; and is to us a new reason or occasion for the name Christian Shore. Mr. Brewster, in his Rambles, could not discover what he considered the origin of the name—which is generally considered to have been given in sarcasm or derison of the early inhabitants of North Portsmouth. Another story is, that it came from one John Christian who early lived there — and still another, that a very loud-praying christian formerly residing there christened it involuntarily.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to the color of youth with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the vigor, can only benefit but not injure.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

NEW RAISINS.

FIRST OF THE SEASON of 1870, received at L. LAIGHTON.

Morning Chronicle.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

PORT CHALMERS, OTAGO, N. Z. }
Aug. 31, 1870. }

I wish I could say, as you did, that we have had a fine winter. During a residence of 8 years in New Zealand, I have never seen such a wet, disagreeable winter as we have had. Go where you will, nothing is to be seen, scarcely, but water, mud, slush, &c.—not ankle or knee deep, but in places actually sufficiently deep to bury horses and bullocks completely out of sight. Farmers are ruined, public works almost at a stand-still; in short the Province is almost bordering on insolvency.

Of course we have had our share of failures and robbery; the most glaring of the latter was of gold and specie, at Clyde. The offenders, a shoemaker and policeman who had charge of the treasure, are in custody, and most of the amount, $65,000, has been recovered. Another robbery, at our own doors, was that of a Celestial on the point of leaving here for the Flowery Land, who was eased of £400 in gold as he was going up the vessel's side. Who the party was that did the trick, John no savey, nor does any other person. Perhaps it will do the person who has it more good than it would do offered as a sacrifice to "Joss."

I give you some news of the late flood:—

Port Chalmers, August 24—A heavy N. E. gale sprang up on Wednesday afternoon, bringing with it torrents of rain. During the night the rain poured down incessantly, flooding the street channels, and laying much of the lower part of the town under water. Such large volumes of water rolled down some of the thoroughfares intersecting George street as to render it difficult for a pedestrian to get across. The water of Leith got sufficiently near to the abutments of the stone bridge to make any further encroachment perilous to the safety of the structure.

The unexpected rain is most inopportune for settlers generally. By the recent favorable weather the ground was just getting into good condition for being wrought. Now it has again been thoroughly saturated, and farming operations, already far behind, will be still further protracted. Roads, also, were getting to be somewhat of a passable nature, but now they are rendered as bad as ever.

Oamaru, August 25.—Rain fell incessantly yesterday and to-day, and a heavy S. E. gale blew at the same time. The sea was flooded, and several persons were obliged to vacate their houses. The creek rose very high, carried away the dam, and washed away the landing-place. Two of the tender boats were broken up. The schooner Margaret Campbell, which was the only vessel in the roads, got safely out to sea. The Corporation have set to work to make an outlet for the creek.

A Tokomairiro correspondent writes: "On Tuesday last as a carter was driving a loaded dray along a clay road (near Milton), unmetalled, and which was considerably rutted, his leader suddenly disappeared, not over an embankment, but in one of the holes in the road. The fine chestnut mare literally went out of sight in the mud. Assistance fortunately was at hand. After a search, the legs of the animal—which then happened to be uppermost—were discovered; ropes were lashed to them, and after a struggle of 20 minutes' duration, she was got out. Happily some traces of life still remained, and in a short time the mare was able to stand, and afterwards to walk home."

I was sorry to see, by a Chronicle, that Rev. T. H. Miller had departed this life—let us hope for a brighter and better. I can truly sympathize with you in the loss. There is no doubt that these sore bereavements point us to a future for which we must all prepare. That you and I may be prepared when the summons comes, is the sincere wish of Yours truly, G. L. A.

—The New York World is talking about resisting the enforcement of the laws passed by Congress to prevent fraud at elections. The New Haven Leyer—whose editor is a perfect dare devil of a fellow—afraid of nothing—eats coals of fire and drinks aqua fortis—has a black republican for breakfast three times a week—didn't hesitate, a week or two ago, to tell a policeman, who interfered with a news boy, that he had better not do that again unless he wanted to get hurt—a man, in fact, who shrinks from nothing except telling the truth, and who can face his oldest creditor with a smile—this man's paper, the Lever, advises that "Grant's gunboats and marines" be sunk, as they can be, "in less than two hours, by the New York militia." And drawing a bloody bayonet from behind his ear, he adds: "If any help is wanted, just call in the white fighting democracy of Connecticut." Oh, he's dreadful when you get him roused. It wouldn't at all surprise us, in the event of a collision between federal and state authorities in New York, to hear that the editor of the Lever had gone into it personally, and sunk a gunboat. He could do it easy. He's such a bore!—Hartford Post.

The second crop of raspberries is ripe.

A correspondent who (the Patriot says) has a way of finding out things, writes that it is now morally certain that Rev. James Pike is to be the Radical candidate for Governor—that he is to be taken upon the supposition that he "will get the Methodist and prohibition vote to a greater extent than any other man."

On the 15th the Supreme Court, sitting in Concord, ordered a five per cent. dividend to be paid by the receivers of the Concord Road.

The Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad Company have advertised for proposals for building their road to West Ossipee. There is no doubt but what the road will be built immediately. It is the intention of the officers to have the iron all laid and trains running to West Ossipee by July next.

The woolen mill at Union Village belonging to Luther Cate, was entirely destroyed by fire Thursday night. The fire broke out about half past nine o'clock and originated in some oily waste in the attic. A few pieces of machinery were saved. Loss about $10,000; insured for $5,000.

The annual convention of the Baptist churches of New Hampshire, at Dover, commenced the 18th, to continue three days. A Sabbath School convention will also be held in connection with the convention. On Friday the convention will be followed by a Ministers' Institute.

Oct. 18, a fire broke out in the large dwelling house at Pittsfield owned by Mr. John G. French, the well known agent of the N. H. Fire Insurance Co. The house was occupied by the family of Mr. French, and also by J. E. Greenleaf, who carries on the farm. The house, two barns, carriage house, corn house and wood shed were destroyed. Most of the furniture, a large amount of hay, corn and potatoes and 400 bushels of apples were burned.

The Chronicle.

MY BABES IN THE WOOD.

I know a story, fairer, dimmer, sadder,
Than any story painted in your books,
You are so glad? It will not make you gladder;
Yet listen, with your pretty restless looks.

"Is it a Fairy Story?" Well, half fairy—
At least it dates far back as fairies do,
And seems to me as beautiful and airy;
Yet half, perhaps the fairy half, is true.

You had a baby sister and a brother,
Two very dainty people, rosy white,
Sweeter than all things else except each other!
Older yet younger—gone from human sight!

And I, who loved them, and shall love them ever,
And think with yearning tears how each light hand [never Crept toward bright bloom and berries—I shall Know how I lost them. Do you understand?

Poor slightly golden heads! I think I missed them,
First in some dreamy, piteous, doubtful way;
But when and where with lingering lips I kissed
My gradual parting, I can never say. [them,

Sometimes I fancy that they may have perished
In shadowy quiet of wet rocks and moss,
Near paths whose very pebbles I have cherished,
For their small sakes, since my most bitter loss.

I fancy, too, that they were softly covered
By robins, out of apple flowers they knew,
Whose nursing wings in far home sunshine hovered,
Before the timid world had dropped the dew.

Their names were—what yours are. At this you wonder,
Their pictures are—your own, as you have seen;
And my bird-buried darlings, hidden under Lost leaves—why, it is your dead Selves I mean!

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is even restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the distressing affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, it should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection in it.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

PEACE RUMORS.—The terms of the capitulation of the fortress and garrison of Metz, has been agreed to at the Prussian headquarters, at Versailles, between the French General Boyer and King William.

The following are the conditions under which the capitulation is made: Marshal Bazaine will sign a treaty of peace between France and Prussia as the plenipotentiary of the Emperor Napoleon. Marshal Bazaine's army is to be disarmed but to remain at Metz. Napoleon's son, the Prince, is to ascend the throne of France, and Marshal Bazaine is to be nominated as Regent.

HIDEOUS OUTRAGE BY UNITED STATES OFFICIALS.—In New York, Tuesday, the registration of voters commenced, and continued quietly all day, there being few arrest by U. S. officers for repeating or other fraudulent acts. Tuesday evening, Mayor Hall issued a proclamation, in which he stigmatized the acts passed by the last Congress to secure the purity of elections and prevent the recurrence of such gigantic and unblushing frauds as the democratic party has been accustomed to perpetrate, as a "manifest attempt of the Federal Government to throw every obstacle in the way of free registry, and to obstruct naturalized citizens in their vote." What the Mayor Hall and Tammany Hall democrats understand as "free registry," is well illustrated by the following item:—

Among the repeaters arrested Tuesday was John McLaughlin, a member of the Tammany General Committee, who had registered his name in three voting districts! He was committed in default of $3000 bail.

"Free regsitry" means the right to register in as many voting districts, and as many times in each district, in New York city, as is considered necessary by the democratic leaders to overcome the real republican majority in the whole State! Johnny McLaughlin was only preparing to carry out the good old democratic maxim about voting early and often—was probably duly commissioned by Tammany to set the working democracy a good example, as being much better than precept,—and for the U. S. officials to "throw obstacles in the way" of Johnny's "free registry" is a hideous outrage, and strikes at the very root of democratic ascendency in New York city and State. The democracy cannot submit to this; for if naturalized citizens are not allowed to "freely register" themselves as many times as they please, then a thousand native Americans from Ireland will have no more voice in the councils of the city and State than an equal number of carpet-baggers from New England, who may have settled in New York,—a state of affairs which it is impossible to contemplate without a shudder.

ADVERTISING AGENCIES.—One of the most reliable establishments of this character, that of John Hooper & Co., of New York, has just been merged with the younger but not less favorably known house of G. P. Rowell & Co. The success of the last named firm has been something unparalleled in the history of the business. They have an immense business with more than five thousand American Periodicals, all of which are received regularly and kept on file at their offices, which are located in the New York Times Building, Nos. 40 & 41 Park Row. Our patrons can always be sure of finding a file of our papers open to their inspection at the office of Messrs. Rowell & Co., whenever they happen to be in New York and want to read the news from home. We believe in good Advertising Agents, and poor ones are a nuisance, the same as in any other business; and we never could look at our Agents except as in any other wholesale and retail business.

—There is one parallel, in recent history, of the unexpected reverse which Paris gave Von Moltke on Wednesday last. It is related in the life of Billy Mulligan, the Philadelphia Alderman, that on last election day he saw a negro in the line waiting to vote. "Watch me go for this nigger," said Mulligan, and he made for him. But the "nigger" without waiting to parley, got his right duke between Mulligan's eyes, and sent him to pot. "Watch me go for Paris," said Von Moltke.—and he, Paris went for him.—N. Y. Telegram.

A NOVEL PRAYER.—We publish by request, the following prayer made by Rev. Canon Walsh, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church in this city, at the opening of the S. J. Court on Tuesday.

It is scarcely necessary for me to remark that we are assembled here today in compliance with the respected wishes of his honor, Judge Doe, who so ably presides over the important deliberations of this supreme court, in order to ask of Almighty God and His good Mother the following favors and blessings:

Firstly, we pray in behalf of this great and glorious country of ours, which can be justly styled the "model republic" of the universe and which has always been recognized as the home and asylum of the oppressed and persecuted victims of every clime and region under the sun.

On the present occasion, therefore, we ought more especially to be actuated with feelings of unbounded gratitude to the "giver of all good gifts," that whilst some of the first and most powerful nations of Europe are unfortunately wading their way through seas of human blood, and whilst the scythe of war with all its terrible train of unmitigated horrors so excruciating indeed as to cause stones like those of the Roman Coliseum of old to weep, is mowing down thousands of brave hearts and indomitable warriors, without having time to make their reckoning with either God or man, we see our own beautiful land, the "gem of the western world," basking in the sunshine of unalloyed peace and happiness.

She is literally fulfilling the renowned prophecy of Isaiah, "by turning her swords into ploughshares and her spears into sickles," for no longer is one section of the nation waring against the other. Thank God, peace has once more unfurled her banner to the breeze and plenty has poured out on our happy country from the fulness of her horn. Long may she continue to be, in the words of the poet, "the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Secondly, let us pray for the illustrious Judge who is so justly placed over the important deliberations of the supreme court of which he is such a distinguished ornament — distinguished, I say, not only on account of his great legal acquirements together with the admirable tact and ability with which he grapples every difficult and complicated question coming before him for adjucation, unravelling each one with an ease and elegance peculiarly his own, but also on account of the enlightened views and liberal sentiments with which he approaches all legal questions irrespective of creed, race, country or color. These are not my own expressions, for if so, they would amount to nothing, but those of some of the most learned members of the bar whom I have the honor of calling my sincere friends. "Si monumentum quaeris circumspice."

If any doubts might arise regarding my statements of the excellent Judge's liberality my presence here to-day would place the question forever beyond the reach of contradiction. Let us pray, then, that profound wisdom, consummate prudence, high honor and inflexible justice, tempered; however, with great clemency and mercy, may always preside over his important judgments and legal decisions. May those shining virtues become always the polar star of his eventful life, the end of which I trust will be like the sparkling rays of a beautiful sunset, leaving behind mellowed streaks of unrivalled glory long after the brilliant is forever set.

Thirdly, let us remember the grand jury, to whose delicate and tender consciences are entrusted for just and honest verdicts all those important cases being brought before them for examination. May they prove themselves men of sterling integrity and unbending rectitude so as not to be swayed about either to the right or left by feelings of either fear, love, prejudice or bigotry. I trust the golden rule laid down by the prophet Jeremiah, of "truth, justice and judgment," may become the very mainspring, harder even than steel, according to which all their verdicts are to be faithfully and conscientiously regulated. Let them bear in mind that they themselves will one day be arraigned before the great bar of divine justice, from whose inexorable decrees there is no appeal whatsoever.

Let us, finally, not forget the Lawyers, who are compelled by virtue of their official positions to handle so many doubtful and even ugly cases, hoping they will always stand on the broad platform of honorable and manly independence. They should take no cases in hand which are not clothed with justice and strict honesty, and never allow their highly cultivated minds to be oscillating like the pendulum of a clock between the two extremes of moral rectitude on one side, and the loaves and fishes on the other. For the honorable bearing of some with whom I am well acquainted, I can myself vouch with perfect certainty, as they have already by their splendid talents and herculean energy climbed up step by step till at last they have reached the top rung of the ladder of fame.

May the criminals, too, bear the sentence pronounced against them with christian patience and resignation to the Will of God, knowing well that those severe strokes of stern justice may become the means in the hands of our loving Redeemer of lifting them up from the slough and filth of sin in which they have been wallowing for several years together, with causing them to look up to Heaven where alone they can be truly happy.

Before I conclude this tedious address, which has now reached beyond the limits of moderation, and for which I offer the most ample apology, we must all remember the terrible day the "last judgment" which will be ushered in with the thundering sounds of the Archangel's trumpet calling the dead to come forth from their dark and sombre abodes in the words: "Arise, ye dead, and come to judgment." Oh, may we all have the happiness, on that great day, of hearing from the divine lips of Jesus himself, those sweet, consoling words, "Come, ye blessed of my Father, possess the Kingdom of God," which is a blessing I wish you all, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, AMEN.

HORNS ON CATTLE.—These appendages are not necessary for comfort, health, or anything tending to the well-being of the animals, to the profit of the owner, or the convenience of those who feed and care for cattle. Doubtless many a life has been lost, which would have survived an infuriated attack, had it not been for the horns. The next original breed of cows, having all the good qualities of present races, and some of superior merit, and which may have a great run, will, I hope, be hornless, for sheep have not degenerated by losing the horns, nor have flock-masters any desire to see them ornamented (?) like cows.—Cor. Country Gentleman.

—Flower and garden seeds, when done up in papers, are sometimes destroyed by mice. Well dried and put into vials and bottles that may be lying about the house, these seeds will be safe. If the bottles are neatly labelled and put away in order, it will be found a pretty way of preserving seeds. The bottles should be washed and dried before being filled.

—A writer in the Maine Farmer says that he kept four cows. He parted with two of them, and gave all the food to the two that he had been accustomed to give to the four. The result was that, under this treatment, the two cows yielded milk from which he made more butter and cheese than he had before obtained from double the number.

—Mother, said Ike Partington, "did you know that the 'iron horse' had but one ear?" "One ear! Merciful gracious, child, what do you mean?" Why, the engineer, of course."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A LARGE VOLUME would not contain the mass of testimony which has accumulated in favor of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, as a safe, efficient, and reliable remedy in curing coughs, colds, and pulmonary diseases. Many of the cures are truly wonderful.

BAD PRACTICE.—You might as well expect to relieve and cure an inflamed eye by dusting irritating powders into it, as to expect to subdue and cure Catarrh (which is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the air passages in the head) by the use of irritating snuffs, or strong, caustic solutions. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures Catarrh by its mild, soothing action, which subdues the inflammation and restores the natural secretion of the mucous follicles. The proprietor offers $500 for a case of Catarrh that he cannot cure. Sent by mail, prepaid, for 50 cents. Sold by druggists. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.
By the Hon. Judge of Probate for said County.

To the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of BENSON LEAVITT late of Boston in the State of Massachusetts deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, GREETING.

You are hereby notified that HANNAH E. LEAVITT, Administratrix of the Estate of said deceased will present her account of administering said estate at the Probate Court to be holden at Exeter in said County, on the Wednesday next following the second Tuesday of December next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for examination and allowance.

At the same Court the Report of the Commissioner of Insolvency on said estate will be taken into consideration for acceptance. And at the same Court, will be taken into consideration for allowance, and to be added to the list of claims, the private claim of said Administratrix against said estate amounting to $50.00 and founded on a claim for services.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the New Hampshire Gazette, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, the last publication whereof to be at least seven days prior to said Court.

Oct21m5w12 By order of the Judge.

THOMAS LEAVITT, Register of Probate.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Spread the Truth.

Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Queer reasoning this. It is like saying that an article which the world needs should be hid in a corner—that benefits and blessings may be too widely diffused—that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a close monopoly, and not accessible to all. The argument is bad. It is worse than that; it is Satanism. Suppose HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—an absolute specific for dyspepsia, biliousness and nervous debility—had never been known beyond the repertoire of the faculty, what would have been the consequence? Instead of curing and invigorating millions, the good effects of the preparation would have been confined to a comparative few. There is the highest authority for saying that light should not be hid under a bushel; that whatever is excellent should be placed as a city on a hill, where all men can take cognizance of it.

It is upon this principle that the Bitters have been advertised and continue to be advertised in every newspaper of any prominence in the western hemisphere, and that the spontaneous testimonials in its favor have been translated into all written languages. Thousands enjoy perfect health to-day who would be languishing on beds of sickness if the newspapers had not spread the truth with regard to the unequaled benignant and corrective far and wide. Suppose profit has been reaped from this publicity. Is that any argument against it? If the public health has been protected; if lives have been saved; if the feeble have been strengthed and the sick restored, great good has been accomplished, and who so mean as to grudge to exertions thus directed their fair reward? daw1woct15

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Chicago 40 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the richest and most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 30 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4¼ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9½ per cent and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us at the same price as realized by us on their sale

New Advertisements to-day.

State of New Hampshire—Rockingham ss.

☞ The pleasure boat of Capt. Jas. M. Hill, was stolen from her moorings in this city on Monday night; and was found, after a long search, moored in one of the creeks at Kittery.

☞ James A. Randall, the boatman who was drowned at the Shoals during the recent gale, held a Life Insurance policy of $1500 in the Charter Oak Company of Hartford, Conn., which he took out four years ago, through the Agency of Mr. John S. Harvey. The policy is payable to his wife and children; and without this wise provision of the husband and father the family would have been destitute, as Mr. Randall left no other property.

—The extension of the Great Falls & Conway Railroad to West Ossipee, a distance from Union of twenty-eight miles, is to be at once commenced and will be pushed rapidly to its completion by the Eastern Railroad. This is another evidence of the sagacious management and practical qualifications of the officers of this road, whose fruits will hereafter be seen in the control to a great degree of the White Mountain traffic, the opening of valuable lumber and agricultural regions, and largely increased dividends to the stockholders. A far sighted and liberal policy is character stic of the Eastern Railroad, and has made it deservedly a popular and favorite road.—Dover Enq.

☞ Quite a severe shock of earthquake was felt in this city on Thursday soon after 11 o'clock; and the same was experienced elsewhere in this and the other New England States, and in New Brunswick. In this city, buildings shook for several seconds, windows rattled, and partitions creaked.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.

Just before noon Thursday, we had quite a smart shock from an earthquake. On Court Street the interest seemed to centre upon the old Scollay's and the new Sears' buildings, both of which were violently agitated. I can't account for this phenomenon, and I don't want to, but I've heard it suggested that the movement was got up by those who favor the removal of Scollay's building; that quinine ought to have been put in the bricks of which it was built, as has recently been done in a town hall erected in Illinois, to keep off the shakes; that another whale had grounded in our harbor, &c. M.

S. J. COURT.—The Grand Jury rose Thursday, having presented 35 indictments, of which 17 were for liquor selling,—but one, it is stated, being in this city. The trial of Hiram Jones of Newmarket, for murder, is engaged for Monday next.

Charles West of South Hampton, indicted on two counts—for stealing from a dwelling-house in Kensington, and for breaking glass; plea not guilty.

Charles Gilroy, an Englishman, indicted for stealing wearing apparel, jewelry &c., from Mr. Drake of North Hampton. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year in State prison.

Thomas Cogswell, indicted for setting fire to the house of Mr. Jones of Newton. He pleaded not guilty.

George P. Prescott of Exeter, indicted for assault on John Ford. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the House of Correction one month.

John L. Thompson of Boston, aged 16, indicted for stealing a horse from Messrs. Stoddard & Beacham of this city. He pleaded not guilty.

George W. Fullerton of Newmarket, indicted for stealing a watch, chain and money from Susan A. Sanborn. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced two years in State prison.

Court adjourned till Monday.

SAVE THE SWAMP MUCK.—We have from time to time dwelt upon the importance of saving a good supply of swamp muck. The present season is favorable to a remarkable degree for labor in the swamps, and a generous supply of this valuable material should be secured.

As a material for composting with barn and night manure, it is most valuable. When thoroughly dried it is a grand absorbent, and if thrown behind the cattle stalls will take up its weight in the most valuable of fertilizers. If spread liberally over the barnyard, it also absorbs and mixes with the animals' droppings and urine, and altogether affords one of the most valuable fertilizer reservoirs on the farm. It is of but little value when first hauled from the swamp, but if seasoned by the action of the sun and frost is ready for use in a few months.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

New Publications Received.

The Life of Arthur Tappan is the history of one who went about doing good, and who being dead, yet speaketh. He was eminent and efficient in the temperance and anti-slavery reforms, and in all works of christian philanthropy. The book of 432 pages is from the loving yet just pen of his brother Lewis Tappan of Brooklyn, N. Y., and with a fine portrait, will form a pleasing memento to many who have admired the life and services of the departed hero and patriot. The work is from the Riverside Press, and is for sale at Foster's bookstore; price $2.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co.'s Advertiser's Gazette for October—a handsome quarterly magazine of information interesting to advertisers and publishers, and to the general reader; New York, 50 cts. a year.

Josh Billings' Farmer's Alminax for 1871, is on hand, full of Josh's good things, which we think are as good as the best of the nonsense writers. For sale at Adams' Periodical Depot, for 25 cts. Carleton is the publisher, New York.

Scribner's (new) Monthly, an illustrated Magazine for the people, conducted by Dr. J. G. Holland—the November number is just issued, and for sale at Shores' Congress Block Bookstore.

The Atlantic Monthly, and Our Young Folks, both for November, are promptly on hand from the publishers, Messrs. Ticknor, Fields & Co.

THE PEOPLE'S LITERARY COMPANION, for November, comes to us as bright and as fresh looking as the green fields are after a gentle rain. It is published monthly by E. C. Allen & Co., Augusta, Me. Terms, 75 cents per year. A fine Steel Engraving, entitled "From Shore to Shore," is presented to every new subscriber. It is really one of the most pleasing engravings ever before the public. The Companion is printed on fine, heavy paper; its columns are filled to the brim with good things by talented authors, and withal it is one of the largest and finest illustrated family papers published.

☞ It is not stated that any New York "ladies" crowded around to kiss the drunken murderer McFarland, on the occasion of his being sentenced to prison in New York, recently, for wallowing in the gutter like a pig—as he is. Not a single kiss soothed the dear man's lacerated sensibilities as he left the court—a severe affliction to one of his fine temperament. It almost looks as though he was no better than the common creatures who have never committed murder. He will have to be insane again, and assassinate another man a million times his superior.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

OF ANY DESCRIPTION at reduced prices. my7 CHAS. E. SHEDD & CO.

Morning Chronicle.

"6 BY 9!"

A DEMOCRATIC DOCUMENT, AND REPUBLICAN ANSWER.

The National Democratic Resident Committee, Washington, D. C., has issued a most imposing document, christened "Why Taxes are High," 6 1-4 by 9 3-8 inches—printed on one side, and ornamented with a plentiful sprinkling of full-faced type—evidently intended to produce a stunning effect, and to practically annihilate the little that is left of the Republican party.

Astonishing as it may seem, this little joker covers a period of thirty-three years of our national history, except that it skips lightly over the eight years of the Democratic rebellion — simply designating that period as Lincoln's administration, to be omitted as a period of war—and not even naming poor Johnson as at all entitled to notice.

This is not the first effort of the Democracy to blot from history the Lincoln administration, and the facts and incidents of the Democratic rebellion, which made it illustrious, nor is it probable that it will be the last. But to this formidable 6 by 9— fractions not included—one-sided document.

The Democratic period covered by 6 by 9 commences with the administration of Jackson and closes with that of Buchanan—thereby embracing an appropriate contrast between the true and modern secession Democracy, and illustrating the gradual fall to complete degeneracy of that once powerful and patriotic party.

The document opens with what purports to be a statement of the "total cost, cost per annum, population, and cost per capita," of each administration, commencing with Jackson and ending with Buchanan, covering a period of twenty-four years of unqualified Democratic rule. From this statement, however, the committee has excluded all payments for interest and for reduction of the principal of the public debt. Except during the Mexican war, under Polk, the whole period was one of profound peace, and, consequently, no valid reason exists for excluding payments for interest from the cost column. The document has, however, this merit in the eyes of the Democratic committee: it makes the column false in fact, though to inattentive observers fair in appearance. Besides the omission of interest, each of the sums stated in the columns of "total cost" and "cost per annum" are in some degree erroneous, but not in large amounts, and we therefore accept them as approximately correct.

Under the same headings of "total cost" and "cost per annum," and in the same columns, the said Democratic Committee has put what they assume to be the cost of President Grant's administration, as follows:

	Total cost.	Cost per annum
Grant's 2 years	411,255,477 63	411,255,477 63

Now let us examine into the fairness of this statement. The first line purports to be the cost of Grant's administration for one year, when, in fact, the figures relate to the fiscal year 1868–9, two-thirds of which was under Johnson, and only one-third under Grant, and not more than one-sixth, or two months, administered under Grant's appointees. Nor was Grant's policy of economy fully in force until the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1869. So that, in all fairness, no portion of this period is reasonably chargeable to the Grant administration. Besides, there is an absolute error of $300,000 in the figures. The sum is, truthfully stated, $190,495,354 95.

In the second line, as before, and under the same headings, this veracious Resident Committee displays either the most consummate ignorance or the most profound villainy — undoubtedly the latter.

Instead of the actual ordinary expenditures, excluding payment for interest and for reduction of the principal of the public debt — as under the same headings in relation to the Democratic administrations — the Resident Committee has set down the gross receipts of the year, to wit: $411,255,477 63. True, they have added at the end of the line, in smaller type, "including principal and interest on the public debt," as an avenue of escape should their attempted deception under head of "total cost" be detected.

For the purpose of comparison with the Democratic period, upon precisely the basis adopted by the Resident Committee, and including the war items, the statement would stand as follows:

Total cost, Grant's one year, $164,421,714 13, instead of $411,255,477 63—thus showing the attempted deception for one year to be $246,833,763 50, and here are the official figures to prove this:

Total ordinary expenditures by Grant for the year 1869–70, excluding payments for reduction of public debt	$292,124,052 13
Deduct interest upon the public debt, as in the case of the Democratic administration	127,702,338 05
Total cost, including war items, and excluding interest and principal paid on public debt	164,421,714 08

So barefaced a deception by the representative committee of a great party, should warn the followers of that party that their leaders are wholly unworthy of confidence, desirous only of power, and unscrupulous as to the means of attaining it.

A TRUE STANDARD OF COMPARISON.

As the rebellion was wholly a Democratic affair, inaugurating and conducted by Democrats, it is but just to charge that party with its entire cost, and therefore, in any comparison between Democratic and Republican expenditures, all of the expenses incident to or in consequence of the war to suppress the rebellion should be deducted from the latter. This we now proceed to do, taking the very latest fiscal year of Democratic rule, and the latest of Republican rule, as the proper periods for comparison, as follows:

1859–60 AND 1869–70 COMPARED.

From this expenditure there should be deducted the following items, incurred in consequence of the Democratic rebellion:—
Interest on the public debt	$127,702,338 05
Expenses of national loan	2,782,465 35
Bounties to soldiers	4,783,709 00
Horses and other property lost in the military service	299,964 89
Reimbursing the States for expenses incurred in raising troops	1,291,283 33
Bureau of Refugees and Freedmen	1,325,199 25
Arrears of pay to volunteers	1,394,402 94
Expenses under reconstruction acts	399,769 84
National cemeteries	27,384 72
Captured and abandoned property	40,333 62
Expenses collecting internal revenue taxes	3,104,733 40
Pensions	28,340,202 17
Navy, increased expenses	2,069,000 00
Army, increased expenses	23,038,827 63	211,241,116 73
Total expenditures for the fiscal year 1869–70, less items properly chargeable to the rebellion		80,882,935 45
Reduced to a gold basis, for comparison with the expenditures of the fiscal year 1859–60, under a Democratic administration, the average premium of gold for the years 1869–70 being 23 2-10 per cent., gives as the expenditures, less war items, gold basis		65,651,733 32

Estimating the population of the United States at 40,000,000, the expense for the year of President Grant's administration ending June 30, 1870, is per capita $1.64 1-8. For the year ending June 30, 1860, the expenditures of the Government, including interest on the public debt, as in the statement respecting the administration of President Grant, were $73,025,789.34, gold, the population being about 31,400,000; per capita, $2.007—showing a proportionate expenditure of 18 per cent. less in 1870 than in 1860 upon the same basis, notwithstanding the increased area of the country, the interest on Pacific Railroad Bonds, and the organization of new Territories.

But the Resident Committee has also instituted a per capita comparison, and gives the per capita expenditures for the 24 years, as follows:

Jackson,	8 yrs	$1 16,	exclu've of int. and debt
Van Buren,	4 "	1 76,	" "
Polk,	4 "	1 76,	" "
Pierce,	4 "	1 96,	" "
Buchanan,	4 "	2 19,	" "

Average yearly for the 25 years, $1.77.

As shown above, the net ordinary expenditure per capita by Grant, on a peace standard and gold basis, being the standard and basis applied to Buchanan—is $1.64 per capita, which is less than the alleged annual average for the twenty-four years in the sum of 13 cents per capita:

So much for the per capita comparison, the idea of which was borrowed by the Resident Democratic Committee, and fairly run into the ground in the vain effort to find a period which would favor the rebel Democracy.

We again recur to the gross receipts for 1869-70, for the purpose of exposing another misrepresentation and blunder of the Resident Committee and of showing what disposition has in fact been made of these gross receipts. The $411,255,477 63, which the Resident Committee purposely present under a false name, are in fact the gross receipts of the year, and make the average gross receipts per capita $10.20.

Here this 6 by 9 document gets a little befogged in its finances. If it really desired to state the gross amount of money to be accounted for it should have added 15 cents per capita for the reduction of cash in the Treasury, making $10.43 per capita for the period under consideration, to be accounted for as follows:

Payment and redemption of the Democratic debt.	$3.13
Expenses incurred in consequence of Democratic rebellion.	5.28
Current expenses of the Administration, (peace standard), at currency value,	2.02
Total per capita, (currency,)	$10.42.

The current expenses in currency, reduced to a gold basis—the average premium on gold being for that fiscal year 23 2-10 per cent.—making the year's expenditure under Grant, as already stated, 1.64 (gold) per capita—an expenditure less by 13 cents per capita than the average during the twenty-four years of Democratic rule, as stated in 6 by 9.

Again, 6 by 9 states that the amount of Federal taxes exhorted from the people by the present administration during the fiscal year was $411,255,477 63, when the facts are that the taxes collected were:

Customs duties	$194,538,374 44
Internal taxes	184,890,756 49
Total taxes collected	379,428,130 93
Received for lands sold and from other sources—not taxes	31,818,346 70
Total receipts as above	411,255,477 63

In this case 6 by 9 comes within thirty-one and three-quarter millions of the truth, not nearer. This is pretty good guessing for a Democratic committee— nearer, in population to the amount involved, than they generally come; but it is a big mistake for such a little document. But democrats seldom call things by their right names.

The other statements of 6 by 9 are modifications or multiplications of those already noticed, and therefore, do not require attention.

Every sensible man will at once see the propriety of going back thirty-three years to get a standard of comparison with the administration of President Grant. The term of President Jackson is the very latest honest Democratic administration which ever had a commencement, and in that respect, as well as in its energy and devotion to the Union, the comparison with President Grant is appropriate. But the enlarged area of occupied territory, and vast multiplication of interests and duties in the last thirty-three years, renders inapplicable any contrast of expenditures between the two periods. However, it should be remembered that General Jackson has been made to do duty in every election since his day, and in their present deplorable condition the Democracy should not be blamed for calling on his name. Yet it was hardly the right thing to crowd him into the field at the head of such a small squad.

6 by 9—fractions omitted for brevity—is no doubt relied upon as the leading Democratic document, being intended for the million, and issued by authority. What a pity it should contain such blunders, and make so poor a comparative showing.

"WHY TAXES ARE HIGH."

Taxes are high because the Democracy of the country plunged it into a fearful war; because during the war the Northern Democracy by their treason encouraged the braver Southern Democracy to continue the war; because of the hundreds of thousands of widows and orphans made pensioners on the bounty of the Government by the Democratic rebellion; because under Johnson the Democracy retarded reconstruction by every means in their power; because the rebel Democracy in the South, encouraged by the Northern Democrats in Congress, made the maintaining of a large army necessary to enforce the laws; in fact, the Democracy have about as good ground to complain of taxes made necessary by the war as the thief has to complain of the taxes levied to protect the community from his ravages for the payment of police officers and maintaining the prisons.

POWER OF RUM.—A minister of the gospel told me, in 1847, one of the most thrilling incidents I ever heard in my life. A member of his congregation came home for the first time in his life, intoxicated, and his boy met him upon the door-step, clapping his hands and exclaiming, "Papa has come home!" He seized that boy by the shoulder, swung him around, staggered, and fell in the hall. That minister said to me, "I spent that night in the house. There was his child dead; there was his wife in strong convulsions, and he asleep. A man but thirty years of age asleep, with a dead child in the house, having a blue mark upon the temple where the corner of the marble steps had come in contact with the head as he swung him round, and a wife upon the brink of the grave!

He had told me that I must remain till he awoke, and I did. When he awoke he passed his hand over his face and exclaimed, 'What is the matter? Where am I? Where is my boy?' 'You can not see him.' 'Where is my boy?' he inquired. 'You can not see him.' 'Stand out of my way. I will see my boy.' To prevent confusion I took him to that child's bedside, and as I turned down the sheet and showed him the corpse he uttered a shriek, 'Ah' my child!'"

That minister said further to me: "One year after that he was brought from a lunatic asylum to lie side by side with his wife in one grave, and I attended his funeral." The minister of the gospel who told me that fact is today a drunken hostler in a stable in Boston! Now tell me what rum will not do? It will debase, degrade, imbrute, and damn everything that is noble, bright, glorious, and God-like in a human being.—John B. Gough.

FALL CARE OF ASPARAGUS.—Much of the value of asparagus beds depends upon the care they receive in the fall. As stalks begin to turn yellow, they should be cut, dried, placed in a pile, and burned. Too much care cannot be taken to prevent the seed from falling upon the bed, becoming covered with soil, and germinating in spring, as these young plants render the roots too thick in the bed, and being near the surface will make but feeble growth, and be of little if any value, but rather a detriment to the rest of the bed.

After the removal of the stalks, cover the bed with a coat of good fine manure, and fork it into the soil down to the crown of the plants. This manure, acted upon by the fall rains, will wash down among the roots, giving them the food necessary for spring growth, increasing the size and earliness of the stalks.

Just before the setting in of winter, cover the bed several inches thick with coarse stable litter, to remain as a protection from frost, and by its decomposition and washing down add to the fertility of the soil. Plants that have been set but one or two years, and before they come to cutting regularly, may be covered with a few inches of good soil taken from the sides of the bed.

After they have attained a good size and the roots have spread, this may be omitted, as digging at the sides of the bed would injure the spreading roots. The winter covering may be stirred early in the spring, the coarser straw raked off, and the field manure forked into the bed. This treatment annually will insure a good supply of early, succulent and large asparagus.

WEEDS.—The Northwestern Farmer talks of weeds in this wise: "Many varieties of weeds will send their seeds out over a wide area of land; hence, if one field or farm is to be kept clean, all in that neighborhood must. One careless, thriftless farmer may render the efforts of the entire neighborhood to keep their fields clean abortive. He can readily grow weed-seed enough to supply all his neighbors and not miss it. Such a farmer is a public nuisance, and if public opinion is not strong enough to reform him, he ought to be abated by law. No man has any moral right, nor should he possess the legal right to thus injure his neighbors. If he will not keep his grounds clean, on proper complaint, the authorities should send a force into his farm that should clean it up thoroughly at his expense."

—Many persons have wondered why horse-chestnut, horse-radish, &c., are so called. A Scotch work entitled "Etymons of English Words" says that the original word was "harsh"—harsh-chestnuts, harsh-radish—and that the French and Swedes translated it "horse;" hence the common error.

—Out West when a notoriously lazy man is caught at work, they say he is "meddling with industry."

—At the nuptials of the Cardiff Giant would it be appropriate to sing, "Come with the gypsum bride?"

—It was woman who first prompted man to eat, but he took to drink on his own account afterwards.

—Why the French didn't go to Berlin—Because the Prussians charged them too much.

—A quaint writer has defined time to be "the vehicle that carries everything into nothing."

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœas, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Foredebdings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, OCT. 22, 1870.

THE EARTHQUAKE of Thursday swept from the shores of the Gulf of St. Lawrence across the New Dominion, the New England States, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, in a line from northeast to southwest, and about parallel with the St. Lawrence river and Lakes Erie and Ontario.

In Boston the shock was quite severe. At Macullar, Williams & Parker's establishment, on Washington Street, where scores of sewing girls are employed, the affrighted occupants hurried pell-mell out of the lofty building into the rain, and for some time withstood all attempts to induce them to return. Similar scenes occurred on Water and Congress Streets, Cornhill, at Mason & Hamlin's organ manufactory, and many other places.

The Custom House, one of the most solid and massive structures in the city, was shaken so sensibly that all the employes and persons doing business in the building at the time rushed into the street, believing that the walls were coming down. The clerks felt their desks move, and the heavy iron doors were violently shaken. A great many people, and especially school-children were seized with nausea, accompanied in some cases with vomiting.

In East Boston the scholars of the new Lyman school, poured out of the building with cries of terror, three boys were hurt in the crash, one of them having his arms broken by falling.

The shock seems to have been severer in Maine and further east. About three hundred feet of the bed of the Ogdensburg Railroad, across Otter pond, in Standish, sixteen miles from Portland, settled ten feet Thursday, at the time of the earthquake.

In this State, the shaking up was also serious. In Dover it lasted a minute.

At Exeter, door bells were rung and pictures shaken. At Concord, the Patriot says "the shock was very distinct and prolonged to the extent of a minute or more. Buildings were shaken so that windows rattled and articles of furniture moved. Our building trembled as if the foundation was being moved." The Patriot is a democratic paper, you know, and the foundations of its party are pretty well shaken.

In New York, Frank Leslie, while standing in his publication office, was knocked over by the movement of the building. The New York Clipper compositors described the shocks as fearful and expected every moment to see the walls fall in.

The heaviest earthquake in New England occurred Nov. 18, 1755.

WAR NEWS. — Dubost, a delegate from the government at Paris to Tours, who landed in a balloon at Rocroy, brings news of another engagement near Paris. It began in the morning at Hautes Bruges and lasted three hours. It was resumed in the afternoon, and terminated after three hours more of fighting. The Prussians, who attacked in both actions, were repulsed with heavy loss.

On Tuesday the 22d instant, a division of the Crown Prince's army attacked the French at Chateaudun, forty thousand strong. The French were defeated and driven back, and the town was carried by storm. Many prisoners were taken by the Germans.

A squadron of German Huzzars were surprised while asleep, at Athis (department of Orne), and 100 were killed.

The French garrison at Neuf-Brisach made a successful sortie Saturday morning last, in which they killed and wounded 200 and took 13 prisoners.

The Prussians are returning towards Paris without seeking a battle with the French forces on the right bank of the Loire.

Owing to their great losses at Chateaudun, the Prussians have nearly destroyed that town by fire.

Keratry has gone to Spain, where it is rumored that a republic will soon be proclaimed, the Italian government having promptorily declined to allow any of the Italian princes to be compromised in Spanish affairs.

Prussian papers say, in the absence of skilled men from their industry, Germany is a heavier loser than France by the war.

—So far, the Congressional elections show a net Democratic gain of 8 members, there having been elected fifty-six Republicans and twenty-six Democrats. A careful scrutiny of the districts where elections are yet to take place makes the probable result to be, as to party strength in the next House, Republicans 158, Democrats 85. The Republicans will lose their two-third vote, and the fact will displease nobody who has the honor or welfare of the country at heart.—Boston Times.

New Hampshire Items.

The landlord of the hotel at Pittsfield, among others, was notified by the selectmen, recently, that nobody in town would be allowed to sell liquors after that date. The landlord concluded that he could not make the hotel business profitable under the circumstances, and so he hauled down his sign, and there is now no hotel in Pittsfield. Better so than a groggery.

Two young men were arraigned before the police court in Great Falls for drunkenness, and sentenced to be imprisoned until they disclose the name of the person who furnished them the liquor whereby they became intoxicated, and testify fully concerning the same, unless sooner discharged by order of the court.—A drunken customer in Nashua refused to tell where he got his rum, but when he found he must go from the lock-up to the jail, he concluded to peach, and sent a female rum-seller in his stead.

Patrick Ackerly, an Irishman, about 60 years old age, was run over and killed by the freight train on the Cocheco road, a short distance from the station at Dover. He was walking on the track, though the whistle was blown as usual, and every effort made to alarm him and stop the train.

The residence of Mr. David Lowd of Salem was burned on Tuesday night last. Loss $3000.

At the U. S. District Court in Exeter, in the case of John D. Ricker, charged with stealing letters from the mail, the jury returned in about twenty minutes with a verdict of "not guilty."

Hon. Amos Tuck, who has been spending a few weeks at Exeter, in the settlement of his business affairs, has left for St. Louis, Mo.

Henry Tebbetts of Franconia Iron Works Village, was severely, if not fatally injured, while attempting to unload a barrel of cider from a cart; by some means, he slipped, and the barrel fell in full force across and upon him.

POLITICAL.—The Massachusetts Republicans have re-nominated Messrs. Oakes Ames and H. L. Dawes, for Congress.

Gen. Schenck declines to contest the election of Lewis D. Campbell to Congress.

RAYMOND.—Rev. E. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church in Raymond, had a family gathering on the 11th inst. Two children live at home and two away, one of whom is the wife of Rev. A. J. Church of Massachusetts.

The house and barn of David L. Magoon in Raymond, were consumed by fire about 3 o'clock on the morning of the 14th inst. His house was at the Green,—and was unoccupied; though the furniture of a family that had lived in it was there, but was saved. A horse in the barn, belonging to J. W. Dodge, was lost. It was the work of an incendiary.

The Rockingham Quarterly meeting (Free Baptist,) was held at Great Falls Oct. 19 and 20. The churches were mostly represented. Sermons by Revs. Stewart of Dover, Waterman of Acton, Me., Caverno of Candia, and Sinclair of New Hampton. Next session at Danville.

The Baptists of this State held their annual Convention at Dover, commencing on Wednesday, the 19th inst. Reports from the several local Associations showed considerable prosperity the past year. Rev. D. W. Faunce of Concord preached the annual sermons. Agents for Missions, Education, &c., presented the claims of those enterprises. After the first day, Prof. Hovey of Newton, Mass., and Prof. Anderson, lectured on doctrinal subjects, expository preaching, and the Sacrament of the Supper. The whole exercises were interesting. J.

ONLY A SUGGESTION.—Victor Emanuel refuses to allow his son to accept the Spanish throne. Why not offer it to Napoleon, of Hesse Cassel, who was so friendly to Queen Isabella when she went throneless to Paris? Isabella wouldn't object, and Nap might improve the condition of Spain so much that France would become jealous and recall him to the throne he has lost, while Isabella might be reinstated, the goose hang high, the fatted calf be killed, and Spain join with France in another "on to Berlin" movement. You bet!

REPARATION? — Intelligence from Tien-tsin of Sept. 30 reports that the Chinese have made reparation to the French for the June outrage. Two mandarins have been transported, and fifteen men beheaded.

☞ A Texas town has Content for its name.

A HORRIBLE TALE.—The Saginaw (Mich.) Republic says: "It has been known for some time that a dirty, wretched old man lived outside the city, about a mile or so, in a filthy little cabin, entirely alone, and that he was a hermit. No one ever went near him, for it was said that he was a magician. His only companion was a skeleton looking dog. He came into the city sometimes to beg, and would piteously implore for money, stating that he was starving. Sometimes he would gather rags or scraps of paper and sell them. Every one supposed him to be wretchedly poor. He had an evil look, and mothers would remove their children when they saw him coming.

One day last week, however, a child, the son of Mr. Abraham Skinner, went out alone to fish in the stream, and happened to wander on until, before he knew it, he came to the hovel of the old man. At first he was frightened, but seeing no one around he plucked up courage and went nearer. Everything was silent. He went and peeped through a crack in the side of the hut. He almost screamed at what he saw, for he beheld the old man bending over a bag of money that he was counting. There were other bags beside him containing large quantities of money.

Mr. Skinner's son was so terrified that, when he attempted to move, he stumbled. Like lightning the old man rushed out and seized him. 'Ha!' he exclaimed. 'I've caught you, have I? You saw me, did you? Well — now you'll pay for it.' And, before the boy could say a word, the old monster, with an awful laugh, drew out a knife, and (Oh, horror!) cut the child's tongue out. Then he chopped off his fingers. 'Now,' he said, 'now you can go, for you can't tell.'

The poor boy ran on, overcome with agony, and ran to his father's house only to fill them with consternation. What was the matter with their child? He could not speak to tell them. He could not write for his fingers were cut. Still the poor boy, after efforts of the most horrible pain, managed to fix a pencil between his bloody stumps of fingers and wrote the awful tale! A party was immediately organized and hastened to the miser's den. He was at the door as they approached, and fired a revolver six times at them, wounding two of their party seriously.

Mr. Skinner returned the fire, and the aged villain fell, with a piercing yell, mortally wounded. 'My money—my money,' he moaned; 'my beautiful money,' and he crawled to his bags of gold, and sank upon them—a corpse! Over $10,000 was discovered, which was presented to the poor-house and other charitable institutions. The event will never be forgotten by our citizens. The child is slowly recovering. The miser was buried the day after, and the hut was torn down."

MILK.—It is not a difficult matter to analyze milk, but it is a difficult point to decide positively that specimens have been tampered with by the addition of water. We have in our pastures a score of cows, and upon examination of the milk furnished by each, we have not found that any two furnish it of precisely the same quality. We have cows supplying milk which would be condemned by competent chemical examiners, as factitious. It is certain that the specific gravity cannot be relied on; neither can the general fact that true milk contains no more than 88 per cent. of water. Some cows furnish milk of such inferior quality that the amount of water exceeds 90 per cent.—Journal of Chemistry.

☞ Rev. Rowland Connor, of Boston, has accepted a unanimous call to a large and flourising Unitarian society in Milwaukie, with a very liberal salary. He will leave for the West about Christmas.

—To change and to do better are two different things.

—It is easier to blame than to do better.

WHAT IS QUILLAYA SAPONARIA?—It is a tree, the bark of a Chillian Tree, which yields, when macerated, a fragrant vegetable soap with cleaning and antipurescent properties not possessed by any other vegetable production. SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Autumn Suggestion.

Now, as heavy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now, as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer, begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement winter makes its trying onset; Now is the time for a preparatory course of the best acclimating medicine in existence, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fever and Ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not quell the phase of the disease which at the present pervades the entire West. It is well that it is so, for the remedy (so-called) is deadlier than the malady. But if quinine is inefficient in intermittent fevers, Hostetter's Bitters is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penalties, that any given "Fever-and-Ague District" should be exempted from the disorder for any particular time, provided every inhabitant would take the Bitters according to directions, during the term of the contract.

There has never been an instance in which this sterling invigorant and anti-febrific medicine has failed to ward off the complaint, when taken duly as a protection against malaria. Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the officinal specifics and now prescribe this harmless vegetable tonic, and nothing else, as a preventive and cure for all the forms of chills and fever. Vigor is the thing most needful in these cases, as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affections, and Hostetter's Bitters are the safest, surest, and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted. daw1wo22

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivaled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Dress Goods, Shawls, &c.—Boston Cheap Store.

ALDERMEN.—Thursday evening, M. Cunningham was granted permission to encumber Water St. for building, under the usual restrictions. The Mayor was authorized to adjust the suit of the Rundlett heirs for extra land damages claimed on Summer St., if practicable. Atlantic Engine Co. asked for an advance of their 6 months' pay, for the purpose of attending a Fireman's Muster at Great Falls—but the Com. on Fire Dept., were requested to inform them that the Board did not consider they had power to loan the City's credit. Mr. Reagan and Mrs. Kane were granted sidewalks on Deer Street. The Mayor and Com. on Streets were authorized to complete the widening of Fleet Street, and to remove any obstructions existing therein — and the City Treasurer was authorized to tender the amounts of land damages awarded to each abuttor.

☞ Mr. Oliver Towle of this city, a veteran conductor on the P. S. & P. R. R., completed an apprenticeship of 30 years, last Saturday, and during that long period has scarcely met with an accident, or been away from his duty, while he has travelled in his official capacity, during the above time, allowing three hundred working days to the year, and one hundred and four miles to the trip, nine hundred and thirty-six thousand miles, or nearly thirty-eight times around the globe. Mr. Towle is one of the most popular officials on the road. In days of yore he was a Knight of the Ribbons, having driven four in hand in ye days of coaches, instead of the fiery steed.

☞ Selling rum is fast coming to be as obnoxious to the laws of man, as it always has been and always must be to the laws of God. The first case under the new liquor law, in this city, is that of a Boston dealer who procured Deputy Sheriff Morse and City Marshal Johnson to attach and seize several barrels and kegs of liquor at the store of Mr. Plaisted, on Market St., near Noble's Island, (for debt,) a few days since, and deposit the same at Police headquarters. Plaisted is charged with being a common seller, and is thus to be proceeded against. Any process which will lessen rumselling in this city, will be a blessing.

THE P. M. L. A. LYCEUM COURSE will commence about the middle of November with a Vocal and Instrumental Concert, to be followed with lectures by Rev. James DeNormandie, Hon. Wm. H. Y. Hackett, Rev. A. J. Patterson, A. R. Hatch, Esq., Rev. Geo. W. Bicknell, Dr. John W. Parsons, Rev. R. W. Clark, Jr., Geo. W. Haven, Esq., and Reading by James P. Bartlett, Esq. The closing entertainment will probably be given by H. C. Barnabee. Tickets for the Course, $1, may be obtained at the usual places on Monday.

THEATRE.—Leslie & Locke's Company are billed for this city, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Oct. 26th, 27th. Rose and Harry Watkins are with them. "Trodden Down," "The Pioneer Patriot" and "It takes two to quarrel" will be brought out.

☞ John Roger's grounds and greenhouses at Kittery, are attracting the attention of large numbers of visitors the present autumn, which is not surprising, as his collection of choice plants and flowers is the best and most extensive in this vicinity.

☞ John Dwyer's cow was lifted over a fence near the Creek bridge, by the engine of the evening (7 o'clock) train from Boston, Thursday. Time not given. The cow felt sick.

PORTSMOUTH & DOVER RAILROAD. At a meeting of the Directors, in this city, on Friday, Frank Jones was chosen President, and J. S. H. Frink, Clerk.

☞ Another large Republican procession, 20,000 people, marched to the palace yard in London, Thursday night, and organized a meeting to express their sympathy with republican France. Violent speeches were made in denunciation of the English government. The feeling manifested in all quarters of the city during the night was revolutionary and threatening. At 2 o'clock in the morning the Prussian embassy was insulted by a great concourse of people, with whom the police did not interfere.

☞ President Grant will appoint Thursday, Nov. 24, to be observed as a day of National Thanksgiving.

☞ Steamship Cambria is reported lost.

RUMSELLING.—At Concord, John Lee, tried for keeping liquor for sale, found guilty, and, sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs of prosecution, was the only liquor case tried; and the other persons indicted plead guilty, and they were fined as follows: Langdon Littlehale of Bradford, eight indictments, $400 and costs; Hannibal Bonney of Fisherville, one indictment, $50 and costs; Benjamin F. Chapman of Contoocook, one indictment, $50 and costs; Warren B. Langmaid of Chichester, one indictment, $50 and costs; Jeremiah Cotter, James Lester, John Duignan, his wife Jane Duignan, John Twomy, and S. W. Gillom, all of Concord, each $50 and costs for one indictment respectively; Patrick Bresnahan, two indictments, $100 and costs.

☞ The farmers of York, Eliot and Kittery are availing themselves of the present high price of hay in the market, by pressing an unusually large quantity for shipment; the larger portion of which is purchased and shipped to the Lynn and Boston markets.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

—AND THE—

MAGEE ADVANCE.

The MAGEE COOK is too well known to need advertising commendation. The MAGEE ADVANCE of 1870, or Improved Magee, is the most perfect and complete pattern of this celebrated Stove yet constructed, and leaves but little room for its further improvement.

The AMERICAN is a new pattern Stove and a very superior one, possessing some excellent qualities differing from other Stoves. It is made in the most thorough manner, the castings are the very best, and it is offered at quite moderate price. It is having an extensive sale, and is giving great satisfaction as one of the quickest working, most economical and convenient Stoves ever offered to the Public. Call and Examine it and take references to those who are using it.

THE

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the care are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,

Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,

Cashier First National Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

WENDELL PHILLIPS
ON POLITICAL QUESTIONS.

Mr. Phillips spoke before the Parker Fraternity in Boston, Tuesday evening. He commenced with some remarks concerning the purposes of both the Democratic and Republican parties, neither of which parties, he thought, proposes to do anything for the great causes of temperance and labor.

The Democratic party, he said, is opposed to these reforms, while we expected some good from the Republican party. He had looked over the records of the latter party, and could find nothing that it proposes to do on these great questions.

He said, I have analyzed its resolves and I have found nothing but a very pretty representation of what it has achieved. It is a very fine picture. It is worthy of the glorious laurels on its brow.

He found in reading the results of the late meeting at Faneuil Hall, that the party propose to do but one thing, and that was to watch over the execution of the reconstruction policy.

Referring to the Ku Klux Klan, which in North Carolina kept ten thousand voters from the polls, he said, I have no fault to find with the national neglect of protection to the ballot box in the Southern States—of the State policy—not of federal—I am by no means certain that the fault of that neglect rests on Gen. Grant, but on Congress.

He thought one of the most important political issues of the day was woman suffrage. I know that covers the interest, the protection, the development of one half the human race.

I think it was a great mistake that the advocates of woman suffrage did not bring their questions into the disturbing political arena. When the bands of political union are disintegrating, then would have been the time to attract the attention of the earnest minds of the commonwealth to this question of woman suffrage, but for the present this question is taken out of the political arena.

"Temperance and labor reform," he said, "are the two great live questions of the day, the friends of these issues stand as before side by side with their candidates; they are endeavoring to rally the forces of the State in behalf of their questions. They break out from the ranks of democratic and republican party to rally each around a new banner.

He then went on to answer various criticisms made by Republicans, the first of which was—"I stand here with the honorable catalogue of things accomplished, and cannot you trust me?" He replied to this by saying, "the Republican party never had but one idea. In 1840 the abolitionists being tired of being limited by moral suasion, changed their programme to that of the abolition of slavery within the United States. They endeavored to push forward this claim into the very midst of the American people. After three or four years of experiment, they found that their axe became dull, that the people did not come very readily to their support, so they fell down into the free soil party, whose only claim was that slavery should not grow; non-extension of slavery was on their banners. That was all."

He also alluded to the criticism made—how he could possibly represent two parties, and why such a man can expect to be elected. "Of course, I don't expect to be elected. If I had set out to be elected, I know the way.

Born of five generations of Yankees, living in Massachusetts more than fifty years, I well know the way which leads up to office, on which I turned my back thirty-five years ago. When I want to be elected to office I can manage my own chances. Some critics are giving my opinion of Gov. Claflin, as if his election depended on what I thought of him. I don't care a chip whether John Quincy Adams or Gov. Claflin is elected. I care a great deal that U. S. Grant shall be the next President of the United States. I care a great deal that an honest executive and honest Congress shall rule at Washington.

It is also said that I consult Gov. Claflin on political affairs. (Laughter.) I should as soon think of consulting the Boston Transcript. The statement is of course false.

Another critic says I have no right to make a party except on grave issues. This brings me to the gravity between temperance and labor reform.

We urge prohibition as the only plausible remedy that is opened for the afflictions of intemperance. Three-fourths of our taxes are wrung from us in order to support the innumerable evils of the dram shop. Three-fourths or four-fifths of the pauperism and crime of the community are caused by intemperance. Mr. Phillips gave some statistics showing the immense amounts of money spent for education, and also for intoxicating drinks. Every tenth house in the city of Boston is let for illegal purposes. Why are not the laws of Massachusetts executed? The question to-day is: "Is there no power in the commonwealth of Massachusetts to execute its laws?"

Mr. Phillips then took up the labor question, and said, "When I speak for labor, I speak for two hundred and seven thousand men and women engaged in producing the industrial fabrics of the State. 260,000 men are the voting men of Massachusetts—190,000 is the largest vote Massachusetts ever threw. 217,000 men and women in the manufacturing and mining employments of Massachusetts—add to that 60,000 foreigners—you have 280,000 thousand men and women dependent upon their own labor for bread.

Mr. Phillips then gave an account of a visit to get statistics of the working population of the State, their condition, wants, &c., and pictured their severe labors in being compelled to rise early and late, their scanty clothes, and uncomfortable homes.

He spoke of the manner in which the laboring men of England carry on the question of wages, by meeting the manufacturers—their employers, and consulting with them. The result is, they understand the necessities of trade as well as the capitalist.

He then compared it with the manner, here mentioning the strike at Fall River, and showing the tyranny exercised by the employers.

He then referred to the lobby system of the United States as an established institution. He said "I don't like it. I wish we could put the legislature back where it was 40 years ago. In Massachusetts we have had one great commander-in-chief of the legislature. It is Mr. Frank Bird, of Walpole."

He and his club are the great legislative nucleus of Massachusetts. They meet at a grog shop just off Washington street every Saturday at 2 o'clock, and if the Republican members want to know what the prohibition orators mean by the abolition of the dram shop, they mean just such an institution as the Bird Club means.

Mr. Phillips concluded his lecture with a reference again to the Republican party, saying, "It refuses to take part in our work and turns its back on labor and temperance, so let it fear the judgment to come."

SAGACITY OF A DOG.—The instinct of the dog seems often to approach near to reason, and it is not easy to draw the dividing line. The following incident is very suggestive. We find it in the Family Visitor:—

A gentleman of the name of McLaflin, resident in Rockingham County, N. H., a few years ago possessed a dog that was very remarkable for his sagacity. He one day told the dog to go and find a handkerchief which his child had lost in a distant field, while picking berries. The dog started off with his usual alacrity, but in the course of an hour returned without the handkerchief looking as crest-fallen as though he had been caught in a neighbor's sheepfold. The master told him to go and try again, and not come back until he had found it.

The dog started off with apparent reluctance, while the master followed at a distance behind and unperceived. The dog went toward a field where the child had picked some berries, and sat down on his hauncees, held down his head, and appeared to be in a deep brown study. He sat in this attitude for perhaps half an hour, when he suddenly jumped up with a peculiar yell of exultation, and started for one corner of the field. Here he stopped for a moment, and then commenced trotting around the field, going about three feet from the fence the first time, about six the second, and thus continued to near the middle at each succeeding circle. He went around the field about twenty times, when he jumped up into the air with a loud yell of triumph, picked up the handkerchief, and started home.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the section only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 9½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rules of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale

All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

AUTUMN SONG.

Leaves are falling, (though coal is not,)
And pumpkins are yellow and maids are blue;
Potatoes and apples begin to rot;
There's many a liver congested, too.

The cows stay late on the cabbage-leaf,
And the red, red beet forsakes the ground;
And lovers' wanderings grow more brief,
And fewer loafers are loafing round.

The celery rivals the turnip fair;
There's new delight in the tender steak;
And boys go munching the chestnut rare,
Without one thought of the stomach-ache.

The monster squash to the cows is fed.
Everything's brown that once was green,
Except tomatoes, and they are red.

The drowsy citizen hates to rise;
The hash may be cold, but so is the air;
'Tis heaven to slumber, for now the flies
Are less affectionate and more rare.

And who is the busiest man we see?
'Tis the Doctor, dashing by in his chaise;
And well may he hurry, you will agree,
For it isn't every patient that pays.

'Tis a rare, rare season.—so breezy and bright!
The dahlias, and even the squashes are gay!
One would'nt regret the cold at night,
If it wasn't so decidedly cold by day.

BOUQUETS AND FLORAL DESIGNS.—A bouquet artistically arranged possesses an attraction impossible to attain by a careless arrangement of flowers en masse. It is high art to arrange a bouquet, or basket of flowers to look graceful, careless, and natural. A basket which has taken hours to arrange, when well done, will appear, to a person who has never arranged flowers, as if it was carelessly thrown together in a short time.

Flowers should be cut when the dew is upon them, or they will quickly wither; purple and blue must never touch each other. A profusion of white flowers and green sprays is essential. In a bouquet, arrange the largest flowers in the centre, and the feathery, graceful sprays on the outside. In a basket, first arrange the larger flowers as you prefer, then put in your light sprays of green or white around over it. A small quantity of blue flowers is a great addition to every bouquet.

Asters and zinnias will last handsomely in a bouquet or basket, a whole week. If a bouquet begins to fade, cut off the ends of the stems, and quickly immerse them in water just warm to the hand; this will freshen them for a day or two. A few grains of saltpetre dropped in the water will keep it sweet, and prevent the unpleasant ordor from cut flowers. A bit of charcoal is also a great purifier.

The famous gardener Peter Henderson, says it does not injure flowers to water with cold spring-water, as it takes the temperature at once out of the air. Also he says growing flowers are not injurious to have in a sleeping-room. Gardeners are nearly all strong men; and they often sleep in the greenhouse. Mr. Henderson slept two whole winters on the floor of the green-house. —Oliver Optic's Magazine.

HOW TO HAVE A LOVING WIFE.—If you would have a loving wife, be as gentle in your words after as before marriage; treat her quite as tenderly when a matron as a miss; don't make her the maid of all work, and ask her why she looks less tidy and neat than when "you first knew her;" don't buy cheap, tough beef, and scold her because it does not come on the table "porter house;" don't grumble about squalling babies, if you can't keep up a "nursery," and remember that "baby" may take after papa in his disposition; don't smoke and chew tobacco, and thus shatter your nerves, and spoil your temper; and make your breath a nuisance, and then complain that your wife declines to kiss you; go home joyous and cheerful to your wife and tell her the good news you have heard, and not silently put on your hat and go out to the "club" or "lodge," and let her afterwards learn that you spent the evening at the opera or at a fancy ball with Mrs. Dash. Love your wife; be patient; remember that you are not perfect, but try to be; let whiskey, tobacco, and vulgar company alone; spend your evenings with your wife, and live a decent, Christian life, and your wife will be loving and true — if you did not marry a thoughtless beauty without sense or worth; if you did, who is to blame if you suffer the consequences?

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 30, 1870.

Mr. ——:

"I hereby forbid you selling my husband any intoxicating liquor by either drink or bottle. If you do not comply with this, I will prosecute you to the fullest extent of the law.

Mrs. ——"

—The man who never failed, is a myth. Such a one never lived, and is never likely to. All success is a series of efforts, in which, when closely viewed, are seen more or less failures The mountain is apt to overshadow the hill, but the hill is a reality, nevertheless. If you fail now and then, therefore, don't be discouraged.—Ex.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.

The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the dangerous cases that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, OCT. 24, 1870.

FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.—"For some weeks past there has been some discussion in private circles in different parts of the District, in relation to the Republican candidate to represent this district in the next Congress. The newspapers have mentioned names. We do not intend to enter much into the canvass at present. The most prominent candidates, at this time, seem to be Wheeler of Dover, Small of Newmarket, Gordon of Exeter, and Ela of Rochester. Others are spoken of in different parts of the district. It is not our purpose to say one word prejudicial or in opposition to any of these gentlemen, otherwise than we go for rotation. Let all run who desire to run. Fair play to all. We however, have a preference, and that is in favor of Nathaniel Gordon.

We profess to know something about the public men of this district, of New Hampshire, and of the United States, and are not entirely ignorant of the qualifications necessary for a Member of Congress. Nathaniel Gordon is comparatively a new man in politics. He is an educated man, now in the prime of life, of varied and comprehensive intelligence, of unblemished character and acknowledged integrity. He has given his attention mostly to business and property. Starting in life in poverty, he is now rated one of the wealthy men of the State, and what is commendable, makes good use of his money. We are sure that in presenting him as a candidate, it is one as honest, as capable, and as well qualified for the position as any other in the district."

The above we copy from the Lake Village Times, which represents the feelings of Republicans in the northern part of the First Congressional district. We must confess that the number of candidates for the honorable position mentioned is not very limited, and in addition, we see that the Portsmouth Chronicle mentions the name of Hon. W.C.Patten of Kingston. Prior to this time we have said no word explanatory of our preferences, and we had thought of still maintaining silence; but the Times has opened the ball, and we cannot refuse to endorse the commendations of that paper in reference to our fellow citizen, Hon. Nathaniel Gordon.

We do not know the number and influence of the friends of the several candidates, but, from conversing with persons from various parts of the county who chance to visit the NEWS Letter office, we conclude that Mr. Gordon will, in convention, receive the support of three-fourths or more of the delegates in this county. Of course, at this writing, it is difficult to estimate, but reflection leads us to believe that we have under-estimated rather than over-estimated Mr. Gordon's strength.

We fully agree with the Times in one respect, and that is, the subject of a "new deal." We asked for this when our last U. S. Senator was about to be chosen: we ask for it now. It is our only recourse to prevent fraud and corruption. By this course we shall hold the Republican party together, and make large accessions to its ranks.—Exeter News Letter.

The Chronicle has expressed no preference as yet; but we desire the man who will suit and serve the people best. We have already published a full list of candidates, which includes Mr. Emery of this city, so 'tis said, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, Hon. H. D. Walker, if not others here; and it would certainly seem that Portsmouth might occasionally have a Congressman. With regard to Mr. Gordon, he seems to be strengthening; and the Concord Patriot having stated that "as he inherited, and did not earn his wealth, his having the rocks is no credit to him," we are informed by a correspondent at Laconia, that "Mr. Gordon is the architect of his own fortune; that a portion of his property was made in U. S. securities. When the war broke out he invested all his means in U. S. Bonds; and of course, such was the advance, he realized heavily, thereby helping himself while he assisted the Government."

ONLY DRESS.—The jury in the Boston-Flynt-Coolidge-dress-making case returned a verdict for $1188.30 damages for Mrs. Flynt. Her bill was $1939.77. The case first came before an auditor, who reported in favor of the plaintiff, fixing the sum due at $1321.40. Both parties being dissatisfied with the auditor's report, the case came before a jury. At the first trial, which took place in the month of June last, the jury disagreed.

WAR NEWS.—The negotiations for the surrender of Metz have failed, and the envoy has returned to the beleagured town. Gen. Bazaine proposed to surrender all of his own army on the same terms as the surrender at Sedan, except that the regular garrison at Metz should continue to hold the fortress, thus releasing at least half of the investing army.

☞ Saturday evening rumors were to the effect that Bazaine had been shot at Metz by his own men, and that he and his army had cut their way through the Prussian army and were advancing on Paris!

New Hampshire Items.

Wakefield, ever remarkable for longevity, has two men living (twin brothers) aged 87 years, and in the same neighborhood is an old lady aged 101 years, who, the past Spring, was out dropping corn.

On Wednesday evening, Barney Murphy of Concord walked off the platform of a Portsmouth car going up; about a mile and a half above Manchester. He was picked up by the express train. His right foot is badly jammed and he is severely bruised.

Rev. Mr. Park, of Gilford Villarge has received a unanimous call from the Freewill Baptist church in Farmington, to become their pastor, at a salary of $100. He has accepted.

Rev. W.H. H. Murray of Boston (Orthodox) Park St. Church, delivered a lyceum lecture in Manchester a few days since, and the Union says "the young parson proved his good judgment in horse flesh by going over to Goffstown and purchasing of Mr. Taggart a couple of his Abdallah colts,"—trotters.

The selectmen of Candia, Pelham, Merrimack, Hillsborough and Wilton have ordered the liquor dealers in their respective towns to stop the sale of the ardent. They have complied with the order. In Mason a similar order has been issued; and one of the selectmen threatens to resign, to avoid future liability, under the new liquor law.

Dr. Sylvanus Brown of Derry was thrown from his carriage on Monday, and fatally injured. One of his legs was broken, and he was otherwise injured. His horse taking fright was the cause of the accident. Mr. Brown's weight was 315 pounds, and the concussion to his system must have, of itself, almost destroyed life. He did not wish to be moved from the spot where he fell, but requested that a shed might be built over him, and he be allowed to remain there until death ensued. Dr. Brown died on Tuesday.

A little girl, 11 years of age, named Jennie Stuart, residing at Manchester, was sent on an errand nearly two years ago by her parents, and did not return. Recent investigations prove that the child was abducted by a family living in the same house with the child's parents. She was sent to Lowell, and a day or two since was restored to her parents, who are so overjoyed at her recovery that it is believed they will not enter a suit against her abductors. They should do so.

A boy named Edward Brown, 14 years of age, son of Henry Brown of Dover, was run over and killed at that place Tuesday, while playing on a car.

Mr. George H. Twombly, formerly one of the publishers of the Great Falls Advertiser, is engaged as foreman of the Danielsonville (Conn.) Herald establishment.

The young men who were put in jail at Great Falls for refusing to tell where they got their liquor, have been released, having testified against two dealers in town. The sellers were put under $200 bonds to appear at the next term of the Supreme Court, held the second Tuesday in February. The boys recognized in the sum of $50 each, to appear as witnesses at said court.

Mr. Ira Lord of Great Fall, has an apple tree in his garden, three years old, that three pecks of large eating apples were picked from this year.

Willie C. Woodman, Register of Probate for Strafford County, is confined at home by a serious illness, which, it is feared may prove fatal.

An interesting game of Base Ball was played at Dover Saturday afternoon, on the old Circus Ground, between two clubs calling themselves Young America and Quicksteps. The latter won handsomely, the scoring 36 to 6.

The Manchester Riding Park was considerably damaged by the gale of last Thursday. The tiers of seats extended for 300 feet or more, were supported by a frame work of heavy timbers. The wind struck from the west under the seats, lifted them up, timbers and all, and threw the whole concern of three hundred feet or more in length over upon the track. Only a small section of about 15 or 20 feet on the north end was left standing. A tremendous force must have been required to lift so large and heavy a mass of boards and timber. The long hospital building next to the track was leveled at one blast. The loss to the owners of the property at the Riding Park must be considerable.

The Soldiers' Monument in Dublin is to be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on Thursday, the 27th inst. The Oration will be delivered by Gen. S. G. Griffin.

POLITICAL.—In the recent election in Pennsylvania, the Republicans lost the 16th, 17th and 18th Districts, by an aggregate only of 49 votes.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Whereas, it behooves people sensible of their dependence on the Almighty, publicly and collectively to acknowledge their gratitude for his favors and mercies, and humbly to beseech for their continuance; and,

Whereas, the people of the United States, during the year about to end, have special cause to be thankful for general prosperity, abundant harvests, exemption from pestilence, foreign war and civil strife,—

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, concurring in many similar recommendations from the chief magistrates of the United States, do hereby recommend to all citizens to meet in their respective places of worship on Thursday, the 24th day of November next, there to give thanks for the bounty of God during the year about to close, and to supplicate for its continuance hereafter.

In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this the 21st day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-fifth.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.
HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State.

OLD YORK.—Hon. N. G. Marshall is building one of the largest public houses on the coast, at the Short Sands Beach, on Stage Neck, near the harbor, which for fishing, scenery, gunning, and a pleasant view of the ocean, Cape Ann, Boen Island, Isle of Shoals, Cape Porpoise, is unsurpassed. It is situated one mile from York village, and a good road leading to it. Its site is almost upon the spot called Gallows Point, where one Seamore was hung for drowning his child, at what is called Swing Bridge (from having swung his child over his head and thence into the water,) many and many years ago. It is also near the old Fort in York Harbor, the remains of which are plainly to be seen. The site embraces about fourteen acres. Mr. Marshall's sons, E. S. and S. B., will run it. The building will be 100 feet long, with two wings 35 feet wide, four stories high, and contains 102 rooms, besides a large number of parlors and the usual public rooms, costing when finished about $25,000. A stable 60 x 35 is already erected. Omnibuses to this place will run from Portsmouth twice a day.

Mr. C. A. Grant and Mr. Sawyard are also building a large and commodious boarding house at Long Sands Beach, two miles from the village.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

NO HUMBUG.—We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of the mind, body or estate, and is destined to make our sublunary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show, but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of Catarrh in its worst forms and stages, and the proprietor will pay $500 for a case of this loathsome disease which he cannot cure. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale at Drug Stores. Dr. Pierce's private Government Revenue Stamp is on each package of the genuine.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Autumn Suggestion.

Now, as heavy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now, as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer, begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement winter makes its trying onset; Now is the time for a preparatory course of the best acclimating medicine in existence, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fever and Ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not quell the phase of the disease which at the present prevades the entire West. It is well that it is so, for the remedy (so-called) is deadlier than the malady. But if quinine is inefficient in intermittent fevers, Hostetter's Bitters is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penalties, that any given "Fever-and-Ague District" should be exempted from the disorder for any particular time, provided every inhabitant would take the Bitters according to directions, during the term of the contract.

There has never been an instance in which this sterling invigorant and anti-febrile medicine has failed to ward off the complaint, when taken duly as a protection against malaria. Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the officinal specifics and now prescribe this harmless vegetable tonic, and nothing else, as a preventive and cure for all the forms of chills and fever. Vigor is the thing most needful in these cases, as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affections, and Hostetter's Bitters are the safest, surest, and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted. dawlw022

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

Directions accompany each bottle.

LOSS OF STEAMSHIP CAMBRIA.—The news of the wreck of the steamship Cambria off the coast of Ireland causes deep anxiety and sorrow. The Cambria left New York, Oct. 8, with a cargo of wheat, flour, cheese, cotton, apples and barrel staves, and 127 passengers—42 cabin, 18 second-class and 67 steerage.

☞ On the arrival of the news of the surrender of Napoleon and his army, the people of Martinique revolted. Fights occurred between the insurgents and troops, in which the latter were victorious. About 250 men were killed.

TEMPERANCE.—The Sons of Temperance in this city are mustering their forces, preparatory to moving on the enemy's works. Eastern Star Division visits Newcastle this evening, in furtherance of a plan for organizing a Division in that town; and all the clergymen in this city have been personally invited to deliver — at their respective churches—addresses or sermons in opposition to intemperance and the rum-traffic. And temperance men generally are stirring, we believe, in the matter of enforcing the new anti-dram-shop-and-brothel law, in Portsmouth.

This new law is strong enough to stop all rum-selling, if public opinion here will allow it to be stopped. The traffic has been put down and the dealers punished, in many towns in the State, already; and a general movement of the temperance men of all parties would possibly have a like effect, even in rum-cursed Portsmouth. One seller has already been hauled up, at the instance of another liquor dealer! If the anti-rum law can be enforced by a rum-seller, in furtherance of his own private affairs, we see but one reason (besides the difficulty of procuring evidence—easy enough for one dealer to get against another,) why it should not be enforced by temperance men also, in the interests of morality, decency and economy—which reason is, that public opinion in Portsmouth, favoring rum-shops and brothels, will not allow them to be put down. We will retract this assertion—and take great pleasure in so doing—whenever it is proved to be incorrect, by the enforcement of a law which has proved "strong" enough to effect its object when backed by public opinion.

FIRE—A SAD CASE.—The house and barn of Mr. Bartholomew Flynn, on Greenland Road, just beyond Mr. John Tabor's barn were burned, Saturday evening, about half past 8 o'clock. The family had retired and Mr. Flynn was awakened by the screams of his children. The fire caught in the barn and consumed it and its contents, 4 cows, a 3 years old colt, 15 tons of new hay, &c., The house caught from the barn and was burned to the ground. Mr. Flynn had just put on an addition which cost $400. He had stowed in his cellar 150 lbs. beef and pork, 20 bushels potatoes and other goods. He saved but a portion of his furniture and clothing. Fortunately, four cows and a horse belonging to him were outside the barn and escaped injury. His loss is estimated at $2250; insured for $650. He is a temperate man, worked for Chas. Hayes & Son for 14 years and is said to be broken down in health by hard work in his endeavors to pay for and fit up his little place. He has a wife and 7 children to support, and is worthy of aid from our benevolently—inclined citizens, who will be called upon to-day to contribute to the comfort of the family. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Flynn was in the barn with a lantern unbroken an hour before the fire broke out and as he is not a smoker it is supposed some incendiary did the mischief.

PORTSMOUTH SAVINGS BANK. — It will be seen by the advertisement, that on the first of the year, depositors at this bank are to receive five per cent. per annum, instead of four, and that $500 can be deposited on one book. There are other noticeable matters in the advertisement.

☞ The new Sheriff, Mr. Moulton, is officiating at the present term of Court in this city, for the first time. He has appointed as Messenger of the Court, Mr. John M. Davis, in place of Mr. Robert Shillaber, who has occupied the position for about thirty years.

☞ Mr. T. F. Burtt, jeweler, is to move to store No. 3 Market, Street, Nov. 1st, where he will be better situated to receive the calls of his patrons.

☞ Dr Strong has returned from Manchester and gives notice that he will administer Sulphur Baths at his rooms on Ladd Street, for a short time longer.

NAVAL.—U. S. Steamer Narragansett sailed from the lower harbor, Friday morning, for Brazil, via New York.

☞ Forty joiners and five painters were discharged from the Constructor's Department at the Navy Yard on Saturday.

There has been more building the present season in Dover than for the previous five years together.

☞ Senator Morton will not accept the English Mission.

GRAND NAVAL DINNER. — We have before us a printed record of the proceedings at a grand public dinner, given to Commodore Macdonough and Gens. Macomb and Mooers by the citizens of Plattsburg, N. Y., in honor of the great victory on Lake Champlain. The dinner was approved of by a town meeting, and came off Sept. 23d, 1814. Besides the officers named, and others of the army and navy, "a large number of respectable citizens sat down to dinner; and after the cloth was removed, the following toasts [and many others] were drank, accompanied by discharges of cannon, and Musick on Gen. Macomb's excellent band."

Commodore Macdonough, the Hero of Lake Champlain.—The brilliant and important Victory achieved by him over the British Squadon of Superior force, entitles him to the warmest expressions of National gratitude.

Gen. Alexander Macomb, the gentleman and Practical Soldier. — His arrangements for the defence of this Post, and the gallant spirit which he infused by his example, prove him the ornament of his profession and highly deserving of public confidence.

Maj. Gen. Mooers, the Cincinnatus of the Northern section of our State.—When his country calls, he is always found at his post.

Gen. Macomb commanded the land forces at Plattsburg; he was great-uncle to Chief Engineer David B. Macomb, U. S. N., now on duty at this Station. And Maj. Gen. Mooers, Gen. Macomb's second in command, was the maternal grandfather of Chief Engineer John W. Moore, also stationed at this Yard.

Some of the "volunteer toasts" are very amusing; but the following, if given at the present day, would be regarded as a bitter sarcasm on the great rebel stronghold:—

The City of New York.—She has given honorable testimony, that when our country is in danger, her citizens are of one heart and one mind.

How wofully the hearts and minds of "her citizens" must have degenerated, between the days when they fought to save the country, and the time of the slaveholders' rebellion, when so many of them tried to destroy it.

Here is a lesson in natural history, intended especially for John Bull:—

The American Eagle.—Whenever the British Lyon shall attack her nest, he will find her Eggs too numerous and too hard for his digestion.

While feasting the officers of the army and navy, the good people of Plattsburg did not forget the seamen of the fleet—or squadron. One gentleman addressed the company on behalf of the sailors, as follows:—

"Shall we, on this occasion of joy and hilarity, forget the brave Tars who have contributed to the important Victory we celebrate? No! They must not—they shall not be neglected! Let us furnish the means to give them also a day of rejoicing—a Hogshead of Rum, gentlemen, is the least that can be thought of."

The hogshead of rum was furnished. Those gentlemen knew just exactly the thing to do, to please the men-o'-war's men; but if the rum was anything like the stuff sold now-a-days, they ought to have sent that hogshead to the enemy.

The dinner, "conceded to be the best that was ever given in Plattsburg," was enlivened by the reading of a patriotic ode, from which we take the following lines of condolence with Great Britain:

Britannia, round thy haggard brows
Bind bitter wormwood still;
For lo! again thy standard bows
To valiant Yankee skill.

The MAGEE COOK is too well known to need advertising commendation. The MAGEE ADVANCE of 1870, or Improved Magee, is the most perfect and complete pattern of this celebrated Stove yet constructed, and leaves but little room for its further improvement.

The AMERICAN is a new pattern Stove and a very superior one, possessing some excellent qualities differing from other Stoves. It is made in the most thorough manner, the castings are the very best, and it is afforded at quite moderate price. It is having an extensive sale, and is giving great satisfaction as one of the quickest working, most economical and convenient Stoves ever offered to the Public. THE

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

——OF THE——

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

Morning Chronicle

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.

Whoever goes to sea as a passenger and confines himself strictly to the domain abaft the mainmast, knows little of the real power that manages the ship in all its multifold details. He must make friends with the cook, and witness the almost absolute despotism of the galley and caboose; he must visit the to'-gallant-fo'castle by night and by day, to study divisions of watches and to learn how ill-used humanity compensates itself in leisure for its hardships when on active duty; he must ingratiate himself into the confidence of "chips," and view the marvellous accuracy with which the keen adze shapes the tiny bit of oak beneath his foot, while the vessel rolls and pitches in such a manner as to give a very unpleasant impression as regards the temperance proclivities of "us land lubbers;" he must witness the making and shortening of sail, the relief of watches, the pumping of ship and scrubbing of decks; he must prowl between decks when the hatches are off; he must draw his ungainly length over the top to inspect the setting up of rigging, scraping of spars, bending and unbending of sails; he must supervise the overhauling and picking of the great cables from the chain lockers; he must make himself a nuisance to the men who are "over the side," caulking, paying and coal-tarring; and then perhaps he will learn that the taking of observations and "lunars," the heaving of the log, the working of dead reckoning, the variations of the compass and the barometer, the throwing of the lead, and the maneuvreing of the sails, need a vast deal of work and detail to render them efficacious.

So he who rides day by day in the steam cars, knows little or nothing of the hurry, the duty and the responsibility imposed upon those who man the rains which bear so much that is valuable of life and freight from station to station throughout the land. Leave your comfortable coach on the Eastern Railroad, pass through the dense clouds of the smoking car, and gain admission (if you can) to the baggage car. Baggage masters Bennett or Danforth, if you are are at all entitled to enter their car, will treat you courteously, but you must expect to move about with celerity—the exigences of the service require it. Leaving Boston, the car is well packed with baggage and freight, especially in the summer season, the immense pleasure travel over this road making things "lively" for the baggage masters. Aside from the baggage master you will find expressmen from Lynn, Salem, Newburyport and Portsmouth in this car—perched upon trunks, boxes, barrels, or any available point.

What a curious assortment of articles are packed in this small space: First are the trunks of passengers, from nearly every state in the Union, from the Canadas, and some from lands far beyond the ocean; then great piles of express matter and parcels belonging to passengers who have been shopping in the city:—peaches from Delaware, New Jersey and Virginia; sweet potatoes from South Carolina and Georgia; game from the prairies of Illinois, and farther West; dry goods from Boston and New York; tobacco from Richmond, Detroit and Louisville; cigars from Havana and Saugus; great rolls of daily papers for news agents all along the line, empty milk cans and firkins, barrels of clams for bait, kegs of oysters from Norfolk and Providence from Blue Point and Shrewsbury, baby carriages, pots of plants, kerosene, boxes of shoes, fireworks, melons from Savannah and Jersey, and all the "truck and dicker" in which mankind loves to indulge or trade.

These are all arranged for easy exit when received, though seemingly piled in inextricable confusion. The brakes are signalled down, the train comes to a halt; the solid doors of the car slide back; trunks, barrels, boxes and bundles are quickly passed out to the station hands on the platform,—other bundles and parcels are as expeditiously received into the car, the conductor shouts "all aboard," the engine snorts and pants, and again the long train thunders down the iron road.

Now let us go farther forward, clamber over the tender, and try for a ride in the engine cab with Charlie Green or Peter Page. Never mind a little dust or a few cinders, there's plenty of soap and water at the end of our journey. Now we can gain an insight into the care, the judgment, the watchfulness that the engineer must ever exercise in guiding the fiery steed that draws the heavy trains of railroad vans through so many parts of our country. If it be daylight and fair, God knows this tension on brain and nerve is bad enough; while the jar and clatter, the alternate heat and cool rush of air, are enough to unsettle most constitutions. The rattle of the doors of the fire-box, the seemingly constant supply of fuel to the voracious monster, the ringing of the bell at crossings, the whistling "down brakes" for obstructions, the testing of gauge cocks, the oiling of bearings, and all minor details keep both engineer and fireman so busy that you must expect only terse replies from them if you are diffuse with your questions. But when night shuts down to obscure his view, or the driving sleet, snow or rain come with their blinding force, or when night and the storm both combine, then the post of the engineer is anything but enviable. Anxious but fearless, with eyes strained to follow the farthest reflection of the headlight, while the vessel rolls and pitches in such a manner as to give a very unpleasant impression as regards the temperance proclivities of "us land lubbers;" he must witness the making and shortening of sail, the relief of watches, the pumping of ship and scrubbing of decks; he must prowl between decks when the hatches are off; he must draw his ungainly length over the top to inspect the setting up of rigging, scraping of spars, bending and unbending of sails; he must supervise the overhauling and picking of the great cables from the chain lockers; he must make himself a nuisance to the men who are "over the side," caulking, paying and coal-tarring; and then perhaps he will learn that the taking of observations and "lunars," the heaving of the log, the working of dead reckoning, the variations of the compass and the barometer, the throwing of the lead, and the maneuvreing of the sails, need a vast deal of work and detail to render them efficacious.

Louis Napoleon in New York.

WASHINGTON IRVING AND LOUIS NAPOLEON.

Now that Napoleon has reached the last act in his drama, there is a peculiar interest attaching to his visit to New York. This took place in 1837. He had been held prisoner of war aboard a French frigate, and by order of Louis Phillippe he was released at Norfolk, Va. From this port he hastened to New York, where he remained two months. He boarded at the Washington Hotel, a second rate establishment, which covered about two-thirds of the plot now occupied by Stewart's down town warehouse.

He is said to have been very dissipated and licentious while in the city, but of this there is no proof. Among other incidents of this period, he called on Washington Irving, at Sunnyside, in company with a young French Count, who, as Irving says, appeared to be the superior of the two. In fact, Mr. Irving was surprised at the quietness of one who had cut such a dash at Strasbourg.

Irving and Eugenie.—The history of the recent Empress (who is now nothing more than Madame Bonaparte) is a very peculiar illustration of the freaks of fortune. In 1853 Irving writes thus to a lady:

"I knew the grandfather of the Empress, old Mr. Kirkpatrick, who had been American Consul at Malaga. I passed an evening at his house in 1827. A week afterwards I was at the house of his son-in-law, the Count Teba, a gallant and most intelligent gentleman of Grenada, much cut up in the wars, having lost an eye and been maimed in a leg and hand. His wife, the daughter of Mr. Kirkpatrick was absent, but he had a family of little girls about him.

Several years afterward, when I had recently taken up my abode at Madrid, I was invited to a grand ball, at the house of the Countess of Montijo, one of the leaders of the ton. On making my bow to her, I was surprised at being received by her with the warmth and eagerness of an old friend. She claimed me as the friend of her late husband, the Count Teba, (subsequently Marquis Montijo,) who she said had often spoken of me with the greatest regard. She subsequently introduced me to the little girls I had known in an early day, who had become fashionable belles of Madrid. One of these now sits on the throne of France.

A short time afterward, Irving writes thus to another neice, Mrs. Storrow, who was then residing at Paris:

"You give an account of the marriage procession of Louis Napoleon and his bride to the church of Notre Dame, and one of your letters speaks of your having been presented to the Empress. Louis Napoleon and Eugenie Montijo, Emperor and Empress of France! One of whom I have had a guest at my cottage on the Hudson, and the other whom, when a child, I have had on my knee at Grenada. It seems to clap the climax of the strange drama of which Paris has been the theatre during my life time.

The last I saw of Eugenie Montijo she was one of the reigning belles of Madrid; and she and her giddy circle had swept by my charming young friend the beautiful and accomplished Signorita —— into their career of fashionable dissipation. Now Eugenie is on the throne while —— is a voluntary recluse in a convent of one of the most rigorous orders. Poor ——. Perhaps however, her fate may ultimately be the happier of the two. With her the storm is over and she is at rest, but the other is launched upon a dangerous sea, infamous for its tremendous shipwrecks. Am I to live to see the catastrophe of her career of the end of this suddenly conjured-up Empire, which seems to be of such stuff as dreams are made of?"

"My personal acquaintance with the individuals who figure in this historical romance gives me uncommon interest in it; but I consider it stamped with danger and instability, and as liable to extravagant vicissitudes as one of Dumas's novels. You do well to witness the grand features of this passing pageant. You are probably reading one of the most peculiar and eventful pages of history, and may live to look back upon it as a romantic tale."

Irving's words now sound prophetic, and to add to their force it may be added that, although he is dead, the lady to whom they were addressed has lived to witness that catastrophe of which he spoke. Eugenie's grandfather, Mr. Kirkpatrick, although American Consul at Malaga, was a Scotchman by birth and was of plebian extraction. A schoolmaster of the same name living in Glasgow was commonly styled the "cousin of the Empress." The wheel of fortune by this turn only brings Eugenie back to the level of her ancestors.

FIRST OF THE SEASON of 1870, received at L. LAIGHTON.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, OCT. 25, 1870.

WAR NEWS.—Various small fights are reported, the success of each small affair apparently depending entirely on which side sends the news.

At Paris, a sortie was made in the direction of Versailles, Saturday, and the Germans, after some hours' fighting, drove the French back, taking 100 prisoners and two pieces of artillery. The loss to the besiegers was small, and was caused by a bomb bursting in the midst of a battalion.

The French Ministry at Tours has despatches from Paris to the 18th inst. Sorties continue frequent, keeping the enemy on the alert day and night. The Prussians, thus harassed, are beginning to suffer from their constant exposure.

The French Journal Officiel of the 19th relates the destruction of several more Prussian batteries, lately erected. The fire of the forts has dismantled the Prussian guns and killed a number of the enemy.

The Moniteur announces that Bourbaki with 20,000 men is going to Amiens. Large reënforcements have arrived from the south, and marine infantry and gunners are coming from Toulon. The national guards at Lyons are constantly drilling and exercising. A large number of troops are to be stationed in the entrenched camps near the city. All will be armed with Chassepots and thoroughly drilled in the use of them.

It is reported that England will immediately offer direct intervention for an armistice; that Lord Lyons and Lord Loftus have taken steps to that effect at Tours and Berlin, and that perfect accord in the matter exists between England, Austria and Italy.

The Vienna Free Press, in an able leader, denounces the war as intolerable, and invokes the determined intervention of the powers. It declares that the moment is opportune for a compromise, and that England should take the initiative and conduct the negotiations in behalf of a cause which has become that of the civilized world.

The encouraging feature of the war intelligence is a despatch from Tours saying the government regards the proposed mediation with favor, and all parties are anxious for peace; but a later despatch, containing an official assurance that France would not in any event consent to the humiliation of accepting the legitimate consequences of her defeat, disappoints all hopes.

A London dispatch states that Earls Gladstone and Granville spent the whole of Sunday in consultation with the Prussian, Russian, Austrian and Italian Ambassadors, and General Boyer. The latter had an interview with Comti, Napoleon's Secretary at Mars, and subsequently one with the Empress at Chiselhurst.

☞ The wreck of the Cambria steamship is fully confirmed. Vessels cruising in the neighborhood of the scene of the disaster have discovered fragments of the wreck and cargo; but nothing has yet been heard of any other of the crew or passengers, (besides the one previously reported saved.) and it is probable that all have perished. She was 3300 tons burthen, and her commander, Capt. Carnaghan, was accounted one of the best seamen afloat. Her passenger list numbered 127 persons, and her crew about 160 more. She struck a rock off the north coast of Ireland, in a heavy gale, when within one hour's steaming of port.

☞ The steamer Moro Castle, from Havana, on Friday encountered a heavy hurricane, lasting eight hours, with a heavy sea making a clear breach over the ship, fore and aft. A deck load of 700 barrels of oranges was thrown overboard to ease the vessel. The boats were blown from the davits, the sails, though furled, were blown from the yards, the baddle boxes were damaged and broken, the skylights, binnacle and everything moveable on deck was swept away, and the cabin and saloons were filled with water.

☞ Four of the crew of the New Bedford whaling ship Robert Edwards have been arraigned in the United States court in New York, on a charge of setting fire to the ship on the high seas, in July last. The penalty of the law is death. One of the four men was formerly an English convict, and another boasts of his escape from England, in consequence of crime, and of having deserted from the U. S. army. They at first attempted to sink the ship by boring holes in the bottom, but finally stopped them up, and burned the vessel, when 800 miles off Bermuda.

☞ A Louisville paper, six months established, has four libel suits and a duel, so far.

New Hampshire Items.

The new secret order "The Knights of Pythias," was introduced into this State about a year ago, and, at this time, there are seven lodges in New Hampshire. Two of these lodges, the Granite and the Merrimack, are in Manchester, and contains upwards of two hundred members. There are lodges in Newmarket, Exeter, Nashua, Dover and Rochester. The order, like Freemasonry and Odd Fellowship, was founded for social purposes.

An enterprising Dry Goods dealer in Great Falls couldn't afford to patronize the printer, but could afford to pay a painter for embellishing the bridge in that place, with his advertisements; but unfortunately for him, the Town Fathers caused the advertisements to be stricken from the bridge.

In Rochester, the earthquake shook houses, rang door bells and shook off bricks from the tops of two or three chimneys in the village. At the passenger depot of the D. & W. railroad, the people all ran out doors, and at the stitching room of the Wallaces' Manufactory, the girls ran down stairs.

POLITICAL.—Unofficial returns indicate the reëlection of Governor Scott by a reduced majority. Rainey, colored republican, will succeed Whittemore in Congress, from the first district, and Eliot, colored republican, is also elected from the third district. The second district is very close between Bowen and Delarge, while the "reformers" elect McKissick in the fourth district, and one-third of the legislature.

A grand jury will be empannelled in the United States Circuit Court, New York, on Monday, before Judge Benedict, for the express purpose of finding indictments against election "repeaters," under the new congressional law. Among those summoned to serve are William B. Astor, R. L. Stewart, a prominent sugar merchant, Jackson G. Shultz, president of the Union League Club, William Steinway, A. T. Stewart, and other well-known citizens.

RIM'S WORK.—In Worcester, Mass., on Sunday, Benjamin Wiswell, an Englishman 25 years old, was stabbed by his wife's brother, Francis Doran, an Irishman, and died before he could be reached by a doctor. Both men were drunk. The murderer has not been arrested.

☞ The naval court to inquire into the circumstances of the grounding of the Guerriere, on Nantucket shoals, will complete its labors in a few days. Captain Dunham of Nantucket, wants $20,000, and the owners of the steamer Island Home $15,000, for their services in saving the ship.

☞ In the conference between the President, Secretary Boutwell and Commissioner Delano, Saturday, no conclusion was reached regarding a successor to the latter.

☞ Four men were crushed by the falling of a bank of earth, Saturday morning, at Waldoborough, Me. One was killed outright, one had his back broken and will probably die, and the other two had their legs broken.

Dr. Mackenzie's Life of Charles Dickens is having an immense sale. It has been published but two months, and the Publishers announce the tenth edition. It is only sold by Subscription, and a Canvasser is wanted in every Township, and all who are in search of agencies to send for a Canvasser's Outfit (costing $1,) and commence at once canvassing their vicinity thoroughly for Subscribers for Mackenzie's Life of Charles Dickens, price only $2 a copy, it being one of the cheapest and best selling Subscription Books ever published. Employment given to all who will apply. Large commissions are paid, and steady and profitable work can be secured in any locality. With this Popular Work, territory may be canvassed a third or fourth time with as good success as at first, it being racy, chatty, yet reliable, written by his life-long friend, who is universally acknowledged to be peculiarly qualified for the task, he having been engaged for several years past in collecting material for this interesting work. Address T. B. Peterson & Bros., Philadelphia, Pa., who will send a Photograph of Charles Dickens to every Canvasser.

☞ The question of right to reserved seats at concerts, which has caused a good deal of discussion at various times, was recently decided by one of the Washington county court judges, who held that all seats previously secured by ticket were the property of the person for whom they had been secured, and might be occupied or allowed to remain idle for that particular entertainment at his or her pleasure.

—A country paper says:—"There is a graveyard in the neighborhood where may be seen the impressive picture of a man sleeping peacefully by the side of his six wives."

S. J. COURT, Monday, Oct. 24.—A jury was drawn, composed of the following persons:

Moses G. James, Northwood; Nehemiah Pickering, Newington; George A. Knowles, Northwood; David Jewell, Brentwood; John Stearns, Deerfield; Charles Sanborn, Sandown; Justice W. Peasley, Atkinson; Joseph A. Tarlton, North Hampton; Jacob H. Gale, Newton; Samuel C. Hunkins, Sandown; Benjamin F. Rice, Joshua Brooks, Portsmouth.

Communication.

GRAND CONCERT at Congress Hall, this Tuesday evening. Mr. H. P. Dudley, Blind Vocalist, Guitarist and Great American Ballad Singer, is to favor our citizens with one of his popular entertainments, consisting of Vocal and Instrumental Music. Mr. Dudley will be assisted by his daughter, the pleasing alto and pianist.

Doors open at 7, Concert to commence at 1-4 to 8. Admittance free. Children not admitted unless accompanied by their parents. X.

THE THEATRE.—The N. Y. Tribune says of Rose and Harry Watkins, who appear here to-morrow evening with the Locke & Leslie company:—

"The strength of 'Trodden Down' lies in the speaking and ready wit of the hero, Fergus McCarthy. Eyes filled to the brim with tears, are made to beam with merry laughter at the shrewd witticisms of the unfortunate Fergus, while the next moment some startling situation is developed which demands the absorbed attention of every auditor. Rose Watkins is as excellent as an actress as she is charming as a vocalist."

☞ The Constitution and By-Laws of the Young Men's Debating Club, of this city, a miniature book of 8 pages, from the press of Frank W. Robinson, is a very creditable specimens of printing for almost anybody, especially for one so young, and an amateur at that.

☞ Mr. Carter advertises fresh and pure Candies, at his old stand, corner Congress and Chestnut streets.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE WAY to "minister to a mind diseased', is to take Peruvian Syrup, a protected salution of the protoxide of iron, which gives strength and vigor to the whole system, restores the digestive organs to perfect health, thereby restoring the mind to its natural vigor.

WHAT IS QUILLAYA SAPONARIA?—It is a tree, the bark of a Chillian Tree, which yields, when macerated, a fragrant vegetable soap with cleaning and antiputrescent properties not possessed by any other vegetable production. This Bark is a prominent constituent of the celebrated SOZODONT, the most popular dental preparation ever introduced in America.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," stickiest thing out.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Autumn Suggestion.

Now, as heavy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now, as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer, begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement winter makes its trying onset: Now is the time for a preparatory course of the best acclimating medicine in existence, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fever and Ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not quell the phase of the disease which at the present pervades the entire West. It is well that it is so, for the remedy (so-called) is deadlier than the malady. But if quinine is inefficient in intermittent fevers, Hostetter's Bitters is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penalties, that any chronic "Fever-and-Ague District" should be exempted from the disorder for any particular time, provided every inhabitant would take the Bitters according to directions, during the term of the contract.

There has never been an instance in which this sterling invigorant and anti-febrile medicine has failed to ward off the complaint, when taken duly as a protection against malaria. Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the official specifics and now prescribe this harmless vegetable tonic, and nothing else, as a preventive and cure for all the forms of chills and fever. Vigor is the thing most needful in these cases, as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affections, and Hostetter's Bitters are the safest, surest, and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted. dawlw02

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

Directions accompany each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists. oldlm

DANIEL J. VAUGHAN.
Portsmouth, Oct. 25, 1870.

NOTICE.—The Copartnership of FRANK W. MILLER & CO. in the publication of the Chronicle and Gazette, was dissolved on Oct. 13th inst., by mutual consent. All accounts will be adjusted by the new publishers of the Chronicle, Messrs. MARSTON & FREEMAN; and an early settlement is desired.
FRANK W. MILLER.
GEO. W. MARSTON.
Portsmouth, Oct. 15, 1870.

NOTICE.—The Subscribers have this day formed a Copartnership for the publication of the DAILY CHRONICLE and NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, and the JOB PRINTING Business, under the firm name of MARSTON & FREEMAN.
GEO. W. MARSTON.
WASHINGTON FREEMAN.
Portsmouth, Oct. 13, 1870.

A WORD PERSONAL.—In accordance with a purpose for sometime, (but very indefinitely,) entertained, the subscriber has disposed of his interest in the Chronicle and Gazette, as stated elsewhere; and hereby retires from all management and responsibility of an establishment which he originated, and has been identified with for more than eighteen years. This step, while it releases him from arduous duties and inexorable business cares, incident to all such positions—also sunders many pleasant and deeply cherished ties.

In making this announcement, which will doubtless be received with surprise, even by most of his personal friends, it is but fair for him to state that he has at present no definite intention of engaging in this or similar business here or elsewhere, although he has had very eligible and tempting offers abroad during the past year or two — but which could not be entertained so long as the late lamented Uncle Toby remained on the staff of the Chronicle. Now the time and the opportunity has come; and he resigns the establishment into the hands of parties fully competent to conduct it, to the mutual interest of the public and themselves.

The starting of the Chronicle was rather an impromptu affair, on his part; and the leaving of it is somewhat so, at the last. He has worked hard for a long term of years, and is happy to know he has something to show for it. In fine, he is satisfied—and only hopes that those to whom he owes his success, are likewise.

Mr. Marston, who has been connected with the office, in one way or another, almost from the start, and a partner for just two and a half years at the date of the dissolution of partnership, has proved himself fully equal to the position of editor-in-chief, as well as a thorough business man; and we leave the paper with him, much stronger than when he entered upon its management. Mr. Freeman, his partner, is new to this business,—but all business is much alike in general detail, after all, and Mr. F. is well known as one of the most capable and successful tradesmen in the city; and, withal, is a most agreeable gentleman, estimable citizen, and responsible man.

The Chronicle was never before in so flourishing condition as now; and the Gazette, especially, is steadily increasing in favor and circulation. It is with many regrets and with the pleasantest feelings toward all connected with the establishment, and toward all patrons and readers; and with the most earnest wishes and expectations of success for his successors, that the subscriber for the last time begs leave to remain,

Yours truly, FRANK W. MILLER.

☞ The new and latest style of taking photographs, known as the Berlin process, is attracting much attention. Mr. S. B. Heald, who married a Portsmouth lady, is said to be the only artist in Boston who can produce them. Mr. Heald has an an Assistant, Mr. Wallace R. Moses of this city. We have some very fine specimens from the Warren studio, 145 Tremont Street.

THE CHANGE OF MANAGEMENT of the Daily Chronicle and New Hampshire Gazette is announced elsewhere. Frank W. Miller, Esq., to whom the thanks of the public are due for the establishment and continuance of a live, daily paper in this city, retires from the editorial chair with honor and laurels won by an experience of 18 years of untiring labor. A man with less energy and determination would have failed in the enterprise in which he so signally succeeded. Repeated attempts to establish daily papers in Portsmouth had failed, up to the time when Millers & Gray gave notice that they would issue a daily, with good old "Uncle Toby" as leading editor. On the 2d of August, 1852, it was issued, and began a career which has been prosperous throughout. Now the only remaining member of the firm of Millers & Gray voluntarily lays down the quill, at a time when the result of a business life of 18 years, the creation of his own enterprise, is in a most prosperous condition.

An association of many years with Mr. Miller, and a friendship of earlier growth than any business connection, has led the writer to study closely his characteristics and to admire the rare energy of the man. "If there were scores of men in Portsmouth with the good qualities of heart, with the public spirit and indomitable will of Frank W. Miller, the place would be a live one and as desirable a residence for business purposes as any New England city," said Ex-Gov. Smyth, who knew whereof he spoke.

In parting from our late associate, we know there is no need of recounting his many efforts for the public good. He will be missed from journalism, by his associates of the New Hampshire Press especially, among whom he has always held a leading position. That he will meet with as great success in future, in any business in which he may engage, as in the past, (and with less necessity for hard work,) is our earnest wish, and that our future relations with others may be as pleasant as have those with Mr. Miller, is all we can desire.

Mr. Israel P. Miller, well known as "Pakeha," will remain and have especial charge of the local department of the paper. Mr. Howard M. Messer, who has no superior in that line, hereabouts, will have charge of the Job Department and will succeed Mr. Miller as Foreman of the office.

To our patrons, at home and abroad, we express our thanks for past favors and request the continuance of the same. Our aim will be to maintain the reputation of the DAILY CHRONICLE and NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE as welcome family visitants; and to make them "as good as the best" will be our earnest endeavor.

☞ The many friends of Hon. J. H. Bailey were pleased to greet him on the street, Saturday, after his month's sickness.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

MARRIAGES.

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

PEARS AND GRAPES.—We have fruited this year over 30 varieties of pears, and about as many varieties of grapes, and have carefully watched the growth and time of ripening of the fruit from both trees and vines. In common with all other kinds of fruit, they have suffered greatly this season in New England from drought. This has been very severe, and we have reason to fear that permanent injury has come to our trees. Pears and grapes have ripened prematurely, and in many cases imperfectly, and the quality of fruit is affected. We can, however, judge in a measure of the comparative merits of the different varieties, and, in the light of past experience, are able to name those best adapted to our climate.

In New England we must make our list of really good pears, which can be successfully and profitably grown, much shorter. In three orchards of 100 trees each, on different soils, and with different exposures, and subjected to similar treatment, we find great difference in the thrift and productiveness of the trees. There are not more than ten varieties which will flourish upon our soils. The Glout Morceau is a failtree with us, and so are most of the so called "winter varieties." There are but few of these that do not ripen before Christmas under the best conditions for keeping that we can devise.

The Bartlett, Duchess, Seckle, Buffum, Louise Bonne de Jersey, and Swan's Orange are the varieties that do best in our orchards. The only early pear really worth cultivating is the Dovenne d'Ete. This is indeed a delicious little pear, and we get a taste of its rich qualities by the middle of August in ordinary seasons. It is rather a vigorous stock, but it needs a moist, retentive soil in which to grow. Osburn's Summer Seedling is only fair, and it is later than the Doyenne.

Among the new varieties of grapes, the Adirondack is worthy of praise. We have fruited it three consecutive seasons, and it is the earliest and the sweetest of all our varieties. It has also proved to be a good bearer, hardy, and the fruit holds well on to the stem. It is a magnificent grape for wine, affording a variety resembling true Malaga. It is so exceedingly saccharine that it needs to be watched closely and handled intelligently, in manipulating for wine.

The Israella, of Grant paternity, is also a good and early grape. It closely resembles the Adirondack, but it is inferior in several respects. The Israella is upon the whole a failure. The clusters are beautiful, and the grape a good one; but it ripens late, too late for this locality, and then the ripening is singularly uneven and imperfect. We have bunches which contain berries fully ripe, others partly ripe, and still others as hard and green as the Concords in July. This grape will not do for this section, and we doubt if it proves entirely satisfactory in any locality. The grape and pear crop is abundant this year.—Boston Journal of Chemistry.

ABOUT HENS.—There is a vein of the old Æsop blood in men, in all ages, which makes them quick to take note how even the gravest moral truths find their serious or ludicrous, but always picturesque, illustration in the animal world, and are taken up and preached right at us by the dogs and cats and turkeys and rats. "Anxious and wretched as a hen with one chicken," runs the saying. You may see the sight any spring day in a farmer's barnyard. Here strides along a matronly hen with a brood of sixteen. Her eye is on them all. No levity or unseemly cutting-up on the part of one of them escapes her. She knows their wants, too. Sixteen hungry little mouths to feed. Her mind is full of the care of looking around in sixteen directions at once, to see what each one of the sixteen is at. Right and left, her anxious glance is on the stretch for a waif of grain or crumbs. Feet, too, are flying in a vigorous back action, scratching up the soil; and lungs are clucking proclamations of success over every unearthed worm or bug. She is on the watch for dangers also; and when the moment comes for flying to covert, and huddling up close, manages somehow to get every chickling under roof, with a chance, too, to protrude its little bill somewhere, and make sure of its sniff of fresh air. She has most ample occupation and responsibility. All this is evident in her thoughtful look; but it is evident, also, that she feels herself equal to the position.

And now comes her sister-hen with her brood—of one. Here we shall see leisure, serenity, time for cultivation, and the enjoyment of society, art, and nature. Not a bit of it! She is more anxious and distressed than the first, more sceptical about Providence, more afraid that she lives in a niggard world, where the supply of grubs and grasshoppers is scant. She is painfully and morbidly concentrated. "Thinking too precisely on the event," she conjures up imaginary terrors.

Try to comfort her with the suggestion, that, with more room in her heart, she would find more room in this divinely-organized chicken-house of a world, would rise to fresh and astounding conceptions of its deep underlying depth of grub-resources and she will listen with impatient, vindictive scepticism. "Look at me as it is, with only one to care for! See what a time I have of it! Multiply this by sixteen, double it even, and I should be carried to Somerville or Worcester in a day!"—Francis Tiffany, in Old and New, for October.

☞ M. W. Balfe, the musical composer, died in London on Friday, aged 62 years.

—A man who took a drink from a bottle of mucilage says he has felt "stock up" ever since.

—The Boston Journal of Chemistry gives the following recipes for the benefit of those—and they are legion—who are troubled with harassing and annoying coughs that frequently accompany many acute diseases, and arising from nervous irritation of the larynx, pharynx, palate, or other parts of the throat:

Sulph. Morphia	gr. j;
Dil. Sulph. Acid	dr. j;
Simple Syrup	oz. ij;

Mix. Half a teaspoonful to be given upon the tongue, and swallowed slowly. The persistent hackings of bronchial difficulties, and even of consumption, are often speedily relieved by it.

An excellent cough mixture, for constant use in the office or family, is this:

Syrup Tolu	oz. j;
Syrup Peru	oz. j;
Syrup Sanguinaria	oz. j;
Syrup Lobelia	oz. j;
Tr. Wintergreen	dr. j;

Dose, half a teaspoonful three or four times daily, or whenever indicated. Cut these recipes out and preserve them.

SAVING SEED CORN.—The Western Rural, through a correspondent, talks in this common-sense way about saving in the fall what is so needful in the spring—good seed corn:

"I have a few words to say on this subject, to stir up the minds of farmers by way of remembrance. Some say, 'We will select our seed corn at the time of husking. It will all get ripe and dry before frost, this year.' Others think they can select good seed from the crib in the spring. Well, perhaps they may, but I think it is not a safe way. My plan is this: Go into the field with basket and wheelbarrow, select of those ears that begin to ripen earliest, husk, leaving on two or three husks to trace it up by. Then braid ten or twelve ears together, and hang them across a pole in a dry place. By the time frost comes it will be cured, and no mistake. You will have good, sound seed. Try it, if you have not done so. I think one acre planted with good sound seed, is worth two acres planted with half-frozen, weakly stuff."

HOW THE CHINAMEN MANUFACTURE MANURE.—A ship at San Francisco is receiving a cargo of—what does the reader suppose? Shrimps! Yes, shrimps! And for what purpose? it will be inquired. To be used as a fertilizer, to be sure. They are boiled, dried in the sun, ground to a powder, and in this state sprinkled over the soil. The Chinese have taught us something in this; for we understand the valuable freight, consisting of 2000 sacks of pulverized shrimps, is intended for Hong Kong. They were caught by Chinamen, along the Marin County shore, and by Chinamen prepared thus for shipment. This is said to be a regular business with the Celestials, giving employment to two hundred men.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is seen restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white fabric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

The Chronicle.

AN OLD WOMAN'S SAGACITY.—There are yet living those who remember old Widow Stone of Odell Township, near Androscoggin, New Hampshire. In the days of her glory and prime, she and her two sons lived in the backwoods, where all were hardy with toil and adventure, and where raising Indian corn and trapping bears, which then infested that part of New England, were the principal occupation.

One day the widow and her two boys went out into the rugged woods to visit some traps set for burly bruin, and on arriving at one of them, had the satisfaction of finding a cub struggling in it. They were just on the point of dispatching the little rascal, when they were startled by the appearance of an old bear of matronly appearance, who came tearing through the bushes toward them. Jumping to the conclusion that it was the female parent of the entrapped cub, and fully realizing that she would not be disposed to regard them very charitably, the widow and her sons made tracks for the nearest place of safety, which was a high and steep rock which they were barely able to climb. Once reaching the crest, however, they felt sure of their ability to repulse the attacks of the enraged bear, should she succeed in climbing up to them.

Their only weapons were an ax and a shot-gun, but with neither of these could they hope to do much execution at a distance. Several heavy charges of shot were sent whistling about the ears of the savage creature, but they glanced on her shaggy coat like handfuls of gravel thrown by schoolboys.

What was to be done? The bear, glaring fiercely upon the would-be destroyers of her young, as they huddled together on their lofty perch, growled, tore up the earth, tried her strength on the trap, in the hope of wrecking it, and manifested no sort of disposition to leave the neighborhood or allow her enemies to do so. Once, one of the boys essayed to climb down and go to the settlement for assistance, but the fierce creature went for him with such vehemence and malignity, that he hastily scampered back with his heart in his mouth.

Again bruin was treated to several charges of shot but in vain. She minded them no more than if they were feathers blown by the wind. The day was wearing away, and night approached with a prospect of the party's having to remain in, or rather on, their uncomfortable lodgings; and who could say what might happen to them before morning? Their terrible enemy might be re-enforced, and a vigorous attack might destroy them, even in their stronghold.

"O, what will we do?" exclaimed one of the boys, who was yet but a mere lad; and all began to partake of the alarm.

At last the old lady brightened up, exclaiming:—"O, I know, now! I'll fix her in a little bit! Why didn't I think of it before? Won't mind shot, eh? Well, I know what she will mind."

Gathering up some dry twigs that were strewn about upon the flat surface of the rock, she instructed the boys to strike a light, and build a little fire in the small cavity of the rock. This being done, she poured a handful of shot in the fire, which soon melted, and ran into the bottom of the cavity like water. Then, taking an old clay pipe, which was her constant companion, the shrewd old lady molded therein several slugs, which the boys trimmed with their knives into something like the shape of bullets.

"Them'll fetch the critter!" said the widow, with an air of exultation.

And they did. The shot-gun was heavily charged with powder, and one of these truly home-made balls put in and fired by the elder boy. The first shot was successful. With a growl of pain, bruin tumbled over, howled, writhed in the death struggle, and soon lay still.

Then the three adventurers descended from their elevated prison, killed the young bear, and hastened home for the night leaving the foe dead upon the field.

KNEE-SPRUNG HORSES.—"Hard pulling in a cart on a turnpike" was not the real cause, although it is a fact that while employed in that hard labor the horse became knee-sprung. The real cause that forced the knees forward, proceeded from the tenderness of the lateral portion, or his heels so called, by the weight of the horse and his load forcing the tender angles of the thin portion of the wall in a forward direction of 45 degrees upon an improperly inclined iron foundation, and elevating the frog, the most important portion of the foot, above action or usefulness, having nothing to act upon.

Nailed firmly to the hoofs in front is a supposed iron defence for the hoof, but by its improper form it is productive of pain, heat, corns, tenderness and innumerable disorders. The horse by his instinct contrives continually to relieve himself from the pain caused there, by forcing his knees forward under the pressure upon the tender portion in contact with the insufficient iron foundation, by which the whole weight is maintained by only about two-thirds of the foot, instead of the whole.—*Cor. SEASON OF 1870-71.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

Important Improvements,

Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.

The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.

They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.

Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.

The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.

They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $60 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE, a splendid instrument, $225.

A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4w019

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although Incipient Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, takes the same course.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 26, 1870.

WAR NOTES.—It is reported that the project of peace includes the dismantling of the fortresses in Eastern France, and the indemnity by France to Germany of six millions of francs in cattle, horses, grain, wine and oil. No cession of territory is to be made, unless the people of Alsace, upon a plebiscite, should vote for the annexation to Germany. Bazaine is to leave Metz, and proclaim the Prince Imperial Emperor, with the Empress as Regent. It is added that the solution depends absolutely on the acceptance by King William of the condition introduced into the proposed arrangement by the great powers. The powers insist on this, and it is even rumored, if Germany objects to it, they will intervene by force to compel Prussia to withdraw her armies from France.

A London telegram says "the reports from Tours and Vienna announcing a proposal by England of armistice are substantially true. There is the highest authority for saying that the British Government concluded last week that the time had arrived for making another effort.

The talk about an armistice and eventual peace is abundant. It appears to be certain that England has taken mediatory action. The French do not give her much credit for sympathy on this score, but seem to believe that fear of Russia is the powerful motive of her interference. There are no positive indications that England's proposition has been favorably considered. The other war news is tame.

La France newspaper says that France asks not for an armistice, and has not authorized England to ask for one. Since the failure of M. Favre, France has thought only of an organizing for defence. As England now proposes an armistice, it must be because she understands proposals will be made which France may accept.

The Pall Mall Gazette publishes an important rumor in an edition, issued Tuesday afternoon, to the effect that King William has accepted Marshal Bazaine's conditions of peace, and that the Empress Eugenie consents to proceed to the King's headquarters at Versailles, and sign the treaty, as being the reigning head of the French government, until deposed by a legally constituted assembly.

The Paris Siecle refuses to admit the the good intentions of England, and believes that she acts solely for Prussia, who at last finds out that she has undertaken an impossible task. England was advised to tell Prussia to make the most reasonable demands, else war a l'outrance will be the only result.

A correspondent of the London Standard viciously notes the eagerness of Bismark to oblige the American officers, the ambulance corps and people of the United States, while he is totally indifferent to anything English.

It is rumored that Russia, not joining England, Austria and Italy in an effort to bring about peace, is acting independently but energetically in the same direction.

THE CENSUS.—New York city has a population of 926,910, by the complete census.

The total population of Connecticut is 537,886, a gain of 76,733 since 1860.

How many of them spelled the word as the Journal does, we wonder?

—An Illinois girl, to keep off mosquitoes, bathed her face with benzine, and then went to a lamp to dry it. The minister who preached her funeral sermon advised his hearers never to fight the insects on that line, if they bit all summer.

New Hampshire Items.

Two young fools in Dublin, named Alfred Kibling and Charles Greenwood, lately undertook to shoot apples off each others' heads with a pistol, a la William Tell. They made out finely, until at last one of them aimed a trifle too low, and shot his companion in the head, inflicting a severe but not dangerous wound.

Dr. Chas. A. Gilman of Exeter died on Thursday, the 13th inst., aged 77 years. He was connected with the Exeter News Letter for over 25 years.

The postmaster of Nashua is in a terrible fix. He has received a paper addressed to "the best-looking young lady in the city," and he don't know who to give it to—or if he does, he don't dare offend all the other beauties in town. Probably he hopes some one will rob the post office, and steal that paper.

Albert Tilton, landlord of a hotel at Salisbury, was found senseless in the highway in that town, Sunday, and died the same day. He was probably thrown from his wagon.

A State Farmers' Meeting is to be held in Concord, Nov. 29 and 30.

Complete census returns of this State have been sent to the government printing office. New Hampshire is the first State whose statistics have been fully compiled.

A destructive fire took place in Exeter, about 7 o'clock, Tuesday morning, by which several building were destroyed. They were occupied by the Exeter Machine Co., E. Folsom & Co., brass founders, and Carlisle & Co., iron founders. The loss aggregates some $60,000 or more, on which there is insurance to the amount of $26,000. From 60 to 70 workmen are thrown out of employment, and most of them lost all their tools. The fire is supposed to have caught from a furnace in the brass foundry. There were three safes in the buildings, the contents of which were preserved.

☞ In Tennessee, the internal revenue collectors have their houses and barns burned and are themselves shot at, by the illicit distillers whom they molest. That's the style of argument the rum-power generally adopts, where it dares, if "interfered with" by the temperance people.

A LOVE STORY FROM MORMONDOM;—Suicide of an Astronomer's Daughter.—Miss Laura Claire, the beautiful daughter of Professor Ignaz Claire, the astronomer, has, it has been known for some time been engaged to Mr. Alfred Vivian, the young writer, author of "Hell and Heaven," "Which will You Have?" "Think and Repent," "Prayers for the Sinners," and other beautiful tracts which have given him quite a reputation; but for some reason or other it has been suspected that there was a coolness between them. Still, Miss Claire loved him devotedly, and the preparations for the wedding were going on.

In the meantime, Mr. Joseph Morton, a young gent of this city, had fallen desperately in love with Miss Claire, and refused to be denied admittance to the house, although Prof. Claire had several times ordered him out. He, when treated thus, declared mysteriously that he knew certain secrets about Miss Claire, and if she did not marry him he would repeat them. He demanded to see her alone. This she finally assented to, and after a long interview he departed, stating that he would return the next day. To this she smilingly answered: "Yes, I shall be glad to see you."

These words were repeated by one of the servants to Mr. Vivian, when he came that evening, and he asked his affianced what they meant. She said, "Nothing." After awhile he asked, "Do you love this Morton?" Miss Claire laughed, and said, "Don't be a fool, Alfred." "Then you refuse to answer?" She frowned. "You know I love you, and if you ask me any more silly questions I shall be angry." Mr. Vivian left shortly after, appearing displeased.

The next morning Mr. Morton came. The servants noticed that Miss Claire was deadly pale, but she received him quite cordially. "You must have some wine," she said. "Of course," he replied, "with you." He took a glass and drank it. Shortly after, he departed, but before he had walked three blocks he fell to the ground, and was picked up dead. An examination revealed that he had been poisoned. Miss Claire was arrested. She sent for Vivian. "Do you believe me guilty?," she asked. "I have nothing to say; I am and have been for a month engaged to be married to a gay lady in this city, and it is not right that I should be seen with you," he replied.

The young lady uttered a piercing scream. "Oh, Alfred," she shrieked, "I did it for your sake; I loved you—he could have prevented our marriage. Oh, Alfred, do not desert me—save me—save me." Mr. Vivian tore himself away, and would have quitted the cell, when Miss Claire placed herself with her back against the door. "Look," she said; and before he could prevent it, she drew a dagger, stabbed herself, and fell dying at his feet. "I forgive you—I love you," she murmured, and closed her eyes forever.—Utah Gospel.

☞ A terrible railroad accident occurred Monday on the Toledo, Wabash & Western Railroad in Illinois. A freight train going east, when near Attica broke in two. A passenger train also going east, came along, and ran into the rear of the detached portion of the freight train with terrific force, causing the engine to explode, and tearing it into splinters. The wreck immediately took fire, burning up the engine, baggage car and three passenger cars. It is stated that three passengers were burned to death, and a great number injured.

THE FISHERIES.—The N. Y. Herald's Washington correspondent says that the reason negotiations between our government and the British are not commenced in reference to the fishery question is that the President does not wish to commit to Motley the duty of opening negotiations. The British Government is willing to make such concessions to American fishermen as will prevent collisions and seizures.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FROM ALEX. N. DOUGHERTY, M. D., late one of the Medical Directors U. S. A., Newark, N. J.—"Having been made acquainted with the composition of the preparation known as Sozodont, I have for some time past permitted its use in my family, where it has given entire satisfaction. It is an elegant toilet article, well worthy of the ecomiums it has received."

"SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Autumn Suggestion.

Now, as heavy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now, as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer, begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement winter makes its trying onset; Now is the time for a preparatory course of the best acclimating medicine in existence, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fever and Ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not quell the phase of the disease which at the present pervades the entire West. It is well that it is so, for the remedy (so-called) is deadlier than the malady. But if quinine is inefficient to intimident fevers, Hostetter's Bitters is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penalties, that any person in "Fever-and-Ague District" should be exempted from the disorder for any particular time, provided every inhabitant would take the Bitters according to directions, during the term of the contract.

There has never been an instance in which this sterling invigorant and anti-febrile medicine has failed to ward off the complaint, when taken duly as a protection against malaria. Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the officinal specifics and now prescribe this harmless vegetable tonic, and nothing else, as a preventive and cure for all the forms of chills and fever. Vigor is the thing most needful in these cases, as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affections, and Hostetter's Bitters are the safest, surest, and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted. dawtw022

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

Directions accompany each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists. eldim

☞ Mayor Hall of New York has issued another manifesto, alleging the incorrectness of the Federal census, and that the national government are endeavoring to prevent a fair vote in that city! He evidently fears a fair vote—as does also that great collection of rascality, the Tammany Ring. The election laws are to be fully enforced.

This is indeed a book for every man. Price only $1.00. 285 pages, bound in cloth.

A Book For Every Woman,

Entitled SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES; or, WOMAN TREATED OF PHYSIOLOGICALLY AND PATHOLOGICALLY, from INFANCY TO OLD AGE, with elegant ILLUSTRATIVE ENGRAVINGS. 300 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth. Price $2.00.

A Book for Everybody.

Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, the above valuable and timely treatises, and also to meet a great need of the present age, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp. cloth. Price 50 cents, or SENT FREE on receipt of $3 for the other two books, postpage paid.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED OR SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE BOOKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of information on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and taste, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coos Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is entitled to the gratitude of our race for these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and where to avoid it."—Chronicle, Farmington, Maine, Sept. 7, 1869.

N. B.—Avoid those foreign and native quacks who are as lawless as they are ignorant, who, under high-sounding titles, have stolen the substance of the chapters of these works, and in some instances the titles of the books, and advertise them as their own.

House To Let.

SMALL-POX, WAR, &c. — About a week ago, a man named Sullivan, sick, was taken in and housed by a Mrs. Quinlan, residing in Brewery Lane, at the West End. The City Physician pronounced the man's illness to be small-pox, and quarantined the house. Recently, Mrs. Quinlan's husband arrived home from California, and being indignant at finding himself debarred admission to his own home, he on Monday night procured the help of one Pat Quinlan and a quantity of good fighting rum, broke into the house, and turned the small-pox patient and the Health Officer who was watching him, into the street—though they succeeded afterwards in again getting into the building. On Tuesday, Dr. Dearborn called in the assistance of City Marshal Johnson, and Sullivan was conveyed to the Pest House, Pat Quinlan was stowed away in the lockup, and the other Quinlan, with his wife and three children, put in quarantine in their own happy home. All possible precautions have been taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

THEATRE.—Locke & Leslie's Dramatic Company, with Rose and Harry Watkins, appear this evening at the Temple in the Irish drama, Trodden Down. Of Mr. Watkins, the New York Herald says:—

He ignores the traditional stage Irishman, as Jefferson and Owens ignore the old-time stage Yankee. His humor has those qualities of spontaneity and fun for which the Irish peasantry are known the world over, while his real fire and energy declare themselves splendidly as one of the former leaders of the rebellion of 1798. Mrs. Watkins is gifted with an excellent voice, and greatly enhances her impersonation by the rendition of several sweet songs.

☞ Typhoid fever is unusually prevalent in this city just at present, although Portsmouth is generally nearly exempt from the complaint. Six months ago a medical gentleman told us that typhoid fever would be common this fall, basing his prediction on the poisonous atmosphere of some parts of the city; but as he is a constant prophet regarding the weather, and invariably prophesies wrong, we placed little faith in his statements. But he hit the case exactly, regarding the fever, though whether he assigned the right cause for it or not, we do not pretend to decide.

☞ On Monday morning, about 7 o'clock, as Messrs. Bradbury and Davis, of Kittery, were coming to their work in this city, they found a "frog," or small railroad chair, jammed down between the ends of two rails at a switch on Noble's Island, in such a manner that any train attempting to pass must have been thrown from the track. They of course removed the obstruction—which must have been placed there intentionally by some scoundrel, to throw off the train, as it could not possibly have got there by accident.

S. J. COURT, Tuesday.—The case of Hiram Jones, for murder, was continued. The evidence for the prosecution proved the killing of Mrs. Jones by her husband, and the miserably unhappy life the wretched couple led previous to the murder, on account of Jones' jealous suspicions of his wife.

Counsel for the prisoner opened the defence, and introduced witnesses to establish his insanity. The case will be continued to-day.

☞ The Navy Yard ferry steamer Emerald was hauled up for repairs, Tuesday. The Port Fire will take her place for the present, running as follows: Leave Yard at 8 and 10 o'clock, A. M., 1, 2, 3:30 and 5 o'clock, P. M. Leave Portsmouth at 9 and 11 o'clock, A. M., 1:30, 3, 4:30 and 6 o'clock, P. M. Sunday trips as heretofore.

☞ Mr. J. F. Adams recently found an old cannon-ball buried in the earth, at his place near Sagamore Creek (the old Thomas Lear place), and is curious to know how it got there. He thinks it must have been fired from some ship, at or near Little Harbor, in one of the old wars.

☞ The tide in this river has been greatly over-rated. Recent tidal surveys show that the swiftest current in the Narrows does not exceed five knots per hour, and very rarely that great speed.

☞ There was another brilliant auroral display, Monday night.

☞ We learn that the contract for building the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad, from Union Village to West Ossipee, has been executed. The contract has been taken by a gentleman who has just finished a job on the Portland & Rochester road—Mr. Geo. F. Hitchings, of Portland. The Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road has issued new stock, and it will be offered to stockholders in the Eastern Railroad and the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, proportionately.

☞ The steamer Favorite, which was run as an excursion steamer in this harbor during the summer, and has recently been lying idle at Jackson's wharf, East Boston, caught fire in the engine-room recently, and was damaged to the amount of $5000. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been the spontaneous combustion of a mass of oily waste. The steamer was owned by Geo. Greenwood & Co. of Boston. Insured for $10,000.

THE NEW JUDGE.—Governor Stearns and Council, on Monday, appointed William S. Ladd, of the law firm of Ray & Ladd, of Lancaster, as judge on the supreme judicial bench, in place of Hon. Harry Hibbard of Bath, who declined the appointment. Mr. Ladd is a strong democrat, and will be the only one on the present judicial bench in New Hampshire. He is a young man of promise in his profession, and not without a favorable record in the northern part of the State.

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

SCIENCE vs. LUCK.

At that time in Kentucky, (said Hon. Mr. Knott, M. C.,) the law was very strict against what it termed the "games of chance." About a dozen of the boys were detected playing "seven up" or "old sledge," or for money, and the grand jury found a true bill against them. Jim Sturgis was retained to defend them when the case came up, of course. The more he studied over the matter and looked into the evidence, the plainer it was that he must lose a case at last — there was no getting around that painful fact. Those boys had certainly been betting money on a game of chance. Even public sympathy was roused in behalf of Sturgis. People said it was a pity to see him mar his successful career with a big, prominent case like this, which must go against him.

But after several restless nights, an inspired idea flashed upon Sturgis, and he sprang out of bed delighted. He thought he saw his way through. The next day he whispered around a little among his clients and a few friends, and then when the case came up in court, he acknowledged the seven-up and the betting, and, as his sole defence, had the astounding effrontery to put in the plea that old sledge was not a game of chance! There was the broadest sort of a smile all over the faces of that unsophisticated audience. The judge sailed with the rest.

But Sturgis maintained a countenance whose earnestness was even severe. The opposite counsel tried to ridicule him out of his position and did not succeed. The judge jested in a ponderous judicial way about the thing, but did not move him. The matter was becoming grave. The judge lost a little of his patience, and said the joke had gone far enough. Jim Sturgis said he knew of no joke in the matter—his clients could not be punished for indulging in what some people chose to consider a game of chance, until it was proven that it was a game of chance.

Judge and counsel said that would be an easy matter, and forthwith called Deacons Job, Peters, Burke and Johnson, and Dominies Wirt and Miggles, to testify; and they unanimously, and with strong feeling, put down the legal quibble of Sturgis, by pronouncing that old sledge was a game of chance.

"What do you call it now?" said the judge.

"I call it a game of science!" retorted Sturgis; "and I'll prove it, too!"

They saw his little game.

He brought in a cloud of witnesses, and produced an overwhelming mass of testimony, to show that old sledge was not a game of chance, but game of science.

Instead of being the simplest case in the world, it had somehow turned out to be an excessively knotty one. The judge scratched his head over it a while and said there was no way of coming to a determination, because just as many men could be brought into court who would testify on one side, as could be found to testify on the other. But he said he was willing to do the fair thing by all parties, and would act upon any suggestion Mr. Sturgis would make for the solution of the difficulty.

Mr. Sturgis was on his feet in a second:—"Impanel a jury of six of each, Luck vs. Science—give them candles and a couple decks of cards, send them into the jury-room, and just abide by the result!"

There was no disputing the fairness of the proposition. The four deacons and the two dominies were sworn in as the "chance" jurymen, and six inveterate old seven-up professors were chosen to represent the "science" side of the issue They retired to the jury-room.

In about two hours, Deacon Peters sent into court to borrow three dollars from a friend. (Sensation.) In about two hours more, Dominie Miggles sent into court to borrow a "stake" from a friend. (Sensation.) During the next three or four hours, the other dominie and the other deacons sent into the court for small loans. And still the packed audience waited, for it was a prodigious occasion! as Bull's Corners, and one in which every father of a family was necessarily interested.

The rest of the story can be told briefly. About daylight the jury came in, and Deacon Job, the foreman, read the following verdict:

We, the jury in the case of the Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. John Wheeler et al., have carefully considered the points of the case, and tested the merits of the several theories advanced, and do hereby unanimously decide that the game commonly known as old sledge or seven-up is eminently a game of science and not of chance. In demonstration whereof, it is hereby and herein stated, iterated, reiterated, set forth, and made manifest that, during the entire night, the "chance" men never won a game or turned jack, although both feats were common and frequent to the opposition; and furthermore, in support of this our verdict, we call attention to the significant fact that the "chance" men are all busted, and the "science" men have got the money. It is the deliberate opinion of this jury that the "chance" theory concerning seven-up it is pernicious doctrine, and calculated to inflict untold suffering and pecuniary loss upon any community that takes stock in it.

"That is the way that seven-up came to be set apart and particularized in the statute books of Kentucky as being a game not of chance but of science, and therefore not punishable under the law," said Mr. Knott. "That verdict is of record, and holds good to this day."—Mark Twain.

—The New York Evening Post, giving an account of a railroad accident, says it "killed one man, and probably rendered him a cripple for life."

☞ A New York copperhead journal says that the "soldier and sailor organization is a huge humbug. Nine-tenths of the 'heroes' never smelled gunpowder nor heard a bullet whistle. The men who fought for the Union vote the democratic ticket as a general thing, and don't take stock in radical politics." Whew! won't that be news to the boys in blue?

—The laundress of the Mayor of a town in Indiana lately took a fearful revenge on him for scolding her. She left his shirt bosoms and cuffs limp as cobweb, and starched the lower extremities till they resembled card board.

—Carl Rosa writes from London:—"One of the leading singers here asked me if it was true that in America all the oratories were accompanied with anvils." Another inquired "if the people were all black in Chicago."

—Conscience is a sleeping giant; we may lull him into a longer or shorter slumber; but his starts are frightful, and terrible is the hour when he awakes.

7 PER CENT. GOLD

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, COUPON OR REGISTERED, AND

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

Principal and Interest Payable in Gold,

ISSUED BY THE

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railroad Co.

The small remaining balance of the Loan for sale

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Interest payable May and November.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earnings, warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the bonds only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 20 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 5½ per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, the rates of which require the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after this date at the same price as realized by us on their sale.

All marketable Securities taken in payment free of Commission and Express charges.

A WEDDING OUT WEST—BY MISTAKE.—They have some affecting weddings out in the flat country, beyond the trees. Take Indian weddings, for instance. Or Dutch. However, to facts: In the semi-rural districts of Winona, on the Minnesota side of the Mississippi river, lives, among several people, a jolly good fellow of a justice of the peace, whose ideas of matters are much like the waters of a deep river. Once started, it is hard to turn them. On a fair day last week, after the 10 by 12 law dispensary had been swept, after chairs had been set in a row against the side of the office, and sundry whipped quids of tobacco and unfilated cigar stumps had been kicked under the stove, there was a wooden step on the stairs and a vigorous rap at the door.

"Come in," said the justice, as he settled into a legal nook so befitting a man of law.

A handsome, black-eyed, Spanish-looking woman entered. It was a clear case of a senorita of the New Mexican brand. She had on a short woollen dress—wooden-soled shoes—sported red cheeks, black hair, and eyes that snapped like the lock of a shot-gun. In a Spanish accent, and in the worst possible English, she said:

"You make justicia aqui? You law man?"

"Yes, madam: be seated—"

"Want paper. Want paper to take man!"

Just then a stout French half-breed entered the room. He was unable to speak half a dozen words, and looked either scared or bashful. The judge saw at once that there was some marriage to come off, and said to the woman, who stood with compressed lips watching the justice at the door—

"Want paper to take this man?"

"Yes; want paper. Me teach him. (Nice woman, thought the justice.) He no good man; me take him so quick as can."

"All right, my covies; fix you in the jerk of a lamb's tail," said the justice, as he turned to the man and said: "You know this woman; can you take her?"

The man shook his head and muttered unintelligible words.

"Ah! I see. Can't talk English. Well, never mind."

He ran into the street, invited a few friends up stairs, and on returning with them, said to the woman:

"You want to take this man for better or for worse?"

"Yes; me want to take him; me pay!"

"All right!"

Then turning to the man, who stood trembling:

"You take this woman for better or for worse, and promise to keep her," &c., &c.

"Umph!" and several nods of the head.

"Then, in the name of the law, and by virtue of the authority in me vested, I pronounce you man and wife." And he stepped forward before the woman could say a word and kissed her red lips.

"Slap" came her hand in his face, and she clutched his hair. The new husband jumped in to take the woman away, and to protect her, as the man supposed, when, in self-preservation, the justice gave him a rap on the nose. The woman pitched into the new husband, who in turn pitched into her, and for about five minutes there was a general bustling and display of legs, garters, and things decidedly astonishing.

At last the parties were separated, when the man and woman took another turn at each other, the blood and hair flying in all directions. Down came the stove, over went the table, clatter went the chairs, and into the street like mad went the justice, with a black eye, and the bosom of his shirt looking like a warrantee deed covered with red seals.

A crowd rushed up stairs and found the man and woman lying on the floor, hugging each other like young bruins, their arms and legs mixed up worse than tomato-vines, the woman on top, and pommeling her newly-made husband with a hearty will.

The newly-married couple were separated, when, through the aid of two interpreters, it was discovered that the night before, the parties, occupying adjoining shanties in the lower part of the town, had got into a dispute over some stove-pipe, which was claimed by both, and from words they had come to blows. Each party had hastened to the justice's office in the morning for a warrant for the other, with the result as stated above.

The last news from there was that the parties had gone in search of another justice to unmarry them, while the genial cause of their terrible squabble was "setting up the boys," and bathing his bunged eye in camphor and whiskey. For an actual fact, it is the richest within our knowledge.—Ex.

—Some of the Western towns are employing female clergymen in self-defense, as they never run away with the girls in the congregation. But are not the young men in danger of being seduced from their homes?

—A young girl of sixteen years, married last February to a boy of twenty, attempted suicide at Fort Edward recently, on account of her husband's ill-treatment and neglect.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is now restored to its original color, with the vivacity and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

NEW RAISINS.
FIRST OF THE SEASON of 1870, received at L. LAIGHTON.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, OCT. 25, 1870.

THE WAR. — Schelestadt capitulated Monday after a severe bombardment. The surrender includes 2400 French prisoners and 120 cannon.

On Friday night the Prussians attempted to bombard Verdun, but their plans were disconcerted by the gallant and successful sortie of the garrison. The French charged bayonets and killed a number of the enemy. Two bodies of the besiegers, mistaking each other in the night for enemies, fought for hours and suffered heavy losses.

Gen. Trochu made another attempt to force an outlet near Issay on Monday, but was repulsed.

Garibaldi has defeated the Prussians, capturing two mitrailleuses and 150 horses, and has made an effective disposal of a large force, protecting Lyons from the advance of the Prussians. His command is daily increasing in importance.

Prussians successes are reported in the Vosges.

☞ The approaching election causes intense excitement in New York city, much of which is concerning the enforcement of the new election law. The democracy talk wildly of resistance, but the President is determined to execute it.

The Erie Railroad managers have issued orders for all employes to vote for Governor Hoffman and the democratic assembly nominees in New York State.

POLITICAL.—The official vote of all the counties in Indiana shows that the Democratic majority on the State ticket is 2458.

The Indiana Legislature stands: Senate—Republicans, 36; Democrats, 23; People's ticket, 1. House—Republicans, 47; Democrats, 52; doubtful, 1.

Four thousand United States soldiers and marines under Gen. Terry, will enforce the election law in New York, Nov. 8.

A BALLOON BATTLE.—The following extraordinary statement appears in a Belgium paper called the Nouvelles du Jour, from one of their correspondents at the seat of war, which note was conveyed to Brussels by a carrier-pigeon:

"Paris, Oct. 1.—Nadar returned yesterday to Paris. His return was not affected without much trouble, although his balloon was favored by a good wind since his departure from Tours. But I will narrate the facts in their chronological order. He left Tours at 6 o'clock in the morning, and the bold aeronaut arrived in view of Paris at 11 o'clock, floating about 3000 metres above the fort of Charenton. At the same time as the Intrepide—which was the name of Nadar's balloon—appeared a second balloon was observed in the horizon. Nadar was seen to display a streamer with the French national colors. Immediately another national flag floated from the car of the other balloon. Vigorous hurrahs and cries of "C'est Daroul!" proceeding from the garrison of the fort, greeted the appearance of the two aeronauts, whose balloons gradually approached.

When they were within a short distance of each other, suddenly a loud report was heard in the air, followed by a series of explosions. These were at first thought to be demonstrations or signals of victory, until Nadar was seen to fling himself into the network of his balloon and to cling to its sides. During this time the other aeronaut continued discharging shot at Nadar, which were traced in the sky by their luminous effects. The Intrepide descended rapidly, and it appeared to the spectators below that some incomprehensible event had taken place above. But mark what the French flag in the neighboring balloon had come to. It had been removed, and a black and yellow standard was observed to be floating in its place. Then all was explained. 'Treason! It is a Prussian balloon! He has fired on the Intrepide! Nadar is lost!' were the cries that burst simultaneously from the French people.

But Nadar was safe; for he was seen to descend rapidly in his car, and the balloon to nearly reach the earth. He cast out the ballast, and reascended, having stopped the hole made in his balloon by his adversary. Then shots were rapidly fired from the Intrepide into the Prussian balloon, which one, losing all power, descended to the earth with giddy velocity. A detachment of Uhlans who were in the plain, and who had been following the aerial combatants throughout this exciting struggle, rushed forward, and surrounding the balloon, received their champion—God knows in what condition—and then all hastened off at full speed to the Prussian advanced posts. In the meantime Nadar descended safely at Charenton, where he still remains."

BOSTON, Oct. 26, 1870.

It has come at last,—or rather, it has gone at last. Perhaps you don't know what it is, and so I will tell you that the most beautiful woodbine in Boston, the most beautiful woodbine I ever saw anywhere, has been destroyed. For a number of years I have been watching this woodbine on Tremont street, near Mason & Hamlin's new building, expecting every day to see its harmony marred "in the interest of trade." Springing from one root, trailed between the windows of each story on three houses, this woodbine has not only been a marvel of thrift and grace in summer, but it has shown the most brilliant kaleidoscope of colors in autumn. The demolition of the central building, to make room for a new "marble front," has destroyed woodbine. 'Twas ever thus.

A city paper, in chronicling what is new and worthy of notice in the fine arts, thus speaks of the collection at Williams & Everetts' gallery:

"There is also a new picture by 'Champ,' one of those charming little interiors in which he excels, of the school in which Ed. Frere is a master. There are other specimens of the same school by Soyer and Aufsir, but 'Champ' seems to be a little ahead of them, though a much younger artist."

Messrs. Paine, Goodwin & Nowell, of New York, have this fall made a decided success in their manufacture of "Fringed Suitings," and for many weeks were unable to fill their orders, although they had several mills at work on this class of goods. At least two of the partners are well known in Portsmouth, and you will be glad to learn of their success, for they are among those who believe in the benefits of printer's ink when liberally used. Their new store, 14 and 16 White street is one of the most convenient and best patronized of New York wholesale houses.

"A lady in St. Louis has contributed to a paper in that city an article on 'female hogs in the horse cars.'"

It has become quite the style to write down the lack of courtesy exhibited in public conveyances by the fair sex, not only toward their sisters, but toward gentlemen polite enough to relinquish their seats to females. But I must say that the true lady is not yet extinct in our midst, and to such it will ever be a pleasure for any gentleman to give up his seat, be she old or young, ill-favored or beautiful, rich or poor. I'm no ardent advocate of "woman's rights" as that phrase goes, because I fancy 'tis only a small minority who clamor for the ballot, and so I hold to the old fallacy of a gentleman's giving his seat to a lady in a crowded car. For this, in nine cases out of ten, I am amply repaid by kind or courteous words.

In the great dressmaking case just concluded in our courts, the jury doubtless considered they had fixed the plaintiff's Flynt for her, in reducing her bill a third or more. I should have been pleased to see them award her the full amount of her bill, for the snobbery that demands its finery of "fashionable artistes," and then seeks to evade paying the fictitious prices charged for gratification of such vanity, is not far from meanness in my estimation. If I have my garments made by the most fashionable tailor in Boston, I expect in reason to pay more therefor than if I patronize Dock Square. I may not be better clothed than if I patronized the latter locality, but I pay the difference for the gratification of my own vanity. If you want cheap clothes go to those who make them cheaply; or go to high-cost makers, and then try to cheapen your purchases by refusing a portion of the pay therefor.

Washington street has been in a state of semi-blockade for some weeks, from the laying of a large new sewer.

A lady's chignon took fire on Washington Street, Monday afternoon, but was put out without injuring the lady. Uninsured.

The whale is being cut up today. "Pakeha" ought to be in at the death. M.

BANK ROBBERY.—The First National Bank of Grafton, Mass., was entered by five burglars, Tuesday night. The watchman of the bank, while crossing the Common, about half-past nine, was knocked down, beaten senseless, and the keys taken from him. The burglars carried him to the bank, gagged and handcuffed him, and placed him in the coal closet in the rear of the vault. Ether was also applied to keep him quiet. The burglars worked from half-past ten till four in the morning before finishing the job. They got away with over $100,000 in bonds, belonging mostly to parties who had deposited them for safe keeping. The Bank offers a reward of $10,000 for the recovery of the property and the conviction of the burglars.

After leaving the bank the thieves stole a horse, and probably after dividing the plunder separated.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES. No. 21.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

ISLES OF SHOALS; REV. JOHN BROCK. These Isles were discovered by the celebrated navigator Capt. John Smith. He named them Smith's Isles. Those belonging to New Hampshire were incorporated as a town, called Gosport, in 1715. They are about 9 miles south east of Portsmouth. They are a bed of rocks, raising their disjointed heads above the water and considerable portions caverned with a soil so thin as not to be very productive. Probably they would not have been inhabited had it not been for their advantages in fisheries, and in early times as a place of security from the Indians. The savages however found them, and at one time took several captives. One Betty Moody secreted herself in a chasm on Star Island and avoided capture. To this day it is called "Betty Moody's hole."

The population on the Islands was once considerable. Before the Revolution it sometimes was at least four or five hundred. In 1767 it was 2884. During the last 50 years it has not been many over 100. In 1860 it was 127. In 1870, 94.

The early inhabitants had preaching' as was usual in those times. A meeting house was erected about 1631. Rev. Joseph Hull, from England, supplied for a time.

Next came Rev. John Brock, of whom a more particular account is to be given. He was born at Shadbrook, Suffolk County, in 1620;—at 17 years of age became hopefully pious; and sometime in early life came with his parents to this country. In 1646 he graduated at Harvard College, and continued there two years longer, studying for the ministry. He preached a while in Rowley, Mass., and then came to the Shoals.

Mr. Brock was a man of great sincerity, pious devotedness and faith. Rev. Cotton Mathew of Boston, who knew him, said of him, "He dwells as near to heaven as any man on earth." Two anecdotes of him at the Shoals will be given. After coming to the place he established a social meeting to be held, at a stated time in the week, and he had engaged the principle inhabitants to attend it. On one of these days several came, requesting him to postpone the meeting for that day, it being good weather for fishing, and had been bad for some time. He said, no. They were persistent, and he said to them, "if you are resolved to neglect your duty to God, and will go, I say unto you, catch fish if you can; but as for you who will remain and worship the Lord Jesus Christ, I will pray that you may catch fish till you are weary." Thirty went, and caught four fishes. Five staid to meeting, afterward went and caught 500.

In another case a poor fisherman lost his boat. He spoke of it to Mr. Brock with much sadness, as it was his great means of support. Mr. Brock thought earnestly for a moment, then said, "Go home, honest man. I will mention the matter to the Lord. Tomorrow you will have your boat." The next day the man was rejoicing with his boat. The anchor of a vessel had been cast happily upon it. When it was brought up the boat came with it.

Mr. Brock left the Shoals in 1649, was settled in South Reading, Mass., where he continued to 1688. He was heard to say after becoming old, he asked one thing of heaven, which was that he might live but two weeks after his ministry was done. His last illness was just 14 days. He died June 18, 1688, aged 68.

THE CENSUS. — The population of Philadelphia by the complete census is 657,179; in 1860 it was 565,529.

Complete census returns from Baltimore show the population of the city to be only 267,599. The local census of 1868 made a showing of 372,136, since which time there have been 6000 new buildings erected. The total number of buildings in the city is 40,826.

The population of San Francisco is 150,361, of which 12,017 are Chinese. The property valuation is over two hundred and sixty millions.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

NO HUMBUG.—We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of the mind, body or estate, and is destined to make our sublunary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show, but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of Catarrh in its worst forms and stages, and the proprietor will pay $500 for a case of this loathsome disease which he cannot cure. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale at Drug Stores. Dr. Pierce's private Government Revenue Stamp is on each package of the genuine.

THE WAY to "minister to a mind diseased," is to take Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of iron, which gives strength and vigor to the whole system, restores the digestive organs to perfect health, thereby restoring the mind to its natural vigor.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Autumn Suggestion.

Now, as heavy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now, as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer, begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement winter makes its trying onset. Now is the time for a preparatory course of the best acclimating medicine in existence, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fever and Ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not quell the phase of the disease which at the present pervades the entire West. It is well that it is so, for the remedy (so-called) is deadlier than the malady. But if quinine is inefficient in intermittent fevers, Hostetter's Bitters is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penalties, that any given "Fever-and-Ague District" should be exempted from the disorder for any particular time, provided every inhabitant would take the Bitters according to directions, during the term of the contract.

There has never been an instance in which this sterling invigorant and anti-febrile medicine has failed to ward off the complaint, when taken daily as a protection against malaria. Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the official specifics and now prescribe this harmless vegetable tonic, and nothing else, as a preventive and cure for all the forms of chills and fever. Vigor is the thing most needful in these cases, as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affections, and Hostetter's Bitters are the safest, surest, and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted. dawlw22

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years—the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefullness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

Directions accompany each bottle.

POST OFFICE IMPROVEMENTS.—The old tile flooring in the vestibule of the Post Office having become nearly worn out, it is to be replaced by a black and white marble floor, in pieces of a foot square. The painting of the woodwork is to be touched up, smoothed and re-varnished; and the interior walls of the whole building, including the Custom House and the Court Room, are to be painted French grey.

The upper tier of lock boxes is to be altered and improved, by the insertion of a small pane of glass in the door of each one, so as to enable box-renters to see whether or not they have any mail-matter awaiting them, without the trouble of unlocking their boxes.

At the north end of the building a money-order and letter-registry office is to be arranged, with a door opening from the vestibule, so that persons who have any such business to transact can do so without entering the body of the office, as has been the case hitherto,—which will not only be an accommodation to the public and a great convenience to the clerks, but an additional security against any possible pilfering of letters by adroit thieves.

Excepting for fixing the roof last fall, and for whitening the walls of the postmaster's room, (for which latter job the postmaster himself paid,) no money has been laid out on the building since it was put up. The cost of the present alterations and repairs will probably fall little short of six thousand dollars, and the work will not be completed before January.

P. M. L. A. LYCEUM.—The announcement that we are to have a course of public entertainments, given under the auspices of the ever popular Mercantile Library Association, gives general satisfaction. The ladies especially are delighted with the prospect of such agreeable entertainments as are promised in the programme. There is novelty in the idea of bringing forward our own citizens as lyceum lecturers, and really it can be done.

Our sister city Portland, is to have two courses this winter, selling the tickets at two dollars for a series of eight lectures. We are promised ten evenings, tickets one dollar. The managers have determined (wisely we think) to have no free list, and are thus enabled to put the price of admission within the easy reach of young men who might otherwise spend their time and money in a less profitable manner.

The list of talented men whose services have been secured is a guarantee of success. It is hoped that one or more young citizens of Portsmouth, whose names do not appear in the published list, may be brought to public notice. There is a goodly amount of undeveloped talent in our city, and if the home system of lectures becomes established among us, it may be the means of bringing out some light from "under a bushel," to add new lustre to the laurels of old Portsmouth.

A GRAND DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMANT is to be given at the Temple on Monday evening, Oct. 31, and repeated on the following two evenings, by the members of the Storer Encampment and their friends, in aid of the Charity Fund of the G. A. R. in the city. The piece they have in rehearsal is styled "The Rebel's Doom, or the Spy of the Shenandoah;" and visitors who were present at their meeting on Tuesday evening, are warm in their commendations of the merits of the piece and the manner in which it was performed. We are informed that the cast of the play includes nine ladies—so of course it will be a pleasing spectacle; and the worthy object of the performers should—and no doubt will—be sufficient to fill the Temple to overflowing, all three nights.

THE THEATRE, Wednesday evening, called a large number people to the Temple, to see the representation of the Irish drama, "Trodden Down." The play is a good one, and Mr. Watkins is a fine actor; and Mrs. Watkins is not only a good actress, but a very pleasing singer, as well. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins are well supported by the company, which includes E. M. Leslie and the old favorite, Yankee Locke.

The acting of Mr. and Mrs. Watkins in "Trodden Down" was fine, and electrified the audience. They appear this evening in another drama—their last performance hereabouts. They will be supported by the strength of the company—of which every member is worthy of mention. Mr. Albert H. Fernald the popular pianist, is with the company, and his brilliant performances on that instrument made the intervals between the acts of "Trodden Down" very enjoyable. He is a whole orchestra, and an improvement on the orchestras that have inflicted tortures on audiences in other companies.

S. J. COURT, Wednesday.—The trial of Hiram Jones was continued from the previous day. The superintendents of the Boston and the N. H. Insane Asylums, and Dr. Walker of Dover, testified that they had examined the prisoner, and their united testimony went to show that he could not be considered insane. Witnesses during the trial have testified that Jones is violent when excited, and has threatened to stab and shoot people, when angry. The argument of the prisoner's counsel occupied the time after the evidence was all in, up to the adjournment of the Court.

This morning the prosecuting attorney will present his argument for the State, after which the case will be given to the jury.

☞ The free Concert given at Congress Hall, Tuesday evening, by Mr. Dudley, the blind harpist and ballad singer, assisted by his daughter, was a success in every way. The audience was large and appreciative, and did not go away without leaving substantial tokens of satisfaction with the blind performer. The entertainment was repeated, Wednesday evening, with additions; and as on the first occasion, it drew a full attendance and apparently pleased every one.

PERSONAL.—Aaron Young, Esq., has returned, with his family, from an extended tour through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa, and looks happy and satisfied after having made the pleasure trip at this delightful season. Mr. Young may have earnest opponents in politics, but when personal friends are considered, he finds them in abundance in all sections, East and West.

SPECIE PAYMENT.—One of our old and esteemed subscribers, Nathaniel Parsons, Esq., of Drytown, California, has sent us a $5 gold piece in payment of his subscription for the Gazette to Jan. 1, 1872. In these days, we are content to get paid in the currency of the time, but if our subscribers choose to send gold we shall receive it with equanimity and fortitude.

☞ Mr. B. F. Webster is (and has been for a fortnight) confined to his bed with a lame back, but is now improving. This is particularly unfortunate for him just now, as he has a large gang of hands employed.—It is quite safe to suppose that there is one impatient man in Portsmouth.

☞ Atlantic Fire Engine Co., No. 6, Ira C. Seymour foreman, goes to Great Falls to-day, to attend a trial of hand-engines at that place, and takes along "the machine." At a trial of their engine Tuesday evening, they threw a stream more than 180 feet.

☞ The yacht Sappho has beaten the Dauntless 23 minutes in a race of 25 miles to windward and back.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

THE

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,

Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

SAMUEL LORD, Esq.,

Cashier First National Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

W. B. SHATTUCK, Treasurer,

After a full examination, we have accepted an Agency for the Sale of the above First Mortgage Bonds, and desire to recommend them to our customers AS A THOROUGHLY SAFE, AS WELL AS PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

BEAVERS.

BY A LITTLE BOY.

My brother has got a beaver. His name is Frank. When he told me he was going to have a beaver I was awful glad, for my geography says beavers gnaw down trees and dam rivers. I didn't care for the dam, for that is wicked; but I thought it would be bully fun to make him gnaw down trees in the orchard. He said I could see it Sunday, so I got up early. When he brought out the cage, which looked like a band-box, I got up in a chair to see him let it out, and it was nothing but a stove-pipe hat. I was mad and said I should go to meeting with him, and I did.

We went down Warren Street because Frank—that's my brother—said we were late, but it was not so, for the bells had not tolled. We saw three new beavers ahead of us, and the big boys that was under them said they were late too, and came that way because they did not like to walk fast on the main street. But we were real early, and the beavers all kept together in the entry, and laughed and were red in the face. They all agreed to go into church together, because they were not used to it; and some carried their beavers right before them like a contribution box, and Frank carried his upside down,—anyway he put it down so, and father nudged him and he turned it over. After we got home Frank said it was right to put the top down, and that the top was where the little holes to ventilate it with were, or the part that the head goes into, I don't know which now. Fanny—that's my sister—said it was all down, and told me to feel of it; and I did, and said it was felt, and they all laughed.

The wind blew Frank's off when meeting was out. He did not run for it, because the papers tell you not to, for some one will do it for you. He told me to. I did not run very fast at first, for the meeting folks were all looking. But when it got off the Parade and down Daniel Street, I put in. So did the hat. I got ahead of it and waited till it came up, and then I put my foot down — and missed it. Sarah Lizzie stopped it. Sarah Lizzie is Frank's girl—anyway he goes home with her, and turns red when you speak of her. I told her it was Frank's, and she picked it up and brushed it. Frank was at the corner waiting for it, and he could not take his hat off to her, for she had it in her hand. He shook his fist at me, and I bet I won't run for his hat again, and get my shoes all dust, and be out of breath.

I wish I was big so that I could wear one, and I bet I would practice with Frank's so as to get used to the hight of it, and not smash it when I go down cellar, the way Frank did; and would tell every one to put their hand up on the wallpaper as high as they think the hat is, and then put the hat down and it won't be half as high.

I think old beavers are the best, for you can put a big rock inside them and put them on the sidewalk, and look through a knot-hole in the fence, and see every one that comes along kick them. It tell you it is fun to see them squirm and hold on to their toes. V.

UNMISTAKEBLE.—A party from St. Louis, somewhat noted for his superlative qualifications to whatever he aspired, requiring proof positive from others in their pretensions, and spending the season with a friend of ours who inquired his politics. "My politics, sir? I am a Democrat." "So am I," was the rejoinder, "but how may I know you to be a Democrat?" "I have been a life-long Democrat, sir" "That may all be, but where is your evidence?" "Evidence, sir? I have voted for each Democratic Presidential candidate since I was of age. I am of the regular stamp, sir. True blue and dyed in the wool." "'Voted,'" Regular stamp. 'True blue!' 'Dyed in the wool!' What has all that to do with the question—where's your evidence that you're a Democrat?" "Excuse me, sir, but you are such a loud Democrat, what's your evidence?" "Evidence! My evidence!! The very best in this world or the world to come—I was a Colonel in the Confederate army.—Exch.

GROWING CHESTNUTS. — "We have on repeated occasions," says the Germantown Telegraph, "suggested the growing of chestnuts upon soils where but little else will grow, as a means of profit, both in the fruit and the wood. The chestnut is rapid in its growth, and will in from eight to ten years begin to bear a crop of nuts. It will thrive almost anywhere, and would be especially valuable where timber is scarce and rough land abounds appropriate to the purpose.

A good selection of the American chestnut is the best. Our nuts are much superior in quality to the Spanish, French or Italian, though not nearly so large, and can be grafted with the case and certainty of the pear. There is always a market demand for them greater than the supply likely to be furnished. The question is one of real interest in every section where scrubland is abundant and timber scarce: or wherever there is such land, as a means of profit with reference only to the fruit."

THE LOVERS.

IN DIFFERENT MOODS AND TENSES.

Sally Salter, she was a young teacher, who taught,
And her friend Charley Church, was a preacher, who prought,
Though his enemies called him a screecher, who scraught.

His heart when he saw her kept sinking and sunk,
And his eye, meeting hers, began winking, and wunk;
While she in her turn, fell to thinking, and thunk.

He hastened to woo her, and sweetly he wooed,
For his love grew until to a mountain it greed,
And what he was longing to do, then he dood.

In secret he wanted to speak, and he spoke,
They so sweetly did glide, that they both thought they glode,
And they came to the place to be tied, and were tode.

Then homeward he said let us drive, and they drove,
And as soon as they wished to arrive, they arrove;
For whatever he couldn't contrive, she controve.

The kiss he was dying to steal, then he stole,
At the feet where he wanted to kneel, then he knole,
And he said, "I feel better than ever I fole."

So they to each other kept clinging, and clung,
While Time his swift circuit was winging, and wung;
And this was the thing he was bringing, and brung.

The man Sally wanted to catch, and had caught—
That she wanted from others to snatch, and had snaught—
Was the one that she now liked to scratch, and she scraught.

And Charley's warm love began freezing, and froze,
While he took to teasing, and crewelly teze
The girl he had wished to be squeezing and squoze.

"Wretch!" he cried, when she threatened to leave him, and left,
"How could you deceive me, as you have deceft?"
And she answered, "I promised to cleave, and I've cleft!" Amos Keeter.

"RUINED BY CHINESE CHEAP LABOR." The San Francisco News Letter tells the following, which reads like one of the characteristic accidental sketches from the racy "Overland" boiled down:

One day in '40 an honest miner up in Calaveras bit himself with a small snake of the garter variety and either as a possible antidote or with a determination to enjoy the brief remnant of a wasted life, he applied a brimming jug of whiskey to his lips, and kept it there until like a repleted leech—which in no other respect it resembled—it fell off. The man fell off too. Next day, while the body lay in state on a pine slab, and the bereaved partner of the deceased was unbending in a game of seven-up with a friendly Chinaman, the game was interrupted by a familiar voice which seemed to proceed from the jaws of the corpse:

"I say, Jim!"

Bereaved partner played King of spades and claimed "high;" then looking over his shoulder at the melancholy remains replied:

"Well, what is it Dave? I'm busy."

"I say, Jim!" repeated the corpse in the same measured tone.

With a look of intense annoyance, and muttering something about "people that could never stay dead more'n a minute," the bereaved partner rose and stood over the body with his cards in his hands.

"Jim," continued the mighty dead, "how fun's this thing gone?"

"I've paid the Chinaman two and a half to dig the grave," responded the bereaved.

"Did he strike anything?"

The Chinamen looked up: "Me strikee pay dirt; me no bury dead 'Melican in 'em grave. Me keep 'em claim."

The corpse sat up rigidly: "Jim, git my revolver and chase that pig-tail off. Jump his sepulchre, and tax his camp five dollars each for prospectin' on the public domain. These Mungolyun hordes hev got to be got under. And—I say—Jim! if any more serpents come foolin' round here, drive 'em off. 'Taint right to be bitin' a fellow when whiskey's two dollars a gallon. Dern all foreigners, anyhow."

And the mortal part pulled on its boots. Such, dear reader, was the origin of the coolie movement.

ARNICA FOR GARGET IN COWS.—Give the cow one teaspoonful of the tincture of arnica in bran or shorts, three times a day, and bathe the bag thoroughly with it as often. Reduce the arnica for bathing one half in warm water and bathe with the hand. I have a cow that has been troubled with the garget for more than four years. In that time I have given her over five pounds of saltpetre without much effect. Last spring I tried arnica as above directed and the cow has not had a sign of garget since.—Cor. Maine Farmer.

—A school-boy in Beverly was punished for causing the earthquake. The room trembled just as this wicked boy was in the act of sitting down. The teacher was up to the tricks of mischievous urchins, and immediately connected the effect with a cause; so the youngster was sentenced to stand erect for three quarters of an hour for making the earthquake!

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for dressing the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair when the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements.
Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.
They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make,—$60 each. The SAME, DOUBLE REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Octave and Diapason, in elegant case, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swell and Tremolo, $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.
A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, presenting a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

NEW RAISINS.
FIRST OF THE SEASON of 1870, received at L. LAIGHTON.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, OCT. 28, 1870.

THE WAR.—The peace negotiations have not yet come to a head. M. Thiers, who wants an interview with Bismark, does not find it convenient to get one before the Count is ready for it. Accounts from Paris say there is plenty to eat in the city for a few weeks yet. Accounts from Berlin say the people are getting discontented at the prolongation of the war.

The Pall Mall Gazette announces that a meeting between Thiers and Bismark has been arranged, the government at Tours having accepted the principle of an armistice.

A despatch has been received at Berlin, from Metz, which states that all the endeavors on the part of the Bonapartists, through Bazaine, by which peace could be restored on the basis of the Empress becoming Regent, have been abandoned. All hopes of peace are, therefore, now at an end, and peace can now only be gained by the intervention of neutral powers.

☞ The 4th Auditor of the Treasury, in submitting his report to the Secretary says:

The cases of the delinquent navy paymasters have, in as many instances as possible, been brought to a conclusion, and the accounts duly made up for suit placed in the hands of the Solicitor of the Treasury. In addition to these civil suits against these paymasters, the Navy Department is also trying them by court-martial as criminals. In alluding to these officers again, and as a degree of newspaper notoriety has been given to the defalcations mentioned, I take pleasure in reviewing the tribute of praise I have hitherto paid to the paymasters of the Navy, as a class, and testify to their ability and integrity, their courtesy as gentlemen, and their efficiency as officers. The settlement of their accounts, which I am constantly making, justify this endorsement, and it is probably a fact that no set of disbursing officers in any country, or under any circumstances, have expended so much money with more correctness or less loss to the Government than the navy paymasters.

He recommends an increase in the amount of bonds of these officers, who now give bonds for from $10,000 to $36,000. The amounts passing through their hands greatly exceed that sum, sometimes. We see no reason for demanding any increase of bonds in these cases, unless the same rule be applied to all other government officials through whose hands amounts greater than their bonds frequently pass.

☞ Further details of the storm in Cuba show that from 1000 to 2000 people were killed or drowned, 12,000 head of cattle were lost, several vessels were wrecked, and in Matanzas alone over 400 houses were destroyed. A prominent Havana authority estimates the losses of the island pecuniarily at over $22,000,000, immediate and remote. One of the most distressing incidents of the calamity was the obliteration of a cemetery and the scattering of coffins and bodies, more or less decomposed, for considerable distances about the surrounding country.

☞ The Yale College scientific party, who have been exploring in the Rocky Mountain region, have discovered, among other things, an ancient lake bed, containing great numbers of extinct crocodiles, turtles, serpents and other fish, with the remains of rhinoceroses and other tropical animals, most of which are new to science. The expedition is now on its way to California.

☞ Messrs. Pike, Bingham and Van Clew, a sub-committee of Methodists, left New York city, Tuesday, to meet the Methodist book committee at Cincinnati, to report the result of the recent investigation made concerning the irregularities in the Methodist Book Concern.

POLITICAL.—The official republican majority in Ohio is 16,964. The prohibition candidate had 2900 votes.

☞ The U. S. S. Shenandoah is missing, and it is feared that some serious disaster has occurred. Two boats have been seen adrift in mid ocean, supposed to be hers.

☞ Potatoes are plenty "down East," and apples bring $3 per barrel in Machias, Me. Apples are more plenty than potatoes, in this section.

☞ That inimitable clown, Maffitt, has rented the Adelphi Theatre, Boston, for pantomime acting.

☞ Admiral Porter is to make a reply to Secretary Wells' article in the November Galaxy.

☞ Mr. Leckie, a Chicago distiller, fell into a tub of hot water and scalded to death, Monday.

New Hampshire Items.

The barn of Mr. Parker Prescott of Dorchester, was entered Sunday night, a harness and string of bells stolen, and three gashes cut in the throat of his best cow. Mr. Prescott procured the arrest of some young men for disturbing a meeting last summer, and it is conjectured that the outrage was committed in retaliation.

The New Hampshire State Teachers' Association will be held at Concord on the 8th and 9th of December.

Wakefield has two men living (twin brothers) aged 87 years, and in the same neighborhood is an lady aged 101 years, who, the past spring, was out dropping corn.

Mr. Frank Eaton, of Bristol, committed suicide at that place, on Tuesday last, by hanging himself. He had been ill for some time, and was partially deranged.

The city of Manchester can sell $25,000 worth of land from the poor farm and then have a good farm left. Enough has been sold already to amount to $7000.

Lancaster and Jefferson will consume this season, in the manufacture of starch, 100,000 bushels of potatoes.

☞ In the S. J. Court at Concord, in the case of Zenas Clement vs. Albert Brown, a suit to recover for services in aid of the defendant in the settlement of his claim against the Government for one hundred army wagons furnished by defendant in 1861, was decided. The plaintiff claimed that there was a contract that he should receive $1,000, when Brown's claims should be paid in full. The defence was that the agreement was that Clement should receive $1000 when the claim should be "put through" the Department or Congress; that Clement failed to so "put it through," and abandoned it; and that the defendant had to go to the Court of Claims and "incurred great expense" to get it there. The plaintiff proved his case in full, showing that the contract embraced the Court of Claims as well as the Department and Congress, and that he never abandoned the case, but rendered services to the end. The jury gave a verdict of $1023.78 to the plaintiff.

A BLESSING IN DISGUISE.—A man who lately shot and killed a boy in his melon patch, when called to account for the deed said he did it in mercy to the boy, who otherwise might have died a painful death from cholera morbus.

☞ The Detroit Tribune says of Democratic papers who are claiming gains in the recent elections, there is one gain they are always sure of, and that is—"whipped a—gain."

☞ Polly Deer, of Montgomery county, Ind., is the mother of a fragile daughter who turns 500 pounds on her native scales. Little dear.

☞ The U. S. man-of-war reported as seen dismasted by the captain of an English ship is supposed to be the Shenandoah.

☞ Senator James W. Patterson of this State is mentioned among the candidates for Minister to England.

☞ The English yacht Cambria has sailed for England.

BASE BALL.—Atlantics 11, Red Stockings 7.

—A despatch was sent from this city, on Thursday, to the associated press of the country, to the effect that B. S. Turner, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, is advocating in his canvass "universal amnesty, universal suffrage, and universal repudiation of the war debt." The basis of the assertion in regard to repudiation, we presume, is the fact that Mr. Turner pledges himself to advocate the relief by Congress of the direct tax imposed upon Alabama (in common with all the States) at the beginning of the war. Alabama's quota of this tax, amounting to about $600,000, has never been paid, and this it is which Mr. Turner proposes to ask that the State be relieved from paying. The repudiation canard is no doubt intended for consumption in New York, as the Democratic associated press is not usually given to informing the world of the views of Republican candidates in this section.—Selma (Ala.) Press.

—Some years ago, at a public dinner, a Dutchman was one of the company; and during the banquet he paid so much attention to a sucking pig immediately in front of his plate, that he devoured the entire animal. As he finished the last morsel, unctuous and savory, a bustling waiter asked him what he would be helped to next.—"Oh," replied the feeder, "I'll dank you for von more of dem leetle hoks."

It is an elegant toilet article, well worthy of the commiums it has received."

"SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE."

A LITTLE BOY CARRIED INTO THE AIR BY A HUGE KITE.—A very singular occurrence took place on Friday last near Bridgeport, which puts a dangerous aspect on a boyish sport that has hitherto been considered quite a pastime. A lad named Willie Goodsmith, aged ten years, residing on Columbia street, like every other boy in the kite flying period of his existence, became ambitious to make a monster kite that should fly higher than any other that ever was made. Accordingly he made one with wings, such as may be seen in any toyshop window. It was built after the style of a Japanese kite, and was fully six feet in length. The stout framework was covered with paper in a very artistic manner, and a strong hempen cord was attached to the crossbeams.

All things prepared, two companions "boosted" the artificial bird to a proper angle and it flew into the air like a thing of life. It arose moderately at first, the wind taking it to the westward, but having attained about 200 feet it came into an opposing current which drove it to the south with great velocity. The mammoth toy rose higher and higher, the little æronaut letting out the string, which was nearly jerking him off his feet. As his kite went upward the boy's spirit went with it and he continued paying out the line until at length an end was reached, but still the ravenous kite demanded more. Being arrested in its flight it began to jerk and pull so savagely that the lad was compelled to tie the cord about his wrist to prevent its slipping from his hands.

The ambitious boy had reached the height of success in æronautics, and he gazed in rapture on the kite that looked like a mere speck on the sky, fully a quarter of a mile away. For some moments it described semi-circles in the air, occasionally jerking so hard as to nearly lift the boy. Soon it made a furious plunge, and rose again so rapidly as to lift the ærial navigator clear from the ground.

Nor did he come down immediately, but kept rising higher and higher, at the same time drifting in a southerly direction, until an altitude of seventy-five feet or more was reached. By clinging to the cord the lad was enabled to maintain an upright position, but he was unable to untie it, nor was such a course desirable, for while the cord was leading him to apparent destruction, it was the only immediate means of safety.

The scene was indescribably horrifying to the few who witnessed it. Perhaps five minutes elasped in which the little fellow was dangling between heaven and earth, powerless to save himself and beyond the reach of assistance from others. Those below set up a cry of anguish, expecting every moment to see him dashed to fragments before their eyes. Finally, when the upper current seemed to have spent its strength, the kite began to descend. Fortunately, the cord was strong and the boy was light. During both the ascent and descent the kite kept drifting, and as it came down Willie was brought in proximity to the roof of a small two story house. He seized hold of the chimney, which happened to be in reach, and in a few moments was safely anchored.

There was a shout of joy from the crowd below, and some of the number quickly procured a ladder and reached the side of the little æronaut. The cord that bound him was cut, and the kite, deprived of its ballast, careened again, until, it finally reached the ground, fully a mile away.

The boy uttered not a word, but still clung to the chimney, and could not be persuaded that he was out of danger. He was forcibly torn from the bricks, and restored to his home. The result cannot be called a happy one as yet, for the little fellow is lying dangerously ill of brain fever, superinduced by fear.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS prominent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

FINANCIAL IRREGULARITY. — On Wednesday, a team containing two men drove into town, and attracted the attention of the City Marshal, as it answered the description of one he is on the lookout for, having been stolen. In conversation with the driver, he learned that he had just brought a man from Newburyport, receiving $6 for his services; and that his passenger had hired another team of Mr. F. Stoddard for $10, to take him to Biddeford.

Not liking the look of things, the Marshal took the passenger to the station. He said at first he had run away from Massachusetts to escape an immoral and violent wife; but on searching him, Mr. Johnson found a roll of bills amounting to $100, snugly stowed away in the toe of his boot, $6 more in his pocket, a watch and a through ticket from Boston to Portland.

A little judicious "pumping" elicited that the man's name is Geo. A. Barnard, that he has been employed as foreman on the Steam Shovel at Fort Hill, Boston, by J. Souther & Co., and that he had received a sum of money to pay the wages of six men engaged in working the shovel, Tuesday, but instead of paying them off ran off himself, coming to Newburyport in the last train Tuesday evening, and to this city per horse team, next morning. The Boston Chief of Police and Messrs. Souther & Co., were telegraphed to, and a Boston officer arrived with a warrant on Thursday, and took the man to Massachusetts.

Barnard says he has no recollection of anything about the affair, except that he went into a house to get a drink, shortly after receiving the money from his employers. His theory is that he was drugged, and acted while in a state of semi-somnambulism.

THE PORTSMOUTH PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY have opened their season's practice under most favorable auspices. At the second regular weekly rehearsal, on Wednesday evening, the full attendance and evident disposition of the members to work, compared very favorably with the rehearsals in the middle of the last season. The Society, whose aim is mutual improvement in reading and learning to understand and appreciate music of an elevated character, recognize the fact that going over what they have already mastered is not the way to attain the desired end; and have boldly taken up one of the masterpieces of musical composition, — Haydn's sacred Oratoria, "The Creation." The Orchestra is led, as last season, by Mr. G. L. Cushing, and numbers several more performers and a greater variety of instruments than before; and we understand that others will take part during the winter. The society has already done much to elevate and improve the musical taste of the community; and the favorable circumstances under which the present season is commenced, promises still greater influence for good in the future.

☞ A meeting of the Young Men's Debating Club will be held at Mercantile Hall, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 2nd, at 7 1-2 o'clock, for the election of officers; at which time printed copies of the Constitution and By-Laws will be ready for delivery. A general invitation is extended to the young men of this city to attend the meeting.

A debating club is one of the best possible whetstones for sharpening the wits of young men in a legitimate way; and a fair degree of facility is expressing ideas can be gained there as well as in almost any other place. In addition to this, the young debater stands a chance to taste the joy which fills the breast of the orator when he routs an opponent and destroys his entire argument—so the Portsmouth Club, one would fancy, should be a popular institution with our young men.

☞ The five-act Patriotic Drama by Storer Encampment and their lady friends, at the Temple next week, promises to be a great success, regarded merely as a theatrical performance—and should put money in their treasury, without counting the object; but when the latter is considered, the receipts ought to swell their Charity Fund in a gratifying style—as we do not doubt will be the case. We are told by one who has seen, that the Tableaux are magnificent.

☞ The Temple was again well filled, Thursday evening, to see and hear the performance of Leslie & Locke's Dramatic Company, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watkins. The entertainment was good, as was expected, and gave general satisfaction. The management have made a hit in securing two such performers as Mr. and Mrs. Watkins, and so skillful a pianist as Mr. Albert H. Fernald.

☞ The following anecdote we clip from Mrs. Partington's Union Drawer in the American Union. The few individuals who don't know "Bob," needn't read it:

We have frequently spoken of "My Brother Bob" as the possessor of a fund of wit and humor, that springs in his manner as spontaneously as new cider springs from the soil of Newington, where, it is said, there is more apple juice this year than there is fresh water. We have spoken of the multifarious duties of Bob, that belong to all departments of life—from the doctoring of a small-pox patient to the "pounding" of a cow — but he excels as a graftist, and if any graft fails to grow that he puts in, it is the graft's fault—everybody will admit that without a question.

Therefore, reckoning his experience and reputation, Bob is, like General Jackson's horse, a splendid charger. Experience and reputation give him, he contends, the right to charge. He had a bill for grafting once against Dr. Cheever, the eminent surgeon, who always employed him, but upon looking over the statement he thought some of the items were a little overstrained.

"How is this," said Dr. C.; "isn't this price that you have put here a little—too much, eh?"

"No sir," said Bob, drawing himself up with great dignity; "these are professional charges, you know."

It met the doctor on his own ground, and with a good-natured laugh he paid the bill.

S. J. COURT, Thursday.—The case of Hiram Jones, for murder, again occupied the attention of the Court. The argument for the State was made, the Judge's charge delivered, and the case given to the jury, before noon.

The jury came into court soon after 2 o'clock, with a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree;" and the prisoner was sentenced to be hanged on the first Tuesday in November, 1871.

☞ The Wolfeborough News wants Hons. John M. Brackett and John W. Sanborn of that town to be the Republican and Democratic candidates for Governor. People in this section of the State seem to prefer Hons. Horton D. Walker and Frank Jones. Besides living in the same city, they attend the same church.

—One-half of Omaha don't know how how the other half lives—and it is none of their business.—Tribune.

One-half of Portsmouth knows where the other half lives, how they live, why they live, and all about their living. And it's none of their business, too.

☞ There is to be a Social Assembly (the second of the series) at Irving Hall, Market Street, this evening. There were some very pleasant ones there last winter, and we are informed that the present course is under the same management. Tickets 50 cts.

☞ The Young Men's Christian Associations of the State of New Hampshire will hold their next annual Convention (in 1871) in Portsmouth. The Convention for 1870, held at Concord, adjourned Wednesday and is said to have been a success.

☞ The G. A. R. boys will create a sensation, next week.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

THE

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ANECDOTES.—"A. G.," from Newington on the Piscataqua, gives the following church anecdote of that pastoral locality:

The story is perhaps familiar to you that they tell regarding the old church here, which, belonging to the town, has been for years kept open to all sects, and, like the church where neither politics nor religion was to be preached, it was expected that the pulpit would be kept neutral in both. But a minister came there strongly orthodox to preach in the town pulpit, and soon it was given out that he also preached abolitionism, which, as it was a loyal Democratic town, was a heresy to be looked into. A committee was accordingly appointed to attend church and ascertain if this were true.

You remember this, doubtless, but I heard a grand good thing, yesterday, about the same preacher. One of the sleepers of the church, Mr. Jethro Staples, was a constant attendant but could not keep awake. Be was a hard-working man, and the somniferous influence of the church was too much for him. The moment he touched bottom, in his old pew, he was fast asleep, waking, however, exactly when the sermon ceased.

Mr. Le B. was the preacher, and he took for his text the words, "Ye also might have known," preaching a pretty good sermon that ran right down Staple's throat as he sat with his mouth open in the pew before him. As he concluded, Staples opened his eyes and looked up at the minister, as if about inquiring what had been said. Le B. looked at him severely, and, pointing at him, said, "And you also might have known, if you had kept awake." It was too much for the audience, that, like the Ettrick Shepherd's dog, wanted to run away and laugh, and the shades of Newington heard strange echoes for Sunday soon thereafter.

Some years ago, when to be a witness or juryman involved very onerous duties with very small pay, people as a general thing seemed more conscientious than now; but they labored under the same difficulties, had the same trials at the hands of lawyers, and in many ways suffered as they do to-day—losing their time and patience.

On one occasion, Paul Snap, a very sharp and positive man, was put upon the witness stand and gave his testimony clearly and decidedly, but he was subjected to an insulting cross-questioning that made every nerve in his body quiver. The lawyer examining him was a little fellow with a very red head, who attempted to break down Snap's testimony by his insulting manner, and carried it so far that the witness could stand it no further:

"Look here," said he, "you little cussed, contemptible, weasel-faced, red-headed, impertinent rascal, do you suppose I have come here five miles to lie for a shilling a day—"

"Your honor! Your honor! I appeal to your honor!" shouted the lawyer.

"Mr ——," said the court, biting the end of a quill pen, "please keep your questioning within proper bounds; you see the witness is rather irritable."

The questioning stopped here.—Am. Union.

THE FLOWER GARDEN.—Ladies who have taken a great deal of pleasure and delight with their flowering bulbs and other garden plants all through the warm season, are often in great perplexity at this time of the year to know what to do with their favorites, to preserve them through the winter so they may grow and bloom well another season. To those who are not fully informed on the subject, a few directions may be acceptable.

Tender bulbs and roots, that suffer by the frost,—the dahlias, gladiolas, Madeira vines, tuberoses, &c., if they have not already been taken up, should be as soon as possible, on the first pleasant, sunny day. Take them up carefully with a garden fork; let them lay in the sun a few hours, so that the adhering soil will become dry and shake off easily; cut off the tops a few inches from the bulbs, put the latter in paper bags, and hang them up (so the mice cannot get at them) in a cool, dry, airy room or cellar, where they will be perfectly secure from frost or moisture. Heat and moisture cause them to rot.

Dahlias, however, are liable to become too dry in this way. They had better be put in a box of sand that is not quite dry, but not moist—it had better be dry than moist—as dry sand will keep the bulbs from evaporating their moisture to such a degree as to prevent their growing when planted in the spring.

Herbaceous plants should be protected by a thin coat of strawy manure thrown over their roots; this will protect them through the winter, and give them a good start in the spring. If the strawy manure is not easily obtainable, a coating of leaves, two or three inches thick, will answer about as well, but will not help the growth much in the spring; but mere protection from the cold, or rather from warm thawing weather in the winter, will well repay for the labor.

Herbaceous plants being mostly natives of wooded or grassy places, are naturally protected by the fallen leaves or dried grasses. When grown in the garden they are prevented this natural protection, so they ought to be artificially protected, following nature's plan as nearly as possible. A little soil should be thrown over the leaves to keep them from blowing away.—Cor. Concord Monitor.

The Chronicle.

GOOD OLD TIMES.—Mr. Lewis Tappan, an aged resident of Brooklyn, but a youth in the Connecticut river valley, in Massachusetts, when the century came in, writes to the Advance about the golden age which he remembers seventy years ago. A whipping-post and stocks then stood in the justice's office, where, upon conviction, the culprit received instant punishment—whipping, branding, or cropping of the ears—while the people stood by and looked on, sometimes pelting the prisoner with eggs and addressing him with jeers.

Women were whipped on the bare back, sometimes publicly, sometimes in the jail yard. Thrashing their pupils, the punishment being often needlessly disgraceful, occupied a good part of the schoolmaster's time, and a good part of the rest of it they took up in mending and making pens. Girls it was not thought much worth while to educate.

Impure and profane language was much more common sixty or seventy years ago than it is now, Mr. Tappan says; indelicate allusions were permitted, if not too indelicate; and he mentions that the late Governor Strong of Massachusetts used to tell that, at a dinner party in Boston, at Governor Hancock's house, that distinguished signer of the Declaration made a remark so gross that the ladies of the company were constrained to leave the room, which they did amid roars of laughter from the gentlemen left behind.

It may comfort some of the observers of the corruption which infects the Congress of the present day, to learn that Mr. Tappan knows of Chancellor Livington's saying to a friend of his, "Jay, what a set of d—d rascals there were in the old Congress." Party spirit, Mr. Tappan says, ran extremely high in those days; he remembers that even the women would have no social intercourse with the wives and daughters of their husband's political opponents, and speaks of an advertisement in the Northampton newspaper, of a house to let, with the warning that "No Democrat need apply," appended to the announcement of terms.

The clergymen of that happy time—they used to preach, by the way, in their great coats and mittens when the weather was very cold, for no stoves were in the churches—were not much better men, it appears, than the clergy of to-day. One Batch, we are informed, kept a hatter's shop in Cornhill, Boston, in which the ministers and leading lawyers were accustomed to assemble once or oftener every week, and there would they make punch and and drink it, and smoke, and listen to stories, and talk politics.

Like shepherd, like flock; and in the little town of Northampton the shops used to retail annually fifty-six hogsheads of rum, or something like a gallon and a half to every man, woman, youth and infant child in the village—to say nothing of hard cider and the spirituous and other liquors which were not sold in the shops.

—A comical termination of what was to have been a wedding took place at Nashville, the other evening. The dusky bride, who was gorgeously arrayed, was kept waiting more than an hour by the diliatory bridegroom, when at last he slouched in wearing his "every day clothes," and electrified the assemblage with the announcement: It's no use! Dis here 'rangement can't come off. My oder wife won't let me have my good clo's." The bride fainted and the service was indefinitely postponed.

—Many people are to be found who will condemn the practice some women have of poisoning husbands, but no condemnation is too strong for the Cincinnati woman who poisoned her husband, and then sold the body to a medical college, to raise money to dress well enough to capture a second husband. That is rather taking advantage of a man when he is down.

— The Coach Maker's Magazine says:—"When you find screws and nuts have become fast from rust, pour on them a little kerosene or coal oil, and wait a few moments until they become soaked with the liquid. When this is done, they can be easily started, and the bolt saved."

—Chamberlain, of the Chicago Evening Post, says of Sampson's heathen Chinee workmen:—

The pagan ere he breathed his last
Discovered what to do;
The trader sold the cooly, and
The cooly soled the shoe.

— A lyceum in Illinois is preparing to debate: "Resolved, That the dog is a biped when his tail curls so tight that it lifts his hind legs off the ground."

—A waiter-girl in a New Orleans saloon nearly lost her life because some brute set fire to her waterfall.

—India-rubber rats, which squeal and kick, are now given to poodle dogs to play with.

—The fashionable bonnet—"Though lost to sight, to memory dear."

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœas, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

NOVEMBER 4, 1864.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN.

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

NEW RAISINS.
FIRST OF THE SEASON of 1870, received at L. LAIGHTON.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, OCT. 29, 1870.

THE DEMOCRATIC SCARECROW.—The Democracy of New York city and State, (and all over the country, for that matter,) are in a terrible way about the enforcement of the United States laws to prevent fraud at elections. This is not to be wondered at. New York State certainly, and the city probably, have been carried for the Democracy solely by gigantic and open frauds; and if such frauds are rendered impossible, or dangerous to the perpetrators, then farewell to Democratic ascendancy in that State.

Some of the copperhead papers and politicians threaten fearful doings,—to "pitch the troops into the river," &c.; but probably they will not "raise (some place) and break things" to any very alarming extent. This very outcry against the election laws is a virtual acknowledgment of former frauds by that party; for these laws secure to every legal voter an opportunity to vote once,—and no honest man or party can ask for more. If the Democratic majorities in New York city were honest, there would be no need to oppose laws that are aimed at fraud only; but that party is as well aware as the opponents of it are, that repeating and ballot-box stuffing have been their main stays in New York for years.

Some of the Opposition papers denounce the election laws, not because frauds have not been committed, but because (as they say) the Republicans have been guilty as well as the Democrats. Brilliant reasoning, truly! Two wrongs never yet made one right. And if Republicans and Democrats are both guilty of election frauds, so much the more necessity of enforcing the laws to prevent such rascality The election laws will punish fraud, no matter by whom committed; and it is patent that the party which is most afraid to have fraud punished, is the party that has made the most use of it.

Some coppery sheets make much of a telegram from Gov. Hoffman to the President, to the effect that U. S. troops are not needed to enforce the laws, as the State militia are abundantly able to do that job! This is too much—oh, too confounded much, altogether. That Gov. Hoffman, who owed his election solely to corruption and fraud in New York city, should think the State militia and Tammany Hall the best agencies to enforce laws for preventing corruption and fraud in that place, is but natural; but that he should fancy he could make any one else believe so is a huge joke. We expect that the election returns of New York city will not this year be withheld, day after day, until the most distant parts of the States are heard from, so that the Democratic officials can tell how many extra votes they must put in the ballot-boxes to overbalance the Republican majorities throughout the State—as was the case when Hoffman was elected. But if the enforcement of the laws was left to the Democratic Governor and his State militia, then the New York Democracy would break the U. S. election laws as they have hitherto broken all other laws—human or divine—to enable them to carry the elections in their favor.

☞ Two Tammany inspectors, Joquins and Murphy, in the 16th ward of the New York, gave $15,000 and $10,000 bail respectively, for trial on the charge of illegally allowing persons to register. The authorities have such information from New York as leads to the belief that the political excitement will not lead to an actual outbreak, and that election day will pass with less than the usual trouble.

☞ Hon. James Brooks of New York amuses political crowds by talking about pitching United States troops into the river. Dangerous man, very.

New Publications Received.

The Technologist for November has an excellent array of articles, among which are Ventilation, Design for a Stationary Engine, and A Country House, all illustrated; Cast Iron Building; Ozone; The Uses of Salt, and many others. Price, $2 per year.

Missionary Herald, November, has reports from various missions.

Old and New for November is a fine number, containing an article on the "French Army," by Edouard Laboulaye; a review of the "Mystery of Edwin Drood," by G. B. Woods of the Advertiser; some more of that capital yarn, "Six Months on Five Cents," by Ralph Keeler; "Suffrage and Education;" "The Sience and Learning of the Vatican," by C. F. Winslow; three more chapters of Mrs. Stowe's story, "Pink and White Tyranny;" and other good things.

WAR NOTES.—A dispatch from King William, received at Berlin, Thursday, says: "This morning Bazaine and Metz capitulated. There are 150,000 prisoners, including 20,000 sick and wounded. The army and garrison laid down their arms this afternoon. It is one of the most important events of the war."

It is reported that two German ships recently captured by the French cruisers, in the English Channel, have been burned, about one hundred miles east of Newcastle-on-Tyne.

Great annoyance and uneasiness is caused in the minds of the English ministry by a guarded but absolute refusal of Russia to take any part in the recent English attempt at negotiating a peace. As chief of cabinet, the Russian chancellor, after passing three days at Brussels, went to Tours the beginning of last week, and is expected in London to-night. It is feared that Russia is quietly negotiating on her own account, with a view of isolating Great Britain on the Eastern question both from France and Germany. The attitude of the Austrian government, too, though first regarded as decided and encouraging to the English proposition, is now pronounced to be unsatisfactory in a high degree. The steps taken by the English government are felt to have resulted only in the mortification of the Gladstone ministry, and in expressing the weakness of the influence in England in continental affairs, without in any way contributing to advance the prospects of a settlement.

The Manchester (England) Guardian gives the following terms of peace, proposed by England, Russia and Austria: First, no cession of territory; Second, the fortifications of Metz and Strasbourg to be razed; Third, France to pay two hundred million of francs indemnity. The neutrals are to guarantee peace.

The surrender of Bazaine, it is stated, was made upon a full understanding with the Prussian government that the occupation of Metz and Strasbourg shall be accepted as an adequate basis for withdrawing the German armies from France and concluding peace.

"WHAT'S SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE," &c. — Gov. Hoffman of New York, when he was a candidate for gubernatorial honors, challenged the then Gov. Fenton to a public discussion of the issues then at stake between the two great political parties, and much capital was at that time made by the Democratic press, because Gov. Fenton declined to meet Hoffman on the stump. Hoffman is an able speaker, and Fenton was not; and it was a knowledge of this that made the former challenge the latter to a public discussion of party issues.

Now, the tables are turned. Gen. Woodford, the Republican candidate for Governor of New York, is a more able debater even than Gov. Hoffman; and it is therefore not much to be wondered at that the latter declines to face the former in a public discussion, especially as the General has all the good standing ground there is, under his own feet. It is very strange, however, that the Democratic press cannot see now, as well as two years ago, that "his declining to come out boldly, in face of the people, to support his opinions and his party, is presumptive proof that such opinions and party are indefensible, and will not bear inspection."

☞ The ex-members of Co. D., Third Regt. N. H. Volunteers, had a reunion and dinner at the Union House, Hampton, on Saturday, Oct. 22d. A committee was appointed to arrange for a future reunion of the whole regiment, and it was decided to invite Gen. John Bedel to deliver an address on that occasion.

☞ The stern of the wrecked steamer Cambria has drifted ashore at Islay, Scotland. So far as is known, there is but one survivor of the disaster, McGartland. The four missing boats of the Cambria were found empty at the Giant's Causeway, but no trace of the passengers or crew was discovered.

☞ There has been another great hurricane in Cuba. Havana and the shipping suffered little; but whole villages were destroyed in San Cristobal district. A great flood accompanied it. The total damage by the late hurricanes is about $27,000,000.

☞ Four men were lately crushed to death at the raising of a barn in Benton county, Ia., by the falling of a heavy timber from which they loosed their hold in horror at seeing a fad chop off his playmate's head with an axe.

☞ A New York lawyer, arguing a murder case in a court in that city, stated that "there have been but four murders in New York in eleven years!"

☞ The United States steamers Nipsic, Frolic and Guard, with Marine dispatched to the New Dominion fishing grounds, have now left them, the season being over. Captain Henry Wilson, commanding the Frolic, and the senior officer of the squadron, has reported to the secretary of the navy. He says that five American vessels were seized for violation of the law against being engaged in fishing within the proscribed limits. At one time there were eleven British ships of war in the vicinity of the grounds. Some were from the West Indies, and came to refit or for supplies. Nothing of an unpleasant character occurred between the commanders of the vessels of the two countries, and all their intercourse was in a friendly spirit.

☞ A fatal accident occurred Wednesday afternoon on the Portland and Kennebec Railroad, near Thompson Brook, East Brunswick. An empty platform car between the tender and passengers cars was thrown from the track and down a steep embankment, taking with it the baggage cars, throwing the rear end of the first passenger car from the track and tipping over on its side the rear one. The conductor, at the moment of the accident, sprang for the brakes, and was afterward found dead beneath the car. No person in the passenger cars was much injured. Those in the baggage car were seriously, but it is hoped not fatally hurt.

☞ In the supreme judicial court at Cambridge, Mass., in the case of Randall et ux vs. the Eastern Railroad Corporation,—a suit to recover damages for injuries caused to Mrs. Randall, in consequence of a defect in a bridge,—the jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, with $4902 77 damages. The amount claimed was $10,000.

☞ It is reported that England, Prussia and Italy have acquiesced in the candidacy of Aosta for the Spanish crown. He has accepted the crown, in case of his election.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

NO HUMBUG.—We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of the mind, body or estate, and is destined to make our sublunary sphere a illusoral Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show, but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of Catarrh in its worst forms and stages, and the proprietor will pay $500 for a case of this loathsome disease which he cannot cure. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale at Drug Stores. Dr. Pierce's private Government Revenue Stamp is on each package of the genuine.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

DOVER RAILROAD.—A writer in the Dover Enquirer says:—

"Dover is paying city and county taxes amounting to about $60,000, one tenth of which would be paid by the increase of wealth had the P. & D. road been built ten years ago; nor is this all. The business of our traders, the market for our farmers, and the demand for mechanics and laborers to build houses, would be largely increased. In fact there is no class but what would be benefitted.

Now let us see what $6000 (one tenth of our present tax) will do. It will pay six per cent on $100,000 toward building the road. So, Dover can better afford to guarantee the interest on $100,000 toward building the road, even if we do not receive a dollar in the shape of dividends, than we can afford not to have the road built. But we hear some say, the road would carry business from Dover; some perhaps think so, but the most of this talk comes from men who are in the interest of the B & M. road. If an increase of one or two thousand to our population would be an injury, then the road undoubtedly would be an injury."

Thieves broke into the Great Falls Post Office again on Friday night. They pried off a blind, broke a pane of glass and stole 300 cents.

☞ A violent wind moves about 100 miles per hour. That which was so furious here the 13th inst., commenced at 11 o'clock A. M.; as far west as Michigan, it commenced in the early part of the previous night.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO ALL WHO WEAR

ARTIFICIAL TEETH!

DR. GOODALL announces that he has purchased the exclusive right to use

DR. STRAIT'S

"PATENT FLEXIBLE EDGE,"

With this FLEXIBLE EDGE the suction of atmospheric plates can be made so strong, that the patient cannot remove the plate without instruction; and yet there is no irritation or soreness in the roof of the mouth. The patient can easily bite apples, pears, any fruit or meats, on any part of the plate or teeth without disturbing the suction, or equilibrium of the plate in any manner. The usual annoyances, such as loosening and dropping of the Plate by reason of sneezing, eating, &c., are entirely obviated. It matters not how flat the palate may be, or how shallow the mouth, or how few the natural teeth to articulate with, the result is the same—

Perfect Satisfaction in Every Case.

Those persons now wearing Artificial Teeth, which have not proved useful or satisfactory, can have this valuable improvement added to their Plates at short notice by calling upon DR. GOODALL, who owns the entire right for Portsmouth and vicinity.

DR. GOODALL'S "SPRING PLATE,"

For Partial Sets of teeth has been highly successful. The demand for it constantly increasing.

☞ The light of the fire which consumed the Exeter Machine Shop, a few evenings since, was plainly seen from this city.

S. J. COURT, Friday.—Alfred Randall was arraigned for assaulting John Peterson of Londonderry, where both parties belong. Peterson is Randall's son-in-law. The case is one of a petty family quarrel, of no interest to any but the participants. Stickney for the defence.

☞ The Dover Enquirer says that Rev. Geo. M. Adams of this city recently preached a very interesting and instructive sermon at Farmington, before the Association of Ministers and the public, on the use of the tongue in speaking, and its influence on the thoughts of the person talking. All who heard the sermon were pleased, and it has been one of the topics of conversation since that time.

☞ A pair of black horses of Mr. Simpson's, (of York,) attached to a wagon load of wood, ran up Pleasant Street, across Market Square, and up Market Street, at a fast gait, Friday afternoon; endangering many teams and foot passengers, but injuring none; and brought up slap against an ox-wagon at the store of Mr. Payne—doing on damage whatever—although it was a lively sight to see them go.

☞ Mr. J. J. Hatlinger, the enterprising and gentlemanly Agent of the "Little Washer," (of which cheap and useful little machines he has sold several hundred in this place,) having disposed of his agency in Portsmouth, is about leaving the city. The Little Washer gives universal satisfaction wherever it has been tried, so far as we know; and that Mr. Hatlinger is an energetic and reliable business man and a gentleman, will be acknowledged by all with whom he may come in contact. We wish him the best of luck. Messrs. Goodwin & Sweetser are the purchasers of the right to sell the Little Washer, and parties desiring to procure or inspect the machine can do so at their House Furnishing Warehouse, Market Street.

☞ The Fireman's Muster at Great Falls, Thursday, was attended by nine Engine Companies; and six engines competed for the prizes—two purses of $100 and $50 respectively, in each of two classes. The first prize in the first class was won by the Piscataqua No. 4, of So. Berwick, which threw 200 feet 9 inches,—the Atlantic No. 6, of this city, played to a distance of 173 feet 5 inches. The second prize in the first class was taken by the Pioneer No. 2, of Biddeford,—199 feet 5 inches.

In the second class, the prize was taken by the Tiger No. 2, of Dover—179 feet 11 inches; and the second by the Torrent No. 2, of Rochester,—162 feet 2 inches.

While the Portsmouth engine was playing for the prize, a coupling blew off, and a boy standing near was severely injured, being hit on the leg by the flying missile. One of the firemen was slightly injured.

The winning Piscataqua was sold by this city, two or three years ago.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Oct. 27, the Mayor was authorized to furnish traps for the sewer openings in Congress street, which it is hoped will prevent the noisome gases from escaping.

The action of the Mayor in keeping a special police near an infected house in Brewery Street was approved, and he was requested to continue his vigilant efforts to prevent the spread of disease.

William H. Jellison was appointed supernumerary watchman.

The committee on streets were requested to report to the Board a suitable location for a stone crushing machine.

The Ward Room in State Street was granted to the Mechanics Protective Union Association for Nov. 4.

The Mayor and Committee on Streets were directed to remove the fence from the highway on Middle Street, easterly of Wibard Street. The street at that place was widened nearly fifty years ago, and it is thought that the fence was built on the highway in 1850.

Adjourned for two weeks.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—At the Annual Session of the Grand Division S. of T., of the State of New Hampshire, holden in Concord, Wednesday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: B. F. Thorndike of Portsmouth, G. W. P.; J. A. Chamberlain of Dover, G. W. A.; F. S. Crawford of Concord, G. S.; C. E. Tuck of Kensington, G. T.; M. T. Willard of Concord, G. Chap.; L. Augustus Fletcher of Portsmouth, G. C.; J. W. Purrinton of So. Hampton, G. Sen.

A goodly number of Representatives from the different Divisions in the State were present and harmony presided. It was voted that the April session of the G. D. be holden with Union Div. No. 4, of Dover. The Annual Session will be held next October at Portsmouth, with Old Oaken Bucket Div. No. 3.

Very interesting remarks relating to the good of the Order were made. Great enthusiasm prevailed, and a strong feeling was exhibited for using every available means to further the cause of Temperance throughout our State. SQUIBBS.

Communication.

The Mayor and Aldermen have at last waked up to the importance of having better material for the highways. At the meeting on Thursday evening, the subject was talked over, and the Committee on Streets were directed to examine locations for a crushing machine, and report to the Board. Any one who has been compelled to travel on foot or otherwise through Islington Street since the repairs last summer, and pass through the clouds of dust which rise there in a dry time, or the slough which prevails in a wet time, will rejoice exceedingly at the prospect of better times. It is a pity that every gravel pit in the city cannot become a bottomless pit, and thus hasten the day of better things. P.

☞ The secretary of the navy says that the Shenandoah was authorized to touch at Madeira or the Azores. She had orders to proceed to her destination under sail, but could use coal in case of emergency. He has no apprehension as to her safety, but some weeks must necessarily elapse from the time of her departure from Boston, owing to the imperfect mail accommodations, before accounts can be received concerning her.

☞ The only person we have heard of who is not surprised at the late sale of the Chronicle & Gazette, is the editor of the Concord People. The sale was entirely impromptu, and almost accidental, and was as much an astonishment to the buyers and seller, as to the public; but the People man seems to have expected it. There are some knowing people in this world, after all.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

THE

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

——OF THE——

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Morning Chronicle.

A PASTORAL.

[The following poem, by A. J. Munby, a hitherto unknown English poet, is one of the most beautiful things we have seen in years. It is not only exquisitely sweet, natural and easy, in its flow, but it is a marvel in the way of versification. Observe the wonderfully ingenious manner in which certain words of the first stanza are made to rhyme with the corresponding words in the second, and so on with the third and fourth, etc.—Boston Transcript.]

I sat with Doris, the Shepherd maiden;
Her crook was laden with wreathed flowers;
I sat and wooed her through sunlight wheeling,
And shadows stealing for hours and hours.

And she, my Doris, whose lap inclosed,
Wild summer roses of faint perfume,
The while I read her, kept hushed and hearkened
Till shades had darkened from gloss to gloom.

She touched my shoulder with fearful finger:
She said, "We linger, we must not stay;
My flock's in danger, my sheep will wander;
Behold them yonder, how far they stray!"

I answered bolder, "Nay, let me hear you,
And still be near you, and still adore!
No wolf nor stranger will touch one yearling—
Ah! stay, my darling, a moment more!"

She whispered sighing, "There will be sorrow
Beyond to-morrow, if I lose to-day;
My fold unguarded, my flock unfolded—
I shall be scolded and sent away!"

Said I, replying, "If they do miss you,
They ought to kiss you when you get home;
And well rewarded by friend and neighbor,
Should be the labor from which you come."

"They might remember," she answered meekly,
"That lambs are weekly and sheep are wild;
But if they love me it's none so fervent—
I am a servant and not a child."

Then each hot ember glowed quick within me,
And love did win me to swift reply;
"Ah! do but prove me, and none shall bind you,
Nor fray nor find you, until I die!"

She blushed and started, and stood awaiting,
As if debating in dreams divine;
But I did brave them—I told her plainly
She doubted vainly, she must be mine.

So we twin-hearted, from all the valley
Did rouse and rally her nibbling ewes;
And homeward drove them, we two together,
Through blooming heather and gleaming dews.

That simple duty from grace did lend her,
My Doris tender, my Doris true;
That I her warder did always bless her,
And often press her to take her due.

And now in beauty she fills my dwelling
With love excelling, and undefiled;
And love doth guard her, both fast and fervent,
No more a servant nor yet a child.

The wife of Rev. J. Malvern of Dover died recently at Liverpool, England.

The Boston Association of Railroad Superintendents, with ladies, visited Manchester, Wednesday, and had a dinner.

Patrick Cunningham was drowned in the river below the gas-house in Dover, on Sunday, Oct. 19. He, under a fooling bet about swimming, plunged into the stream, soon cried for help, but sank before it could reach him.

Last Saturday week, as two painters were at work on the steeple of a new church, in Farmington, the staging gave way and they fell some 20 feet to the roof of the main part of the house. One of the men caught hold of a slat on the roof and saved himself. The other rolled down off the roof, and fell some 40 feet to the ground. He was taken up insensible, soon revived, and in the evening left for his home in Great Falls.

The Strafford County Musical Festival will commence in Dover, Nov. 7th.

Mr. Asa Carrier of Raymond is a large landholder. Less than ten years ago he sold wood and timber lots, with only a small portion of the land, for about fourteen thousand dollars. Within a few weeks he has sold wood and timber to the amount of eighteen thousand dollars.

Dr. Edward Aiken of Amherst, who recently went away under circumstances which looked like embezzlement of monies in his charge, is at home, in a very feeble state of health. He had shown signs of mental aberration before he left lately, and money that had been owing him for a long time being witheld when he needed it, unbalanced him and caused his flight. He wandered as far as Kansas, where he came to the house of a college classmate who cared for him. The unfortunate flight is much to be regretted, as causing an exposure of matters that would in due time have been properly adjusted.

On the 26th, in Nashua, a man named Robbins went into a store and asked for fire-arms. He purchased a pistol and ordered it loaded. Having received the weapon he stepped aside and fired it into his own breast, making a bad, but not fatal wound. Robbins is a hard nut and has been in the State Prison, disagrees with his wife, and is addicted to drink, which facts explain his essay on his own life.

Ice formed in Exeter to the thickness of half an inch, Wednesday night.

The Newmarket Manufacturing Co. have nearly completed a large stone dam at the outlet of Pawtuckaway Pond. It is about 175 feet in length, and its greatest height is 18 feet.

Rev. Edwin Burnham, at first a preacher in the Christian Denomination, afterwards somewhat identified with the Adventists, was well known in this section. He was once settled in Exeter;—preached some in Portsmouth. He has joined the Baptists, and is now preaching at Brewerton, N. Y.

Dr. Sylvanus Brown of Derry, who was thrown from a carriage on the 17th inst., and received injuries of which he died next day, was educated a physician, but became a preacher in the Christian Denomination, although never ordained. He preached in Boston, then at Amesbury, where about 30 years ago he embraced Universalism. In a few weeks he changed back again. He finally became a sort of Comeouter. At the great Miller Campmeeting at East Kingston in 1841, he read at noon an original poem, aimed especially at Rev. J. V. Himes of Boston, President of the meeting. This he afterwards had printed at Exeter. He possessed talent, but his mind was not well balanced. J.

☞ Mrs. Philip of Portsmouth, Ohio, brought suit against Willis Calhoun, a retail liquor dealer, for $250 damages for selling her husband liquor, thus causing him to neglect his business, and a jury has just given her a verdict for $175.

THOUGHTS.

I twined me a wreath of autumnal flowers,
As I mused o'er thy works, kind Nature divine;
And I mentally hoped my life's last hours
Might be cheerful and bright as these treasures of thine.

They are faultless and pure, as the flowers in June,
Each spray so well tinctured with harmony, grace,
What pity such splendor should perish so soon,
Ah! who can excel thee, dear Nature, in taste.

I loved them when childhood was fresh in its morn,
As youth and its pleasures with time grew apace,
Have sought them in meadows, in woodland so lorn
With dear ones whose image I ne'er can efface.

Or near some clear stream or moss covered dell,
Rustic garlands to weave of oak leaves so neat;
No thought but the present my spirit did swell,
No care for the morrow, no sorrow to meet.

Ah! where are the loved ones who shared in our
That circle unbroken at table and hearth, mirth,
The reverend sire, the matron and all—
The maiden so fair, the children so small.

We call at the homestead so ancient, unique,
With olden time's feelings, our kindred to greet
We seek them in vain in kitchen and hall, [call.
A sadness comes o'er us,—no response to our

Some are faded and gone, like the flowers, we love,
At the will of our Father to reclaim above,
While others remain in this wide world of change;
Inspiration gives hope, we shall all meet again.

Then welcome, thrice welcome, dear thoughts of the past,
Companions in sunshine, in sadness and gloom,
If sorrow our portion, 'tis solace at last,
As rude storms precede springtime in its bloom.

Greenland. IZETTE S. HOLMES.

FALL PLOUGHING.—The following brief statement of the leading arguments for fall ploughing, was written by Gov. F. Holbrook, of Vermont, for the New England Farmer:

"Without elaborating the many strong points in favor of Fall Ploughing, a few of the more prominent benefits may be briefly stated as follows:

October and November is an excellent time to break up sod land for planting the following spring.

The weather is cool and bracing and the team strong and hearty for the work; while the weather in the spring is more relaxing and team less able; and spring work being always hurrying, it saves time to despatch as much of the ploughing as possible during the previous autumn.

Sod land broken up late in autumn will be quite free from growing grass the following spring; the roots of the late overturned sward being so generally killed by the immediately succeeding winter that not much grass will readily start in spring.

The frosts of winter disintegrate the ploughed land, so that it readily crumbles in fine particles in spring, and a deep, mellow seed-bed is easily made. The chemical changes and modifications resulting from atmospheric action during the winter, develop latent fertility in the upturned furrows, which together with the mellowing influences, materially increase the crop.

Most kinds of insects are either wholly destroyed, or their depredations materially checked by late fall ploughing, especially the common white grub and the cut worm.

Corn stubble land may be ploughed late in the fall, and thus be ready for very early sowing in spring, thereby going far to insure a good catch of grass; the roots of the new seeding getting hold, or being well established, before the droughts of summer come on.

THOUGHT IT WAS HER HUSBAND.—One dark night, not long ago, a burglar entered a private residence in Sixth avenue. On ascending one flight of stairs he observed a light in a chamber, and while deliberating what to do a large woman suddenly descended upon him, seized him by the throat, pushed him down through the hall, and forced him into the street before he had time to think.

"Heroic Repulse of a Burglar by a Woman," was the way the story appeared in the newspapers the next day. But when friends called and congratulated her upon her courage, she exclaimed: "Good gracious! I didn't know it was a burglar. If I had I should have been frightened to death. I thought it was my husband come home drunk again, and I was determined he shouldn't stay in the house in that condition!"—Louisville Sun.

PRODIGIOUS FEET.—In New Orleans a respectable old gentleman, somewhat tight, on entering a street car got his feet tangled in a lady's dress and fell headlong. He staggered to his feet, and looking around, indignantly demanded to know who struck him. A gentleman present remarked, solo voce: "You fell over that lady's feet; nobody struck you." The indignant citizen turned around and surveyed the cause of the accident a moment, and then, as if by no means satisfied with the cause of his mishap, said: "Madam, you've got the biggest feet I ever saw." "Sir!" aspirated the lady, flushing with anger. "Pray don't apologize; it aint your fault, but take my advice; sit sideways in the future, and give them the full range of the car."—Figaro.

They are given in complaint of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethe, Disease of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, AUG. 15th, 1868.

ALLOW ME TO CALL your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any other in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a liquid that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœas, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 19 Years' Experience.

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SEASON OF 1870-71.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

Important Improvements,

Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.

The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely meretricious attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.

They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.

Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.

The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.

They now offer FOUR OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $50 and upward. The SAME, WITH REED, $65. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant case, with screw legs, from Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REED, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.

A new illustrated catalogue with full information, and reduced prices, is now ready, and will be sent free, with a testimonial circular, preventing a great mass of evidence as to the superiority of these instruments, to any one sending his address to the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, Boston, or 596 Broadway, New York. 4wo19

THE WAR.—The despatches confirm the news of the surrender of Metz, and make known some particulars of the attendant negotiations and circumstances. The Empress having refused to sign any treaty looking to a cession of any portion of French territory, Bazaine at once took the responsibility upon himself. The surrender, it is stated, was made upon a full understanding with the Prussian government that the occupation of Metz and Strasbourg shall be accepted as an adequate basis for withdrawing the German armies from France and concluding peace. The republicans declare the Marshal concocted his action with Prince Napoleon, the Emperor and King William, and that the government at Paris and Tours will repudiate any peace proposals signed by him. The capitulation was not signed until Thursday night. The whole number of prisoners is now reported to be 173,000, including 3 marshals and 6000 officers.

General de Caffinieres, commandant of the garrison of Metz, entered a written protest against the surrender, declaring that he was abundantly able to protract the defence into the winter; that the recent defeats of the Germans made it practically impossible for them to imperil the possession of the place, and that provisions were in abundance both for the army and population.

The total loss of the army of Prince Frederick Charles from the beginning of the siege is estimated at 45,000 men by battle and disease.

Advices from various Departments in the East confirm the reports of the retreat of the Prussians. Garibaldi is still acting on the offensive, and will continue the attack so successfully begun.

On the 19th a fixed balloon broke loose from the station above the Prussian positions at Montreuil, and was blown toward Paris till it was over the Seine, where it was perforated with bullets and fell to the earth. Two engineers were picked out of the wreck, and one was so badly hurt that he died soon after.

A telegram from Basle announces that the Prussians have suffered a defeat between Montbellard and Besancon. They fled in disorder, taking with them 53 wagons filled with the wounded, and leaving 1200 killed on the field. 300 hundred of the fugitives crossed the frontier into Swiss territory. They were disarmed, and directed to proceed to Posentray.

A recent arrival from the west coast of Africa announces that the French frigate Ville Baez captured the German vessel Hero, near Banana Island, September 17th. The prize had 700 barrels of gunpowder on board.

The Prussians made an attempt to cut the line of communication between Amiens and Rouen and were beaten off without accomplishing their object.

A frightful storm has raged for several days all over the north of France. The entire country was under water and everything was literally drowned out. The telegraph lines were prostrated in all directions.

POLITICAL.—Partial returns of the late elections in West Virginia and the territory of Dakota, indicate that the Democrats have gained some advantages. In West Virginia, the Democrats have elected Davis in the 1st Congressional district, and probably Hereford in the 3d; and they gain largely in the house of delegates.

The Wheeling Intelligencer claims the re-election of Governor Stevenson and three Republican Congressmen by a reduced majority.

In Dakota, Armstrong, Democrat, is elected delegate to Congress by about 150 majority. Two Republican candidates were run, and the vote was nearly equally divided between them.

The naturalization of voters for the approaching election, closed in New York, Friday. The number has not yet been definitely ascertained, but it is very much smaller than in previous years.

In the United States circuit court in New York, a number of new indictments have been found against persons who have violated the United States election laws.

A NEW CENSUS IN NEW YORK.—President Grant has directed the Secretary of the Interior to retake the census according to the new boundaries of the election districts, recently established by Mayor Hall.

New Hampshire Items.

Flagg's Instant Relief wagon, containing four gentlemen, was overturned at Great Falls and all were thrown out and slightly injured. The damage to the wagon will amount to about $200. A cabinet organ in the wagon was made a complete wreck.

On Wednesday morning, some workmen on the P., G. F. & C. Railroad found a man lying dead near the hand-car-house, a short distance above the depot, in Great Falls. It proved to be one Jerry Cochran, a married man, who was seen in company with a fellow named Isaac Sullivan, Tuesday night, and was at that time intoxicated. They were seen just before dark, sitting where the body of Jerry was found. He was lying on his back when found, and a bottle containing a little whiskey laid on his breast, inside the coat. He was a hard drinker, and it is supposed he died of heart disease brought on by excessive drinking, as no marks of violence could be seen on his person. Jerry went to Dover, Tuesday, and got his pension money. No money was found in his pockets.

On the 18th the wind blew over Mount Washington at the rate of 70 miles an hour, by the anemometer.

Mont Vernon has voted $300 annually to the State Normal School if it will come there.

On the 22d, in Surry, the house, barn and out-buildings of George H. Rand, on the Joslin farm, were destroyed by fire, with two horses, ten tons of hay, ten cords of wood, farming tools and most of the furniture. The lamp of a lantern being used by Mr. R. fell out into the hay. Piano and a few things were saved from the house. Loss $7,000; insured $3,000.

On the 25th in Keene, Joseph Carruth of Northborough, Mass., a switchman, stepped between two cars to unshackle them and caught one foot between the trask and a guard-rail. The cars passed over his left leg and hip, crushing the bones and gashing his back. He lived but an hour. Carruth was aged twenty-five and was about to be married.

The Sugar River Mills, at Claremont, are running night and day, making flour.

Typhoid fever as an epidemic prevails in Peterborough and vicinity. Seven persons in one house have it.

Charles C. Conant, a native of Lyme, has been appointed Judge of Probate for Franklin county, Mass.

Mr. A. Barber of Hancock has had the time and curiosity to count up the kernels he has raised from one kernel of pop corn. He finds that the total is 6920.

Nineteen copies of a Nashua paper fell from a lady's panier on Main Street in that city, recently, and the editor brags of it!

Some mean scoundrel in Nashua recently poisoned a valuable hog belonging to a hard working man, who has had such tricks played on him before. Pity the poisoner couldn't be made to swallow some of his own medicine.

Joseph Stone of Hooksett was arrested Friday, charged with bigamy. The two women appeared and testified against him, and in default of $400 bail he was sent to jail to await the next term of the Court.

On the 20th, in Marlborough, Willie Mason, son of Mr. Spaulding Mason, aged fourteen, was in the wash-board factory of W. W. & J. M. Richardson, and got involved in horizontal shafting. His skull, one hip, a leg and arm were broken, causing immediate death.

A certain deputy sheriff in Keene had a habit, when anything occurred to him which he had forgotten to state, of quickly raising his right hand with the forefinger extended, and prefacing his remarks with the exclamation: "By the way." It being once his duty as crier, to give notice of the opening of the court, he began: "Hear ye! all persons having anything to do before the Court of Common Pleas will draw nigh and hearken to the evidence." Here he sat down, but remembering that he had forgotten the finishing touches, instantly rose, and exclaimed: "By the way, God save the State!"

New Publications Received.

The Little Corporal Magazine for November is a beautiful number of a most beautiful juvenile—good enough for the most exacting. The remaining numbers for 1870 are offered free to all who subscribe now for the next year. It is published in Chicago, Illinois, by Sewell & Miller, at one dollar and a half per year, 15 cents for a single copy.

☞ There was a cabinet meeting in Washington, Friday, at which the condition of affairs in New York city was considered, and the measures taken by the President to sustain the laws of the country against the nullification schemes of Tammany Hall were approved.

ORATOR FISK SPEAKS. — The Tammany democrats held a grand rally at New York on Thursday evening. Among the speakers were Horatio Seymour, William M. Tweed and Colonel James Fisk, Jr. We are pleased to see that the charming frankness which we have often commended in Colonel Fisk did not forsake him on this occasion.

In the course of his speech the accomplished orator informed his fellow democrats that he had thirty thousand Erie employes under his control, and that they had all been instructed to vote for Hoffman. As for himself, the colonel intended henceforth "to vote three times a day, like any good democrat." Whether his thirty thousand subordinates are to observe the same rule is not stated, but we presume they have been properly drilled in the detail of Tammany tactics.

Some of the democratic papers are so disgusted with the orator's premature disclosure of his plans that they decline to publish his speech. The republican papers will see that it has a good circulation. Mr. Seymour is to be congratulated on the character of his eloquent associate in the dissemination of sound democratic principles. — Boston Advertiser.

☞ The Washington authorities have information that the late trial of Mayor Chahoon at Richmond was a farce, or worse; that absolutely nothing was proved against him, and that the whole affair turned upon the fact that he was an active and leading republican. When the charges were first brought against Chahoon, General Canby, then in command of that military district, caused a thorough investigation before a military commission, and the latter declared the charges to be groundless.

CHINA.—A despatch from Bombay announces that a day has been fixed for the massacre of all foreigners in China, and they are marching out, distributing their troops accordingly. Consuls everywhere notice increasing hostility and insolence among the native population. There is much excitement among the English and French residents.

☞ Judge Tappan, of the Kings Co. N. Y. Supreme Court, has decided, in a case involving $120,000, that a marriage was perfectly legal if the parties promised to live together as husband and wife; and that a child born before the marriage ceremony was performed, was legitimate. This is the old Scotch marriage law.

☞ A gunsmith in New York, whose shop had been several times plundered by thieves, set a spring-gun, and blew the top of a burglar's head off. The coroner's jury censured the gunsmith for having such dangerous things round!

☞ The trot at Prospect Park, Friday, between American Girl and George Wilkes, for a purse of $1000, was won easily by American Girl, in three straight heats. Time, 2:29 1-4, 2:30 1-2, 2:30.

☞ Mr. Bunker's boy, at Azlatan, Wis., had so much trouble to induce a Keltz boy to go hunting with him that he had to shoot him before he would comply, and then Keltz couldn't.

☞ The Mississippi steamboat Robert E. Lee has beaten the time of the Natchez, from New Orleans to Natchez, 14 minutes and 43 seconds. No explosion yet.

☞ Dan Pfifer, the horse trainer, who was mortally killed by being thrown from a sulky at Prospect Park, is not so much killed now as he was at first, and will recover.

☞ The Loyal Legion has resolved to erect a monument in New York to Admiral Farragut, its late chief.

☞ Late advices from Algeria report that the rebellion has been suppressed, and all is quiet again.

☞ Commissioner Delano will enter upon his new duties as Secretary of the Interior this week.

☞ There are indications that the Erie Central railway war is to break out again.

☞ Gen. Burnside is in London.

☞ Gold, Saturday, 111 5-8.

—At a recent political convention in Massachusetts, a gentleman declined a Democratic nomination on the ground that he had not lived in the State long enough. "Oh, never mind that," said the chairman, "you will have lived here quite long enough by the time you are elected." The nominee was completely overcome.

—An exchange says: "The compositors in San Francisco embrace many ladies." The compositors in San Francisco ought to be ashamed of themselves.

—The day after the fall of Rome the city was flooded with newspapers. No less than thirty small penny papers came out morning and evening each day.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

From Alex. N. Dougherty, M. D., late one of the Medical Directors U. S. A., Newark, N. J.—"Having been made acquainted with the composition of the preparation known as SOZODONT, I have for some time past permitted its use in my family, where it has given entire satisfaction. It is an elegant toilet article, well worthy of the ecomiums it has received."

"SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

PAIN KILLER.

This celebrated medicine has won a deservedly high reputation as an alleviator of pain and a preserver of health. It has become a household remedy, from the fact that it gives immediate and permanent relief. It is a purely vegetable preparation, made from the best and purest materials, safe to keep and to use in every family. It is recommended by physicians and persons of all classes, and to-day, after a public trial of thirty years —the average life of man—it stands unrivalled and unexcelled, spreading its usefulness over the wide world. Its large and increasing sale affords positive evidence of its enduring fame.

LOCAL AFFAIES.

New Advertisements to-day.

Cloths, &c.—C. H. Mendum & Co.
Notice—Mrs. S. C. Jewell.
Auction—M. T. Betton & Co.

☞ Adelaide Phillips is coming, and will be supported by a strong Concert Company, which includes Levy, Leone and Roscowitz.

☞ The U. S. S. Tallapoosa arrived at this Naval Station, Saturday afternoon, from Boston, with stores for the various Departments. She leaves here again this afternoon.

☞ Mr. J. C. Carr has sold the block of buildings at the head of Market Street, recently purchased by him, to Messrs. Hutchinson, Thacher and Mendum, making some $2,500 by the operation.

☞ The types on Saturday made us say (just what we wrote) that Messrs. Goodwin & Sweetser had purchased the agency for Richardson's Little Washer; it should have been Messrs. Sweeter & Clark, the former firm not now existing.

S. J. Court, Saturday.—The case of Randall, for assaulting his son-in-law, was concluded, so far as the jury are concerned, by a verdict of guilty.

John Q. A. Cushman was convicted of selling liquor at the Hedding campmeeting in August last.

Thomas Spaulding was arraigned for setting fire to the barn of Mr. Yeoman at Kingston. Plea, not guilty. Care not finished.

The Theatrical Entertainment at the Temple, this evening, will be a big affair, and is pretty certain to fill the house. The dress rehearsal, Saturday evening, passed off capitally; and if the performers only manage to do as well to-night on the "festive board," (we believe that's what they call it,) the public will have the pleasure of witnessing a first-rate theatrical performance, while at the same time contributing to the support of an eminently worthy object. The boys and their friends say they will do even better this evening than they did on Saturday—and they are of the sort that generally do as they promise. Their programmes are liberally distributed around town, and their posters adorn the various billboards. With all these elements of success—a good entertainment, well advertised, and for the benefit of a deserving charity—the Temple should be crowded this evening and the two following,— as we do not question it will be.

Got Away.—John L. Thompson, who was in jail here for stealing a team from Mr. H. R. Stoddard, and who tried twice to break out while Mr. Jöy was jailer, (he nearly burnt the whole concern, on one trial,) managed to get away "for good" Friday night.

Another prisoner named Charles West, who was indicted and plead guilty at this term of the Court, of the crime of breaking into a house in Kensington, and who was awaiting sentence, also left the hospitable boarding-house in which he lodged, and went out into the cold, unfriendly world.

They managed to break the padlock which secured the door of their cell with a poker, got into the hall, opened a window and walked off. They offered to liberate some of the other prisoners before they went, but the other prisoners declined to leave—among them Jones, the condemned murderer. So the story goes — those who like, may believe it. The police are looking for the runaway voyagers, but they are very scarce at present.

Unappreciated Kindness.—A worthy citizen of Portsmouth, while proceeding along one of our principal streets, Sunday evening, saw what he supposed was a kitten run out from under a gate, and stop on the edge of the sidewalk. Being very fond of cats, he stooped to caress the supposed pussy; but unfortunately the creature was a specimen of the Americana diavolo polecatibus,—which is the scientific appellation of the what-d'ye-call-him whose reputation is unsavory, and whose morals are offensive to refined tastes. As the results of his kind intention, the gentleman was obliged to forego his projected Sunday evening visit to a young lady acquaintance, and since then to tell her lots of lies to excuse his remissness—that his house was destroyed by fire that night, and that he broke his leg—anything but the truth; and the lady who has charge of his wardrobe has reported to him that his very best suit of broadcloth is missing, and cannot be found anywhere. He now despises cats.

—A New York paper speaks of "a man with one eye named Robert Welch," but does not tell what his other eye was named.

Beautiful Ware.—The very old and very famous China and Glass Ware Store of Mr. Briggs, of Boston, which we advertise this morning,—we are convinced is the best place to buy China and other nice ware, that can be found. And it is the only establishment we know of, where customers can procure just the number of pieces they want in a China set, or other,—that is, can leave out any they do not desire, or have extra pieces decorated to match. Mr. Briggs is an artist in his line, and his store is a great repository of art of no inconsiderable pretensions; and we recommend all to visit it, who enjoy looking at rich and delicate ware, of which there may here be found almost every shape, color, variety and style imaginable,—as per the advertisement; and prices as low or lower, than at other establishments which exhibit less variety and cannot offer the special advantages named.

Mr. Briggs himself is a gentleman as smooth and polished as his best Sevres ware, (and that he wears well with the public, is proved by the long continuance of his establishment in popular favor,) and among his assistants is Mr. J. Edward Knowlton of this city, whom we know to be courteous, prompt and capable, for he was formerly one of the carriers of the Chronicle, and a good one too—and there is no surer test of a boy than carrying newspapers.

☞ The Biddeford Journal says:—

The York Manufacturing Company have declared a dividend of 10 per cent., payable Oct. 31.

In the gale of last week, Mr. Edward Rumery of Saco, who lives on the Old Orchard Road, had one arm and his nose broken, by a barn door taken off its hinges and hurled furiously at him. He is a farmer, about 80 years of age.

Mr. Noah Marsh of Acton, while gathering apples recently, fell from the tree, and so injured the spinal cord as to confine him to his bed, and it is doubtful if he recovers.

Messrs. Woodman & Hill, of Saco, have just completed one of the finest French-roof houses in Kittery, for Mr. Wm. H. Sanborn.

We understand that Mr. S. F. Shaw, formerly of Saco, has purchased a beautiful residence for himself in Kittery, being the pleasantest location on the main street, and the grounds well ornamented with shrubbery.

—Senator Ross, of Kansas, set type last week for his newspaper, all the compositors having struck and left the office. We are of the opinion that he is a better type-setter than Sonator, and that there are many type-setters who would make better Senators than he.—Biddeford Journal.

That's just so.

—A movement is on foot in Louisiana to induce white farm-laborers to immigrate into that State from Canada.

New Subscribers who now pay in full in advance, for the Daily Chronicle or the N. H. Gazette, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ Job and Card Printing is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ Advertisements, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

THE

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

JOHN CHRISTIE, Esq.,

Treasurer Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank,

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

TOP DRESSING.—With regard to this mode of manuring there are various opinions; but that it can be very profitably employed scarcely admits of a question. On grass lands it is generally withheld too long—until the grass roots are exhausted, and there is nothing left upon which to build up a crop. If on high land, the top-dressing should be applied as early as imparentately after the second year's crop is taken off, or in the succeeding fall. Then it has vigorous roots to work upon, and by top-dressing annually, or every other year, mowing fields might be kept running for ten or fifteen years, and produce from a ton to a ton and a half annually. This would save a considerable cost in plowing, leveling and the cost of seed.

On moist lands, once well set in grass, swale lands, lands on the margin of meadows, a slight annual top-dressing will help them to produce profitable crops for fifty years in succession; and the fodder will be good. Dry cows, young cattle and working oxen, doing moderate winter work, will thrive well upon it.

Top-dressing may be applied most advantageously in the autumn, and about the time when we usually have plentiful rains, before the setting in of winter. The manure can then be applied without injury to the ground by carting over it, and the rains will wash out the soluble matters from the manure and carry them down among the roots of the plants, and will also force the coarser portions down around the stubble, to act as mulching through the winter. Other advantages are, that farm work is not so pressing as in the spring, the teams are stronger, and the carting quicker and cheaper over hard ground.—N. E. Farmer.

"ETERNAL DISH WASHINGS."—We are not sure that the ladies will thank us for reproducing the following, by Rev. T. K. Beecher, as it may be simply repeating a — to them — tiresome truth; but it will show them that at least some appreciate their real condition in life:—

The quiet endurance with which "she" will dishwash her life away for "him" is a marvel of endurance and grace. Just here is the servitude heaviest—no sooner is her work done than it requires to be done again. Man works up jobs, ends them and takes his pay. The pay can be translated into something else desirable. A man works all day and draws pay for his day's work. This pay allures him, as oats a horse, homeward bound. Thus men work by terms and jobs, and although work is endless as to quantity, yet when cut up thus into terms and jobs, we men go heartily on our journey and count our mile-stones.

Not so with our mate. She mends our socks, and we put our irrepressible toe upon the darned spot, and she darns it again. She puts the room in order, and we get it ready to be "rid up" again. The same socks, the same washing, the same room every time. She has no successive jobs, no terms, no pay day, no tally-stick of life. She washes the dish three hundred and sixty-five—yes, three times three hundred and sixty-five times every year. No wonder she breaks it and is glad of it! What a relief to say, "I've done with that dish!"—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

JUSTICE IN UTAH TERRITORY.—Heretofore, juries have been impanelled in Utah from lists made up by the county judges. As these officers were in all cases appointed by the territorial council, which is in fact elected by the Mormon church, juries have in effect been selected by the latter body. It followed that by no means could a Mormon be convicted of any crime. The new federal judges have found that the law organizing the Territory provides that grand and petit juries shall be summoned as at common law, or in the same manner as they are selected to serve in the northern district of New York. For the first time in years a jury has been summoned without the interference of the Mormon leaders. This jury has recently presented indictments against two prominent Mormons whose names were long ago associated with most revolting murders in that territory, and who were shielded from justice by packed juries. One of these men, we believe, is implicated in the killing of Dr. Robinson, several years ago; and the name of the other is mixed up with charges of taking off a prominent backsliding Mormon. Both will now probably be brought to trial in the federal court, before a Gentile judge and jury. One thing is clear. The federal government is fully committed to the matter of sustaining the officers in Utah. And the courts there will be sustained in administering the law with just so much power as may be necessary to secure that end.—San Francisco Bulletin.

NO DOUBT OF IT.—Thousands of people have puzzled their brains over the mysterious appearance and disappearance of warts on the hands. Marvelous tales are told of these hitherto strange torments, but now the doctors tell us all about them. Little boys will read the explanation with great interest. Here it is:

The papillomata (warts, condylomata, epithelioma) originates essentially in an active neoplastic process taking place in the rete, which penetrates to a greater or less extent into the likewise hypertrophied connective tissue matrix of the corion. The papillæ of the cutis here, too, perform only a passive role, their elongation and dendritic form being occasioned by the hypertrophy of the epidermis; while the elevation of the surface of the skin is due to hypertrophy of both.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the cases of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the serious affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most efficacious remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

For a Cough in a child, this remedy must not be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often saves life, when no other remedy can be obtained, and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the contingency that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

J. EDGAR THOMPSON, CHARLES L. FROST, } Trustees.

The Bonds are issued at $20,000 per mile against the portion only of the line fully completed and equipped.

The greater part of the road is already in operation, and the present earnings are largely in excess of the operating expenses and interest on the Bonds. The balance of the work necessary to establish through connections, thereby shortening the distance between St. Paul Chicago 45 miles, and 90 miles to St. Louis, is rapidly progressing, in time for the movement of the coming grain crops, which, it is estimated will double the present income of the road.

The established character of this road, running as it does through the heart of the most thickly settled and richest portion of the great State of Iowa, together with its present advanced condition and large earning power, warrants us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security. A small quantity of the issue only remains unsold, and when the enterprise is completed, which will be this Fall, an immediate advance over subscription price may be looked for.

The Bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at an early day to command a market price considerably above par. Five-twenties, at present prices, return only 4½ per cent. currency interest, while these Bonds pay 10 per cent., and we regard them to be as safe and fully equal as a security to any Railroad Bond issued; and until they are placed upon the New York Stock Exchange, which we shall do as soon as the road to be completed, we obligate ourselves to re-buy at any time any of these Bonds sold by us after the date at the same price as realized by us on their sale

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and efficacious for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, nor wet lasts longer than other hair. Giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A WINTER ON THE TOP OF MOUNT WASHINGTON.—A letter from Prof. Hitchcock of Dartmouth College in relation to this scientific purpose has been published. We extract the following from it:

I have organized a party to occupy the summit of Mount Washington the coming winter, for the purpose of observing meteorological phenomena and reporting them to the public, especially through the daily papers and the office of the War Department, Washington, the "Division of telegrams and reports for the benefit of commerce." To facilitate our reports, the War Department has sent us eleven hundred dollar's worth of telegraph cable and instruction, so that daily and instantaneous communications can be had between the summit of the mountain and Washington. We believe that our observations will be immensely for the benefit of commerce, since the approach of storms can be heralded many hours in advance, from so elevated a station. As is known to every one, the mists gather on high mountains long before the rain falls; and farmers living at the base of mountains regulate their work by the "caps" at the summits. But the highest of all our mountains is far out of sight from the commercial cities, so that the misty caps cannot be seen; with a station on the summit, the first symptoms of the approach of storms can be heralded by telegraph, and thus vessels can remain in harbor till the reports are favorable.

All our supplies have been purchased and placed in a convenient house upon the mountain, and the cable will be laid in a few days. We have done this at our own expense, confidently expecting that the public will see that no loss shall fall upon the party who risk their lives for the benefit of science and commerce. We need at least $1500 to carry through the work successfully.

A SPECULATION.—The following story is from the New Orleans Picayune: A handsome youth of eighteen, a few days since appeared before a magistrate to be married, accompanied by a sombre-looking female, middle-aged and dressed in black. "Is this lady your mother?" inquired the magistrate. "Oh, no, sir! this is the lady I desire to marry," replied the youth, as the lady drew aside her veil, disclosing a countenance wrinkled and sere, but on which, for the moment, gleamed a sort of icy smile. "But, are you of age?" "Not yet; but this lady is my guardian." The magistrate was in a quandary. "Isn't this rather a strange union?" he asked. "Not at all," replied the expectant bride. "I have a large amount of property which I desire to leave this young man. As I have relatives who might dispute the will were I to give it to him as a legacy, I prefer to marry him." "And you are content to marry this woman for her money?" asked the justice. "Well I shouldn't marry her for anything else!" frankly replied the boy lover; "She ain't pretty!"

—Two Dutch farmers at Kinderhook, whose farms were adjacent, were out in their respective fields, when one heard an unusually loud hallooing in the direction of a gap in a high stone wall, and ran with all speed to the place, and the following brief conversation ensued:

"Shon, vat ish te matter?"

"Vell, den," says John, "I vas trying to climb on te top of dish high stone wall, and I tell off, and all te stone wall tumbled down onto me, and has broke one of mine legs off, and both of mine arms, smashed mine rib in, and deese pig stones are laying on te top of mine body."

"Ish dat all?" says the other; "vy, you hollor so big loud I tot you got de toofache."

SUNDAYS IN HEAVEN.—A child whose religious training had been constrained and sombre, asked her mother one day: "Mother, do there be any Sundays up in Heaven?" The shocked mother replied severely, "Any Sundays? Why, Heaven is one everlasting Sunday!" Who can tell what impious caricature of the City of God was painted by that one single stroke before the child's vision? After pondering it some time in the light of memory, in ominous silence, she at length sobbed out, "Oh, mother, do—don't you think that if I were just as good as I could be all the week, after I got up there, that maybe he'd let me go down and play a little while, Saturday afternoons?"

ANECDOTE OF JEREMIAH MASON.—The late Jeremiah Mason was once engaged in a famous trial, in which some good Methodist brethren were concerned. One morning, when the court opened, and over zealous friend of his client came to him, and in a solemn whisper said:—"Mr. Mason, I had a vision last night. Gabriel appeared to me and told me that Brother A. was innocent. No mistake about it." "Very well," said the man of law, not so much as lifting his huge head from over the table on which he was writing; "very well; better have Gabriel subpoenaed immediately."

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth, durable finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and coats but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats.—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these results, and be convinced in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.
Important Improvements.
Patented June 21st, and August 23d, 1870.
REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely incidental, but very important, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.
They are so enabled by increased facilities for manufacture, to make, from this date, a further reduction of prices on several leading styles.
Having completed and added to their former facilities a large new manufactory, they hope hereafter to supply all orders promptly.
The Cabinet Organs made by this Company are of such universal reputation, not only throughout America, but also in Europe, that few will need assurance of their superiority.
Each now offer FIRE OCTAVE CABINET ORGANS, in quite plain cases, but equal according to their capacity to anything they make, for $70 cash. THREE SAME, DOUBLE REED, $85. FIVE OCTAVE DOUBLE REED ORGANS, FIVE STOPS, with Knee swell and Tremulant, in elegant cases, with several of the Mason & Hamlin improvements, $115. The same EXTRA, with new Vox Humana, Automatic Swells, &c., $160. FIVE OCTAVES, THREE SETS REEDS, SEVEN STOPS with EUPHONE; a splendid instrument, $225.

FINE THE SEASON of 1870, received. I. LAIGHTON.

The Daily Chronicle

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOV. 1, 1870.

THE BRITISH MISSION.

Of the gentlemen mentioned for the position of Minister Plenipotentiary to Great Britain, none has appeared so far above his fellows as Wendell Phillips. Possessed of wonderful powers of persuasion, versed in history, a scholar among scholars, a statesman without politics, a public man known in all countries as the leader of progressionists, the nomination of Wendell Phillips would please his countrymen and the respect of all nations would be accorded to the new Plenipotentiary in his extended field of operation.

Granted that Wendell Phillips is a "scold," that he has been an impracticable, that he has led the progressive sentiment of his countrymen, sometimes 50 years in advance, that he holds radical views on all matters; granted all this, and yet he is considered one of the greatest of Americas living public men.

The hundreds of thousands who but a few years ago denounced him and would not listen to his burning eloquence, have come to know his worth, to value his far-sightedness and blame themselves for their own blindness of mind.

What is wanted in a Minister to England is intellect, a correct knowledge of history past and present and proper perception of the right and wrong of public measures.

If Wendell Phillips cannot inform the English Cabinet and people of the feeling of Americans on the Alabama and other questions, why go farther and fare worse for a diplomat? The height of diplomacy lies in persuasion, and Wendell Phillips, though wielding a tongue as sharp as steel in denunciation, can present his own views on public matters more cogently then any man whose fortune it is at the duty to tread the public stage.

It may be said that he is not a Republican—has never voted, that even now he leads a formidable force in Massachusetts in opposition to Gov. Claflin. It is sufficient to know that he is supporter of President Grant, and that when he talks the people listen. Should he be tried as Minister to Great Britain and not reflect the opinions of the people, he can be recalled as promptly as was Minister Motley. If he should faithfully carry out the views of the administration and the people, the country would be the gainer, vexed issues would be settled and new laurels be added to those which are already credited in history to the name of Wendell Phillips.

THE COMING ELECTIONS.

On Tuesday next elections will be held in several States, and on these elections depends the complexion of the next National House of Representatives. In the elections held in September, the Democrats have made trifling gains and predict greater success next week. We are hopeful of Republican victories and confident that the Grant administration will have a good working majority in the next House of Representatives, yet we shall feel more sure of a triumph in the Presidential campaign of 1872, if the Republican vote in the next Congress shall be less, considerably less, than in the present.

Two-thirds of the present Congress are Republicans, while the Democratic minority is hardly respectable in numbers. We regard a strong and watchful minority as of great benefit to the party in power. The past session of Congress has proved the necessity of such a minority—to save the Grant administration from its friends. Confident in their own strength, the Republican leaders in Congress quarrelled disgracefully at their last session. That such bickerings may not divide them in the coming Congress, we sincerely hope that some of the disputants will be left at home after March 4, 1871.

☞ A remarkable breach-of promise case has been brought before the court in Mansfield, Ohio. Damages are laid at ten thousand dollars. The remarkable feature of this case is in the fact that the parties have been living together for twenty-six years, supposed to be man and wife, and have three children; and at least one of their children is married, and has children, making the parties to the suit grandparents. The defendant has lately fallen heir to a considerable property, and his changed condition has tempted him to rove in fresh pastures, which, of course, has excited the jealousy of the mother of his children.

—Insanity as a defence is played out. Political hostility is now the "open sesame" of New York lawyers.

—Virginia has voted to furnish wooden legs to maimed confederate soldiers.

War Notes.

The Kreuz Zeitung says that the last summons to surrender have been forwarded to the military authorities inside the Paris fortifications, and that the bombardment of the city will begin early this week.

It is estimated that the Prussians have taken up to the present day, 320,000 French prisoners.

Because the French tear up railroads, causing many accidents, the Prussians now load the locomotives with influential French citizens.

The northern and southern states of Germany are said to have agreed to name King William emperor.

The spoils captured at Metz include 3000 guns and 40,000,000 of the French civil government department funds.

"Our Fritz" and Prince Frederick Charles have been made field-marshals by King William.

The capitulation of Metz has thrown the Bonapartists into despair.

The news of the capitulation of Metz was communicated to Napoleon, Friday. The Emperor's household is in great suspense and consternation. Gambetta denounces the surrender as a crime.

By the express desire of the Empress Eugenie, the Duc de Persigny and M. Rouher went to Cheselhurst, Thursday, to the mansion of the Empress. The subject upon which she desired to communicate with them was the reported negotiations of which she had been advised by Gen. Boyer, for the capitulation of Metz and the total surrender of Bazaine's army. The Empress announced that she, in her capacity as Regent, refused to lend her consent to the propositions of Gen. Boyer, involving the capitulation of Metz upon the conditions of the signing of a treaty of peace and the ascension of the Prince Imperial to the throne. Eugenie positively refused to entertain for herself or her son any such condition whatever, or to countenance any negotiations.

The Italian Official Gazette publishes a decree of the ministry, declaring that the Garibaldian volunteers lose their rights of citizenship by enlisting abroad.

FIRE IN BOSTON.—Shortly after one o'clock, Monday morning, fire was discovered in the stable of David Chamberlain, on the corner of Mason street and Mason court, in rear of the Adams House. The first comers instead of giving an alarm, went to work to save the horses.

The flames speedily communicated with the extensive boarding stable of Mr. H. C. Nims, fronting on Mason street. Every possible effort was made to save the horses, vehicles, harnesses, &c., and nearly every horse in the lower part was saved. The dense smoke nearly suffocated some of the men engaged in the laudable and humane work of rescuing the horses, and of sixty-three fine animals in stalls on the second floor all but three were removed in safety, these three dying from suffocation. Several other valuable horses elsewhere were burned, one worth $1500. Seventy five or eighty double and single sleighs, and several other vehicles, together with harnesses, lap robes, &c., belonging to different parties were destroyed.

The rear of the Adams House was damaged to the extent of $2000.

From Nim's stable the flames spread to the brick houses 4 and 5 Mason street, occupied as saloons and German boarding houses of John Kuhn and Charles W. Weeber. The flames spread like wildfire through these houses, giving the inmates, including several females, barely time to escape with their lives, and only in their night-dresses. They huddled together in the street, and were temporarily shielded from the inclement wearher by horse blankets furnished from the stables.

Sixteen horses in all perished—thirteen by being burnt, and three by suffocation.

☞ The steamer Pereire, which sailed from New York Saturday, took a few recruits for the French army, 85,000 stand of arms, 6,500,000 cartridges, and a quantity of military stores and provisions. The cargo is valued at nearly $800,000. The steamer Ontario is loading a similar cargo, and will sail during the week.

POLITICAL.—Hon. John Wentworth is running for Congress in the Chicago District, in opposition to the regular Republican nominee. The Democrats will make no nomination.

BASE BALL.—The New York Mutuals having beaten the Athletics of Philadelphia by a score of 6 to 4 in the deciding game, hold the championship for the year 1870.

—Out in Illinois a baby fell from a wagon the other day, and the wheel passed over it, sinking it so deep in the mud that it was not injured.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

If you desire rosy cheeks and a complexion fair and free from Pimples, Blotches and Eruptions, purify your blood and invigorate your system by taking Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It has no equal for this purpose, nor as a remedy for "Liver Complaint," or "Biliousness," Constipation of the Bowels, severe lingering Coughs and Bronchitis. Sold by druggists. Dr. Pierce's private Government Revenue Stamp, bearing upon it the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness" is on the outside wrapper of the genuine.

FORTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE have tested the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and it is now generally acknowledged to be the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung disease; embracing the whole range from a slight cold to a settled Consumption. Were it not for its merits, it would long since have "died, and made no sign."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS preminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.

EARLY SNOW.—At Concord, Sunday night, snow fell to the depth of two inches. Further north the storm was more severe. At Plymouth about three inches of snow fell; at Warner and Bradford three to four inches fell, and at both of these places sleighs were used. At Calais, Me., on Monday, a heavy snow storm raged for several hours.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

Notices of the Press.

No more delightful travels are printed in the English language than appear perpetually in HARPER'S MAGAZINE. They are read with equal interest and satisfaction by boys of every grade from eighteen to eighty. Its scientific papers, while sufficiently profound to demand the attention of the learned, are yet admirably adapted to the popular understanding, and designed as much so diffuse correct information concerning current scientific discovery as it could be if it was the organ of the "Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge." The great design of HARPER'S is to give correct information and rational amusement to the great masses of the people. There are few intelligent American families in which HARPER'S MAGAZINE would not be an appreciated and highly-welcome guest. There is no monthly Magazine an intelligent reading family can less afford to be without. Many Magazines are accumulated. HARPER'S is edited. There is not a Magazine that is printed which shows more intelligent pains expended on its articles and mechanical execution. There is not a cheaper Magazine published. There is not, confessedly, a more popular Magazine in the world.—New England Homestead.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

S. J. COURT, Monday.—The trial of Thomas Spaulding, for fire-raising, was continued from Saturday. Verdict, not guilty.

John J. Woodman of Deerfield, a minor, was indicted for obtaining property (horse and wagon) under false pretences. Case not finished.

THE THEATRE, last evening, was attended by a very large audience, and the performances fully justified the expectations of the public, considering that it was a first performance. The play is full of life, incidents, and startling situations; the amateurs did well, for most of them have taken part in similar scenes in dread earnest, in the days gone by. The tableaux are splendid, and the entertainment, (aside from its object) well worthy of patronage—and it will draw a good house again this evening and to-morrow, without doubt. The show will stand looking at a second time—more than can be said of most entertainments; and will run smoother, no doubt, than on its first presentation. Cushing's Quadrille Band (five pieces) furnished some excellent music; and will do so again this evening.

☞ Hiram Jones, under sentence of death for killing his wife, Geo. W. Fullerton, who has got to serve "two years in State Prison unless sooner discharged for good behavior;" and Chas. Gilroy, sentenced to one year's confinement for breaking into a building at North Hampton, were the occupants of the prison cell opposite the one from which the two men recently escaped. They ridicule the idea of the escaped prisoners losing time to liberate anybody; and the two short-sentenced men say they would not run away if they could — while the unhappy old man Jones, could not run if he would, being still feeble from the effects of the wound in his neck, and having been lame for years. The latter, while acknowledging the fairness of his trial, so far as jury and judges were concerned, protests earnestly that much of the evidence against him was false. He expresses no particular desire to live, but seems to think it probable that the full penalty of the law will not be enforced in his case—as it very possible will not, as his age and the provocation he had received — or considered he had received—may call for executive clemency. "The worst use you can put a man to is to hang him."

NOT CORRECT.—Many of the details in a published account of the recent escape of Thompson and West from the jail in this city are incorrect. It was stated that the jailer broke open the door of their cell with an axe, on account of the lock not working, and that Hiram Jones and other prisoners were offered a release by the escaped rogues, but refused to accept it. Both statements were wrong.

The prisoner Thompson (horse thief and jail incendiary,) put a piece of wood in the lock, so that the key was broken in the attempt to turn it; and then, having in some way got a flat bar of iron from his bedstead, he managed to insert one end of it through the padlock which secured a large bolt, and used it as a lever to burst the lock. This done, the cell door was opened, the hall light turned down, and the runaways went out through a window with all possible speed, and without speaking to any one.

After they had gone, two men (Bartlett, incarcerated for selling liquor at a campmeeting, and Spaulding, under trial for burning a barn,) went across the hall and conversed with the condemned man, Hiram Jones, and his companions. This is probably the foundation of the story about the offered liberality of the runaways, and the magnanimity of the others in declining to go. Spaulding and Bartlett might have gone, and did not.

Mr. Davis has been censured for not locking the outer door of the hall; but we understand that it has never been the custom to lock that door until nine o'clock, and the escape was made before that hour.

Thompson is a slippery fellow, and managed his escape very adroitly. He carried with him in his flight, the iron bar with which he burst the lock—probably to use as a weapon if opposed, as he had previously told one of his cellmates that he was going to "have a foot-race or a funeral." The men have not yet been captured.

☞ The "local" of the Dover Gazette has been lounging about Garrison Hill, and indulging his imagination and eye-sight. Hear him:—

Almost at our feet lay, basking in the sunlight, the good old town of Dover, with its pleasant reminiscences of the past and present, while in the distance, as one of the landmarks, arose the spire of the old North church on the Parade at Portsmouth. Little farther beyond was the Navy Yard, and in the west the high hills in Nottingham form the back ground.

He also says that Jupiter and lots of other things can be seen from Garrison Hill,—where also various fruits do grow, according to the following:—

Old Garrison Hill sent in a generous quota of apples — Baldwins, Pippins, Nonesuch, Fisher, and others, and such "whoppers" in size as to astonish the vision of our "devil." They were left by Mr. Edward Ham, who will please accept the biggest kind of a "thank you."

Our devil can't be astonished or choked by any kind of a "whopper"—if you could only hear him tell some of 'em just once! We don't think much of the Dover devil.

YORK.—Near the Short Sands Beach, where Hon. N. G. Marshall is erecting his spacious Hotel, is the "Roaring Rock," where the waters of the ocean ebb and flow under ground a long distance—the end thereof has never been ascertained. At the entrance of the cavity, as the water recedes, a rumbling noise is heard, resembling the sound of thunder at a distance. The cavity has never been explored, although a great many who visit it go into it several hundred feet, without finding an end or bottom. It flows in from the sea.

"Bald Head Cliff" is another great natural curiosity in York, where many vessels have foundered, and where many valuable lives have perished. The Bluff or Cliff is about 70 or 80 feet high, of solid rock, entirely perpendicular, with a few crevices or notches up its rugged and cragged sides, against which the storms of the Ocean make a terrible and awful dashing, which seems to say to the surging billows "Thus far shalt thou go, and no farther." A young man, whose name we do not now recollect, wended his way up this perilous precipice to its top, a few years since, much to the astonishment of his beholders. It is about 3 miles east of "Savage Rock," now known on our charts as the "Nubble," on which the government a few years ago appropriated $8,000 for a Light House, but which was abandoned by the Light House Board at the time the United States survey was made along the coast, which we think should not have been done.

We understand that steamers will run the coming season to and from Boon Island, the Isle of Shoals, &c., to accommodate social parties and boarders who may visit and patronize the large public houses now being erected in York by Mr. Marshall, Messrs. Grant & Sayward, and others.—Biddeford Journal.

PERSONAL.—Ruel Durkee, Esq., is stopping at the Rockingham House. What's up?

☞ A young couple, both under age, went to San Francisco from San Jose, Cal., recently, to get married. Not being able to get the knot tied there, on account of the State laws, they hired a tug-steamer, put to sea beyond the jurisdiction of the United States, and were there married, much to their mutual satisfaction. Good pluck, for young ones.

☞ The damage from the hurricane at Matanzas is estimated at six millions of dollars, and within the jurisdiction of that city, twelve millions. Bodies are constantly washing ashore.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in full in advance, for the DAILY CHRONICLE or the N. H. GAZETTE, for the year 1871, will be furnished with either paper gratis until Jan.

☞ JOB AND CARD PRINTING is neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the Chronicle and Gazette Office; and the patronage of friends in this line is respectfully solicited, and satisfaction guaranteed.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS, whether transient notices or by yearly contracts, are inserted in both the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, or in either one of these papers only, as desired. And while there is no better advertising medium in this County, our rates are reasonable, especially to regular yearly patrons.

THE

CENTRAL RAILROAD

OF IOWA,

Connecting St. Louis and St. Paul.

NOW NEARLY COMPLETED.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists, who have pushed their work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION

—OF THE—

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

of the Company remain, which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—

1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.

2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.

3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.

4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.

5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.

6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists, who have invested a large sum in its construction, and who have every reason to take care of its obligations.

7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount, upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands, may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First-class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in PORTSMOUTH by

Of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.

New Hampshire Items.

On the 20th, at Wakefield, the old Hall woollen factory was destroyed by fire, which was discovered in the roof. But few pieces of machinery were saved, as the flames made rapid progress. A large lot of blankets and wool, owned by the Ham brothers of North Shapleigh, Maine, were consumed in the building. The mill was owned by L. G. Cate of Exeter, who had an insurance of $4200.

Mr. Joseph P. Whitehouse, living on the Crown Point road in Strafford, met with an accident recently. He was driving a yoke of oxen when they became frightened and ran towards the barn, striking the bars, the stakes of which bent over and then sprung back hitting Mr. W., and throwing him down; one wheel of the cart going over his left leg, breaking and crushing it badly three inches above the ankle.—Rochester Courier.

The Dover Gazette says new cider can be had in the streets of that city, and that six persons whom Major Sayles, the assistant census taker, reported as being above the age of 80 years, have died since the return was rendered.

A school-house in New Hampton was totally destroyed by fire, Friday.

Mr. John A. Spalding, one of the directors of the Concord railroad, has resigned the position of clerk of the Wilton railroad, and Mr. J. Thornton Greeley has been elected clerk by the directors.

Patrick Kelleher has been sentenced at Lawrence, Mass., for two years in the State Prison, one day solitary, for leaving Lawrence to engage in a prize fight at Salem, in this State. The two complainants were much battered, but neither died—sad to say.

The only New Hampshire patent for the week ending Oct. 25th, is to John Cumnock of Salmon Falls, for self-acting mules for spinning.

On the 27th, in Bradford, Mr. George Tucker espied a hawk sailing in the air near the road, and got out of his wagon to bring it down. In drawing his gun from the vehicle, the weapon exploded, blowing a finger from his left hand and injuring the member so that it may be necessary to amputate it.

—Mark Twain has this advice for young men with literary aspirations: "Write without pay until somebody offers pay. If nobody offers pay within three years, the candidate may look upon this circumstance with the most implicit confidence as the sign that sawing wood is what he was intended for."

Old Ribbons Renewed.—Wash in coal suds made of fine soap, and iron when damp. Cover the ribbon with a clean cloth, and pass the iron over that. If you wish to stiffen the ribbon, dip it, while drying, into gum arabic water.

—A fiery volcano of large proportions has suddenly appeared in the interior of Mexico. Whether its appearance had anything to do with the recent earthquake in this quarter, the scientists have not informed us.

—A Connecticut fisherman one day baited his hook with a live frog. After patiently waiting some time for a bite, as he chatted with a friend, he found that his lively bait had swum ashore, and was sitting quietly on the rock by his side. He wound up his line and went home.

—Western girls are seceding from the franchise association because Mrs. Stanton says that no young lady is fit to be married until she is 25 years of age.

The Chronicle.

A STRIKING CONTRAST.—Daniel McFarland, the murderer of, Albert D. Richardson, was arrested lately in New York in a totally besotted condition. He produced some letters of his former wife, but this lower court, not having reached the zenith of legal acumen which is displayed where Recorder Hackett presides, declined to receive them as evidence, and he was committed to jail ten days for drunkenness. As he must have been "insane" when he drank, of course his character for temperance is still good!

Mrs. Albert D. Richardson, since the death of her lamented husband, has devoted herself most assiduously to the care of his children and her own youngest son, the other being still in the possession of his father. The family live at Newark on the place which was owned by Mr. Richardson, but has since been sold. Mrs. Richardson has steadily gained the affection and esteem of her late husband's friends, by her great energy and skill, and her untiring efforts in giving these children daily instruction, and developing their best elements of character. She has abundant ability and culture to win a good income in literary pursuits, but these domestic cares have allowed little effort in that direction. Beside occasional newspaper articles, she has, however, nearly compiled a volume of posthumous papers from Mr. Richardson's pen, left by him in an imperfect state, and she has also in progress other literary work, which it is hoped will meet with public favor.—Congregationalist.

RESCUE OF TWO CHILDREN.—A girl about five years of age and her brother aged seven arrived on the train from the West yesterday, having been furnished transportation by the military authorities at Fort Bridger to their homes in Montreal:

About two years ago the father and mother of the children were residing about twenty-two miles from Salt Lake City, and one afternoon, during the absence of the father, a small band of Indians picked up the children, who were playing near the house, and carried them off. Pursuit was made the same night, but the band was not overtaken. Time rolled on, the parents giving the children up for lost, as not the slightest trace of them could be discovered. About six months since the parents removed from Utah, going back to Montreal.

About two months ago the children were recaptured from the Indians by a party of soldiers, under the command of a Lieutenant, and taken in to Fort Bridger. The poor children were delighted at finding themselves among white children once more. They asked about their parents, but could not give their names. As the circumstances of their loss was well known in the territory, the name and residence of the parents were easily discovered, and as we have stated above, they passed through here homeward bound.—Omaha Trib.

ALICE DON'T STAY.—The following affecting incident was related at the inquest of the little Vaughan girl, burned to death in her bed at Union Hill, New Jersey.

Mrs. Vaughan had put her two children to bed at six o'clock in the evening. At about eight o'clock she left the house to go to a store, near by, to make some purchases. Just after she had gone out the burning occurred. A little three-year old sister, sleeping with the burned girl, stated that she woke up, and, seeing her sister in flames, said: "Alice, I'm going down stairs. Don't you stay here!" She then went down stairs and sat down in a chair, where her mother upon her return found her. In answer to Mrs. Vaughan's inquiries, the child said that "Alice had an awful big fire up stairs." Mrs. Vaughan alarmed ran to the stairs, but the smoke was so dense near the head of it that she could go no further. A neighbor who was called into the house repeated the attempt to go up stairs with like success. The windows were finally opened, the smoke let out and the body of the poor child burned to a crisp was discovered. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.

IN THE RIGHT PLACE.—Gen. Thomas C. Devin, one of Sheridan's cavalry Lieutenants, will have immediate command of the troops in and around New York, if they should be needed to sustain the United States officers on election day. It was at Five Forks, when Sheridan, moving along the lines, was hailed by Devin; "General, when I hear the infantry firing on both wings I will charge in the centre." "Have you ammunition enough?" responded Sheridan. "I haven't much, but I've got enough to give them another surge," shouted Devin. The only complaint of him on file at the War Department is that he never heard an order to stop firing.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for wear inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats,—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be sent, with experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Agents have ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by painting this.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.
The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co., have the pleasure of announcing important improvements in their Cabinet Organs, for which Patents were granted them in June and August last. These are not merely unexceptionable attachments, but enhance the substantial excellence of the instruments.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT and LUNGS, such as COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION.
Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protection against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most efficacious remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.
Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the lungs and throat, that most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.
Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.
For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.
For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.
For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.
For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.
No family should be without the Cherry Pectoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which the neglect of it by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.
So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assert the fact that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a nasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.

Wendell Phillips is waking up the Massachusetts politicians on all sides by a vigorous canvass of the State in behalf of the Temperance party and Labor Reformers. The Democracy, deceived by the lively interest evinced by the people, have again forgotten they have been politically buried, and are running a branch train on a side track, just to see who will take second money. They don't possess much political wisdom, else they would have made no nomination for Governor, and left their regulars to choose between Gov. Claflin, and Wendell Phillips, who is known as the advocate of Temperance, Labor Reform and Woman Suffrage. A triangular fight will probably give the victory to Gov. Claflin, who is one of Massachusetts' honest sons, and deserves a triumphant re-election. The efforts of the combined Opposition seem to be to obtain possession of the legislature. To add to the general interest, the next legislature will choose a U. S. Senator, as the term of Hon. Henry Wilson expires on the 4th of March next.

Dispatches from all parts of France state that the people are enraged at the fall of Metz, which was thought impregnable.

It is said that peace between the combatants is now less possible than ever, and Franch must continue to combat her foe, with energy and not despair.

Monday was observed as a day of thanksgiving and prayer by the Prussian army.

The French government still talks boastingly, but there are indications of serious panic. Garibaldi is not very popular. The army of the Loire is badly demoralized.

It is reported that an attempt to assassinate King William failed, but Von Roon was wounded.

Fire in Dover.—The large shoe manufactory of J. E. Goodwin & Co., was burned Monday night, with its stock and fixtures. The fire communicated to the old Catholic church, the residence of Rev. Mr. Drummond, the Catholic Priest, also the roof and all the woodwork of the new Catholic church and some other small buildings, which were all connected. Goodwin & Co. were insured for $27,000.

The insurance is as follows: Benj. Pray & Son had $4000 in the Home of New Haven, and $250 in the Phœnix of Hartford. Their loss was at least $7000 over their insurance. John E. Goodwin had $20,000 insurance—$5000 in the Franklin of Philadelphia, $5000 in the Independent of Boston, $5000 in the Hide and Leather of Boston, and $5000 in Tremont and Firemen's.

The other Catholic church and parsonage was a total loss; no insurance. The loss to the Catholics of Dover must be at least $20,000.

C. E. & S. C. Hayes had an insurance of $300 on barn and $500 on shop.

☞ Mr. S. P. Cummings, a Massachusetts Labor Reform Leader, has sued Hon. Frank W. Bird for libel, placing damages at ten thousand dollars. The cause of this act was the appearance of an article in the campaign paper conducted by Mr. Bird, and called the Reveille, charging Mr. Cummings with having received money for pledging the vote of the Labor Reform party in the last Legislature to the Hartford and Erie "ring"—the sum so given to be applied to the campaigning expenses of the Labor Reformers. This charge was aggravated and suit instituted because of a challenge by Mr. Bird to Mr. Cummings, published in the Boston Journal, as follows:

"I hereby pledge myself, that if Mr. Cummings will commence a suit, and prosecute it to a verdict, I will, if I am convicted, pay all his professional fees, and a larger per diem to him than he ever earned in his life by honest work. In that event I of course pay all costs. If he is beaten he must pay costs and professional fees. Let us see who is the dastard."

☞ Rev. C. M. Dinsmore, of the Methodist Church, opens the course of Lyceum lectures at East Salisbury, Mass., this (Wednesday) evening; subject, "An hour with the old philosophers." Mr. Dinsmore is engaged in several other Lyceum courses.

☞ The Boston Board of Aldermen have voted to have Scollay's building removed. The Council will do likewise. The total cost is estimated at $182,500.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The Avenue.—Very great and general is the interest felt in the extension and improvements to be made in Richards Avenue; and the proposed plan for the same, which we have heretofore described, was submitted to public inspection at the Atheneum, that it might be approved, or alterations suggested, by citizens most interested or best informed in such matters.

Several changes are proposed, chiefly to obviate the tunnel-like entrance of the old and narrow part of Richards Avenue. One is, to retain the present Avenue as it is, only improving the roadbed and laying two wide sidewalks; but to lay out the new Cutts Avenue entirely to the west of the present—extending it so far as to take in Sagamore Road and all the land between that and Richards Avenue, at that end; and running diagonally across Summer Street at Lincoln Avenue, so as to end on Middle Street, by taking in the new Summer Street, and all the land between that and the residence of Mr. J. H. Foster. This would give an Avenue or promenade of say 300 feet in width, and would join in with Richards Avenue at or above the junction of both with Lincoln Avenue—and its being crossed by the latter, is the great objection to it as a promenade. This plan is favored by Ald. Nowell, A. W. Haven, J. J. Pickering, and other prominent citizens.

Another, and we think more feasible and desirable,—is to lay the walks and drives as proposed in the plan; but to divide the Avenue at or below the foot of the old portion of it, and thence run the new Cutts Avenue farther to the east—bringing it out on Middle Street, at the point most desirable, either between some of the residences near Richards Avenue, or at Rogers Street, or (by continuing around the shore of the South Mill Pond still farther,) at the Court House. This last would be the best location, we think, by far; and the marginal road could be continued around westerly to the Park lands on the opposite shore according to the plan long since approved by the owners of the Pond and other leading citizens, and which is open to no objection whatever but its cost. Mr. B. F. Webster, in locating his new building at the foot of Rogers Street, has placed it back from the shore so as to allow a good road.

This is a matter of importance to our city, and our columns are open to the views of all.

Communication.

A Surprise.—On Monday evening, Oct. 24, a large party, mostly from Portsmouth, called upon Mr. and Mrs. William T. Perkins at Kittery, to which place they have recently removed from Noble's Island. A large and handsome family bible was presented to Mr. Perkins, and Mrs. P. received a valuable silver preserve spoon from her friends, Mr. and Mrs. James Moses. The party remained until ten o'clock, and broke up well pleased. We were very glad to see Mr. and Mrs. P. so pleasantly situated in their new home, only we would much rather they were located this side the bridge. Peter.

☞ We hear that John Hodgdon, 2d, Esq., is to remove from the corner of Vaughan and Congress Streets, to the store adjoining Jackson & Co's Express Office, and that Messrs. Littleton M. and Edwin R. Laighton have leased the old store for the provision business. Success to them all.

☞ The U. S. Supreme Court is in session at Washington. Judge Chase is unable to attend.

☞ Gold, Tuesday, 111 1-4.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

To the Martyrs of Liver Complaint.

Among the wonderful medical properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS prominent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, its bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvelous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The Sickness at the Stomach, pain between the Shoulders, and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best corrective, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever.
